WEATHER SHOWS LITTLE MERCY

Intense Heat Continues in Great Cities and the Total Number of Deaths Reaches Many Hundreds---No Relief in Sight.

Washington, July 3.—The mercury is again climbing upward and at 9:45 o'clock this morning the official thermometer at the weather buren registered 86, a rise of six degrees since 8 o'clock. People in this city gained a good night's rest last night for the first time in several days. The weather bureau reiterated today its announcement that there is no permanent break in the hot spell in sight. Sixteen deaths in the past six days have been either directly or indirectly attributable to the heat.

PHILADELPHIA SIZZLING.

Philadelphia, July 3—A cool breeze from the south tempered the heat slightly this morning, but a jump of eight degrees in one hour indicated another scorching day. At 11 o'clock the official weather bureau thermometer registered 91 degrees, a decrease of four degrees compared with the same hour yesterday. Up to this hour fifteen deaths and a score of prostrations have been reported. The humidity at 8 o'clock this morning stood at 61 per cent. At 11 o'clock it had decreased 3 per cent. The total number of deaths due to heat n this city from the beginning of the hot spell up to this morning is ninety-one.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon seventeen deaths and over fifty prostrations from heat had been reported. At that hour the weather bureau thermometers registered 95 degrees, a decrease of four degrees compared with yesterday. The humidity had fallen from 62 to 41 per cent.

TORRID WAVE BROKEN.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—The torrid wave was broken at 9 o'clock this morning by rain, the mercury dropped from 81 degrees to 77 in a few minutes, and the indications point to a still further decline, as what promises to be a steady rain has set in. Two deaths and three pros-

SOCIAL REFORMERS ADOPT PLATFORM

Detroit, Mich., July 3.—The second National Social and Political conference today adopted the following platform:

"We declare for direct legislation and proportional representation; direct nomination of candidates for offices; equal suffrage for all regardless of sex or color; honest elections, free from all partisan manipulation or control; direct taxation through progressive land values, inheritance and income taxes; public ownership of public utilities; an eight-hour day; sole control of the medium of exchange by the government; home rule; postal savings banks; state insurance and workmen's compensation for industrial injuries; opposition to militarism and conquest, and advocacy of peaceful arbitration; demand the same rights and liberties for others as for ourselves."

In the preamble to the platform the conference expressed its condemnation of monopolies, the concentration of wealth and the present policy of this government with regard to its insular possessions.

One of the features of the morning session was the withdrawal from the conference of Prof. W. C. Bohannon, of Chicago, because he was not permitted to talk on a resolution after the previous question had been moved.

TRIED TO KILL HERSELF.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—Georgia Davis, who attempted suicide early yesterday morning, was placed in jail yesterday afternoon by the county prosecutor to hold her until the trial of the nine men charged with assaulting her. The girl says she wants to die. She is but fourteen years old. Miss Aletha Puckett, of Logansport, who was likewise treated by the same crowd of men, attempted to take her life last night also with morphine. She was engaged to be married, and says that since the assault that caused the first complaint her betrothed refuses to marry her. She, too, will be placed in jail if she recovers.

STRIKERS ARE ENJOINED.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 3.—A temporary restraining order was granted, on application for a blanket injunction against the striking machinists made to Judge Thompson, in the district court, by the Metal Trades association of Cincinnati. The petition charges that the strikers have used coercion, violence, intimidation and boycott to prevent men from accepting employment without the sanction of the Machinists' union. The temporary injunction was allowed until Judge Clark shall have returned from Chattanooga, when argument will be heard for a permanent order.

PETITION FOR BUTLER.

A petition very largely signed by Fort Wayne attorneys was forwarded to Senator Fairbanks today, asking the appointment of Noble C. Butler, present clerk of the United States court for the district of Indiana, as district judge, assuming that Judge Baker, the present incumbent, is to be elevated to the bench made vacant by the recent death of Judge Woods. The attorneys say the petition was signed assuming that there would be no Fort Wayne candidate for the position.

READY WITH REPORTS.

Secretary Monning, of the Commercial club, is preparing his reports for the past year to be presented at the annual meeting of the club next Monday evening. It is hoped there will be a large attendance of the members, and the secretary says no one need stay away on account of the heat. Two electric fans will be placed in the club rooms to contribute to the comfort of the members.

FEAR A NEW UPRISING IN CHINA

Society of Villagers Likely to Repeat the Boxer Outbreak---France Will Not Yet Withdraw Her Troops.

London, July 3.—A dispatch from Pekin says:

The French propose to delay their evacuation of Pao-Ting-Fu until autumn. They believe that their presence there is necessary as the disorders, which have been wide spread, are increasing. The society of allied villagers is replacing the boxer organization. This society, as ostensibly formed for local protection, but it is really insurrectionary, as it resists the collection of the regular taxes because the villagers suffered heavily last year and object to the additional taxes for the expenses of the court's return and indemnity for the Catholic converts, who greatly outnumber the protestants.

The people have some ground for complaint, it is said, but money being needed the government must make demands, and when they are resisted the Chinese troops must enforce the government's orders.

If the troops fail the foreign troops must interpose. Hence there is good reason for the French remaining as the converts are under their protection. Another reason is that the railway runs through the disturbed districts and must be protected. The Germans intend to evacuate Pao-Ting-Fu by July 5.

TRANSFERRED TO CHINESE.

London, July 3.—The British and Japanese sections in Pekin have been formally transferred to the Chinese, says a Pekin dispatch to a news agency.

There is delay on the part of the Italians, French and Germans in transferring their sections in the Tartar city. The Germans have transferred their section of the Chinese city, all of which is now under the jurisdiction of ten police censors. The British, German and Japanese retain some supervision over the city, and are responsible for the settlement of quarrels between foreigners.

A thousand new Japanese troops have arrived here and nearly four thousand more are coming to replace the force in the province of Chi-Li. The Japanese, French and German commanders have consented to Gov. Yuan Shih Kai's troops coming within seven miles of the city. The British commander has not yet decided whether to consent or not. The British, French and Japanese say they will not evacuate until the troops of the other powers have.

Arrangements are being made for the return of the court. Orders have been given for the rebuilding of two of the large gates of the city. The merchants in the ruined portion of the city are rebuilding, showing that they expect the court to return.

DOES NOT LIKE HIS PARTNER

HARRY BERMAN ASKS COURT FOR DISSOLUTION.

Also Would Like a Receiver—Had a Disagreement and a Fight—About the Court House.

Harry Berman has commenced suit against George G. Mines, asking for the appointment of a receiver and dissolution of partnership. The parties to the suit were engaged in the retail shoe business with a store at 150 Calhoun street. The prayer of the petitioner was granted and Guy Colerick was appointed receiver and will take possession of the stock as soon as he can prepare and execute his bond. The stock is valued at $1,400.

According to the allegations made in the complaint the partners did not have much ready capital when they embarked in business and so in order that they might meet their bills promptly they made an agreement not to draw over $5 per week each out of the business until after all the debts of the firm were paid. The defendant has frequently violated this agreement and last night he wanted to draw an amount greatly in excess of the stipulated five-spot. Plaintiff objected and hot words ensued. Finally Mines, who is a big man, swooped down on Berman and commenced wiping up the floor with him and besides subjecting him to many other indignities; he broke his nose and left him lying on the floor of the store. He says he is badly injured, and as Himes is a man of violent temper as well as powerful physique he is in danger of his life if he ever goes back to the store. The store, however, is now locked up, but the firm has about $25 on deposit in one of the banks and the plaintiff is afraid that he will get possession of that sum and still farther embarrass the plaintiff.

COURT NOTES.

The case of Odem vs. J. F. Schell et al. was dismissed in the superior court today.

Sarah Smith was today divorced from George E. Smith and was also awarded the custody of their minor child.

In the case of Curdew vs. Yaple, a decree to quiet title was entered.

The commissioners were in session today allowing bills and tomorrow will take up matters pertaining to roads.

Since the last published report the county board of tax review has raised assessment valuations as follows: Ankenbruck & Potthoff, from $250 to $1,000; J. R. Heinrich, from $550 to $900; A. Mergentheim, from $2,135 to $3,000; Michael Himbert, from $250 to $7,950; Fort Wayne Oil Supply company, no return made at all—valuation fixed at $3,000.

Andrew Schwartz, of Cedar Creek township, came to the city today to get John Amstutz, who has been detained at the jail for over a week. Amstutz is demented and was locked up by the sheriff some days ago simply for safe keeping.

The superior court adjourned at noon today and will not be in session again until next Thursday, July 11.

LORD ROBERTS TESTIFIES.

London, July 3.—Lord Roberts testified today before the royal commission which is considering the claims of foreigners deported from South Africa. The commander-in-chief dealt with the plots against his life and the deportation of the ring leaders. He said the officers and employes of the Netherlands were so hostile to the British that many of them had to be deported. Consideration was shown them. He personally investigated the great majority of cases and sanctioned none unless on adequate grounds. No difference was made on account of nationality.

STATUS OF STRIKE

NO NEW PHASE OF SITUATION IS REPORTED.

NO BREAK IN SOLID FRONT

COMBINE MAKING NO EFFORT AT PRESENT.

A CONFERENCE IS LIKELY

AMALGAMATED OFFICERS TO HAVE MEETING.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—There were no developments today in the strike of the steel sheet and hoop workers. Neither of the combines affected has seemingly attempted to break the solid front of the men at any of the union plants. They still announce that mills not running this week are shut down for repairs. A private telegram from Youngstown received in this city last night stated that the American Steel Hoop company would go direct to the men at its union plants in Girard, Youngstown, Warren, Greenville and Pomeroy with the demand that they return to work next Monday at the scale figures asked by the associaton.

No word of such action had been received today at the men's headquarters, however.

President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, stated this morning that he had called on several officers of the independent sheet plants in reference to the recent cut in prices made by the sheet combine, and they all agreed with him that the reduction was made to keep the independent concerns out of the market.

"If they persist in this," said he, "I will call a conference with the independent people next year and arrange a scale with them."

When asked if he expected any developments soon, he said:

"I expect to get into communication with the combine people before the close of the day. They called for me by long distance telephone yesterday, but when I reached the office I was unable to get them. I am to call them up today and there may be some results."

When seen later President Shaffer said the telephonic interview from the combine officials had been unsatisfactory on account of the wire conditions and was barren of results. The signatures of the Kansas City Bolt and Nut company, of Sheffield, Mo., and Phillips, Nimick & Co., of the Sligo mills, this city, to the amalgamated scale were received at headquarters today.

The advisory board of the Amalgamated association has been called to meet at the national headquarters on Saturday, at which time action likely will be taken that will assist the striking workmen to win. This board is composed of President T. J. Shaffer, Secretary John Williams, Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe, Business Manager Benjamin I. Davis, of the Amalgamated Journal, and the trustees, John Pierce, John H. Morgan and Elias Jenkins.

None of the members of the board will make any predictions as to what will be done at this meeting, but from the sentiments expressed by some of them there will be no compromise.

INDIANA COAL TRUST.

Chicago, July 3.—Negotiations toward the amalgamation of the bituminous coal mines in Indiana are about completed. The particulars of the deal will be made public next week. A secret meeting of the finance and railroad committees having in charge the consolidation was held in Chicago yesterday. It is understood that the Indiana corporation will be financed by Chicago capitalists and that the capitalization will reach $15,000,000. Progress is also reported in the consolidation of the Illinois mines. It was given out yesterday that the Chicago-Virden company had secured options on all the mines on the Chicago and Alton railroad south of Wilmington and on ten mines in the vicinity of Springfield.

LIBRARIANS MEET.

Waukesha, Wis., July 3.—Only a few delegates have arrived to attend the annual convention of the National Library association. Henry J. Carr, president; Former Governor Luce, of Michigan; Herbert Putnam, librarian of congress; J. P. Kennedy, of the reading room division, congressional library; Chief Hanson, of the catalogue division; Cuttin, of the order division, and Messrs. Windsor, Shaw and Sulberg, of the copyright division, were among the early arrivals. This evening, after the arrival of several special trains bearing delegates, an informal reception will be held.

STRIKE IS GROWING.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—Striking freight handlers in the railroad yards at East St. Louis now number 1,700 men. Of this number 600 are drivers of transfer wagons who went out today in sympathy with their fellow workmen. Not a wheel is moving around the freight sheds and 3,000 cars are in position to be unloaded. Many of them are loaded with fruit, vegetables and other perishable goods.

FOR THE VACANT JUDGESHIP

LAWYERS AND POLITICIANS INTERESTED.

Indianapolis Has Three or Four Candidates and the State Will Present Many More.

Indianapolis, July 3.—The lawyers and politicians of the state are taking a great interest in the appointment of a man to succeed Judge Baker on the United States district bench, it being thought that he will be promoted to the circuit bench, vacated by the death of Judge Woods. Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, who will make the recommendation to the president, will have to consider a long list of candidates for the place. Among the men suggested for the district judgeship are Addison C. Harris, Roscoe O. Hawkins and Ovid B. Jameson, of this city; Leander J. Monks, of Winchester, now a member of the state supreme bench; W. J. Henly, of Rush county, an appellate judge; A. B. Anderson, of Crawfordsville; Lucien Hubbard, of South Bend; Enoch G. Hogate, of Danville; E. H. Bundy, of Henry county; Judge Hammond, of Lafayette, and Robert S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne. Noble C. Butler, who has been clerk of the United States courts here for many years, also is spoken of as a successor to Judge Baker.

OPINION IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, July 3.—The weight of opinion here is that District Judge Baker will succeed to the circuit judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge Woods. There is some talk of Judge Tracewell, controller of the treasury, but, in view of the intimate relations that exist between Senator Beveridge and Judge Baker, the opinion is he will be selected, and his successor be named by Senator Fairbanks.

DENOUNCES THE STORY.

Readers of The Sentinel will recall an article reprinted a few days ago from the Huntington News-Democrat concerning J. S. Florsheim, of Chicago, in which that gentleman was depicted as a most marvelous story teller in matters concerning himself and his exploits. Mr. Florsheim called at The Sentinel office today to request that the statements be corrected. He denounces as false in every particular the Huntington article, save wherein it states he is engaged to be married to a young lady of Fort Wayne. He denies strenuously that he ever made any of the statements attributed to him by the Huntington newspapers. Mr. Florsheim is a very genial gentleman and he is much distressed by the false statements imputed to him. Mr. Florsheim believes the article was inspired, if not actually written, by an enemy designing damage to his character and that its publication was procured in the Huntington paper with malicious purpose. He has employed a detective to unravel the matter. The Sentinel is pleased to set Mr. Florsheim right in this city, where he has many friends.

OHIO BANK FAILS.

Mansfield, Ohio, July 3.—Sturges' bank, a private institution, closed its doors today, following the filing of a deed of assignment by Banker Sturges to Attorney H. B. Dirlam. Sturges owned lumber works, real estate, and a controlling interest in the Mansfield machine works, the latter capitalized at $300,000. This afternoon A. Peck was appointed receiver for the Mansfield machine works. Sturges was a close friend of the late John Sherman. No statement of the bank's affairs has yet been made.

Lieut. W. S. McLeod has returned from a visit of ten days at Rome City.

CALLS THEM HOT HOUSE PLANTS

Congressman Hill Sees Little Stability in the Recently Established Provincial Governments in the Philippines.

Manila, July 3.—Congressman Hull, of Iowa, who accompanied General Chaffee on his southern tour, characterizes the newly established provincial governments as "hot house plants, unable to withstand adversities."

He said to the correspondent of the Associated Press that there will be many difficulties under the dual civil military government, which will be inaugurated tomorrow.

Mr. Hull believes that their natural richness ensures the eventual prosperity of the islands, but he is convinced from conversations with the governors and army officers that in the new southern provinces poverty and other obstacles will prevent the successful collection of land taxes. He believes that the salaries, excepting those of the clerks and minor employes, are too high, from the commissioners downward, and that the provinces ought to have far larger areas and fewer officers. The United States commissioners agree with this, but have deferred to the wishes of the inhabitants. Mr. Hull approves of the provincial law, but is of the opinion that the bulk of the territory should be under military government until absolutely pacified and cleared of ladrones. He is convinced the natives in general are not concerned about the government.

These views are typically those of the generality of army officers. The American civilians as a rule are not inclined to await a fair trial of the experiment of partial self-government and neither the natives nor the army officers are in favor of any removals of troops.

General Sumner urges that the native police of Tayabas province ought to be disarmed or enrolled by the military governor. Colonel Gardiner, the governor of the province, insists on controlling the police. The pending bill for the organization of the entire insular policy provides for civil control of the police, and army officers predict clashes unless the military control the police in the disturbed localities.

EAST END WILL HAVE A NEW FACTORY

A new manufacturing institution of considerable importance is to be established in the eastern part of the city. Yesterday the Haberkorn-Haley company completed the purchase of a tract of land embracing six lots, between Alliger street and the Wabash railroad tracks, and will locate its factory there.

A main building of brick, two stories in height, is to be erected at a cost of about $5,000, and plans for the structure have already been completed by the architect. Work is to begin at once, and the factory is to be rushed to completion. A considerable portion of the machinery has already been purchased and is in storage awaiting the erection of the buildings. The company will build the new model of steam engines for which patents were recently secured, and while no effort has yet been made to sell them, it is stated that a number of orders for the engines are already on file, placed by gentlemen who have seen the workings of the machine in the exhaustive tests which have been made. The company was incorporated several months ago.

BOYS KILLED IN A TRAP.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—Ten boys were caught like rats in a trap yesterday in a tunnel leading to the old Keeling mine, owned by the Pittsburg Coal company. Two boys were killed and eight overcome by the foul fumes of the place. Anthony Miller, aged fifteen, was killed instantly, and Patrick Gallagher, aged fourteen, died at the hospital within an hour. The boys who were overcome by fumes ranged in age between eleven and eighteen. They will all recover. The boys had been helping the men load a train and all boarded the train to go to the tipple. While in the tunnel the train stalled. The boys became frightened, jumped to the ground and tried to grope their way to the outside. The fumes of the tunnel, combined with the smoke from the engine, prostrated them, and the two who were killed fell across the tracks. When the train finally started these two boys were literally ground to pieces and others who had fallen to one side were taken out later by a rescue party, all in an unconscious state, but revived shortly afterward.

Louis Schmidt has resigned his position as traveling salesman for the Wayne Drug company. He will be succeeded by William Bogart, who has had charge of the barbers' supplies.

A BLOW TO THE INSANITY TRUST

Indianapolis Judge Orders Release of a Man Railroaded to the Insane Asylum--- What the Evidence Showed.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—John Ross, who was railroaded to the insane hospital last week, was brought before Judge Leathers yesterday in habeas corpus proceedings. The case has gained much interest throughout Indiana as it illustrated frequent charges that an "insanity trust" existed here, formed by a few doctors and justices of the peace, among whom the fees that accrued were divided.

"The main question," said Judge Leathers, "is the insanity of Ross. His having been sent to the hospital may be a hardship, but it is not the province of this court in an action of this sort to inquire into the general methods of the sanity commissions. So we must adhere to that issue throughout. However, the exposure in this case may call the attention of the proper authorities and it may prove beneficial on that account. If this was an action against the doctors for damages then we might go into all the charges preferred by newspapers and others."

Twelve fellow employes of Ross' at Kingan's packing establishment testified that he was sane. Emma Coleman testified that she was Ross' promised wife. She said that a day or so before he was taken to the asylum he had a fainting spell. He had gone to his boarding house sick that noon, as a heavy box had fallen on him. She was sent for as Ross had no relatives. She said Ross fainted again while she was there. Ross himself said he fainted two or three times during the day. Miss Coleman testified that in all the time Ross had been calling on her, ten months, she had never knew him to have a fit, nor had she observed anything to make her believe him insane. He saw her three times a week, she said. All the testimony showed that Ross was sane and that the insanity commission had not given the case proper attention.

At the hearing the manner in which insanity inquests are conducted in this city was aired before the court. Drs. Benham, Hicks, Young and Jacobs of the city dispensary, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cronin, the matron, were witnesses. Mrs. Cronin testified that many of the answers on the affidavit in the Ross case were made from information coming from the dispensary physicians.

Dr. Waters of the Cntral Insane hospital testified that he had noticed no symptoms of insanity in Ross, but his testimony was cut short by Judge Leathers, who said he had allowed much testimony that was wholly irrelevant in the cause to be given, because the legality of the system of declaring persons insane is being questioned.

There is much criticism here of the mode of conducting insanity hearings and it is charged that W S. Lockman, justice of the peace, has a monopoly of inquests. It is further alleged that dispensary physicians and a police surgeon are in an "insanity trust," all reaping fees.

Attorney General Taylor has interested himself in the matter and yesterday Lyman Parks, who was recently sent to the insane hospital, was released by the hospital physicians without the usual habeas corpus proceedings.

The next legislature will be called upon to revise insanity laws.

These graces are the right—aye duty of every woman until the hair whitens—and regal dignity replaces them.

The mother who guards her strength has so much more to devote to the care and education of her dear ones. She should be a comfort—a cheer—always.

Yet how many feel that they have the strength to properly balance the home? The world is listless, weary and morbid. Its blood moves sluggishly and is full of impurities. It needs a kindling, invigorating tonic to set it afire—it needs Pe-ru-na,

THE ONE MEDICINE

in the world which women may rely upon positively. Pe-ru-na is good for everyone, but particularly for women. The various weaknesses which afflict their delicate organism spring from inflammation or catarrh of the mucous lining, and Pe-ru-na is a specific for catarrh in any organ of the body. Any congestion of a mucous membrane simply means catarrh of the organ affected. This is why Pe-ru-na cures all sorts of troubles where other remedies fail. If there is a catarrhal affection the matter with you anywhere Pe-ru-na will cure you.

Wiedemann, employed at the Strieder & Kemp spoke factory, on the east side, sank prostrate at his bench. Fellow workmen hurried to his side and removed the patient to his home, 144 Rebecca street, where death ensued at 5 o'clock. Coroner Barnett was summoned and pronounced the death due to heat prostration.

Mr. Wiedemann was 53 years of age and had been apparently in good health. He was a native of Germany and since 1883 has resided in Fort Wayne. Surviving are the widow and two sons, Julius and Frederick. There are also four brothers and two sisters in Germany.

PENNSYLVANIA'S BOYS WIN

CAPTURE SECOND HEAT IN THE GRAND CHALLENGE.

Defeat the London Rowing Club With Ease—Cornell the Victor at Poughkeepsie.

Henley on Thames, July 3.—The Henley regatta opened today formally, although, owing to the large number of entries for the Thames challenge cup, three heats in the contest for that trophy were rowed yesterday afternoon and won by Trinity hall, Cambridge, the School of Mines rowing club and the Kingston rowing club.

In the second heat of the grand challenge cup race the University of Pennsylvania crew beat the London rowing club by three lengths.

The Pennsylvanias, after their heat for the grand challenge cup, disembarked at their boat house apparently as fresh as when they left it. There was no sign of exhaustion on the part of any member of the crew. The stroke, Gardiner, said:

"We pulled pretty lively at the finish, but there was no time in the race when we had any doubt about the result.

Ellis Ward, the coach, said:

"The crew did the work today which I expected. Their performance, I believe, was most creditable, but to me it was in no way a surprise. There was no advantage whatever in the stations today and all the conditions of the race and the management were as perfect as possible."

"Bob" Cook, in his final summary of the Pennsylvanias' prospects said:

"No American crew was ever at Henley with better prospects. They are in splendid condition and confident. They will, in my opinion, meet Leander in the finals, when, I fear, the Englismen will beat them."

CORNELL'S VICTORIES.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 2.—Cornell's oarsmen triumphed on the Hudson river yesterday afternoon. Their colors were in the van in two of the three events in the biggest rowing regattas, considered from the number of contesting crews and from the time made, ever held in this country.

Her varsity eight won the big race of the day and made a new world's record.

Her varsity four also rowed to victory.

The Cornell freshmen seemed certain winners of their race when an accident befell their boat, yet they finished second.

The new record for varsity eights was the more remarkable from the fact that three of the four leading crews in the race each broke the old record by many seconds.

The varsity eight of Cornell university made the new record of four miles in 18 minutes, 53 1-5 seconds, the former record being 19 minutes, 44 3-5 seconds, made by the Pennsylvania crew last year. Columbia finished second, making the course in 18 minutes, 58 seconds; Wisconsin, third, in 19 minutes, 6 4-5 seconds; Georgetown, fourth, in 19 minutes, 21 seconds.

Following are the summaries of the races:

—Varsity Eight.—

1—Cornell	18:53 1-5
2—Columbia	18:58
3—Wisconsin	19:06 4-5

—Varsity Four.—

1—Cornell	11:39 3-5
2—Pennsylvania	11:45 2-5
3—Columbia	11:51 3-5

—Freshmen Eight.—

1—Pennsylvania	10:20 1-5
2—Cornell	10:23
3—Columbia	10:36 1-5

COLUMBIA HAS AN ACCIDENT

RACE WITH CONSTITUTION IS CALLED OFF.

After a Fine Start and a Good Lead Mishap to Rigging Interferes—The Shamrock's Race.

Bateman's Point, R. I., July 3.—The race today between the new cup defender, Constitution, and the 1899 defender, Columbia, was abruptly ended by an accident to the Columbia. The accident was caused by the buckling of the martingale of the Columbia. It is thought the accident can be quickly repaired, but it has been decided that there will be no race tomorrow.

THE SHAMROCKS RACE.

Rothesay, Firth of Clyde, July 3.—The two Shamrocks started on a thorough racing trial today over a 43 mile course. A brisk breeze was blowing when the start was made. The yachts carried jib-headers.

Rothesay, July 3.—At the finish of the actual racing the Shamrock I led by a minute and a half.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works will hold its regular meeting on Friday night of this week, instead of tomorrow night. The postponement is for the purpose of giving Chairman Eggemann ample opportunity to shoot off his firecrackers and things and celebrate the Fourth in an appropriate manner.

The board of safety met in regular session last night, but beyond allowing a few bills, no business was transacted.

trations from the heat were reported up to 9 o'clock. Eighty-six deaths directly attributable to the excessive heat have occurred in Pittsburg since last Wednesday up to 9 o'clock this morning. Of this number sixty-four were reported since Sunday night.

At 1 o'clock 13 deaths and 20 prostrations had been reported. The mercury registered 81 degrees. The rain had ceased, but it was cloudy and threatening.

IN LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Ky., July 3.—The official temperature at 7 a. m. was 84, seven degrees higher than at the same hour yesterday. Street thermometers at 7 a. m. read 91 in the shade. Two deaths and two prostrations were reported in this city this morning.

DETROIT GETS RELIEF.

Detroit, Mich., July 3.—The heavy thunder storms of last night cooled the air so greatly that the official thermometer registered but 76 degrees at 7:30 this morning. A ten-mile breeze was blowing from the northeast at that hour.

Up to noon today there have been five deaths in this city from the heat.

RAIN IN CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 3.—A gentle rain began falling in this city early today and as a result the temperature fell to 76 degrees. During the past five days sixteen deaths and sixty prostrations from the heat have been reported.

NEW YORK MORGUES FULL.

New York, July 3.—At 11 o'clock the thermometer had risen to the 92 mark, but the humidity had fallen to 53 per cent. The temperature at 11 a. m. yesterday was 96 degrees. Up to 11 o'clock today the total number of deaths from the heat in New York and Brooklyn after 2 a. m. was forty-seven. The action of the board of governors of the stock exchange in voting to close the exchange on Friday and Saturday and the decision of the banks to restrict all business possible on these days were due entirely to the intense heat.

There were so many bodies in the morgue today that the compartments could not hold them all. Two dead wagons and police patrol wagons were bringing in others constantly, and it was necessary to send the remains of sixty persons to the potter's field before the expiration of the five days usually allowed for identification or reclamation.

Since the extremely hot weather began on June 28 there have been so many deaths from the heat that it has been impossible to keep a complete record of them, but a careful estimate today places the total in the Greater New York for the six days at 517. All of these were well defined cases of heat prostrations resulting from the high temperature.

The extreme heat was broken temporarily at least in this city about 2:30 this afternoon, when rain began to fall, accompanied by a thirty-mile an hour wind.

OPPRESSIVE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 3.—Although the temperature at 8:30 a. m. today was down to 73, the humidity showed 95 per cent. and weather conditions were rather depressing, despite a cloudy sky and fair breeze.

Up to 11 a. m. two deaths were reported, but no prostrations. The temperature was 76, humidity 82. Since June 22 there has been 132 cases of prostration, 27 of which resulted fatally.

IN ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—At 8 a. m. the weather bureau thermometer registered 82 degrees. This was six degrees cooler than at the same time yesterday, but there is about 15 per cent. more humidity.

There have been 34 deaths and 170 prostrations since June 22. One death was reported during the morning.

IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 3.—At 7 a. m. the government thermometer recorded 82, while in the street 88 was registered. Thermometers on the street level at 8 a. m. were 82 yesterday.

No prostrations have been reported today. Total deaths so far, 19; prostrations, 142. This includes Covington and Newport, Ky.

HOT IN BOSTON.

Boston, July 3.—This city entered upon its seventh day of oppressive heat with the thermometer at 86 at o'clock this morning and the wind light from the southwest.

During the six days of excessive heat which have prevailed in New England before today nearly 100 deaths have occurred, which have been attributed to the weather conditions. Of this number twenty-four have died in Boston. The number of prostrations in New England will reach several hundred. In Boston there have been nearly 150.

IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Md., July 3.—Up to 8 o'clock this morning thirty-eight deaths from heat and eighty cases of prostration due to the same cause had been reported to the police in this city during the present hot spell.

IN OTHER CITIES.

Troy, N. Y., July 3.—The storm of last evening cooled the atmosphere, and at 10 a. m. today 88 degrees was the record in this city. This is five degrees lower than at the same time yesterday.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 3.—Several short showers late last night tempered the heat here so that it is not so oppressive this morning. The thermometer registered 82 on the street level.

St. Paul, Minn., July 3.—A cool breeze was blowing here today and the official temperature at 7 a. m. was 74 degrees.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 3.—A drenching storm early today cleared the atmosphere and forced the mercury down to 68. Notwithstanding the excessive heat there has not been one death directly traceable to that cause. About twenty-five prostrations have been reported.

Albany, N. Y., July 3.—The hot wave continues in this section although somewhat modified today. At 9 o'clock the thermometer registered 84 degrees, which is 5 degrees less than yesterday at that hour.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 3.—The official temperature at 8 a. m. was 73; humidity 78; wind west twelve miles.

Rochester, N. Y., July 3.—The official temperature at 8 a. m. was 77; humidity 65 per cent; wind northwest, 7 miles.

Omaha, Neb., July 3.—A temperature of 86 was recorded at 8 a. m., but the humidity was only 64 per cent. Two prostrations were reported during the night.

Kansas City, Mo., July 3.—At 8 a. m. the mercury registered 89, or 5 degrees more than at the same hour yesterday. Without a breath of air stirring last night the suffering was great. Four prostrations, one fatal, were reported.

TROUBLES OF THE SMITHS

A LONG LIST OF MARITAL AFFLICTIONS.

Mr. Smith is Discharged by Court in Case Charging Him With Bad Associations.

The domestic tribulations of the Smith family had another airing in police court this morning and in order to give the readers of The Sentinel an understanding of the various ramifications of these troubles, a little recapitulation is necessary. Passing over earlier diffrences occurring at various times during the twenty years of the married life of Philip B. and Eliza Smith, last fall Mrs. Smith became very jealous of Mr. Smith and a separation followed. Mrs. Smith would not consent to a divorce, but sued for support and Mr. Smith was ordered to pay eighteen dollars a month for her support and furnish her with a home, rent paid. Smith was to pay the monthly allowance in two installments, one on the 10th and the other on the 20th of each month and this he has generally done, but in each case when he was behind time, Mrs. Smith went into the circuit court and had an order issued bringing her delinquent spouse into court to show cause why he had failed to pay the money as directed. Mrs. Smith's jealousy was aroused principally by the relations existing and supposed to be existing btween Mr. Smith and Mrs. Maud Pierson, with whom he frequently associated. In March, Mrs. Smith commenced proceedings against Mrs. Pierson, asking for $5,000 damages for alienating the affections of her husband. She claimed that when Smith and Mrs. Pierson passed her on the street they would make faces at her and on a number of occasions has had one or the other, and sometimes both, arrested for provoke, only once securing a conviction. Mrs. Smith has frequently said that she would have her husband and the woman arrested on any pretext and as often as she could find a cause for filing an affidavit, and it must be confessed that she has kept her word and has kept Smith and Mrs. Pierson pretty busy for the past several months attending justices' courts. Monday she filed an affidavit against her husband for associating with prostitutes and named Mrs. Pierson as the co-respondent and named her home as being a house of ill-fame. The case was called last Monday afternoon and by agreement was postponed until this morning. Mrs. Smith had summoned about a dozen women, neighbors of hers and of Mrs. Pierson, and Mrs. Pierson, although not a party direct to the suit had brought in a number of witnesses to establish her character. The court room was well crowded, until P. B. Colerick, counsel for Mr. Smith asked to have the witnesses separated, and they were all escorted to the police quarters in the basement. Mrs. Smith was the first witness called and she gave her testimoney with vigor, and introduced a few side remarks not exactly relevant to the case. Other witnesses were called in turn until the state had exhausted the supply. The defense then proceeded to call the witnesses, when the counsel was interrupted by the judge who said it was altogether unnecessary to proceed any further, as the state had utterly failed to make a case; that there had been no word of proof or testimony offered to show that Mrs. Pierson is a prostitute, that she is of a bad character or that she is or ever was the keeper of a house of ill fame. The fact that Mr. Smith was a frequent caller at her home, and had been seen with her often on the street cut no figure in the case whatever and he therefor dismissed the case without any further ado. Mrs. Smith says he is not through yet, but did not indicate what her next move would be. The damage suit against Mrs. Pierson is set for next Saturday.

MENNEWISCH SOAKED.

William H. Mennewisch, who was arrested yesterday for allowing girls to loiter in his saloon and live over it, now recognizes that the mayor meant what he said when he said that the wine rooms must go. He pleaded guilty to the offense as charged at police court this afternoon and now feels as though he had been run over by a steam roller—the judge fined him $50 and costs and informed him that for the next offense the fine would be doubled and a jail sentence added.

FRAIL WOMEN FINED.

Judge Louttit yesterday afternoon fined Minnie Smith, Maud Jones and Mabel Young, arrested at the raid of William Mennewisch's saloon, 34 East Columbia street. Mennewisch had his trial postponed until today. He paid the fines of the three women, which was $5 and costs. Judge Louttit endeavored to give the women a talk on the evils of the lives they lead and prosecuted an interesting inquiry into their antecedents, the manner of their life and what it profited them. He said he would be easy on them and admonished them feelingly to abandon their evil career. The women smiled in an amused way as the judge delivered his lecture. Mennewisch's joint was pulled because he allowed women to congregate therein contrary to the order of the police department issued some weeks ago.

POLICE NOTES.

There was a family row on Dawson street last night and the patrol wagon was called. When the officers arrived peace had been declared and no arrests were made.

Business partners in a retail shop on Calhoun street had a difference of opinion last evening and the result was a fight. Shoes, hammers and other articles of merchandise were flung around pretty freely, some landing in the street. The wagon was sent for, but by the time it arrived the store was locked up and one of the belligerents had gone to seek the services of a doctor.

Mayor Berghoff by mail this afternoon received a card about two and one-half by four inches in dimensions, to which was attached a little penny toy pistol, and under it was inscribed these words: "this is A infernul Machine."

Superintendent Gorsline today received intelligence from Boston that Walter Montgomery, alias Louis R. V. Adams, the smooth individual who worked the Ladies' Relief union and other charitable societies here a year and a half ago, had been sent to the penitentiary for two years.

A pound of cannel coal is a lump about the size of a man's fist. Out of this dyes can be distilled sufficient to color the following lengths of flannel, three-quarters of a yard wide: Five feet of yellow, three and one-half feet of scarlet, two feet of violet, two inches of orange, four inches of turkey red and eight inches of magenta. By judicious blendings you can obtain sixteen distinct yellow colors, twelve orange, thirty red, fifteen blue, seven green and nine violet; in all, eighty-nine separate tints. These colors are made from the waste left over after the gas has been extracted.

A London diamond merchant, while going to his office recently, in a fit of abstraction pulled an old envelope out of his pocket and commenced to tear it up. When he reached the last section the terrible fact dawned on him that it was the envelope in which were some 1,600 small diamonds valued at $500, and that he had been sowing these broadcast over a public thoroughfare. Some of them have been recovered, but others have never been heard from.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Kelsey and daughter, Julia, have returned from a fishing trip to Loon lake. They caught sixty bass during their visit at the resort.

Times change, so do our ways of living and working. Railroads, steamboats, every means of transportation, all manner of inventions—everything is with a view to rapidity. Time is the essence. Humanity moves in the same way at express train speed. That's why so many men and women find themselves giving out, symptoms breaking in on them that are so common at the present time. Overwork or high tension has done its work. Nerve waste—lack of nerve force—sets you face to face with a condition it is dangerous to neglect. It was because of the prevalence of these symptoms that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills were brought into being, their action is to provide lacking nerve force—the cause of all these troubles—they do this and that is why they are so popular. Fort Wayne evidence proves their merit.

Mrs. T. Webb, of No. 57 Superior St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun St., is a very fine all round regulator and tonic to the nerves, blood, digestion and system generally. I felt generally wrong in every way and debilitated; the medicine built me up, steadied the nerves and regulated the liver and digestion finely. I think, as I said before, it is a fine all round tonic and regulator."

FIND STOLEN GOODS.

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—Mrs. Maude Shinnabarger, daughter of ex-County Commissioner Aaron Miller, and Miss Pearl Frederickson, of Leesburg, are under arrest on a charge of larceny. Mrs. Shinnabarger was bound over to the circuit court in $500 bond. Miss Frederickson gave bond in $100 to appear in 'Squire Eller's court July 12. Many articles have been stolen in this city and vicinity recently and a search of the house, four miles west of Milford, revealed thousands of dollars' worth of stolen goods, including silks, perfumes and dress skirts. The women had been staying on Miller's farm for some time and the Frederickson girl was employed as a domestic. A large quantity of whisky was found in the house.

DOG HELD THE FORT.

A family living on Wilt street underwent a rather unpleasant experience late last evening and missed several hours' sleep in consequence. A strange dog made its way into the house late at night and took up its quarters under the bed of one of the members of the family, and threats, cold and hot water, bricks and other bric-a-brac failed to dislodge it. Finally the services of neighbors were called into requisition, and with the use of poles the animal was pried out. The occurrence caused much excitement in the neighborhood, as it was thought that the animal was mad.

Judge Baker will pass upon the case in review.

FOOD AND WEATHER.

Temperature Increased or Reduced by Food.

The old army ration for the tropics has been very sharply criticisad for the reason that it consists of articles of food that any person even slightly acquainted with the elements of food knows is not adapted to the needs of the human system in hot weather. Nature shows forth in the selection of food by inhabitants of various countries; for instance, the Esquimaux in a cold climate selects heavy, carbonaceous foods, tallow, bacon and such; while the Hindoo and inhabitants of hot countries turn to the cereals for sustenance.

We should follow this hint of nature, and particularly in hot weather should avoid much butter, meat or any of that class of food. Perhaps a little meat once a day is not amiss, even in hot weather, but the breakfast and luncheon should be made of fruit, one or two slices of entire wheat bread and some Grape-Nuts and cream. Grape-Nuts are mentioned, because they furnish the ideal cereal food in a most palatable and delicious form, in addition to which, they are ready cooked and require no attention whatever from the cook.

A person can pass through weather that may be intensely hot, in a comfortable manner, if the food be properly selected, and the above suggestions can be put into practice with most excellent results.

As an illustration of wealth among Indians it is officially stated that the homes of the most progressive Osages compare favorably with the dwellings of white people of equal wealth. Their homes are richly furnished with carpets and modern furniture, and in many homes there are pianos, upon which the boarding school training of the daughters has taught them to perform. Horses and carriages are not infrequent, and though the automobile has not yet made its appearance, it is not an impossibility of the future.

Any one man could have concluded the Chinese negotiations in less than half the time required by the representatives of seven or eight powerful nations.

London Lancet impresses an old lesson by saying man should not dine alone. It is not good to think much while eating, so the great medical authority advises conversation because "most people do not think while talking." This sage conclusion must have come from much listening to dinner table remarks.

Here is a jeer from Mexico. The Mexican Herald says: "The corrupt city government of Philadelphia gave away street car franchises the other day to a group of powerful people in league with the municipal boodlers, although Mr. John Wanamaker had offered to pay into the city treasury $2,500,000 for the concessions. If Philadelphia were a Latin American city, this fact might be adduced as a proof that it was unfit to govern itself."

The New Orleans Picayune sounds this note of good sense: "If the democrats are wise, in the next three years they will endeavor to form ilate a policy upon which all branches of the now divided and demoralized party can unite, and they will seek from among their rank and file a real democrat, who is a broad statesman, a sagacious political leader, and one whose high character for integrity will command absolute and universal confidence. That is the sort of man who is wanted as a standard-bearer for the democracy in 1904, and it will be wise, also, to choose him from some great northern state which the democracy will probably be able to carry."

June is generally one of the worst months in the year in Havana for yellow fever, but this year the city was free from the disease which in the past has caused such a frightful mortality. This is attributed to the destruction of mosquitoes by pouring coal oil on pools of standing water. Those persons who were skeptical of the medical theory that mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of yellow fever may have to admit their error, in view of the results that have been accomplished in Havana. But the mosquito is responsible for the spread of other diseases. He should be suppressed wherever he may be found.

Austria at last has recovered from the Maximilian business so far as to send an ambassador to Mexico, after having been without a representative there for nearly forty years. This is bearing a grudge a long time, especially as Mexico was right and Austria was wrong. The conspiracy on the part of Louis Napoleon and his Austrian coadjutors to seize Mexico and make it an empire, of which the ill-fated and kindly Maximilian was the dupe and victim, is a chapter of about as disreputable history as has been recorded. The less the European powers concerned in it do to stir the matter up the better for the credit. To hold spite against Mexico for overthrowing an empire saddled on her by force is puerile, and hurts only those who show it.

June beat the record in many particulars. One record that was surpassed was the creation of new corporations. In the eastern states during June forty-seven new companies with capital ranging from $1,000,000 to $50,000,000 each and aggregating $303,000,000 were formed. The six months ended with June were remarkable for the additions to corporate enterprises. The total for each month of 1900 compare as follows:

Jan.	$ 105,250,000	$ 203,750,000
Feb.	79,500,000	124,350,000
Mch.	190,500,000	502,900,000
April	1,314,150,000	325,250,000
May.	177,980,000	261,600,000
June	303,450,000	166,200,000
Total	$2,170,880,000	$1,584,050,000

The exceptionally big figures for April were due to the forming of the United States Steel corporation. If to the stock capitalization of the past six months the bond issues of corporations be added the whole amount will reach more than $500,000,000 more, or over $2,670,000,000. These figures give some idea of the progress of consolidation in this country. With a billion dollar coal trust in prospect the record for the entire year promises to be something rather more stupendous than the average mind can readily grasp.

A NEEDED REFORM.

The custom in this and nearly every other city of sending men and women arrested for drunkenness to jail is wrong and ought to give way to some more sensible, beneficial and humane practice of dealing with such cases. A majority of the prisoners in the county jail taken by years will be found to be persons incarcerated for drunkenness. The evil of this is many fold. In the first place, it does no person of that class any good. Confinement in jail is wholly without any reforming influence, not to speak of the effect it has to harden men and women to the disgrace of arrest and imprisonment. It burdens the taxpayers with large bills for maintenance of this class of prisoners in jail and there is no public compensation, not even that of restricting the growth of drunkenness.

There are in Fort Wayne a large number of chronic drunkards, habitual sots, who practically are spending their lives in the Allen county jail. They are guilty of no worse offense than being victims of alcoholism, a disease which in their cases no effort is made to cure. It is worse than useless to send such men to jail. They ought to be treated by public agencies just as smallpox or any other scourge that threatens the general public welfare is treated.

We believe the city of Fort Wayne ought to make some arrangements whereby an institution for the confinement and treatment of such cases could be established. The cost of maintenance would not be much greater than what is spent to maintain this class of prisoners in the county jail, and much permanent good could be rendered the poor wretches who are helplessly in the clutch of alcoholic disease. Such victims deserve help, not punishment, and the people are entitled to some sort of good results for the public money expended upon such cases We would like to have Mayor Berghoff call the attention of the city council to this matter and see if a wholesome reform in the methods of dealing with common drunkards cannot be devised.

ARE ANXIOUS TO BEGIN WORK

CINCINNATI LINES LOOK LIKE A SURE THING.

Sickness Has Delayed the Inspection Tour—Mayor Berghoff Gets a Letter.

There was some disappointment at the failure of the Cincinnati-Fort Wayne electric line promoters to arrive in Fort Wayne Saturday, but the matter is explained in a letter received by Mayor Berghoff yesterday: It is as follows:

"July 1, 1901. The Hon. H. C. Berghoff, Mayor, Fort Wayne, Ind. Dear Sir: It was our intention to have continued our trip to Fort Wayne but on our arrival in Decatur on last Saturday, owing to the illness of one of our party, and from the fact that Mr. La Fetra was obliged to return to New York city, we were compelled for the present to postpone our visit to your city. Learning that a committee had been formed by the Fort Wayne Commercial club, of which you was a member, to meet our party while in your city, we wired you from Decatur as follows, viz: "Impossible to make Fort Wayne at present; will write." We regret exceedingly that circumstances were such that we were not able to carry out our plans in visiting your city on this trip, but however, will arrange for another visit in the near future, notifying you several days in advance of our coming. We are very anxious indeed to get matters closed up pertaining to the northern end and terminus of our route, as we desire to grade at least one hundred (100) miles of the line in the next ninety (90) days.

"Yours respectfully,
"CHAS. W. GEBHART,
"Secretary."

BOOM FOR JUDGE TAYLOR.

(Wabash Plain Dealer.)

Friends of Judge Robert S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne, in this and surrounding counties, are urging the distinguished jurist for the United States circuit bench, to succeed the late Judge Woods.

Representatives have undertaken to secure the general indorsement of the bar of northern Indiana for Judge Taylor, who is not an open and avowed candidate for the office, and it is believed that Senators Beveridge and Fairbanks will be friendly to his cause.

It is not forgotten that when Judge Taylor was a candidate for the United States senate two years ago, his caucus supporters went almost solidly for Senator Beveridge when it became evident that their favorite could not win. Senator Beveridge can not but feel kindly toward his opponent for this signal mark of admiration and esteem, and it is believed he will gladly improve the opportunity to reciprocate.

As yet the Taylor boom is in its incipient stage, but wherever and whenever it is mentioned it evokes so enthusiastic a response that there is no question but the judge will be a formidable aspirant.

Northern Indiana is entitled to a good deal more from the republican party than is accorded it. If the northern counties turned in such slender republican majorities as do the counties south of Indianapolis, the state would permanently take its position in the democratic column, yet the instinctive modesty of the republicans in the northern half of the state yields to the demands of the party in the southern half for an equal division, or, rather, for the larger part of the official usufruct.

The Plain Dealer is of the opinion that a spirited contest in behalf of Judge Taylor will land him in the important position, and not only will political justice be done, but a man than whom there is no superior for the place will be elevated to the position to which his transcendant abilities commend him.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—Walter Driscoll, who shot and instantly killed Mrs. Herbert McCall Monday at the home of his stepfather, Mahlon Martin, answered "guilty" to a charge of murder. He was remanded to jail without bond. His mother, who gave out false information to shield her son, is also held and remanded to jail under heavy bond. Prosecuting Attorney C. L. Dearth will have a special meeting of the grand jury to investigate the case in order to prepare it for trial at an early date. A search for the home of the parents of Mrs. McCall has failed to reveal any clew to the former residence of the murdered woman.

STRIKE AT WARSAW.

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—The men employed in the construction of a system of sewers in the city went on a strike yesterday. They demanded from the contractors, E. Woods & Co., a raise of from 15 to 20 cents per hour. A law was passed by the Indiana legislature last winter decreeing that all men employed on public works should receive a minimum of 20 cents an hour. The strikers claim that their case is covered by this law. The question will probably have to be decided by the courts as to whether the law would apply to work the contract for which was made prior to the passage of the law. No settlement was made today, as all the members of the firm of contractors were out of the city.

SCANDAL IN PYTHIAN AFFAIRS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—At the special meeting of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, in Chicago next week, it is understood a report will be made exposing persons alleged to have been implicated in a deal by which a former Illinois insurance commissioner received from a manager of the Knights of Pythias endowment rank $3,500 for a "clearance card" and a letter of recommendation for the rank. Union B. Hunt, secretary of state of Indiana, who is a supreme representative in the order, will attend the meeting of the supreme lodge and will favor an investigation and indictment of the offenders if there is evidence to warrant such action. The story is that the $3,500 bought a report showing that an investigation had been made and that the endowment rank affairs had been found satisfactory. Later the Illinois and Connecticut insurance authorities began an investigation and unearthed the $3,500 story. C. F. S. Neal, of Lebanon, manager of the endowment rank, sanctioned the investigation, which is still in progress. Neal is reported to have made affidavit in Chicago last Saturday touching the alleged payment, and the affidavit is said to be in the hands of the Illinois insurance department.

TRAIN KILLS THREE MEN.

Waterloo, Iowa, July 3.—A wagon containing four men was struck by a Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern passenger train half a mile south of town at the Paper Mill crossing last evening and three of the men were instantly killed, the fourth being fatally hurt. The dead are.

Jo Golinvaux, farmer, aged 55.
Ollie Huffman, Waterloo, aged 18.
Ole Thorsen, Dubuque, aged 25.
The injured:
Jo Hurley, Waterloo.

It is claimed the passenger train was late and was running about fifty miles an hour.

ARIZONA TOWNS BURNED.

Globe, Ari., July 3.—Fourteen buildings were destroyed here yesterday by a fire of unknown origin and ten families of miners are homeless. Loss, $80,000.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 3.—A special to the Times from Phoenix, Ari., says: The town of Williams, Ari., was practically destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is estimated at $500,000. Williams is a railway and lumbering town on the Santa Fe-Pacific railway and has a population of about 2,000. The place and the great mill n its suburbs have been destroyed by fire twice before.

FORM BIG COAL TRUST.

Cleveland, O., July 2.—The Leader today says: Before the first of September all of the big companies producing bitiminous coal will have gathered into one organization, similar to the United States steel corporation. The capitalization will be enormous, probably second only to that of the big steel trust.

J. P. Morgan, the advocate of coalition, first started in with his coal combination three years ago, making the first movement along the line of controlling the products of the Ohio and West Virginia fields. At that time he obtained complete control of the mining property in the Hocking and Shawnee valleys. In order to give an outlet for this coal he purchased certain railroad properties and this started the combination mania along the line of railroad ownership which as gone to extraordinary lengths.

SEVERE STORM IN KENTUCKY

Middlesborough, Ky., July 2.—Half a dozen small farm houses and many large barns were destroyed last night by a storm of great violence, which swept through Cumberland Gap, in Powell's Valley. Several persons are said to have been killed, but the only one name, that of Perry Smith, has been reported. Crops were badly damaged.

WINONA ASSEMBLY OPENED

SUMMER SEASON IS FAIRLY INAUGURATED.

First Entertainment of the Course Was a Lecture by DeWitt Miller—Financial Statement.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 2.—The Winona assembly was formally opened yesterday and entered upon the seventh of what bids fair to be the most successful year of its existence. The season was really opened Sunday with the holding of religious services. Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, of Monticello, preached to a large crowd at the morning service in the auditorium. Superintendent W. C. Hall, of Indianapolis, reorganized the Sunday school, and in the evening Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman led a hillside service. The first entertainment of the assembly season took place last night. De Witt Miller was the entertainer, with his lecture on "The Uses of Ugliness." Mr. Miller is well known to all Winonians, and the auditorium was well filled. From now on lectures or entertainments will be given every afternoon and evening and sometimes in the morning. The Winona Daily Review made its first appearance this morning. The Review is quarterly published by the Winona Assembly, and during the months of July and August it becomes a daily. S. L. Heeter is the editor of the daily and Dr. S. C. Dickey and Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman edit the quarterly.

Secretary and General Manager Dickey has issued a financial statement, in which it is shown that Winona ranks second among Chautauquas and other organizations of the kind in the United States in point of current receipts. Chautauqua was first last year, with receipts amounting to about $116,000; Winona was second, with $96,000, and Mountain Lake, Md., was third, with receipts amounting to less than $48,000. If the present rapid advance keeps up, Winona will soon overtake her eastern rival.

The machinery for the carbonating and bottling of the mineral water has all been placed in position in the entrance building, and everything is ready to commence the bottling and shipping of the water. Work will begin immediately.

The Winona summer school opened for its seventh season this afternoon with a general convocation in the auditorium at 4 o'clock. President W. P. Kane made a statement of the plans and methods of the school and the work of each department was outlined. Registration began today and will be continued tomorrow. Many students already are here and the registration, as far as it has progressed, points to a much larger attendance this year than last.

M. E. MINISTERS' SUMMER HOME

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—Elijah Hays, a wealthy citizen of Warsaw, last year gave to the Ministers' Aid Society of the North M. E. conference a thirty-seven-room, three-story hotel building formerly known as the National hotel, to be used as a summer home for Methodist ministers. The building was moved to Winona park and is now ready for occupancy. Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Baker have been installed as managers.

FINDS A SNAKE IN HIS COW.

Dublin, Ind., July 3.—John Moore, of Philomath, southeast of this city, lost a fine Jersey cow yesterday in a rather peculiar manner. For some reason the cow seemed to crave drink, and finally died. Moore was determined to know what the cow died from, so he cut her open. When he did so a big black snake six feet in length crawled from the stomach. He killed it with a club. The snake was probably taken into the cow's stomach several years ago, and has since lived to grow to its full size. The cow had given its usual quantity of milk until recently, when she became sick.

C. G. MORGANTHALER ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

Former Fort Wayne Man is Accused of Swindling by Means of Worthless Checks.

Today's Chicago Chronicle says:

"C. G. Morgenthaler, who for the past three weeks has been sought by the police in different parts of the city on charges of passing worthless checks, was arrested yesterday by Officer Jeremiah Carey, of the Sheffield avenue police. The following persons who will appear to prosecute the prisoner have lost money through cashing worthless checks:

"H. Berghoff, State and Adams streets, $18.50; James Levy, 3000 Prairie avenue, $19; David G. Gollear, 985 North Clark street, $15; R. C. Mazer, 965 North Clark street, $12.50; Emil Gorsch, Clark street and Diversey boulevard, $13.50; Dr. Clancy, 1249 North Clark street, $10.

"Morgenthaler, according to the police, secured money from the above mentioned persons by representing himself as an agent for the Chicago Press company. On the strength of this he passed worthless checks on the Foreman Brothers Banking company and the Merchants' Loan and Trust company banks, bearing what is alleged to be the fictitious indorsement of the Press company. The man represented that he had an office at 358 Dearborn street. He lives at 1724 Sherman place."

Until a few years ago Mr. Morgenthaler was a resident of Fort Wayne, and he is widely known in this city, where he had many friends. He was genial and companionable, though unfortunately addicted to bad habits, which have undoubtedly proved his undoing.

WINONA LAKE ASSEMBLY.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 3.—The regular program was followed at the second day of the Winona assembly, and some features were added. Yesterday afternoon, in the Auditorium, Lorado Taft, the sculptor, gave a clay talk on "A Glimpse of an Artist's Studio," illustrating his talk with work in clay and plaster on the platform. This was followed by a concert by the Mendelssohn Male quartet, assisted by Signor Romeo Gamo and F. J. Hoffman, pianists, of the Cincinnati College of Music. Last night, in the Auditorium, the Rev. George L. Mackintosh, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, of Indianapolis, delivered a lecture on "Iago," the villain of "Othello."

The work in all departments of the Summer school began yesterday morning. It is not expected that the registration will be commenced before the end of he week.

All efforts of the management are being turned now toward the celebration of the Fourth. Preparations are being made for the biggest crowd that Winona ever had, and the management probably will not be disappointed.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—The first session of the fifteenth annual encampment of Indiana Sons of Veterans, yesterday afternoon, was attended by about two hundred delegates, and there are that many more delegates here today. The customary parade will take place at night, on account of the heat. Muncie Knights of Khorassan have been invited to participate and make a fireworks display along the line of march. Following the parade street cars will be taken for West Side park, where there will be a big display of fireworks, Muncie's Fourth of July display. A ball in the large pavilion will follow.

The feature of yesterday's program was the camp fire at the Wysor Grand Opera house last night, where 1,500 persons, including the local G. A. R., in a body, heard addresses by Senator Fairbanks, Governor W. T. Durbin, Charles F. Griffin, past commander-in-chief National S. of V, Representatives James Robinson and George W. Cromer, State Commander Sid Conger and State Senator W. L. Ball. R. I. Patterson recited an original poem. The principal business of the afternoon session was the hearing of reports and the appointment of committees. Routine work occupied the session of the Ladies' Aid society.

Indianapolis is a candidate for the next meeting and, as yet, seems to have no opposition. Its candidate for commander seems to have the lead also. The candidates for president of the Ladies' Aid society are Miss Mattie Ott, of Richmond, and Miss Maggie Goodrich, of Shelbyville.

FAMOUS HOTEL DESTROYED.

Richmond, Va., July 3.—The Homestead, the well known hotel at the Virginia Hot Springs, in Bath county, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. No lives were lost, although a great many guests were in the building. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The Homestead had a capacity of 450 guests and has numbered as its patrons many of the most prominent people of the United States, including President and Mrs. McKinley, and members of the cabinet. While the guests all escaped without injury, many of them lost their valuables.

Patterson's clothing store will be open this evening.

PLAN TO CELEBRATE FOURTH

HOW FORT WAYNE PEOPLE WILL SPEND THE DAY

Large Number of Picnics in the City —Winona and Rome City Will Attract Large Crowds.

Fort Wayne has arranged for no general celebration of Independence day tomorrow, but the indications are that about everybody who can break away from everyday affairs will seek rest or appropriate recreation for the day. Winona, where Hon. C. W. Fairbanks is the speaker, is likely to draw quite largely from this city, and it is certain that several hundred Fort Wayne people will spend the day at Rome City.

Inside the city arrangements have been made by many of the churches for picnics. Of the Lutheran congregations, Zion's will hold forth at the church grounds, Emanuel's goes to Williams' park, Emmaus will recreate at the High Banks, Trinity in a grove near the church, and St. Paul's and Concordia will unite on the college campus. St. Peter's Catholic church will hold a celebration at the school grounds. In each case there will be a band of music present to enliven the occasion and in a number of instances arrangements have been made for fireworks displays in the evening.

BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE.

Practically all the shops and factories, the banks, trust companies and many other business houses will be closed for the entire day, while others will be open during the morning hours only.

Out at Centlivre park the Amateur Driving club has arranged for a splendid race program, in which the speediest flyers owned in the city will participate, and there is sure to be excellent sport.

Robison park will make the day a notable one, with the fairyland illuminations, band concerts and a lavish display of fireworks as special features. The park will doubtless draw very largely, for its picturesque and shady nooks offer an inviting retreat from the excessive temperature.

JUDGE FORBIDS BULLFIGHTS.

Omaha, July 3.—Upon the application of Alfred Sutton and various South Omaha clergymen, District Judge Fawcett has granted a temporary restraining order forbidding the contemplated bullfights. The order is made returnable at 2 o'clock today, when the legal rights of the toreadors will be put to the test. The Humane society takes no further interest in the affair now that it is assured that the bulls shall come to no harm, although human life will admittedly be jeopardized. The society thinks human beings are competent to take care of themselves. The appeal of the clergymen is based on the state statute forbidding wanton cruelty to animals. They believe the exhibition will injure the moral well being of the city. The South Omaha street fair management has completed its huge amphitheater and is advertising two fights for the Fourth of July. It guarantees that the bulls will not be injured, but promises that the performers will execute all the approved feats with red sash and vaulting pole.

Patterson's clothing store will be open this evening.

WILL FIGHT SUNDAY OPENING.

Columbus, July 3.—The Pastors' union, of this city, yesterday voted their disapproval of the purpose of the state board of agriculture to open the state fair on Sunday. To mitigate the opposition to Sunday opening the fair managers decided some time ago to hold religious services on the ground, and invited Dr. Frank Gunsaulus, of Chicago, to preach. Dr. Gunsaulus replied, approving Sunday opening, but declining the invitation. At his suggestion the board then opened negotiations with Rev. D. Campbell Morgan, who is Moody's successor in evangelistic work. The Pastor' union refused to indorse the plan and announced their intention of holding a counter religious attraction down town to keep crowds away from the fair on Sunday.

MAJOR PRUDEN REAPPOINTED.

Washington, July 3.—Major O. L. Pruden, the former assistant secretary to the president, who was appointed a paymaster in the regular army in May, has resigned his position in the army and has been reappointed to his old position of assistant secretary to the president. This is the office to which the late Adelbert Hay was to have been appointed. Major Pruden has abandoned his career in the army on account of personal and business reasons to assume his former duties at the white house.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON.

Boston, July 3.—The fire which started in the Metropolitan Coal company's stables at South Boston last night practically destroyed all the company's property at that point, including coal sheds and wharves, burned several small buildings and the barge Buena Vista. Twenty valuable draft horses perished. The total loss is estimated at $200,000.

MOELLERING GETS CONTRACT.

Peru, Ind., July 3.—The city council last night awarded the contract for paving Broadway with Metropolitan brick to C. E. Moellering & Co., of Fort Wayne, at $1.75 a square yard. The award followed the action of the circuit court yesterday morning in dissolving the restraining order granted some time ago on behalf of remonstrators against the brick pavement.

DRIVING CLUB RACES.

The races at Centlivre's park tomorrow afternoon under the auspces of the Amateur Driving club will undoubtedly attract a large Fourth of July crowd and some fine sport is assured. Many of the speediest horses in the city are entered for the events and the contests promise to be spirited. The races will be called at 1:30 p. m, sharp, and a special car service will be run. William H. Fleming will be the starter and music will be furnished by the City band. Following is a list of events:

EEL RIVER COMMENCEMENT

EXERCISES WERE HELD THURSDAY EVENING.

An Interesting Program Was Carried Out—Class Address By Rev. Charles Tinkham.

The annual commencement of the Eel River schools, held last Thursday evening at Wesley chapel, closed another page in the history of school work in Eel River township. The year has been one of merit and success, and the work of the graduates demonstrated the careful work of officers, teachers and pupils. Long before the appointed hour the house was filled, and at 8:15 the graduates marched to the platform, preceded by five little flower girls and County Superintendent Young. Behind them were Trustee Johnston and his teachers. The program was as follows:

Instrumental Music.
Prayer.....Rev. Charles Tinkham
Song.....Male Quartet
Salutatory.....Sadie Fulk
Recitation—"Views of Life"....
.....Isaiah Bair
Song.....Male Quartet
Recitation—"Self Education"....
.....Ollie Richards
Recitation—"Education" .....

Instrumental Music.
Essay.....Luella Hand
Class Poem.....Sadie Fulk
Song.....Male Quartet
Class Address..Rev. Chas. Tinkham
Instrumental Music.
Valedictory.....Luella Hand
Song.....Male Quartet
Presentation of Diplomas.....
.....Supt. F. J. Young
Instrumental Music.
Benediction.....S. K. Waterson

The class address by Rev. Charles Tinkham dwelt mainly upon the class motto, "Graduated, Not Educated," and was highly appreciated by all.

Mr. Young, in his address, urged the needs of higher education which leads to the greatest possibilities in life. He also spoke of the necessity of one filling his calling in life.

Much credit is due to Mr. Johnston for his plan of management of the exercises. The little girls who carried the flowers were Cora Barndthant, Grace Scarlett, Alta Johnston, Mary Joly and Pansy Golden. Miss Grace O'Brien assisted in arranging them in front of the platform. Maggie Fulk and Blanche O'Brien acted as ushers and Pearl Sible and Will Brown distributed programs.

The following teachers were present and took part: Pearl E. Sible, Ida Nederhiser, Blanche E. O'Brien and Maggie G. Fulk. Miss Clara Damon, who taught in the township last year, was present and assisted in the duties of the teachers.

The bouquets and floral offerings were abundant and tastefully arranged, and trustee and teachers extend their most sincere thanks to all who gave and helped in the decorations.

The male quartet was highly appreciated by all and the chapel people are pleased to have one of their number connected with it.

Auburn Courier: "Bishop Alerding, of Fort Wayne, confirmed twenty-one members in the Catholic religion at the church Monday evening. The services were very interesting and much enjoyed by those present. A party from Summit and a number of people from other places were present. The bishop went to Summit today, where he will confirm a number this evening."

Mrs. Souders and Miss Alta Green, of Columbia City, are in the city the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gumpper.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

It is estimated that the cost of royalty to each citizen of Great Britain is only three-pence per annum.

The French minister for war has ordered that all French troops employed on foreign or active service are for the future to wear khaiki.

In the Rhine vineyards one of the methods of protecting the vines against frosts in May is to put paper bags around them over night.

A recent tabulation made by a Swiss economist puts the aggregate savings deposits of European countries at more than $9,000,000,000 in the summer of the year 1900.

In the United States the savings deposits in 1870 were $549,874,353, distributed among 1,630,846 depositors. This amount was multiplied by more than four in 1900, when $2,384,770,849 was distributed among 5,875,450 depositors.

It was William Pitt who originated the income tax in Great Britain in 1798 as a war tax. The Napoleonic wars were fought wit it. From that time to this it has been the resort of all ministries to meet war expenditures.

From July 30 next the subjects and products of Great Britain, as well as of the British colonies and foreign possessions, will, the exception of Canada, will be granted the most favored nation treatment by Germany until further notice.

"Archie," the huge elephant that carried the prince of Wales through India during his visit there nearly thirty years ago, died recently near London. The animal was over 70 years old.

An instrument, named the "topophone," has just been invented for the prevention of collisions at sea. The topophone registers even slight sounds far outside the range of the human ear, and by enabling foghorns to be heard at immense distances will greatly minimize existing risks in thick weather.

Outside of London, only five or six large towns in Great Britain are without municipal gas works, and a majority of the exceptions have started electric light plants. Throughout the country municipal gas is sold at 10 per cent. less than corporation gas, and the quality is better.

Builders of motor cars in France are strongly convinced that the future of the industry lies in the utilization of alcohol. Owners have little hope of petroleum being cheapened to any considerable extent. They are looking for any further economy to alcohol the utilization of which, it is supposed, will not save them money, but will revive a languishing national industry at the expense of imported petroleum.

There is talk of the establishment of a woman's college of matrimony to be located in Chelsea, England, where the duties of a wife will become the subject of a two-year course of study. The curriculum will embrace not only the usual branches of housewifery, such as cooking, sewing, laundry work, but is intended to deal with physiology and medicine as well, so that the students will receive mental discipline in connection with the manual training.

WEATHER SHOWS LITTLE MERCY

Intense Heat Continues in Great Cities and the Total Number of Deaths Reaches Many Hundreds---No Relief in Sight.

Washington, July 3.—The mercury is again climbing upward and at 9:45 o'clock this morning the official thermometer at the weather buren registered 86, a rise of six degrees since 8 o'clock. People in this city gained a good night's rest last night for the first time in several days. The weather bureau reiterated today its announcement that there is no permanent break in the hot spell in sight. Sixteen deaths in the past six days have been either directly or indirectly attributable to the heat.

PHILADELPHIA SIZZLING.

Philadelphia, July 3—A cool breeze from the south tempered the heat slightly this morning, but a jump of eight degrees in one hour indicated another scorching day. At 11 o'clock the official weather bureau thermometer registered 91 degrees, a decrease of four degrees compared with the same hour yesterday. Up to this hour fifteen deaths and a score of prostrations have been reported. The humidity at 8 o'clock this morning stood at 61 per cent. At 11 o'clock it had decreased 3 per cent. The total number of deaths due to heat n this city from the beginning of the hot spell up to this morning is ninety-one.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon seventeen deaths and over fifty prostrations from heat had been reported. At that hour the weather bureau thermometers registered 95 degrees, a decrease of four degrees compared with yesterday. The humidity had fallen from 62 to 41 per cent.

TORRID WAVE BROKEN.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—The torrid wave was broken at 9 o'clock this morning by rain, the mercury dropped from 81 degrees to 77 in a few minutes, and the indications point to a still further decline, as what promises to be a steady rain has set in. Two deaths and three pros-

SOCIAL REFORMERS ADOPT PLATFORM

Detroit, Mich., July 3.—The second National Social and Political conference today adopted the following platform:

"We declare for direct legislation and proportional representation; direct nomination of candidates for offices; equal suffrage for all regardless of sex or color; honest elections, free from all partisan manipulation or control; direct taxation through progressive land values, inheritance and income taxes; public ownership of public utilities; an eight-hour day; sole control of the medium of exchange by the government; home rule; postal savings banks; state insurance and workmen's compensation for industrial injuries; opposition to militarism and conquest, and advocacy of peaceful arbitration; demand the same rights and liberties for others as for ourselves."

In the preamble to the platform the conference expressed its condemnation of monopolies, the concentration of wealth and the present policy of this government with regard to its insular possessions.

One of the features of the morning session was the withdrawal from the conference of Prof. W. C. Bohannon, of Chicago, because he was not permitted to talk on a resolution after the previous question had been moved.

TRIED TO KILL HERSELF.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—Georgia Davis, who attempted suicide early yesterday morning, was placed in jail yesterday afternoon by the county prosecutor to hold her until the trial of the nine men charged with assaulting her. The girl says she wants to die. She is but fourteen years old. Miss Aletha Puckett, of Logansport, who was likewise treated by the same crowd of men, attempted to take her life last night also with morphine. She was engaged to be married, and says that since the assault that caused the first complaint her betrothed refuses to marry her. She, too, will be placed in jail if she recovers.

STRIKERS ARE ENJOINED.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 3.—A temporary restraining order was granted, on application for a blanket injunction against the striking machinists made to Judge Thompson, in the district court, by the Metal Trades association of Cincinnati. The petition charges that the strikers have used coercion, violence, intimidation and boycott to prevent men from accepting employment without the sanction of the Machinists' union. The temporary injunction was allowed until Judge Clark shall have returned from Chattanooga, when argument will be heard for a permanent order.

PETITION FOR BUTLER.

A petition very largely signed by Fort Wayne attorneys was forwarded to Senator Fairbanks today, asking the appointment of Noble C. Butler, present clerk of the United States court for the district of Indiana, as district judge, assuming that Judge Baker, the present incumbent, is to be elevated to the bench made vacant by the recent death of Judge Woods. The attorneys say the petition was signed assuming that there would be no Fort Wayne candidate for the position.

READY WITH REPORTS.

Secretary Monning, of the Commercial club, is preparing his reports for the past year to be presented at the annual meeting of the club next Monday evening. It is hoped there will be a large attendance of the members, and the secretary says no one need stay away on account of the heat. Two electric fans will be placed in the club rooms to contribute to the comfort of the members.

DOES NOT LIKE HIS PARTNER

HARRY BERMAN ASKS COURT FOR DISSOLUTION.

Also Would Like a Receiver—Had a Disagreement and a Fight—About the Court House.

Harry Berman has commenced suit against George G. Mines, asking for the appointment of a receiver and dissolution of partnership. The parties to the suit were engaged in the retail shoe business with a store at 150 Calhoun street. The prayer of the petitioner was granted and Guy Colerick was appointed receiver and will take possession of the stock as soon as he can prepare and execute his bond. The stock is valued at $1,400.

According to the allegations made in the complaint the partners did not have much ready capital when they embarked in business and so in order that they might meet their bills promptly they made an agreement not to draw over $5 per week each out of the business until after all the debts of the firm were paid. The defendant has frequently violated this agreement and last night he wanted to draw an amount greatly in excess of the stipulated five-spot. Plaintiff objected and hot words ensued. Finally Mines, who is a big man, swooped down on Berman and commenced wiping up the floor with him and besides subjecting him to many other indignities; he broke his nose and left him lying on the floor of the store. He says he is badly injured, and as Himes is a man of violent temper as well as powerful physique he is in danger of his life if he ever goes back to the store. The store, however, is now locked up, but the firm has about $25 on deposit in one of the banks and the plaintiff is afraid that he will get possession of that sum and still farther embarrass the plaintiff.

COURT NOTES.

The case of Odem vs. J. F. Schell et al. was dismissed in the superior court today.

Sarah Smith was today divorced from George E. Smith and was also awarded the custody of their minor child.

In the case of Curdew vs. Yaple, a decree to quiet title was entered.

The commissioners were in session today allowing bills and tomorrow will take up matters pertaining to roads.

Since the last published report the county board of tax review has raised assessment valuations as follows: Ankenbruck & Potthoff, from $250 to $1,000; J. B. Heinrich, from $550 to $900; A. Mergentheim, from $2,135 to $3,000; Michael Himbert, from $250 to $7,950; Fort Wayne Oil Supply company, no return made at all—valuation fixed at $3,000.

Andrew Schwartz, of Cedar Creek township, came to the city today to get John Amstutz, who has been detained at the jail for over a week. Amstutz is demented and was locked up by the sheriff some days ago simply for safe keeping.

The superior court adjourned at noon today and will not be in session again until next Thursday, July 11.

LORD ROBERTS TESTIFIES.

London, July 3.—Lord Roberts testified today before the royal commission which is considering the claims of foreigners deported from South Africa. The commander-in-chief dealt with the plots against his life and the deportation of the ring leaders. He said the officers and employes of the Netherlands were so hostile to the British that many of them had to be deported. Consideration was shown them. He personally investigated the great majority of cases and sanctioned none unless on adequate grounds. No difference was made on account of nationality.

STATUS OF STRIKE

NO NEW PHASE OF SITUATION IS REPORTED.

NO BREAK IN SOLID FRONT

COMBINE MAKING NO EFFORT AT PRESENT.

A CONFERENCE IS LIKELY

AMALGAMATED OFFICERS TO HAVE MEETING.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—There were no developments today in the strike of the steel sheet and hoop workers. Neither of the combines affected has seemingly attempted to break the solid front of the men at any of the union plants. They still announce that mills not running this week are shut down for repairs. A private telegram from Youngstown received in this city last night stated that the American Steel Hoop company would go direct to the men at its union plants in Girard, Youngstown, Warren, Greenville and Pomeroy with the demand that they return to work next Monday at the scale figures asked by the association.

No word of such action had been received today at the men's headquarters, however.

President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, stated this morning that he had called on several officers of the independent sheet plants in reference to the recent cut in prices made by the sheet combine, and they all agreed with him that the reduction was made to keep the independent concerns out of the market.

"If they persist in this," said he, "I will call a conference with the independent people next year and arrange a scale with them."

When asked if he expected any developments soon, he said:

"I expect to get into communication with the combine people before the close of the day. They called for me by long distance telephone yesterday, but when I reached the office I was unable to get them. I am to call them up today and there may be some results."

When seen later President Shaffer said the telephonic interview from the combine officials had been unsatisfactory on account of the wire conditions and was barren of results. The signatures of the Kansas City Bolt and Nut company, of Sheffield, Mo., and Phillips, Nimick & Co., of the Sligo mills, this city, to the amalgamated scale were received at headquarters today.

The advisory board of the Amalgamated association has been called to meet at the national headquarters on Saturday, at which time action likely will be taken that will assist the striking workmen to win. This board is composed of President T. J. Shaffer, Secretary John Williams, Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe, Business Manager Benjamin I. Davis, of the Amalgamated Journal, and the trustees, John Pierce, John H. Morgan and Elias Jenkins.

None of the members of the board will make any predictions as to what will be done at this meeting, but from the sentiments expressed by some of them there will be no compromise.

INDIANA COAL TRUST.

Chicago, July 3.—Negotiations toward the amalgamation of the bituminous coal mines in Indiana are about completed. The particulars of the deal will be made public next week. A secret meeting of the finance and railroad committees having in charge the consolidation was held in Chicago yesterday. It is understood that the Indiana corporation will be financed by Chicago capitalists and that the capitalization will reach $15,000,000. Progress is also reported in the consolidation of the Illinois mines. It was given out yesterday that the Chicago-Virden company had secured options on all the mines on the Chicago and Alton railroad south of Wilmington and on ten mines in the vicinity of Springfield.

LIBRARIANS MEET.

Waukesha, Wis., July 3.—Only a few delegates have arrived to attend the annual convention of the National Library association. Henry J. Carr, president; Former Governor Luce, of Michigan; Herbert Putnam, librarian of congress; J. P. Kennedy, of the reading room division, congressional library; Chief Hanson, of the catalogue division; Cuttin, of the order division, and Messrs. Windsor, Shaw and Sulberg, of the copyright division, were among the early arrivals. This evening, after the arrival of several special trains bearing delegates, an informal reception will be held.

STRIKE IS GROWING.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—Striking freight handlers in the railroad yards at East St. Louis now number 1,700 men. Of this number 600 are drivers of transfer wagons who went out today in sympathy with their fellow workmen. Not a wheel is moving around the freight sheds and 3,000 cars are in position to be unloaded. Many of them are loaded with fruit, vegetables and other perishable goods.

FOR THE VACANT JUDGESHIP

LAWYERS AND POLITICIANS INTERESTED.

Indianapolis Has Three or Four Candidates and the State Will Present Many More.

Indianapolis, July 3.—The lawyers and politicians of the state are taking a great interest in the appointment of a man to succeed Judge Baker on the United States district bench, it being thought that he will be promoted to the circuit bench, vacated by the death of Judge Woods. Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, who will make the recommendation to the president, will have to consider a long list of candidates for the place. Among the men suggested for the district judgeship are Addison C. Harris, Roscoe O. Hawkins and Ovid B. Jameson, of this city; Leander J. Monks, of Winchester, now a member of the state supreme bench; W. J. Henly, of Rush county, an appellate judge; A. B. Anderson, of Crawfordsville; Lucien Hubbard, of South Bend; Enoch G. Hogate, of Danville; E. H. Bundy, of Henry county; Judge Hammond, of Lafayette, and Robert S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne. Noble C. Butler, who has been clerk of the United States courts here for many years, also is spoken of as a successor to Judge Baker.

OPINION IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, July 3.—The weight of opinion here is that District Judge Baker will succeed to the circuit judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge Woods. There is some talk of Judge Tracewell, controller of the treasury, but, in view of the intimate relations that exist between Senator Beveridge and Judge Baker, the opinion is he will be selected, and his successor be named by Senator Fairbanks.

DENOUNCES THE STORY.

Readers of The Sentinel will recall an article reprinted a few days ago from the Huntington News-Democrat concerning J. S. Florsheim, of Chicago, in which that gentleman was depicted as a most marvelous story teller in matters concerning himself and his exploits. Mr. Florsheim called at The Sentinel office today to request that the statements be corrected. He denounces as false in every particular the Huntington article, save wherein it states he is engaged to be married to a young lady of Fort Wayne. He denies strenuously that he ever made any of the statements attributed to him by the Huntington newspapers. Mr. Florsheim is a very genial gentleman and he is much distressed by the false statements imputed to him. Mr. Florsheim believes the article was inspired, if not actually written, by an enemy designing damage to his character and that its publication was procured in the Huntington paper with malicious purpose. He has employed a detective to unravel the matter. The Sentinel is pleased to set Mr. Florsheim right in this city, where he has many friends.

OHIO BANK FAILS.

Mansfield, Ohio, July 3.—Sturges' bank, a private institution, closed its doors today, following the filing of a deed of assignment by Banker Sturges to Attorney H. B. Dirlam. Sturges owned lumber works, real estate, and a controlling interest in the Mansfield machine works, the latter capitalized at $300,000. This afternoon A. Pack was appointed receiver for the Mansfield machine works. Sturges was a close friend of the late John Sherman. No statement of the bank's affairs has yet been made.

Lieut. W. S. McLeod has returned from a visit of ten days at Rome City.

CALLS THEM HOT HOUSE PLANTS

Congressman Hill Sees Little Stability in the Recently Established Provincial Governments in the Philippines.

Manila, July 3.—Congressman Hull, of Iowa, who accompanied General Chaffee on his southern tour, characterizes the newly established provincial governments as "hot house plants, unable to withstand adversities."

He said to the correspondent of the Associated Press that there will be many difficulties under the dual civil military government, which will be inaugurated tomorrow.

Mr. Hull believes that their natural richness ensures the eventual prosperity of the islands, but he is convinced from conversations with the governors and army officers that in the new southern provinces poverty and other obstacles will prevent the successful collection of land taxes. He believes that the salaries, excepting those of the clerks and minor employes, are too high, from the commissioners downward, and that the provinces ought to have far larger areas and fewer officers. The United States commissioners agree with this, but have deferred to the wishes of the inhabitants. Mr. Hull approves of the provincial law, but is of the opinion that the bulk of the territory should be under military government until absolutely pacified and cleared of ladrones. He is convinced the natives in general are not concerned about the government.

These views are typically those of the generality of army officers. The American civilians as a rule are not inclined to await a fair trial of the experiment of partial self-government and neither the natives nor the army officers are in favor of any removals of troops.

General Sumner urges that the native police of Tayabas province ought to be disarmed or enrolled by the military governor. Colonel Gardiner, the governor of the province, insists on controlling the police. The pending bill for the organization of the entire insular policy provides for civil control of the police, and army officers predict clashes unless the military control the police in the disturbed localities.

EAST END WILL HAVE A NEW FACTORY

A new manufacturing institution of considerable importance is to be established in the eastern part of the city. Yesterday the Haberkorn-Haley company completed the purchase of a tract of land embracing six lots, between Alliger street and the Wabash railroad tracks, and will locate its factory there.

A main building of brick, two stories in height, is to be erected at a cost of about $5,000, and plans for the structure have already been completed by the architect. Work is to begin at once, and the factory is to be rushed to completion. A considerable portion of the machinery has already been purchased and is in storage awaiting the erection of the buildings. The company will build the new model of steam engines for which patents were recently secured, and while no effort has yet been made to sell them, it is stated that a number of orders for the engines are already on file, placed by gentlemen who have seen the workings of the machine in the exhaustive tests which have been made. The company was incorporated several months ago.

BOYS KILLED IN A TRAP.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—Ten boys were caught like rats in a trap yesterday in a tunnel leading to the old Keeling mine, owned by the Pittsburg Coal company. Two boys were killed and eight overcome by the foul fumes of the place. Anthony Miller, aged fifteen, was killed instantly, and Patrick Gallagher, aged fourteen, died at the hospital within an hour. The boys who were overcome by fumes ranged in age between eleven and eighteen. They will all recover. The boys had been helping the men load a train and all boarded the train to go to the tipple. While in the tunnel the train stalled. The boys became frightened, jumped to the ground and tried to grope their way to the outside. The fumes of the tunnel, combined with the smoke from the engine, prostrated them, and the two who were killed fell across the tracks. When the train finally started these two boys were literally ground to pieces and others who had fallen to one side were taken out later by a rescue party, all in an unconscious state, but revived shortly afterward.

A BLOW TO THE INSANITY TRUST

Indianapolis Judge Orders Release of a Man Railroaded to the Insane Asylum---What the Evidence Showed.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—John Ross, who was railroaded to the insane hospital last week, was brought before Judge Leathers yesterday in habeas corpus proceedings. The case has gained much interest throughout Indiana as it illustrated frequent charges that an "insanity trust" existed here, formed by a few doctors and justices of the peace, among whom the fees that accrued were divided.

"The main question," said Judge Leathers, "is the insanity of Ross. His having been sent to the hospital may be a hardship, but it is not the province of this court in an action of this sort to inquire into the general methods of the sanity commissions. So we must adhere to that issue throughout. However, the exposure in this case may call the attention of the proper authorities and it may prove beneficial on that account. If this was an action against the doctors for damages then we might go into all the charges preferred by newspapers and others."

Twelve fellow employes of Ross' at Kingan's packing establishment testified that he was sane. Emma Coleman testified that she was Ross' promised wife. She said that a day or so before he was taken to the asylum he had a fainting spell. He had gone to his boarding house sick that noon, as a heavy box had fallen on him. She was sent for as Ross had no relatives. She said Ross fainted again while she was there. Ross himself said he fainted two or three times during the day. Miss Coleman testified that in all the time Ross had been calling on her, ten months, she had never knew him to have a fit, nor had she observed anything to make her believe him insane. He saw her three times a week, she said. All the testimony showed that Ross was sane and that the insanity commission had not given the case proper attention.

At the hearing the manner in which insanity inquests are conducted in this city was aired before the court. Drs. Benham, Hicks, Young and Jacobs of the city dispensary, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cronin, the matron, were witnesses. Mrs. Cronin testified that many of the answers on the affidavit in the Ross case were made from information coming from the dispensary physicians.

Dr. Waters of the Central Insane hospital testified that he had noticed no symptoms of insanity in Ross, but his testimony was cut short by Judge Leathers, who said he had allowed much testimony that was wholly irrelevant in the cause to be given, because the legality of the system of declaring persons insane is being questioned.

There is much criticism here of the mode of conducting insanity hearings and it is charged that W. S. Lockman, justice of the peace, has a monopoly of inquests. It is further alleged that dispensary physicians and a police surgeon are in an "insanity trust," all reaping fees.

Attorney General Taylor has interested himself in the matter and yesterday Lyman Parks, who was recently sent to the insane hospital, was released by the hospital physicians without the usual habeas corpus proceedings.

The next legislature will be called upon to revise insanity laws.

FEAR A NEW UPRISING IN CHINA

Society of Villagers Likely to Repeat the Boxer Outbreak---France Will Not Yet Withdraw Her Troops.

London, July 3.—A dispatch from Pekin says:

The French propose to delay their evacuation of Pao-Ting-Fu until autumn. They believe that their presence there is necessary as the disorders, which have been wide spread, are increasing. The society of allied villagers is replacing the boxer organization. This society, as ostensibly formed for local protection, but it is really insurrectionary, as it resists the collection of the regular taxes because the villagers suffered heavily last year and object to the additional taxes for the expenses of the court's return and indemnity for the Catholic converts, who greatly outnumber the protestants.

The people have some ground for complaint, it is said, but money being needed the government must make demands, and when they are resisted the Chinese troops must enforce the government's orders.

If the troops fail the foreign troops must interpose. Hence there is good reason for the French remaining as the converts are under their protection. Another reason is that the railway runs through the disturbed districts and must be protected. The Germans intend to evacuate Pao-Ting-Fu by July 5.

TRANSFERRED TO CHINESE.

London, July 3.—The British and Japanese sections in Pekin have been formally transferred to the Chinese, says a Pekin dispatch to a news agency.

There is delay on the part of the Italians, French and Germans in transferring their sections in the Tartar city. The Germans have transferred their section of the Chinese city, all of which is now under the jurisdiction of ten police censors. The British, German and Japanese retain some supervision over the city, and are responsible for the settlement of quarrels between foreigners.

A thousand new Japanese troops have arrived here and nearly four thousand more are coming to replace the force in the province of Chi-Li. The Japanese, French and German commanders have consented to Gov. Yuan Shih Kai's troops coming within seven miles of the city. The British commander has not yet decided whether to consent or not. The British, French and Japanese say they will not evacuate until the troops of the other powers have.

Arrangements are being made for the return of the court. Orders have been given for the rebuilding of two of the large gates of the city. The merchants in the ruined portion of the city are rebuilding, showing that they expect the court to return.

Yet how many feel that they have the strength to properly balance the home? The world is listless, weary and morbid. Its blood moves sluggishly and is full of impurities. It needs a kindling, invigorating tonic to set it afire—it needs Pe-ru-na, in the world which women may rely upon positively. Pe-ru-na is good for everyone, but particularly for women. The various weaknesses which afflict their delicate organism spring from inflammation or catarrh of the mucous lining, and Pe-ru-na is a specific for catarrh in any organ of the body. Any congestion of a mucous membrane simply means catarrh of the organ affected. This is why Pe-ru-na cures all sorts of troubles where other remedies fail. If there is a catarrhal affection the matter with you anywhere Pe-ru-na will cure you.

FIRST FATALITY FROM HEAT

FRED H. WIEDEMANN EXPIRED TUESDAY EVENING.

Was Overcome While at Work in a Spoke Factory—Other Deaths and Funeral Notices.

The first case of death from heat prostration in Fort Wayne this season came Tuesday evening, when Fred H. Wiedemann, employed at the Strieder & Kemp spoke factory, on the east side, sank prostrate at his bench. Fellow workmen hurried to his side and removed the patient to his home, 144 Rebecca street, where death ensued at 5 o'clock. Coroner Barnett was summoned and pronounced the death due to heat prostration.

Mr. Wiedemann was 53 years of age and had been apparently in good health. He was a native of Germany and since 1883 has resided in Fort Wayne. Surviving are the widow and two sons, Julius and Frederick. There are also four brothers and two sisters in Germany.

PENNSYLVANIA'S BOYS WIN

CAPTURE SECOND HEAT IN THE GRAND CHALLENGE.

Defeat the London Rowing Club With Ease—Cornell the Victor at Poughkeepsie.

Henley on Thames, July 3.—The Henley regatta opened today formally, although, owing to the large number of entries for the Thames challenge cup, three heats in the contest for that trophy were rowed yesterday afternoon and won by Trinity hall, Cambridge, the School of Mines rowing club and the Kingston rowing club.

In the second heat of the grand challenge cup race the University of Pennsylvania crew beat the London rowing club by three lengths.

The Pennsylvanias, after their heat for the grand challenge cup, disembarked at their boat house apparently as fresh as when they left it. There was no sign of exhaustion on the part of any member of the crew. The stroke, Gardiner, said:

"We pulled pretty lively at the finish, but there was no time in the race when we had any doubt about the result.

Ellis Ward, the coach, said:

"The crew did the work today which I expected. Their performance, I believe, was most creditable, but to me it was in no way a surprise. There was no advantage whatever in the stations today and all the conditions of the race and the management were as perfect as possible."

"Bob" Cook, in his final summary of the Pennsylvanias' prospects said:

"No American crew was ever at Henley with better prospects. They are in splendid condition and confident. They will, in my opinion, meet Leander in the finals, when, I fear, the Englismen will beat them."

CORNELL'S VICTORIES.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 2.—Cornell's oarsmen triumphed on the Hudson river yesterday afternoon. Their colors were in the van in two of the three events in the biggest rowing regattas, considered from the number of contesting crews and from the time made, ever held in this country.

Her varsity eight won the big race of the day and made a new world's record.

Her varsity four also rowed to victory.

The Cornell freshmen seemed certain winners of their race when an accident befell their boat, yet they finished second.

The new record for varsity eights was the more remarkable from the fact that three of the four leading crews in the race each broke the old record by many seconds.

The varsity eight of Cornell university made the new record of four miles in 18 minutes, 53 1-5 seconds, the former record being 19 minutes, 44 3-5 seconds, made by the Pennsylvania crew last year. Columbia finished second, making the course in 18 minutes, 58 seconds; Wisconsin, third, in 19 minutes, 6 4-5 seconds; Georgetown, fourth, in 19 minutes, 21 seconds.

Following are the summaries of the races:

—Varsity Eight.—

1—Cornell	18:53 1-5
2—Columbia	18:58
3—Wisconsin	19:06 4-5

—Varsity Four.—

1—Cornell	11:39 3-5
2—Pennsylvania	11:45 2-5
3—Columbia	11:51 3-5

—Freshmen Eight.—

1—Pennsylvania	10:20 1-5
2—Cornell	10:23
3—Columbia	10:36 1-5

COLUMBIA HAS AN ACCIDENT

RACE WITH CONSTITUTION IS CALLED OFF.

After a Fine Start and a Good Lead Mishap to Rigging Interferes—The Shamrock's Race.

Bateman's Point, R. I., July 3.—The race today between the new cup defender, Constitution, and the 1899 defender, Columbia, was abruptly ended by an accident to the Columbia. The accident was caused by the buckling of the martingale of the Columbia. It is thought the accident can be quickly repaired, but it has been decided that there will be no race tomorrow.

THE SHAMROCKS RACE.

Rothesay, Firth of Clyde, July 3.—The two Shamrocks started on a thorough racing trial today over a 43 mile course. A brisk breeze was blowing when the start was made. The yachts carried jib-headers.

Rothesay, July 3.—At the finish of the actual racing the Shamrock I led by a minute and a half.

The board of works will hold its regular meeting on Friday night of this week, instead of tomorrow night. The postponement is for the purpose of giving Chairman Eggemann ample opportunity to shoot off his firecrackers and things and celebrate the Fourth in an appropriate manner.

The board of safety met in regular session last night, but beyond allowing a few bills, no business was transacted.

trations from the heat were reported up to 9 o'clock. Eighty-six deaths directly attributable to the excessive heat have occurred in Pittsburg since last Wednesday up to 9 o'clock this morning. Of this number sixty-four were reported since Sunday night.

At 1 o'clock 13 deaths and 20 prostrations had been reported. The mercury registered 81 degrees. The rain had ceased, but it was cloudy and threatening.

IN LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Ky., July 3.—The official temperature at 7 a. m. was 84, seven degrees higher than at the same hour yesterday. Street thermometers at 7 a. m. read 91 in the shade. Two deaths and two prostrations were reported in this city this morning.

DETROIT GETS RELIEF.

Detroit, Mich., July 3.—The heavy thunder storms of last night cooled the air so greatly that the official thermometer registered but 76 degrees at 7:30 this morning. A ten-mile breeze was blowing from the northeast at that hour.

Up to noon today there have been five deaths in this city from the heat.

RAIN IN CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 3.—A gentle rain began falling in this city early today and as a result the temperature fell to 76 degrees. During the past five days sixteen deaths and sixty prostrations from the heat have been reported.

NEW YORK MORGUES FULL.

New York, July 3.—At 11 o'clock the thermometer had risen to the 92 mark, but the humidity had fallen to 53 per cent. The temperature at 11 a. m. yesterday was 96 degrees. Up to 11 o'clock today the total number of deaths from the heat in New York and Brooklyn after 2 a. m. was forty-seven. The action of the board of governors of the stock exchange in voting to close the exchange on Friday and Saturday and the decision of the banks to restrict all business possible on these days were due entirely to the intense heat.

There were so many bodies in the morgue today that the compartments could not hold them all. Two dead wagons and police patrol wagons were bringing in others constantly, and it was necessary to send the remains of sixty persons to the potter's field before the expiration of the five days usually allowed for identification or reclamation.

Since the extremely hot weather began on June 28 there have been so many deaths from the heat that it has been impossible to keep a complete record of them, but a careful estimate today places the total in the Greater New York for the six days at 517. All of these were well defined cases of heat prostrations resulting from the high temperature.

The extreme heat was broken temporarily at least in this city about 2:30 this afternoon, when rain began to fall, accompanied by a thirty-mile an hour wind.

OPPRESSIVE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 3.—Although the temperature at 8:30 a. m. today was down to 78, the humidity showed 95 per cent. and weather conditions were rather depressing, despite a cloudy sky and fair breeze.

Up to 11 a. m. two deaths were reported, but no prostrations. The temperature was 76, humidity 82. Since June 22 there has been 138 cases of prostration, 27 of which resulted fatally.

IN ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—At 8 a. m. the weather bureau thermometer registered 82 degrees. This was six degrees cooler than at the same time yesterday, but there is about 15 per cent. more humidity.

There have been 34 deaths and 170 prostrations since June 22. One death was reported during the morning.

IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 3.—At 7 a. m. the government thermometer recorded 82, while in the street 88 was registered. Thermometers on the street level at 8 a. m. were 82 yesterday.

No prostrations have been reported today. Total deaths so far, 19; prostrations, 142. This includes Covington and Newport, Ky.

HOT IN BOSTON.

Boston, July 3.—This city entered upon its seventh day of oppressive heat with the thermometer at 86 at o'clock this morning and the wind light from the southwest.

During the six days of excessive heat which have prevailed in New England before today nearly 100 deaths have occurred, which have been attributed to the weather conditions. Of this number twenty-four have died in Boston. The number of prostrations in New England will reach several hundred. In Boston there have been nearly 150.

IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Md., July 3.—Up to 8 o'clock this morning thirty-eight deaths from heat and eighty cases of prostration due to the same cause had been reported to the police in this city during the present hot spell.

IN OTHER CITIES.

Troy, N. Y., July 3.—The storm of last evening cooled the atmosphere, and at 10 a. m. today 88 degrees was the record in this city. This is five degrees lower than at the same time yesterday.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 3.—Several short showers late last night tempered the heat here so that it is not so oppressive this morning. The thermometer registered 82 on the street level.

St. Paul, Minn., July 3.—A cool breeze was blowing here today and the official temperature at 7 a. m. was 74 degrees.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 3.—A drenching storm early today cleared the atmosphere and forced the mercury down to 68. Notwithstanding the excessive heat there has not been one death directly traceable to that cause. About twenty-five prostrations have been reported.

Albany, N. Y., July 3.—The hot wave continues in this section although somewhat modified today. At 9 o'clock the thermometer registered 84 degrees, which is 5 degrees less than yesterday at that hour.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 3.—The official temperature at 8 a. m. was 73; humidity 78; wind west twelve miles.

Rochester, N. Y., July 3.—The official temperature at 8 a. m. was 77; humidity 65 per cent; wind northwest, 7 miles.

Omaha, Neb., July 3.—A temperature of 80 was recorded at 8 a. m., but the humidity was only 64 per cent. Two prostrations were reported during the night.

Kansas City, Mo., July 3.—At 8 a. m. the mercury registered 89, or 5 degrees more than at the same hour yesterday. Without a breath of air stirring last night the suffering was great. Four prostrations, one fatal, were reported.

TROUBLES OF THE SMITHS

A LONG LIST OF MARITAL AFFLICTIONS.

Mr. Smith is Discharged by Court in Case Charging Him With Bad Associations.

The domestic tribulations of the Smith family had another airing in police court this morning and in order to give the readers of The Sentinel an understanding of the various ramifications of these troubles, a little recapitulation is necessary. Passing over earlier differences occurring at various times during the twenty years of the married life of Philip B. and Eliza Smith, last fall Mrs. Smith became very jealous of Mr. Smith and a separation followed. Mrs. Smith would not consent to a divorce, but sued for support and Mr. Smith was ordered to pay eighteen dollars a month for her support and furnish her with a home, rent paid. Smith was to pay the monthly allowance in two installments, one on the 10th and the other on the 20th of each month and this he has generally done, but in each case when he was behind time, Mrs. Smith went into the circuit court and had an order issued bringing her delinquent spouse into court to show cause why he had failed to pay the money as directed. Mrs. Smith's jealousy was aroused principally by the relations existing and supposed to be existing btween Mr. Smith and Mrs. Maud Pierson, with whom he frequently associated. In March, Mrs. Smith commenced proceedings against Mrs. Pierson, asking for $5,000 damages for alienating the affections of her husband. She claimed that when Smith and Mrs. Pierson passed her on the street they would make faces at her and on a number of occasions has had one or the other, and sometimes both, arrested for provoke, only once securing a conviction. Mrs. Smith has frequently said that she would have her husband and the woman arrested on any pretext and as often as she could find a cause for filing an affidavit, and it must be confessed that she has kept her word and has kept Smith and Mrs. Pierson pretty busy for the past several months attending justices' courts. Monday she filed an affidavit against her husband for associating with prostitutes and named Mrs. Pierson as the co-respondent and named her home as being a house of ill-fame. The case was called last Monday afternoon and by agreement was postponed until this morning. Mrs. Smith had summoned about a dozen women, neighbors of hers and of Mrs. Pierson, and Mrs. Pierson, although not a party direct to the suit had brought in a number of witnesses to establish her character. The court room was well crowded, until P. B. Colerick, counsel for Mr. Smith asked to have the witnesses separated, and they were all escorted to the police quarters in the basement. Mrs. Smith was the first witness called and she gave her testimoney with vigor, and introduced a few side remarks not exactly relevant to the case. Other witnesses were called in turn until the state had exhausted the supply. The defense then proceeded to call the witnesses, when the counsel was interrupted by the judge who said it was altogether unnecessary to proceed any further, as the state had utterly failed to make a case; that there had been no word of proof or testimony offered to show that Mrs. Pierson is a prostitute, that she is of a bad character or that she is or ever was the keeper of a house of ill fame. The fact that Mr. Smith was a frequent caller at her home, and had been seen with her often on the street cut no figure in the case whatever and he therefor dismissed the case without any further ado. Mrs. Smith says he is not through yet, but did not indicate what her next move would be. The damage suit against Mrs. Pierson is set for next Saturday.

MENNEWISCH SOAKED.

William H. Mennewisch, who was arrested yesterday for allowing girls to loiter in his saloon and live over it, now recognizes that the mayor meant what he said when he said that the wine rooms must go. He pleaded guilty to the offense as charged at police court this afternoon and now feels as though he had been run over by a steam roller. The judge fined him $50 and costs and informed him that for the next offense the fine would be doubled and a jail sentence added.

FRAIL WOMEN FINED.

Judge Louttit yesterday afternoon fined Minnie Smith, Maud Jones and Mabel Young, arrested at the raid of William Mennewisch's saloon, 34 East Columbia street. Mennewisch had his trial postponed until today. He paid the fines of the three women, which was $5 and costs. Judge Louttit endeavored to give the women a talk on the evils of the lives they had and prosecuted an interesting inquiry into their antecedents, the manner of their life and what it profited them. He said he would be easy on them and admonished them feelingly to abandon their evil career. The women smiled in an amused way as the judge delivered his lecture. Mennewisch's joint was pulled because he allowed women to congregate therein contrary to the order of the police department issued some weeks ago.

POLICE NOTES.

There was a family row on Dawson street last night and the patrol wagon was called. When the officers arrived peace had been declared and no arrests were made.

Business partners in a retail shop on Calhoun street had a difference of opinion last evening and the result was a fight. Shoes, hammers and other articles of merchandise were flung around pretty freely, some landing in the street. The wagon was sent for, but by the time it arrived the store was locked up and one of the belligerents had gone to seek the services of a doctor.

Mayor Berghoff by mail this afternoon received a card about two and one-half by four inches in dimensions, to which was attached a little penny toy pistol, and under it was inscribed these words: "this is A infernal Machine."

Superintendent Gorsline today received intelligence from Boston that Walter Montgomery, alias Louis R. V. Adams, the smooth individual who worked the Ladies' Relief union and other charitable societies here a year and a half ago, had been sent to the penitentiary for two years.

A pound of cannel coal is a lump about the size of a man's fist. Out of this dyes can be distilled sufficient to color the following lengths of flannel, three-quarters of a yard wide: Five feet of yellow, three and one-half feet of scarlet, two feet of violet, two inches of orange, four inches of turkey red and eight inches of magenta. By judicious blendings you can obtain sixteen distinct yellow colors, twelve orange, thirty red, fifteen blue, seven green and nine violet; in all, eighty-nine separate tints. These colors are made from the waste left over after the gas has been extracted.

A London diamond merchant, while going to his office recently, in a fit of abstraction pulled an old envelope out of his pocket and commenced to tear it up. When he reached the last section the terrible fact dawned on him that it was the envelope in which were some 1,600 small diamonds valued at $500, and that he had been sowing these broadcast over a public thoroughfare. Some of them have been recovered, but others have never been heard from.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Kelsey and daughter, Julia, have returned from a fishing trip to Loon lake. They caught sixty bass during their visit at the resort.

Times change, so do our ways of living and working. Railroads, steamboats, every means of transportation, all manner of inventions—everything is with a view to rapidity. Time is the essence. Humanity moves in the same way at express train speed. That's why so many men and women find themselves giving out, symptoms breaking in on them that are so common at the present time. Overwork or high tension has done its work. Nerve waste—lack of nerve force—sets you face to face with a condition it is dangerous to neglect. It was because of the prevalence of these symptoms that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills were brought into being, their action is to provide lacking nerve force—the cause of all these troubles—they do this and that is why they are so popular. Fort Wayne evidence proves their merit.

Mrs. T. Webb, of No. 57 Superior St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun St., is a very fine all round regulator and tonic to the nerves, blood, digestion and system generally. I felt generally wrong in every way and debilitated; the medicine built me up, steadied the nerves and regulated the liver and digestion finely. I think, as I said before, it is a fine all round tonic and regulator."

FIND STOLEN GOODS.

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—Mrs. Maude Shinnabarger, daughter of ex-County Commissioner Aaron Miller, and Miss Pearl Frederickson, of Leesburg, are under arrest on a charge of larceny. Mrs. Shinnabarger was bound over to the circuit court in $500 bond. Miss Frederickson gave bond in $100 to appear in 'Squire Eller's court July 12. Many articles have been stolen in this city and vicinity recently and a search of the house, four miles west of Milford, revealed thousands of dollars' worth of stolen goods, including silks, perfumes and dress skirts. The women had been staying on Miller's farm for some time and the Frederickson girl was employed as a domestic. A large quantity of whisky was found in the house.

DOG HELD THE FORT.

A family living on Wilt street underwent a rather unpleasant experience late last evening and missed several hours' sleep in consequence. A strange dog made its way into the house late at night and took up its quarters under the bed of one of the members of the family, and threats, cold and hot water, bricks and other bric-a-brac failed to dislodge it. Finally the services of neighbors were called into requisition, and with the use of poles the animal was pried out. The occurrence caused much excitement in the neighborhood, as it was thought that the animal was mad.

Judge Baker will pass upon the case in review.

FOOD AND WEATHER.

Temperature Increased or Reduced by Food.

The old army ration for the tropics has been very sharply criticised for the reason that it consists of articles of food that any person even slightly acquainted with the elements of food knows is not adapted to the needs of the human system in hot weather. Nature shows forth in the selection of food by inhabitants of various countries; for instance, the Esquimaux in a cold climate selects heavy, carbonaceous foods, tallow, bacon and such; while the Hindoo and inhabitants of hot countries turn to the cereals for sustenance.

We should follow this hint of nature, and particularly in hot weather should avoid much butter, meat or any of that class of food. Perhaps a little meat once a day is not amiss, even in hot weather, but the breakfast and luncheon should be made of fruit, one or two slices of entire wheat bread and some Grape-Nuts and cream. Grape-Nuts are mentioned, because they furnish the ideal cereal food in a most palatable and delicious form, in addition to which, they are ready cooked and require no attention whatever from the cook.

A person can pass through weather that may be intensely hot, in a comfortable manner, if the food be properly selected, and the above suggestions can be put into practice with most excellent results.

As an illustration of wealth among Indians it is officially stated that the homes of the most progressive Osages compare favorably with the dwellings of white people of equal wealth. Their homes are richly furnished with carpets and modern furniture, and in many homes there are pianos, upon which the boarding school training of the daughters has taught them to perform. Horses and carriages are not infrequent, and though the automobile has not yet made its appearance, it is not an impossibility of the future.

Any one man could have concluded the Chinese negotiations in less than half the time required by the representatives of seven or eight powerful nations.

London Lancet impresses an old lesson by saying man should not dine alone. It is not good to think much while eating, so the great medical authority advises conversation because "most people do not think while talking." This sage conclusion must have come from much listening to dinner table remarks.

Here is a jeer from Mexico. The Mexican Herald says: "The corrupt city government of Philadelphia gave away street car franchises the other day to a group of powerful people in league with the municipal boodlers, although Mr. John Wanamaker had offered to pay into the city treasury $2,500,000 for the concessions. If Philadelphia were a Latin American city, this fact might be adduced as a proof that it was unfit to govern itself."

The New Orleans Picayune sounds this note of good sense: "If the democrats are wise, in the next three years they will endeavor to formulate a policy upon which all branches of the now divided and demoralized party can unite, and they will seek from among their rank and file a real democrat, who is a broad statesman, a sagacious political leader, and one whose high character for integrity will command absolute and universal confidence. That is the sort of man who is wanted as a standard-bearer for the democracy in 1904, and it will be wise, also, to choose him from some great northern state which the democracy will probably be able to carry."

June is generally one of the worst months in the year in Havana for yellow fever, but this year the city was free from the disease which in the past has caused such a frightful mortality. This is attributed to the destruction of mosquitoes by pouring coal oil on pools of standing water. Those persons who were skeptical of the medical theory that mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of yellow fever may have to admit their error, in view of the results that have been accomplished in Havana. But the mosquito is responsible for the spread of other diseases. He should be suppressed wherever he may be found.

Austria at last has recovered from the Maximilian business so far as to send an ambassador to Mexico, after having been without a representative there for nearly forty years. This is bearing a grudge a long time, especially as Mexico was right and Austria was wrong. The conspiracy on the part of Louis Napoleon and his Austrian coadjutors to seize Mexico and make it an empire, of which the ill-fated and kindly Maximilian was the dupe and victim, is a chapter of about as disreputable history as has been recorded. The less the European powers concerned in it do to stir the matter up the better for the credit. To hold spite against Mexico for overthrowing an empire saddled on her by force is puerile, and hurts only those who show it.

June beat the record in many particulars. One record that was surpassed was the creation of new corporations. In the eastern states during June forty-seven new companies with capital ranging from $1,000,000 to $50,000,000 each and aggregating $303,000,000 were formed. The six months ended with June were remarkable for the additions to corporate enterprises. The total for each month of 1900 compare as follows:

	1901.	1900.
Jan.	$ 105,250,000	$ 203,750,000
Feb.	79,500,000	124,350,000
Mch.	190,500,000	502,900,000
April	1,314,150,000	325,250,000
May.	177,980,000	261,600,000
June	303,450,000	166,200,000
Total	$2,170,880,000	$1,584,050,000

The exceptionally big figures for April were due to the forming of the United States Steel corporation. If to the stock capitalization of the past six months the bond issues of corporations be added the whole amount will reach more than $300,000,000 more, or over $2,670,000,000. These figures give some idea of the progress of consolidation in this country. With a billion dollar coal trust in prospect the record for the entire year promises to be something rather more stupendous than the average mind can readily grasp.

A NEEDED REFORM.

The custom in this and nearly every other city of sending men and women arrested for drunkenness to jail is wrong and ought to give way to some more sensible, beneficial and humane practice of dealing with such cases. A majority of the prisoners in the county jail taken by years will be found to be persons incarcerated for drunkenness. The evil of this is many fold. In the first place, it does no person of that class any good. Confinement in jail is wholly without any reforming influence, not to speak of the effect it has to harden men and women to the disgrace of arrest and imprisonment. It burdens the taxpayers with large bills for maintenance of this class of prisoners in jail and there is no public compensation, not even that of restricting the growth of drunkenness.

There are in Fort Wayne a large number of chronic drunkards, habitual sots, who practically are spending their lives in the Allen county jail. They are guilty of no worse offense than being victims of alcoholism, a disease which in their cases no effort is made to cure. It is worse than useless to send such men to jail. They ought to be treated by public agencies just as smallpox or any other scourge that threatens the general public welfare is treated.

We believe the city of Fort Wayne ought to make some arrangements whereby an institution for the confinement and treatment of such cases could be established. The cost of maintenance would not be much greater than what is spent to maintain this class of prisoners in the county jail, and much permanent good could be rendered the poor wretches who are helplessly in the clutch of alcoholic disease. Such victims deserve help, not punishment, and the people are entitled to some sort of good results for the public money expended upon such cases. We would like to have Mayor Berghoff call the attention of the city council to this matter and see if a wholesome reform in the methods of dealing with common drunkards cannot be devised.

ARE ANXIOUS TO BEGIN WORK

CINCINNATI LINES LOOK LIKE A SURE THING.

Sickness Has Delayed the Inspection Tour—Mayor Berghoff Gets a Letter.

There was some disappointment at the failure of the Cincinnati-Fort Wayne electric line promoters to arrive in Fort Wayne Saturday, but the matter is explained in a letter received by Mayor Berghoff yesterday. It is as follows:

"July 1, 1901. The Hon. H. C. Berghoff, Mayor, Fort Wayne, Ind. Dear Sir: It was our intention to have continued our trip to Fort Wayne but on our arrival in Decatur on last Saturday, owing to the illness of one of our party, and from the fact that Mr. La Petra was obliged to return to New York city, we were compelled for the present to postpone our visit to your city. Learning that a committee had been formed by the Fort Wayne Commercial club, of which you was a member, to meet our party while in your city, we wired you from Decatur as follows, viz: "Impossible to make Fort Wayne at present; will write." We regret exceedingly that circumstances were such that we were not able to carry out our plans in visiting your city on this trip, but however, will arrange for another visit in the near future, notifying you several days in advance of our coming. We are very anxious indeed to get matters closed up pertaining to the northern end and terminus of our route, as we desire to grade at least one hundred (100) miles of the line in the next ninety (90) days.

"Yours respectfully,
"CHAS. W. GEBHART,
"Secretary."

BOOM FOR JUDGE TAYLOR.

(Wabash Plain Dealer.)

Friends of Judge Robert S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne, in this and surrounding counties, are urging the distinguished jurist for the United States circuit bench, to succeed the late Judge Woods.

Representatives have undertaken to secure the general indorsement of the bar of northern Indiana for Judge Taylor, who is not an open and avowed candidate for the office, and it is believed that Senators Beveridge and Fairbanks will be friendly to his cause.

It is not forgotten that when Judge Taylor was a candidate for the United States senate two years ago, his caucus supporters went almost solidly for Senator Beveridge when it became evident that their favorite could not win. Senator Beveridge can not but feel kindly toward his opponent for this signal mark of admiration and esteem, and it is believed he will gladly improve the opportunity to reciprocate.

As yet the Taylor boom is in its incipient stage, but wherever and whenever it is mentioned it evokes so enthusiastic a response that there is no question but the judge will be a formidable aspirant.

Northern Indiana is entitled to a good deal more from the republican party than is accorded it. If the northern counties turned in such slender republican majorities as do the counties south of Indianapolis, the state would permanently take its position in the democratic column, yet the instinctive modesty of the republicans in the northern half of the state yields to the demands of the party in the southern half for an equal division, or, rather, for the larger part of the official usufruct.

The Plain Dealer is of the opinion that a spirited contest in behalf of Judge Taylor will land him in the important position, and not only will political justice be done, but a man than whom there is no superior for the place will be elevated to the position to which his transcendant abilities commend him.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—Walter Driscoll, who shot and instantly killed Mrs. Herbert McCall Monday at the home of his stepfather, Mahlon Martin, answered "guilty" to a charge of murder. He was remanded to jail without bond. His mother, who gave out false information to shield her son, is also held and remanded to jail under heavy bond. Prosecuting Attorney C. L. Dearth will have a special meeting of the grand jury to investigate the case in order to prepare it for trial at an early date. A search for the home of the parents of Mrs. McCall has failed to reveal any clew to the former residence of the murdered woman.

STRIKE AT WARSAW.

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—The men employed in the construction of a system of sewers in the city went on a strike yesterday. They demanded from the contractors, E. Woods & Co., a raise of from 15 to 20 cents per hour. A law was passed by the Indiana legislature last winter decreeing that all men employed on public works should receive a minimum of 20 cents an hour. The strikers claim that their case is covered by this law. The question will probably have to be decided by the courts as to whether the law would apply to work the contract for which was made prior to the passage of the law. No settlement was made today, as all the members of the firm of contractors were out of the city.

SCANDAL IN PYTHIAN AFFAIRS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—At the special meeting of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, in Chicago next week, it is understood a report will be made exposing persons alleged to have been implicated in a deal by which a former Illinois insurance commissioner received from a manager of the Knights of Pythias endowment rank $3,500 for a "clearance card" and a letter of recommendation for the rank. Union B. Hunt, secretary of state of Indiana, who is a supreme representative in the order, will attend the meeting of the supreme lodge and will favor an investigation and indictment of the offenders if there is evidence to warrant such action. The story is that the $3,500 bought a report showing that an investigation had been made and that the endowment rank affairs had been found satisfactory. Later the Illinois and Connecticut insurance authorities began an investigation and unearthed the $3,500 story. C. F. S. Neal, of Lebanon, manager of the endowment rank, sanctioned the investigation, which is still in progress. Neal is reported to have made affidavit in Chicago last Saturday touching the alleged payment, and the affidavit is said to be in the hands of the Illinois insurance department.

TRAIN KILLS THREE MEN.

Waterloo, Iowa, July 3.—A wagon containing four men was struck by a Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern passenger train half a mile south of town at the Paper Mill crossing last evening and three of the men were instantly killed, the fourth being fatally hurt. The dead are:

Jo Gelinveaux, farmer, aged 55.
Ollie Huffman, Waterloo, aged 18.
Ole Thorsen, Dubuque, aged 25.

The injured:

Jo Hurley, Waterloo.

It is claimed the passenger train was late and was running about fifty miles an hour.

ARIZONA TOWNS BURNED.

Globe, Ari., July 3.—Fourteen buildings were destroyed here yesterday by a fire of unknown origin and ten families of miners are homeless. Loss, $80,000.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 3.—A special to the Times from Phoenix, Ari., says: The town of Williams, Ari., was practically destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is estimated at $500,000. Williams is a railway and lumbering town on the Santa Fe-Pacific railway and has a population of about 2,000. The place and the great mill n its suburbs have been destroyed by fire twice before.

FORM BIG COAL TRUST.

Cleveland, O., July 2.—The Leader today says: Before the first of September all of the big companies producing bituminous coal will have gathered into one organization, similar to the United States steel corporation. The capitalization will be enormous, probably second only to that of the big steel trust.

J. P. Morgan, the advocate of coalition, first started in with his coal combination three years ago, making the first movement along the line of controlling the products of the Ohio and West Virginia fields. At that time he obtained complete control of the mining property in the Hocking and Shawnee valleys. In order to give an outlet for this coal he purchased certain railroad properties and this started the combination mania along the line of railroad ownership which as gone to extraordinary lengths.

SEVERE STORM IN KENTUCKY

Middlesborough, Ky., July 2.—Half a dozen small farm houses and many large barns were destroyed last night by a storm of great violence, which swept through Cumberland Gap, in Powell's Valley. Several persons are said to have been killed, but the only one name, that of Perry Smith, has been reported. Crops were badly damaged.

WINONA ASSEMBLY OPENED

SUMMER SEASON IS FAIRLY INAUGURATED.

First Entertainment of the Course Was a Lecture by DeWitt Miller—Financial Statement.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 2.—The Winona assembly was formally opened yesterday and entered upon the seventh of what bids fair to be the most successful year of its existence. The season was really opened Sunday with the holding of religious services. Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, of Monticello, preached to a large crowd at the morning service in the auditorium. Superintendent W. C. Hall, of Indianapolis, reorganized the Sunday school, and in the evening Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman led a hillside service. The first entertainment of the assembly season took place last night. De Witt Miller was the entertainer, with his lecture on "The Uses of Ugliness." Mr. Miller is well known to all Winonians, and the auditorium was well filled. From now on lectures or entertainments will be given every afternoon and evening and sometimes in the morning. The Winona Daily Review made its first appearance this morning. The Review is quarterly published by the Winona Assembly, and during the months of July and August it becomes a daily. S. L. Heeter is the editor of the daily and Dr. S. C. Dickey and Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman edit the quarterly.

Secretary and General Manager Dickey has issued a financial statement, in which it is shown that Winona ranks second among Chautauquas and other organizations of the kind in the United States in point of current receipts. Chautauqua was first last year, with receipts amounting to about $116,000; Winona was second, with $96,000, and Mountain Lake, Md., was third, with receipts amounting to less than $43,000. If the present rapid advance keeps up, Winona will soon overtake her eastern rival.

The machinery for the carbonating and bottling of the mineral water has all been placed in position in the entrance building, and everything is ready to commence the bottling and shipping of the water. Work will begin immediately.

The Winona summer school opened for its seventh season this afternoon with a general convocation in the auditorium at 4 o'clock. President W. P. Kane made a statement of the plans and methods of the school and the work of each department was outlined. Registration began today and will be continued tomorrow. Many students already are here and the registration, as far as it has progressed, points to a much larger attendance this year than last.

M. E. MINISTERS' SUMMER HOME

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—Elijah Hays, a wealthy citizen of Warsaw, last year gave to the Ministers' Aid Society of the North M. E. conference a thirty-seven-room, three-story hotel building formerly known as the National hotel, to be used as a summer home for Methodist ministers. The building was moved to Winona park and is now ready for occupancy. Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Baker have been installed as managers.

FINDS A SNAKE IN HIS COW.

Dublin, Ind., July 3.—John Moore, of Philomath, southeast of this city, lost a fine Jersey cow yesterday in a rather peculiar manner. For some reason the cow seemed to crave drink, and finally died. Moore was determined to know what the cow died from, so he cut her open. When he did so a big black snake six feet in length crawled from the stomach. He killed it with a club. The snake was probably taken into the cow's stomach several years ago, and has since lived to grow to its full size. The cow had given its usual quantity of milk until recently, when she became sick.

IS HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

C. G. MORGANTHALER ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

Former Fort Wayne Man is Accused of Swindling by Means of Worthless Checks.

Today's Chicago Chronicle says:

"C. G. Morgenthaler, who for the past three weeks has been sought by the police in different parts of the city on charges of passing worthless checks, was arrested yesterday by Officer Jeremiah Carey, of the Sheffield avenue police. The following persons who will appear to prosecute the prisoner have lost money through cashing worthless checks:

"H. Berghoff, State and Adams streets, $18.50; James Levy, 3000 Prairie avenue, $10; David G. Gollear, 995 North Clark street, $15; R. C. Mazer, 965 North Clark street, $12.50; Emil Gorsch, Clark street and Diversey boulevard, $13.50; Dr. Clancy, 1249 North Clark street, $10.

"Morgenthaler, according to the police, secured money from the above mentioned persons by representing himself as an agent for the Chicago Press company. On the strength of this he passed worthless checks on the Foreman Brothers Banking company and the Merchants' Loan and Trust company banks, bearing what is alleged to be the fictitious indorsement of the Press company. The man represented that he had an office at 358 Dearborn street. He lives at 1724 Sherman place."

Until a few years ago Mr. Morgenthaler was a resident of Fort Wayne, and he is widely known in this city, where he had many friends. He was genial and companionable, though unfortunately addicted to bad habits, which have undoubtedly proved his undoing.

WINONA LAKE ASSEMBLY.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 3.—The regular program was followed at the second day of the Winona assembly, and some features were added. Yesterday afternoon, in the Auditorium, Lorado Taft, the sculptor, gave a clay talk on "A Glimpse of an Artist's Studio," illustrating his talk with work in clay and plaster on the platform. This was followed by a concert by the Mendelssohn Male quartet, assisted by Signor Romeo Gama and F. J. Hoffman, pianists, of the Cincinnati College of Music. Last night, in the Auditorium, the Rev. George L. Mackintosh, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, of Indianapolis, delivered a lecture on "Iago," the villain of "Othello."

The work in all departments of the Summer school began yesterday morning. It is not expected that the registration will be commenced before the end of he week.

All efforts of the management are being turned now toward the celebration of the Fourth. Preparations are being made for the biggest crowd that Winona ever had, and the management probably will not be disappointed.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—The first session of the fifteenth annual encampment of Indiana Sons of Veterans, yesterday afternoon, was attended by about two hundred delegates, and there are that many more delegates here today. The customary parade will take place at night, on account of the heat. Muncie Knights of Khorassan have been invited to participate and make a fireworks display along the line of march. Following the parade street cars will be taken for West Side park, where there will be a big display of fireworks, Muncie's Fourth of July display. A ball in the large pavilion will follow.

The feature of yesterday's program was the camp fire at the Wysor Grand Opera house last night, where 1,500 persons, including the local G. A. R., in a body, heard addresses by Senator Fairbanks, Governar W. T. Durbin, Charles F. Griffin, past commander-in-chief National S. of V., Representatives James Robinson and George W. Cromer, State Commander Sid Conger and State Senator W. L. Ball. R. I. Patterson recited an original poem. The principal business of the afternoon session was the hearing of reports and the appointment of committees. Routine work occupied the session of the Ladies' Aid society.

Indianapolis is a candidate for the next meeting and, as yet, seems to have no opposition. Its candidate for commander seems to have the lead also. The candidates for president of the Ladies' Aid society are Miss Mattie Ott, of Richmond, and Miss Maggie Goodrich, of Shelbyville.

FAMOUS HOTEL DESTROYED.

Richmond, Va., July 3.—The Homestead, the well known hotel at the Virginia Hot Springs, in Bath county, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. No lives were lost, although a great many guests were in the building. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The Homestead had a capacity of 450 guests and has numbered as its patrons many of the most prominent people of the United States, including President and Mrs. McKinley, and members of the cabinet. While the guests all escaped without injury, many of them lost their valuables.

Patterson's clothing store will be open this evening.

Large Number of Picnics in the City —Winona and Rome City Will Attract Large Crowds.

Fort Wayne has arranged for no general celebration of Independence day tomorrow, but the indications are that about everybody who can break away from everyday affairs will seek rest or appropriate recreation for the day. Winona, where Hon. C. W. Fairbanks is the speaker, is likely to draw quite largely from this city, and it is certain that several hundred Fort Wayne people will spend the day at Rome City.

Inside the city arrangements have been made by many of the churches for picnics. Of the Lutheran congregations, Zion's will hold forth at the church grounds, Emanuel's goes to Williams' park, Emmaus will recreate at the High Banks, Trinity in a grove near the church, and St. Paul's and Concordia will unite on the college campus. St. Peter's Catholic church will hold a celebration at the school grounds. In each case there will be a band of music present to enliven the occasion and in a number of instances arrangements have been made for fireworks displays in the evening.

BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE.

Practically all the shops and factories, the banks, trust companies and many other business houses will be closed for the entire day, while others will be open during the morning hours only.

Out at Centlivre park the Amateur Driving club has arranged for a splendid race program, in which the speediest flyers owned in the city will participate, and there is sure to be excellent sport.

Robison park will make the day a notable one, with the fairyland illuminations, band concerts and a lavish display of fireworks as special features. The park will doubtless draw very largely, for its picturesque and shady nooks offer an inviting retreat from the excessive temperature.

JUDGE FORBIDS BULLFIGHTS.

Omaha, July 3. Upon the application of Alfred Sutton and various South Omaha clergymen, District Judge Fawcett has granted a temporary restraining order forbidding the contemplated bullfights. The order is made returnable at 2 o'clock today, when the legal rights of the toreadors will be put to the test. The Humane society takes no further interest in the affair now that it is assured that the bulls shall come to no harm, although human life will admittedly be jeopardized. The society thinks human beings are competent to take care of themselves. The appeal of the clergyman is based on the state statute forbidding wanton cruelty to animals. They believe the exhibition will injure the moral well being of the city. The South Omaha street fair management has completed its huge amphitheater and is advertising two fights for the Fourth of July. It guarantees that the bulls will not be injured, but promises that the performers will execute all the approved feats with red sash and vaulting pole.

Patterson's clothing store will be open this evening.

WILL FIGHT SUNDAY OPENING.

Columbus, July 3.—The Pastors' union, of this city, yesterday voted their disapproval of the purpose of the state board of agriculture to open the state fair on Sunday. To mitigate the opposition to Sunday opening the fair managers decided some time ago to hold religious services on the ground, and invited Dr. Frank Gunsaulus, of Chicago, to preach. Dr. Gunsaulus replied, approving Sunday opening, but declining the invitation. At his suggestion the board then opened negotiations with Rev. D. Campbell Morgan, who is Moody's successor in evangelistic work. The Pastor' union refused to indorse the plan and announced their intention of holding a counter religious attraction down town to keep crowds away from the fair on Sunday.

MAJOR PRUDEN REAPPOINTED.

Washington, July 3.—Major O. L. Pruden, the former assistant secretary to the president, who was appointed a paymaster in the regular army in May, has resigned his position in the army and has been reappointed to his old position of assistant secretary to the president. This is the office to which the late Adelbert Hay was to have been appointed. Major Pruden has abandoned his career in the army on account of personal and business reasons to assume his former duties at the white house.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON.

Boston, July 3. The fire which started in the Metropolitan Coal company's stables at South Boston last night practically destroyed all the company's property at that point, including coal sheds and wharves, burned several small buildings and the barge Buena Vista. Twenty valuable draft horses perished. The total loss is estimated at $200,000.

MOELLERING GETS CONTRACT.

Peru, Ind., July 3.—The city council last night awarded the contract for paving Broadway with Metropolitan brick to C. E. Moellering & Co., of Fort Wayne, at $1.75 a square yard. The award followed the action of the circuit court yesterday morning in dissolving the restraining order granted some time ago on behalf of remonstrators against the brick pavement.

DRIVING CLUB RACES.

The races at Centlivre's park tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Amateur Driving club will undoubtedly attract a large Fourth of July crowd and some fine sport is assured. Many of the speediest horses in the city are entered for the events and the contests promise to be spirited. The races will be called at 1:30 p. m., sharp, and a special car service will be run. William H. Fleming will be the starter and music will be furnished by the City band. Following is a list of events:

The Fort Wayne club played an exhibition game at Wabash yesterday, their opponents being a picked nine composed of players from all over the gas belt. Thompson, the pitcher for the picked nine, is said to be another "phenom" like Vanbinder, and has been signed by Cincinnati, he leaving for that city immediately after the game. Wabash claims both Mullin and Fuller as local products and their welcome was warm and hearty. They formed the battery for three innings and then Bevans went into the box and an inning or two later "Doggie" Miller took Fuller's place on the receiving end. The game was an interesting one and was well patronized. The score by innings was as follows:

Anderson .. 1 0 2 0 0 1 0 2 0—6

Hits—Fort Wayne, 9; Anderson, 10. Errors—Fort Wayne, 3; Anderson, 2.

Indianapolis, July 3.—Wicker was put in the air in the eighth yesterday, when Hickey and Subhoff singled and with two gone Shannon cracked a double, scoring two and tieing. Hogriever then stole the plate and Wicker threw wild and two more were added, Indianapolis winning by this margin. Score:

Indianapolis 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 4 *—6

Hits—Indianapolis, 7; Dayton, 6. Errors—Indianapolis, 2; Dayton, 2. Batteries—Guese and Byers; Wicker and Blue. Umpire—Mullane. Attendance—300.

MARION HAS A KICK.

(Marion Leader.)

Another game has been forfeited by Marion after the Glassworkers had it practically won. There seems to be no question but that Umpires McLaughlin, Mullane and Latham give the infant city of the Western association the worst of it whenever an opportunity affords. It is a difficult matter to win a game when the umpire is favoring the opposing side, but it is very expensive to lose games by forfeiting them. Wrangles have caused the Marion team to slide down the standing column at a lively rate. It is time that something be done.

No one seems to know why the umpires have it in for Marion. This information should be secured. If it is found that the umpires are at fault, they should be handled accordingly.

Several strange rumors are afloat. Some of them are probably well founded. It has been intimated that President Meyer would like to see Marion out of the Western association. A report has it that the umpires are well paid for stealing games from Marion, but this is denied by those whose duties it is to investigate matters of this kind. The Marion boys have been criticised for raising serious objections to the umpires' decisions, when they know by past experience that protesting does no good. No difference what happens, the Glassworkers get the worst of it.

There is no question but that Marion has a team strong enough to meet the Indianapolis Indians, the Kentucky Colonels, or any other aggregation of ball players. This fact they have demonstrated. But they have experienced more than their share of tough luck and rank treatment. In fact, the abuse that has been heaped upon them has aroused the public and the fans are glad to welcome the ill-treated boys home. That they will be protected here goes without saying.

Pat Wright and his men return today from Wheeling, W. Va. They open here with Fort Wayne tomorrow, play two games the Fourth of July, and meet every team of the Western association before they depart upon another junket. It is understood that Umpire McLaughlin will watch the indicator. And the fans in the grand stand and bleachers can be depended upon to watch McLaughlin.

SHAMROCKS AT BATTLE CREEK.

The Shamrocks will leave for Battle Creek, Mich., via the Grand Rapids and Indiana at 11:45 tonight. Players will note change of time. Hicks and Tieman will do the battery work in the morning game, and Robbins and Tieman will officiate in the afternoon.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Bay, left fielder for Indianapolis, is ill and will not be back in the game for a week or so.

On account of the illness of two of his outfielders Manager Watkins is after "Lefty" Geyer.

Suckalexis, the Indian player, is now a member of the Lowell club of the New England league.

The race between Chicago and Cincinnati for last place in the National league is very interesting.

Pitcher Harper, of St. Louis, formerly of Fort Wayne, leads the pitchers in the National league with a percentage of .833.

Big Bill Letcher, "The Stork," with Fort Wayne last season, is with the Omaha team of the Western league in right garden this year. He is one of the leading batsmen in that league.

First Baseman Hart, who jumped from the Grand Rapids team to the Baltimore team of the American league, is making good with a vengeance and promises to become a star in his position.

Billy Kane has been given his release by Strobel at his own request. Kane has been ill and is not playing his usual game. Strobel has received permission to play Tuck Turner pending a decision to be made by the national board.

The Kansas City team of the Western league, leaders of that aggregation, have lost seven straight games and their chances for winning the pennant are not so good, Omaha crowding them for first place. The Kansas City team is composed of ex-Inter-State players.

President Meyer this morning sent out the voting blanks to get a mail vote on the transfer of the Louisville franchise to Grand Rapids. The club has already gone to its new home and is playing ball there today, but to make the transfer regular a vote will have to be taken.

The Marion management was last evening informed that it had been fined $100 for taking its team off the grounds at Wheeling on Monday. This makes $200 assessed against Marion so far this season, and as the president has $500 of their money it looks as though the fine will stick.

The Inter-State league last year developed a fine lot of youngsters, who are making good in faster company. The Western association has fewer young players by a considerable margin than the Inter-State had last year. Western association magnates did not want to take any chances on "phenoms" this season.

Pitcher Tom Drummy, with Fort Wayne part of last season, has been signed by Wilmot for his Grand Rapids aggregation. Wilmot is also after Barber, who deserted the old Grand Rapids team when it was transferred, and will sign him if he has not been blacklisted. Jouett Meekin is also a new member of the Furniture Makers' twirling staff, which is now one of the strongest in the country.

Even bets are offered that "Doggie" Miller will not stand as manager of the Fort Wayne team more than two weeks longer. "Old Papa" Bill Schreiver, of St. Louis, will draw his release in a few days and negotiations are said to be on with him to come here to take "Doggie's" place. "Doggie" has done wonders this season under a heavy handicap and to toss him in the air now would provoke the resentment of many fans. While "Doggie" probably could not make a perfect translation of a Greek testament, he is largely the base ball brains of the club and knows the game. He is popular with his men and has kept the team from disturbances and jealousies, which is often a pretty hard thing to do. It is hoped, for the good of the game, that there is no foundation for the talk indulged in by those who pretend to know a whole lot.

A contemporary hastens to insist that the management of the Fort Wayne club is not trying to curtail expenses, which is just so much wind wasted. The Fort Wayne management is not foolish and the public is not composed entirely of fools. The management is trying to curtail expenses, and The Sentinel knows it, the aforesaid contemporary knows it and the public knows it. Why shouldn't an effort be made to cut down expenses? It is legitimate and every business man in the world who has good sense does the same thing when he can. Nobody criticises the right of Mr. Mautner to cut his expenses so long as he does not impair the efficiency of the players who put up the game which the public is expected to pay to see. Patrons of the game are all sorry to see "Tacks" Lattimer get away, but from a business standpoint Mr. Mautner was entirely justified in relessing him, because Smink can play the bench as well as "Tacks," but when an effort is made to bolster Smink by saying that he is receiving more money than Lattimer—well, it don't go. The writer happens to know what Smink offered to play for when he was released by Marion; what he was offered by the Fort Wayne management before he went back to Marion to get his clothes, and what he finally agreed to come for, but that is a private affair and nobody's business but the management's. If Smink makes good the Fort Wayne public will give him the glad hand as quick as anybody, but they will not stand for rowdy ball.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 3.—Wheat ruled extremely dull today but was sustained by higher cables. Sept. opened a shade to ⅛@¼c higher, at 66⅛c to 66⅜c, and held around 66¼c. Northwest receipts were 137 cars, against 153 cars a week ago. Local receipts were 34 cars, four of contract grade.

The close was ⅛c higher at 66⅛@66¼c.

Corn ruled easier on favorable weather. Sept. opened unchanged to half cent lower at 46⅛ to 47c and eased off to 46⅜@⅛c. Receipts were 142 cars, 2 of which were contract.

Sept. closed ⅝c lower at 46⅜c.

Oats were easier with corn. Sept. opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 27⅜c to 27½c and declined to 27⅜c. Receipts were 70 cars.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 3.—The opening stock market was listless and so sluggish that the price movement was scarcely preceptible. The principal dealings were in United States steel, which opened up ¼ on the declaration of the dividends, but ran off ⅜ on large realizing.

United States steel fell steadily after the opening, and its loss of ⅝ had an unfavorable effect on other leading stocks. Offerings were small elsewhere, but large recessions had to be made to find buyers, causing a loss of a point each in St. Paul, General Electric and Tennessee coal. The last mentioned has been a point over yesterday's close. Iowa Central pfrd opened o. 3 points, presumably on realizing inspired by its recent large rise. At 11 o'clock prices were on the mend, St. Paul recovering ⅝ and many other active stocks from ⅛@¼ per cent.

Not much progress toward a higher level could be made as the persistent selling of United States steel on such a narrow speculation as prevails effectually checked spasmodic rallies. On the other hand there were no losses of importance, the group ruling only a shade lower at the close. Baltimore and Ohio and Chicago G. R. receded a point, and Minneapolis and St. Louis gained 1½.

Missouri Pacific rights brought 2 @2⅛ for large blocks. Bonds were steady.

There was some increase in the selling pressure and prices touched the lowest. The decline reached 1⅝ in United Sates steel and 3⅛ in the pfrd. Only a handful of the principal stocks suffered to the extent of a point. Northwestern lost 2½. American linseed rose 1½ and Iowa Central pfrd recovered 3 points loss. The closing was moderately active and easy.

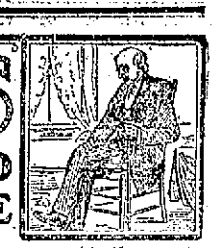
SSS and OLD PEOPLE



Bad Circulation is the cause of most of the ills that come with old age. With advancing years there is a decline of strength and vigor—the machinery of the body moves with less speed and accuracy. Because of the weak and irregular action of the heart the blood moves more slowly, becomes impure and loses much of its life-sustaining properties, and muscles, tissues and nerves literally starve for lack of nourishment. A sluggish and polluted circulation is followed by a long train of bodily ailments. Cold feet, chilly sensations up and down the spine, poor appetite and digestion, soreness of the muscles, rheumatic pains, hard and tissued skin, face sores, chronic running ulcers on the lower limbs and other parts of the body—these and many other diseases peculiar to old people are due to a lack of healthy blood and imperfect circulation. Restoration to health must come through the building up and purification of the blood, thus adding strength and tone to the vital organs and quick, healthy action to the circulation.

S. S. S. being strictly a vegetable blood remedy and the best tonic, makes it the most valuable and efficacious of all medicine for old people. It is free from all mineral ingredients, and mild and pleasant in its action. It cures blood diseases of every character, even those inherited or contracted in early life. As the system gets under the influence of S. S. S. there is a marked improvement in the general health, and as richer and purer blood begins to circulate through the body the appetite improves, and there is a softness and elasticity about the skin that you have not noticed for years; sores begin to heal, pains in muscles and joints gradually cease, and you find that it is possible to be happy and healthy even in old age.

Our medical department is in charge of physicians who make a study of blood and skin diseases. If you would like to have their opinion and advice in your case, write them all about it and you shall receive such information and advice as you want. This will cost you nothing. Others have found our medical department of great benefit to them—their cure being much more rapid as the result of some special directions received from our physicians.

Don't be your own doctor when you can get medical advice free. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed to all who desire it.

ENGINEER JUNGLES MAKES A GOOD FREIGHT RUN.

LOCAL FREIGHT WRECKED

A BROKEN TRUCK CAUSE OF TROUBLE AT NEVADA.

NEW NICKEL PLATE CALLER

ELI SLUSSMAN SUCCEEDS WALTER STANLEY.

Engineer W. F. Jungles and Fireman C. D. Wingert, with engine 189, made a run on the Pittsburg road last Friday, which in some features beats the best previous fast run on division C. They had westbound freight train No. 75, in charge of Conductor A. Miller, which consisted of forty-five cars, most of them loaded, and ten of the rear ones loaded to their full capacity with iron. The train left Crestline at 11:55 o'clock in the morning and reached the east yards and had the engine cut out at 6:40 o'clock in the evening. En route to Fort Wayne the train was detained one hour and forty-five minutes awaiting trains at the passing points. This leaves the actual running time only four hours and six minutes, and beats all previous runs made under similar conditions.

WILL OBSERVE FOURTH.

All the railways running into Fort Wayne will observe the Fourth more fully tomorrow than ever before. Orders have been issued to close all the shops, offices and freight houses during the entire day. Formerly it was customary for the clerks in the shops and freight offices to work a few hours in the morning, but as a rule tomorrow there will be nothing doing in those places. Local freight trains will be annulled and as far as possible only perishable goods and passengers will be moved over the various lines tomorrow.

SPECIAL TRAIN FROM RESORT.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana company announces that it will have a special train out of Rome City at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow night for Fort Wayne to accommodate those who wish to return to the city at that hour. The travel from this city to Rome City tomorrow promises to be the heaviest in the history of the resort on a legal holiday.

WABASH MAKES COMPLAINT.

There is still trouble over the Kansas City eastbound passenger rate situation. It is claimed by the Wabash their competitors at Kansas City are not carrying out the intent and purpose of Arbitrator Martin's ruling and without authority from their eastern connections, and without the consent of some of the Kansas City eastbound lines they are applying the differential rates from Kansas City to Buffalo and return over the standard lines east of Chicago. The Wabash people say that they promptly advanced their fares for their fast mail train via Hannibal, in accordance with the arbitrator's decision, and they claim that their competitors are evading its requirements by insisting upon applying differential fares over standard lines.

PENNSYLVANIA IMPROVEMENT

The Pittsburg Post says: "President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania lines, is determined to maintain the supremacy of the Pennsylvania system. Within the next three years there will be a four-track road between New York and Pittsburg, four-track lines between Pittsburg and Homewood on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and four tracks between Pittsburg and Steubenville on the Panhandle, with double-track lines to Chicago and St. Louis. The work now under way on the main line of the Pennsylvania, between Pittsburg and Johnstown and Pittsburg and Steubenville on the Panhandle, on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago west of Crestline and on the Chicago division of the Panhandle between Logansport and Chicago and between Columbus and Indianapolis will be pushed as fast as practicable. The Pennsylvania company will then be enabled to adopt a time schedule which will exceed all rivals."

THE KRUDOP FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Fred C. Krudop, who was fatally injured at East Tolleston yesterday morning, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of the family, No. 25 West Jefferson street, Rev. Wagenhals officiating. The deceased was a member of Fort Wayne lodge No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and that order will attend the funeral, meeting at the hall on Calhoun street and marching to the Krudop home in a body. Mr. Krudop leaves a mother, six brothers and five sisters—John E., William F., Charles F., George H., Harry G. and Paul W. Krudop, Mrs. Mary Leeser, Mrs. Stella Becker, Mrs. Lena Gronawalt, of St. Paul, and the Misses Anna M. and Bertha E. Krudop. The deceased carried an insurance policy of $1,200 with the B. of R. T.

STANLEY'S SUCCESSOR.

Yardmaster Watterson, of the Nickel Plate, has employed Eli Slussman as a caller to take the place of the late Walter Stanley, whose death occurred in such tragic manner Sunday night. Mr. Slussman will have the night "trick" and W. F. Smart will have the day position. Mr. Slussman was a brakeman on the road several years ago, but an accident, by which he lost an arm, compelled him to retire from that position. Since that time he has been a crossing watchman and for several years has been stationed at Stony Island.

SHIP ELECTRIC MACHINERY.

Shipping Clerk John F. Kless, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, and his assistants had a busy day, sending out dynamos and electrical apparatus to various parts of the country today. Shipments have been very heavy for the past two weeks, but never were the packers and clerks more rushed with orders than they have been for the past two or three days. Today's shipments included eighty arc lamps to Campbellton, New Brunswick; a switchboard outfit to Corsina, Texas; a car load of machinery and supplies, including a 3,000-light dynamo, to Cambridge, Ohio, and a 1,200-light dynamo, with all the trimmings and eighty arc lamps, to Monroeville, Ind.

HAD HIS HAND CUT.

An electric fan, running at the rate of 1,400 revolutions per minute, fell from its resting place on the window sill at the Electric Light office this morning and struck and painfully cut the hand of Jacob W. Reiber, the time clerk, who was at work at his desk by the window. The large ledger, which was lying open upon the table, was considerably damaged by the fan, which danced about quite lively before the electric current was shut off.

NEW STYLE ASH PIT.

The Pittsburg is about to put in two ash or cinder pits of a new pattern, one at Washington, Ohio, and the other at Wanatah, Ind. These basins are wide enough to fit snugly between the rails, are about thirty feet long, two feet deep and built of boiler steel. They are an experiment, which may result in a revolution in the methods of constructing cinder pits on that line of railway. The boilermakers now have the pits well under construction.

HAD A FOOT BRUISED.

W. Tielker, an employe in the Pittsburg boiler shops, will be off duty a few days as the result of an accident which fell to his lot Monday night. He was working about an engine, when a crown bar fell upon and severely bruised one of his feet. He was conveyed to his home in a hack and Dr. W. E. Stemen was called to dress the wounded member.

LOCAL FREIGHT WRECKED.

Switch local, No. 89, on the east end of Division C, of the Pittsburg road, had some cars derailed and more or less wrecked near Nevada, Ohio, this morning, by the trucks under one of the cars breaking. The tracks were blocked at that point for awhile and trains were more or less delayed. The Crestline wreck crew was called to the scene.

A number of the machinists and apprentices at the Wabash shops are preparing for a picnic tomorrow. The shops will be closed and work suspended for the day and the men are at liberty to spend the time as best pleases them.

Peru Journal: "Engineer J. E. Sible, of the Wabash, is running the engine on the Fort Wayne plug, consequently most of his time is spent in Fort Wayne. Mrs. Sible and daughter, Ruth, went to Fort Wayne today to remain several weeks."

Nickel Plate Fireman H. Mansfield has returned from Cleveland, where he went last week to spend a few days with his wife. Mrs. Mansfield was visiting her parents in that city, when she was taken sick and has been unable to travel since.

J. E. Noble left this morning for Chicago on business for the Bass company. Instead of shooting firecrackers and cannons, Mr. Noble will pass the Fourth in making estimates upon a big contract the Bass company has been invited to bid upon.

The Frankfort Daily Crescent says the strike of machinists at the shops of the Toledo, St. Louis and Western was declared off at a meeting of the local union. The strike began May 25. It is stated that a majority of the machinists and mechanics will now return to work.

Joseph Karthold, of Peoria, Ill., is visiting friends in the city. He is an expert meter man and was employed in the laboratory of the Fort Wayne Electric works two or three years ago, leaving with Thomas Duncan when that gentleman went to Siemens-Halske company.

Walter Long, a Nickel Plate brakeman, who was sick at his father's home in Ohio for ten days, has returned to the city for the purpose of resuming his duties on the road. Brakeman Charles Bitner also resumed work on the road yesterday. He was off duty about a month.

Engineer J. C. Lynch resumed his duties on the Nickel Plate yesterday. He accompanied his wife to Detray, Mich., where she will remain a week or two the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Murphy. Mr. Murphy is a locomotive engineer on the Wabash; he formerly held a similar position with the Nickel Plate.

The resignation yesterday of Nickel Plate Fireman W. J. Dardis resulted in a slight change in the assignment of firemen. Fireman T. Dalton, who had been working on switch engine 58 in the yards, took the place in the road service with Engineer J. Hughes, on engine 104, which was vacated by Mr. Dardis, and W. H. Anderson was given the place on the switch engine.

Elwood Estry, passenger conductor on the Pittsburg, is having some improvements made at his home, corner of Thomas and Buchanan streets, which will add much to the beauty of the premises. Included in the improvements are cement sidewalks leading to and around the house.

Col. Sam B. Sweet, general freight agent of the Lake Erie and Western road, and a party of friends are now enjoying a few days at the Pan-American exposition.

Conductors H. P. Compton and John Curran and Brakemen Rice, David Rowan, J. J. Speidle and W. D. Rooney have resumed their duties on the Pittsburg after a few days' absence.

Wabash engines 571 and 575, which were running on the middle division for some time, left this city for Buffalo this morning. They have been repaired and repainted and now bear the numbers 1571 and 1575 respectively. Engine 31 was also turned out of the Wabash shops today.

F. J. Burns, assistant roundhouse foreman of the Pittsburg, has gone to Goldwater, Mich., to join his wife and son and do a little in the piscatorial way at a lake near that city. If Mr. Burns fulfills all promises to his railway comrades it will require two cars to bring down the fish necessary for that purpose.

Louis Koch, of the Wabash machine shop, has gone to the company's hospital at Peru to remain until he is able to resume work in the shop. While driving out some colts yesterday the young man had the back of his left hand painfully bruised by a misdirected blow with a hammer. He is the son of Julius Koch, the well-known Pittsburg machinist.

The whitewashing apparatus in use at the down town shops of the Pittsburg for several days has been removed to the east yards, where the shops and surrounding sheds are to receive attention in that way. The whitewashing outfit will probably be taken to Allegheny, Pa., when it is no longer needed here, and will be used in whitewashing the company's shops in that city.

The Peru Journal says: "Hon. S. A. Maloto, the Chicago attorney employed by the Italian counsel to look after the matter of damages in the case of the death of the Italian immigrants killed in the Cass station wreck on the Wabash, has filed damage suits in the Chicago courts against the Wabash Railway company, aggregating $70,000. The suits are fourteen in number and are drawn on the statutory limit of $5,000 each. Mr. Maloto stated that the Indiana laws allow $10,000 for a life, but that Illinois law specifies that a life is worth but $5,000. However, the Italian counsel preferred that the suits be brought in Chicago."

A. L. JOHNSON DEAD.

New York, July 3.—Albert L. Johnson, of Cleveland, Ohio, brother of Mayor Tom L. Johnson, died at 10:15 o'clock last night at Fort Hamilton, a Brooklyn suburb. Death was caused by aneurism of the heart. Although he had been ill for some time he had only been confined to the house about three weeks. At his bedside, when he died, were his wife and four children; his brother, Tom L. Johnson, and his mother. Mr. Johnson was about forty years old. He began his career as a railroad man as driver of a street car. He came to Brooklyn six or seven years ago, after Patrick H. Flynn had obtained franchises for several trolley lines, and he got control of the line from the Broadway ferry to Sheepshead Bay and the line through Hamburg avenue to Canarsie and started a 5-cent fare system to Coney Island. He consolidated these lines with the Jesse Seligman syndicate and merged the Atlantic avenue lines into the Nassau system to get across the Brooklyn bridge. Three years ago he sold out to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company.

SHOT DOWN BY SHERIFFS.

Friar's Point, Miss., July 3.—A report received from the southern part of Coahoma county states that Deputy Sheriffs Frank Johnson, Edgar Montroy and Frank Mullen were fired upon by negroes upon entering an alleged blind tiger. The fire was returned and a fusilade of shots were exchanged. It is stated that four negroes were killed outright and a fifth has since died as a result of the officers' deadly aim. The white men escaped uninjured. No further details are at hand.

JOSEPH H. WORDEN DEAD.

Columbia City, Ind., July 3.—Joseph H. Worden, a brother of the late Supreme Judge James L. Worden, died at the home of his son in this city, aged eighty-eight years, four months and seventeen days. He had lived in the county forty-two years. He leaves one son and one daughter. His wife died ten years ago.

Experiments made at Grisons and Zurich, in Switzerland, with patent American plowshares, have proved a great success. English firms thus lose large orders which have gone to the United States.

THE SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT

WHAT VARIOUS COUNTIES ARE TO GET.

Allen County Receives More Than is Paid In—Other Counties Get Less Than They Pay.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—Frank L. Jones, state superintendent of public instructions yesterday completed the June apportionment of school funds to the ninety-two counties of the state. The amount collected from all the counties was $1,131,959.34, and the total amount apportioned $1,113,695.52, leaving a balance in the state treasury of $33,550.70. The total amount apportioned makes the distribution $1.47 per capita. Marion county paid in $117,943.38 and received from the apportionment $70,296.87. Some other counties, however, received much more than they paid in, Brown county, for instance, receiving $9,600.03, after having paid in only $8,295.84. The more populous and wealthier counties paid in more than they received.

Allen county, with 24,622 children, paid into the state treasury, $30,903.42, and takes out $36,194.34.

Adams county, with 7,721 children, paid in $8,151.55, takes out $11,349.87.

DeKalb county, with 7,325 children, paid in $11,788.24 and takes out $10,767.75.

Elkhart county, with 12,607 children, paid in $19,465.69 and takes out $18,532.29.

Huntington county, with 8,717 children, paid in $13,184.26 and takes out $12,813.95.

KING'S DAUGHTER TO MARRY.

London, July 2.—The formal announcement of the bethrothal of Princess Victoria, daughter of King Edward and Queen Alexandria, will soon be made, but the name of the favored one has not been made public.

Their majesties have long been anxious for the marriage of the princess and have not been slow in encouraging one after another of eligible European princes who have sought her hand.

Princess Victoria, however has never given encouragement to any of her royal suitors. English princesses have always married at an early age and the reluctance of Victoria to enter into wedlock has been considered unaccountable. More than once there has been suspicion that her royal highness had given her heart to the keeping of someone not of the blood royal, but there has never been confirmation of this suspicion. She has always been somewhat eccentric and original, in this respect resembling her aunt, the Princess Louise, whose mother, Queen Victoria, had no little trouble in breaking up her love affair with a young clergyman. Suitors for Victoria's hand were many before her grandmother died and they have increased in number since her father ascended the throne.

It is now known that a betrothal heretofore has been prevented by the peculiar ideas of the marriage relation held by Princess Victoria. Another reason has also been advanced. The princess is said to be a victim of epilepsy. The betrothal is expected to reveal a most romantic love story.

EEL RIVER COMMENCEMENT

EXERCISES WERE HELD THURSDAY EVENING.

An Interesting Program Was Carried Out—Class Address By Rev. Charles Tinkham.

The annual commencement of the Eel River schools, held last Thursday evening at Wesley chapel, closed another page in the history of school work in Eel River township. The year has been one of merit and success, and the work of the graduates demonstrated the careful work of officers, teachers and pupils. Long before the appointed hour the house was filled, and at 8:15 the graduates marched to the platform, preceded by five little flower girls and County Superintendent Young. Behind them were Trustee Johnston and his teachers. The program was as follows:

Benediction.....S. K. Waterson

The class address by Rev. Charles Tinkham dwelt mainly upon the class motto, "Graduated, Not Educated," and was highly appreciated by all.

Mr. Young, in his address, urged the needs of higher education which leads to the greatest possibilities in life. He also spoke of the necessity of one filling his calling in life.

Much credit is due to Mr. Johnston for his plan of management of the exercises. The little girls who carried the flowers were Cora Barndthart, Grace Scarlett, Alta Johnston, Mary Joly and Pansy Golden. Miss Grace O'Brien assisted in arranging them in front of the platform. Maggie Fulk and Blanche O'Brien acted as ushers and Pearl Sible and Will Brown distributed programs.

The following teachers were present and took part: Pearl E. Sible, Ida Nederhiser, Blanche E. O'Brien and Maggie G. Fulk. Miss Clara Damon, who taught in the township last year, was present and assisted in the duties of the teachers.

The bouquets and floral offerings were abundant and tastefully arranged, and trustee and teachers extend their most sincere thanks to all who gave and helped in the decorations.

The male quartet was highly appreciated by all and the chapel people are pleased to have one of their number connected with it.

Auburn Courier: "Bishop Alerding, of Fort Wayne, confirmed twenty-one members in the Catholic religion at the church Monday evening. The services were very interesting and much enjoyed by those present. A party from Summit and a number of people from other places were present. The bishop went to Summit today, where he will confirm a number this evening."

Mrs. Souders and Miss Alta Green, of Columbia City, are in the city the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gumpper.

It is estimated that the cost of royalty to each citizen of Great Britain is only three-pence per annum.

The French minister for war has ordered that all French troops employed on foreign or active service are for the future to wear khaiki.

A recent tabulation made by a Swiss economist puts the aggregate savings deposits of European countries at more than $9,000,000,000 in the summer of the year 1900.

In the United States the savings deposits in 1870 were $549,874,353, distributed among 1,630,846 depositors. This amount was multiplied by more than four in 1900, when $2,384,770,849 was distributed among 5,875,450 depositors.

It was William Pitt who originated the income tax in Great Britain in 1798 as a war tax. The Napoleonic wars were fought wit it. From that time to this it has been the resort of all ministries to meet war expenditures.

From July 30 next the subjects and products of Great Britain, as well as of the British colonies and foreign possessions, with the exception of Canada, will be granted the most favored nation treatment by Germany until further notice.

An instrument, named the "topophone," has just been invented for the prevention of collisions at sea. The topophone registers even slight sounds far outside the range of the human ear, and by enabling foghorns to be heard at immense distances will greatly minimize existing risks in thick weather.

Outside of London, only five or six large towns in Great Britain are without municipal gas works, and a majority of the exceptions have started electric light plants. Throughout the country municipal gas is sold at 10 per cent. less than corporation gas, and the quality is better.

Builders of motor cars in France are strongly convinced that the future of the industry lies in the utilization of alcohol. Owners have little hope of petroleum being cheapened to any considerable extent. They are looking for any further economy to alcohol the utilization of which, it is supposed, will not save them money, but will revive a languishing national industry at the expense of imported petroleum.

There is talk of the establishment of a woman's college of matrimony to be located in Chelsea, England, where the duties of a wife will become the subject of a two-year course of study. The curriculum will embrace not only the usual branches of housewifery, such as cooking, sewing, laundry work, but is intended to deal with physiology and medicine as well, so that the students will receive mental discipline in connection with the manual training.

WEATHER MAN DOES FANCY TURN

Fort Wayne Swelters in Highest Temperature of Year---Thousands Flock to the Parks to Seek Relief from the Heat.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Between merciless rays of a sun which has beaten down with pitiless intensity and blistering heat waves which rise from pavements surcharged with an extremely high temperature Fort Wayne people have been sweltering for two days in the throes of genuine summer weather. It is the hot weather record of the year, and it would have been at least neighborly on the part of the ice man and the weather man to have dropped a hint of their intentions before cooking up this conspiracy against public comfort and complacency. And there is also evidence accumulating that tends to show the guilty participation of the ice cream soda man and vendors of sundry other summer beverages in the collusion.

The prophet who went on record some weeks ago in the positive assurance that there would be no hot weather this summer started in yesterday morning to hunt up his friends and square himself. Even at 6 o'clock Sunday morning the thermometer at the Gas office had crawled up to 72 degrees, and it got so early a start that the high mark of the day, 92 degrees, was reached at 3 o'clock without perceptible exhausting effort upon the part of the machine.

STILL WARMER TODAY.

The man who has religiously refrained from consulting a thermometer may have difficulty in believing it, but the fact remains that the record today is still higher than that of Sunday, though the heat is tempered partially by a slight breeze that takes off the edges somewhat. The record by hours since midnight as shown by the Gas company's thermometer on Court street today is as follows:

1 a. m.	77
2 a. m.	75
3 a. m.	75
4 a. m.	74
5 a. m.	74
6 a. m.	76
7 a. m.	78
8 a. m.	80
9 a. m.	83
10 a. m.	84
11 a. m.	86
Noon	89

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the 91 mark was reached; an hour later there had been little change, but Sunday's record will undoubtedly be passed before the afternoon is done. The temperature during the morning hours ranged considerably higher than for the corresponding hours yesterday. Thermometers in other pars of the city have almost invariably shown a higher temperature than that at the Gas office, the machine at Pellens & Polster's drug store at noon today registering 97 degrees.

SOUGHT COOL SPOTS.

There were several hundreds of visitors in the city yesterday and they joined in the general rush for the parks and other cool spots to seek relief from the oppressive heat which hung a persistent burden over the city, with hardly a breath of breeze stirring to give relief. All the parks in the city, and many groves adjacent, held their quota of visitors, and toward evening the rush to Robison park became tremendous. Twenty-five cars were in operation on the park line with a three minute service last night, and at one time more than five hundred people were gathered at the transfer corner awaiting transportation to the park. More than 5,000 people made the trip during the day.

Despite the tremendous heat remarkably few prostrations have been reported, and despite the discomfort it is probable still more of the same brand of weather is to be served up. The weather indications today give no promise of immediate relief, though Chicago reports a big drop in temperature and a fierce thunder storm.

NO CIVIL LIBERTY IN SOUTH AFRICA

London, July 1.—The Daily News publishes an article by its parliamentary correspondent on the political situation in Cape Colony, in view of the prorogation of the cape parliament, the writer saying that an issue of the gravest moment, namely, the suspension of the constitution of Cape Colony, is involved. He adds:

"From the night of June 30 for an indefinite period the king's subjects in Cape Colony will be deprived of the protection of law and will be governed contrary to its express provisions. Taxes will be applied under warrantee of the government without appropriation by parliament, which has been prorogued until August 27, and is not likely to sit even then. This illegal method has been resorted to by the governor and the ministry doubtless at the instigation of Lord Milner and Colonial Secretary Chamberlain. In a word, the imperial government has abrogated every article of the compact under which a free people owes allegiance to its rulers.

"Liberty is dead, so far as our Dutch subjects are concerned. The critics call for the authoritative intervention of the liberal party, in which there is a feeling in favor of summoning a great popular conference to consider the situation."

LIGHTNING SLAYS TWELVE MEN

Single Flash Deals Death to Party of Men Fishing on the Lake Front in Chicago---Fatal Bolt Struck Pier on Which they Sat.

Chicago, July 1.—Eleven boys were killed and another probably fatally injured this afternoon by a single bolt of lightning. The victims were fishing on Lake Michigan at the foot of Montrose boulevard, on the north side. The fatal bolt struck the pier where they were seated, and all were thrown into the lake.

A policeman attracted to the pier by the crashing timbers found it impossible to rescue any of the victims. The heavy timbers of the pier had been shattered and the whole structure toppled into the water. He hurried to a patrol box and called for assistance. Nearly half an hour elapsed before aid arrived. The work of recovering the bodies was extremely difficult, but finally all were carried ashore.

Owing to the terrific thunder storm prevalent the work of identification was extremely slow.

Oppressed by the extreme heat, the boys had gone in bathing. When the rain began to fall and it became evident a severe electrical storm was coming, they rushed to a shelter they had built on the pier. Willie Anderson, 12 years of age, was the only survivor of the shock which followed a moment later. To a policeman he gave a bare idea of the horrible ending of an hour's sport and then fainted. He was carried to a nearby house, where medical assistance was rendered.

The fatal stroke was the most powerful seen here in years. The pier was demolished in a trice, giving the boys not the slightest chance of escape.

In age the victims ranged from twelve to twenty-five years.

LOOTERS ARE CAPTURED.

Pekin, July 1.—Five men calling themselves Americans were captured by Chinese troops in a town fifty miles from Pekin, and were today turned over to Major Roberts, commander of the United States legation guard here. The men, who were armed, demanded 5,000 taels from the keeper of a pawn shop and got 500. They filled five carts with plunder and then began shooting, not knowing the town was occupied by 100 Chinese troops. The United States legation was notified, and the quintete were brought in. All parts of Pekin occupied by the British for police purposes were turned over today to the Chinese authorities. The foreigner ministers will meet July 3.

TWO UNFORTUNATES.

Herman Lempke, a driver for S. W. Hull, was thrown from his wagon Saturday afternoon and sustained a fracture of the right wrist, besides other injuries. He was removed to his home, on Madison street, where Dr. McCausland attended him.

The 8-year-old son of John Neumeyer, the East Lewis street grocer, fell down stairs Sunday afternoon and received a bad gash over his right eye. Dr. McCausland put several stitches in the wound.

MAY END READING STRIKE

NEGOTIATIONS NOW UNDER WAY MAY SUCCEED.

Bitter Struggle Likely to Be Ended on a Basis of Fair Compromise —Other Strike News.

Reading, Pa., July 1.—It now looks as if the end of the strike of the Reading railway shop hands, inaugurated ten days ago, is in sight. President Baer, of the railroad company, and Chairman Boscher, of the strikers' committee, will hold a conference in New York tonight. Mr. Boscher will reports to the employes here tomorrow. Concessions have already been made by both sides.

STRIKERS HOLD OUT.

Newport News, Va., July 1.—The striking machinists at the ship yard are adhering to their determination to hold out for their demands. The strike is no in its fiftieth week and seems no nearer a settlement then on the day of its inauguration.

The machinists claim they have 98 per cent. of the number solid for a continuance of the strike. The ship yard employed 7,500 men before the present trouble.

Now about 3,000 are employed. General Superintendent Post states that no concessions will be made.

MAY SETTLE IT.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 1.—A conference was held here today which may result in settlement, locally, of the machinists' strike. No details have yet been given out.

FOREIGN CROP OUTLOOK.

London, July 1.—The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the crop situation says otday:

"The official report giving the yield of the Indian wheat crop as 30,926,000 quarters should mean that nearly six millions will be available for export, but as the granaries are completely depleted it is not likely that more than three millions will be exported."

Summarizing the continental position the Mark Lane Express says it expects over the average wheat yield in Russia, Spain and Servia, average yield in Italy, Austria-Hungary, Roumania and the Netherlands and belowe the average yield in Germany, Poland and Scandinavia. The feature of the maize trade continues to be the spirited competition of Roumania, Bulgaria and Turkey with the United States and Argentina.

DEATH TERMINATES A VISIT.

Dublin, Ind., July 1.—Mrs. James Conn yesterday stepped from the train in London, in Shelby county, where she contemplated making a visit to her sister, Mrs. John Vernon. The sisters twenty-five years ago were separated and have not seen each other since. Recenly Mrs. Conn, who lives in Missouri, learned the whereabouts of her long lost sister and at once started for Indiana to meet her. Mrs. Conn was much excited over the glad tidings, and, filled with the joy of meeting her sister, she rushed into her home and surprised her. In ten minutes aftre she reached her sister's home she died.

Huntington Herald: "Harry I. Young, who had both of his limbs cut off at Fort Wayne last winter, will go to Fort Wayne tomorrow for the purpose of having another amputation made of a portion of his left limb. The leg never healed right since its first amputation owing to an excess of flesh at the point where the amputation was made."

BEATS NEW BOAT

GALLANT OLD COLUMBIA OUTSAILS CONSTITUTION.

FIRST OF YEAR'S RACES

THE VICTORIOUS 1899 DEFENDER GOOD AS EVER.

LED NEW BOAT ALL THE WAY

RACE IS SAILED IN A VERY GOOD WIND.

Bateman's Point, R. I., July 1.—Columbia, the gallant and victorious defender of the America's cup in the international races of 1899, defeated the new defender Constitution today. Columbia crossed the line at the finish at 2:32:35 and was followed by the Constitution at 2:33:18.

Just after crossing the finish line the Columbia's main boom broke at the middle. This acident may cause a postponment of the second trial race, which was set for Wednesday.

When the Constitution and the Columbia hoisted sail for the first race of the season between American cup defender yachts the breeze inside the bay was very light and the yachts had some difficulty in getting out to the starting point.

The contest was a windward and leeward affair of thirty miles. By the time the yachts has reached the lightship they found a good breeze from the southwest, and at 10:30 there seemed little chance of postponement. Both yachts came out of the harbor with large club top sails set. The Columbia was the first out, but she was only a few minutes ahead of the Constitution. The boats were almost identical in appearance. After waiting at the lightship about ten minutes the judge decided that the wind was too near the southwest to risk starting from the lightship, so the whole fleet started off to the eastward.

On the way signals were hoisted on the flagship to indicate a heat to windward for fifteen miles and return.

The starting gun was fired at 11:30. Five minutes later the warning signal was given.

Both yachts at the time were to leeward of the line, the Constitution being farther away. Both yachts at once began maneuvering for position.

The starting guns was fired at 11:40, the Columbia crossing first and to windward at 11:40:21, and the Constitution right under her lee at 11:40:33.

Both boats went that distance on the starboard tack under all sail and stood about south, wind being southwest.

In the first eighth of a mile the Columbia pulled out a bit on the Constitution; later, however, the new boat drew upon her so that she was almost on even terms, although still to leeward. When the yachts had covered about a mile of the course they were still standing out to sea on the starboard tack.

The Columbia from this point seemed to have gained a bit to windward. During the next five minutes the Columbia outpointed the Constitution and gained to windward.

MAY RETURN TO PHILIPPINES.

Lieut. J. B. Fonner, who arrived in the city Saturday after a service of twenty-two months with the Thirty-first regiment in the Philippines, states that he is favorably impressed with the islands, and may return there in a civil capacity. Lieutenant Fonner is considerably heavier than when he left Fort Wayne and looks the picture of health. He was stationed during the entire term of service on the island of Mindanao, and his regiment got no taste of the fighting, being located for fourteen months at one point. It was in a delightful climate and on the seacost, but the life grew very monotonous.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED.

Richmond, Va., July 1.—The negro who attempted a criminal assault upon a young lady in Brunswick county a few days ago, was taken from the jail at Lawrenceville Sunday night by a mob and lynched.

BADLY INJURED IN A FALL.

Mary Sieler, 8 years of age, a daughter of Peter Sieler, of Adams Center, fell from a step ladder while engaged in picking cherries on Saturday, sustaining a compound fracture of the right elbow, a fracture of the wrist with dislocation of the joint, and injury to the shoulder. The arm may be saved from amputation, but it is not believed the full use of it will ever be regained.

ENFORCE PAYMENT.

Warsaw, Ind., Jnue 29.—What are known as the canning factory cases are being heard in the circuit court. Several years ago lots were sold at $100 each to raise money with which to locate a factory here. The lots were raffled off and the company is now trying to collect the money. About fifty suits have been filed against persons who have refused to pay for the lots.

RICH GIFT FROM CARNEGIE.

Detroit, Mich., July 1.—Geo. W. Bradford, member of the Detroit public library board, has received a letter from Andrew Carnegie, stating that Mr. Carnegie will contribute $750,000 toward the erection of a new public library building in this city.

A SATURDAY HALF HOLIDAY

MOVEMENT AFOOT TO CLOSE STORES.

Well Known Women Inaugurate an Effort to Give Salesladies and Salesmen a Day of Rest.

Well known women of this city have inaugurated a movement for the closing of retail dry goods stores Saturday afternoon during the term of extreme hot weather. A petition will at once be circulated for signatures to a request to proprietors of the large stores that business be suspended at noon Saturday.

There are hundreds of men and women employed in the large dry goods establishments of Fort Wayne to whom such an innovation would be a great boon. In most of the larger cities the Saturday half holiday has long been established and the people have become so accustomed to it that they suffer no inconvenience nor the stores any loss of patronage. The wholesale houses and the banks of Fort Wayne several years ago adopted the Saturday half holiday rule and it has been found to work most admirably. It is believed by the promoters of the present movement that the retail stores of Fort Wayne would suffer none by establishment of the custom. It is pointed out that the people of Fort Wayne after years of familiarity with the custom of grocers to keep their stores open every weekday night until 9 or 10 o'clock very readily accommodated themselves to the new rule of closing at 6 o'clock in the evening, excepting Saturday. Every one is now used to the new order and no complaint is heard.

It is proposed that the dry goods stores close at noon from July 4th to September 1st, less than two months. much interest is being taken in the movement.

WILLIAM HELWIG HURT.

William Helwig, residing at 105 Taylor street, was struck by a Wabash engine at the crossing of the shop track on Fairfield avenue shortlf after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon and sustained painful injuries. Helwig was formerly employed at the organ factory, but is convalescing from a recent illness, and lately has been devoting his time to canvassing for a patent ironing board. He carried one of these boards at the time he was struck Saturday, and to this fact probably owes his life. The engine had just left the repair shops and was beng tested. Helwig did not notice the aproach of the engine which was backing slowly toward the shops, but the ironing board he carried received the force of the impact in such a manner as to throw Helwig clear of the rails. The injured man was unconscious when yard men rushed to his assistance, and he was taken to his home. Dr. Maurice Rosenthal, who was summoned to attend him, found the patient suffering from concussion of the brain. There was also a severe cut across the forehead and numerous bruises upon the body, but no bones were broken.

TWO KILLED AT SEDAN.

Auburn, Ind., July 1.—Lee Hine and Isaac Tryor were struck by a Lake Shore train at Sedan Saturday afternoon, while crossing the tracks in a buggy, and both were instantly killed. Tryer carried the mails between the postoffice and the depot and was 50 years of age. Hine was about 35, and both were married.

A new case of scarlet fever has been reported at No. 70 Green street.

NEW ORE EXTRACTING PROCESS

Important Patents Granted to E. J. Kiss, and a Big Fort Wayne Company Will Be Formed to Manufacture the Machines.

E. J. Kiss, foreman of the pattern department of the Kerr Muray Manufacturing company, and a Fort Wayne inventor of note, has just evolved an entirely new process of amalgamation for the extraction of gold and silver from the ores, and yesterday the United tSates patent office issued letters patent to Mr. Kiss covering every point claimed for his invention.

For several months Mr. Kiss has been at work upon his plans, and the patent was allowed in an incredibly short time. Mr. Kiss is confident that his invention will entirely revolutionize the mining business and a number of experts who have seen it cordially indorse the inventor's opinion. It is stated that in every particular the process has confirmed the claims made for it.

A leading point claimed for the new invention is that it follows lines entirely original and materially differing from any other process now in use, and that it greatly simplifies the work of separating the precious metals from the crude substances with which they are invariably associated in their native state. Mr. Kiss and one or two gentlemen who are associated with him have made exhaustive tests of every theory entering into the process, and are greatly elated over the results obtained.

WILL ORGANIZE COMPANY.

At a meeting to be held this evening the initial steps will be taken toward the formation of a gigantic company for the manufacture of the Kiss machines, and it is said that ample capital is ready and anxious to finance the undertaking. The capital stock will probably be placed at fully $3,000,000, though none of the stock will be offered for sale until there has been the most complete and exhaustive tests of a large-size machine in continuous operation for several weeks.

The factory will be located in Fort Wayne, and unless present expectations fall far short of realization, the industry will be a most important addition to manufacturing circles of the city. Arrangements are already under way for the building of the first large machine which is to have an amalgamating surface said to be several times greater thn anything heretofore in use. It is proposed in making the tests to turn the machine completely over to the mining people for operation in order to demonstrate the simplicity of the new process.

As previously stated, Mr. Kiss is the patentee of a number of other inventions which are in successfull use, but he believes in the present instandce he has scored a triumph of world-wide importance.

MUNCIE-FORT WAYNE LINE MEN ARE MOVING.

Say the New Electric Road is Practically Assured—Cleveland Capitalists Interested.

"Promoters of the proposed electric line, which has been built so many times, are hustling, despite the warm weather, and the line is practically assured, not only to Hartford City, but to Fort Wayne," says the Muncie Herald.

The above information was given out this morning by a conservative business man of this city who has been interested in the enterprise for some time. The decision of the eastern men, who are to furnish the greater part of the capital, the informant continues, have virtually not only accept the proposition, but are seeing about the granting of franchises for fifty years, instead of only twenty, as was the case in many instances. They feel assured that the teritory is valuable, and that the road will ble a winner. The line will extend to Hartford City first, but it is as much assured that it will eventually be built into Fort Wayne.

Mr. Hexter, one of the Cleveland men interested in the proposed road, is in Chicago at present. He will be in Muncie within a few days, and the matter will be given more serious consideration. The name of the company, as spoken of in the franchise, a number of which have already been secured, is the Muncie, Hartford City and Fort Wayne Traction company.

The work of securing the remaining franchises will require but a short time, when the organization of the company will follow. This will be completed with the closing of the franchises and the completion of the great amount of other detail work necessary in such a project. It is expected that the company will be organized in this city in the near future. Other binding features, which will insure the completion of the road will also occur soon.

ILL AT COLUMBIA CITY.

(Columbia City Post.)

"Wm. Harris, of Fort Wayne, reached this city Friday at 12:51 and started to walk over to his brother's saloon on Whitley street. When he reached the bridge at the brewery he was seized with cramps and was also suffering from pleurisy. He managed to get as far as the Wabash tracks, when he collapsed. Several bystanders went to his assistance, among them his brother Frank. The sick man was taken to the home of his brother and was able to afford him such relief that he returned to his home at 10 o'clock. Mr. Harris is a carpenter and builder and his purpose in coming here was to make a settlement for a car load of lumber he had purchased of Mosher & Grant."

FOOT MAY BREAK OFF.

James McCarter, a carpenter residing at 143 Fairfield avenue, is the victim of a disease throgh which he may lose a foot. Many years ago Mr. McCarter was bitten by a dog above the ankle, and it is said that the bite is responsible for the present necrosed condition of the bone, which has been all but eaten through, so that the slightest jar would cause the bone to snap. An operation will probably be necessary. Dr. A. J. Lomas is the attending physician.

St. Peter's Catholic church will hold a picnic July 4 in the school yard, and a feature of the evening program will be a contest for a gold watch between Miss Nora Rinehart and Miss Steib.

THIRD BROTHER TO DIE IN ACCIDENT

The tragic death of Charles J. Dinkel, the carpenter, who succumbed to injuries received in a frightful fall from the Bayer building at Wayne and Barr streets last Wednesday, brings to light a strange fatality that has attended the family.

Mr. Dinkel was the third brother to meet his death in a violent manner. Some years ago Fred Dinkel was killed in an accidental fall from a windmill in Pleasant township, and later another brother succumbed to injuries received in a runaway accident in the same locality. The sad circumstance is certainly a very unusual one.

PROBING MYSTERY IN A DEATH

Coroner's Inquiry Into Manner in Which Walter Stanley Was Killed---Friends of the Dead Man Suspect Foul Play.

Friends of Walter Stanley, the Nickel Plate caller, whose mangled remains were found on the tracks of the Lake Erie and Western railway at an early hour Monday morning, are inclined to the belief that the unfortunate man came to his death by foul play. The police department officers who have been making an investigation do not credit this theory, and Coroner Barnett declines to give an opinion until he has completed the inquest which is now under way.

The taking of evidence began last evening, and Engineer Cranston, who was pulling the Lake Erie excursion train which ran over the body, says the man was surely not standing on the tracks when he was struck. Both engineer and fireman say they saw an object between the rails, which appeared to be a bundle of paper, and that when the train reached the depot a number of scraps of paper were found in the machinery of the engine.

As substantiating the theory that Stanley may have been assaulted and placed upon the tracks, it is pointed out that the body was lying wholly within the rails and directly across the track, a position which would hardly have been assumed in an accidental fall. The fact that Stanley's watch and money were both missing is not regarded as significant, as it has been learned that he had left his watch at home, and persons who were with him earlier in the evening assert that he had no money.

Coroner Barnett has ascertained Stanley's whereabouts during the evening and up until about half an hour before his body was found upon the tracks. The coroner also states that evidence shows Stanley to have been drinking somewhat. Additional witnesses are to be examined and none of those who have already testified have yet been dismissed. The investigation is to be carried forward to completion, and Dr. Barnett stated today that a verdict would hardly be rendered for several days.

Superintendent Gorsline says that in the course of the investigation of Stanley's death the murder theory never once entered his mind, and at the sheriff's office the same statement is made. Some peculiar circumstances were shown up, but none upon which, in their opinion, a murder theory could be based.

THE SECOND VICTIM OF ACCIDENT DIES

Death claimed the second victim of the accident at the Bayer building, when Robert Beuchel passed away at Hope hospital at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Beuchel was one of the carpenters who fell a distance of thirty feet by the breaking of a scaffold on Wednesday of last week. His companion, Charles J. Dinkel, died at noon Saturday.

Beuchel's death was directly due to the fracture of the spine received in his terrible fall. Not only was the spine broken, but there was a fracture of one ankle and an arm in addition to a dislocation of one knee. Despite the extent of the injuries, Beuchel displayed remarkable vitality, and while the srious character of his injuries was fully realized, his condition continued favorable and seemed to offer hope for his ultimate recovery.

Monday night, at 11 o'clock, however, there was a pronounced change for the worse. The inflammation from the injury to the spine gradually spread until it reached the patient's brain, and it was seen that his case was hopeless. During the latter part of the night and early morning he sank gradually, but retained consciousness until within an hour previous to his death.

Beuchel was about 32 years of age, and resided on South Hanna street. He leaves a widow and several children, who were with him at the hospital when death came today.

The remains were removed to the undertaking parlors of Schrone & Veith, where a post mortem examination was held.

HUMANE OFFICER'S REPORT.

To the Officers and Members of the Fort Wayne Human Society—The following is my report for the month of June 1901:

—Human Beings.—

One organ grinder who said his home was in the state of Iowa, where he was the owner of real estate, was found on Clinton street, playing his organ and sending his 9-year-old girl in every business house to beg money, was ordered out of town and went at once. Judge Louttit's plan to send wife-beaters to jail instead of fining them seems to work all right, and I think there will be fewer cases in the future. Total number of persons warned, 26.

BUT LITTLE RELIEF IS PROMISED

Weather Bureau Says Heat Wave Will Linger for a While---Terrible Suffering and Death in Many of the Larger Cities.

Washington, July 2.—The weather bureau has issued the following special bulletin:

"There is no present indications of a permanent break in the warm wave, which covers the country generally east of the Rocky mountains. Local rains and thunder storms will furnish temporary relief in the lower lake regions, the upper Ohio valley and in the mountain districts of Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia, and there is a possibility that these local rains may occur in limited areas in Atlantic coast states.

"H. E. Williams, Acting Chief."

The terrific heat wave continues general over the entire area of the United States east of the Rocky mountains. In New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Baltimore and other cities of that region the temperature continues deadly. The record of prostrations and fatalities due to heat is appalling. In a few cities, notably in Washington and Boston in the east, and Detroit, Milwaukee and St. Paul in the west, there has been a welcome drop of the mercury. The following table compiled from the Associated Press reports shows the temperature this afternoon and the number of deaths due to heat from midnight to 2 o'clock this afternoon in the principal cities of the country:

FIRE IN A LODGING HOUSE

TWO DEAD, TWO LIKELY TO DIE, AT BUTTE, MONT.

A Score of Persons More or Less Hurt —Experiment With Gasoline Lamp the Cause.

Butte, Mont., July 2.—Two dead, two severely if not fatally injured and a score more or less hurt, is the result of a fire which broke out at the Pullman lodging house, 114 West Mercury street, at 2 o'clock this morning.

The dead:

Sam Mix, waiter, Missoula, Mont.

Ole Berg, carpenter, Butte.

Severely injured:

Billy Ryan, better known as "Australian Ryan," a pugilist well known throughout the northwest, jumped from a third story window, seriously injured about head and legs.

W. A. Camp, jumped from third story window, internally injured and cut about head.

Miss Crystal, proprietress of lodging house, burned about body and injured from inhaling smoke.

A number of men were experimenting with a gasoline lamp in a saloon on the lower floor of the lodging house, when the lamp exploded, scattering flames in all directions. The building was wooden and before the fire department arrived the flames had eaten through the lower floor and were spreading to the upper stories.

The lodging house contained about 100 guests, none of whom were able to save anything except what they wore. Most of them escaped by jumping from the first and third story windows and it is miraculous that more were not killed. A number were carried out unconscious by the firemen, but so far as known all will recover.

It is not believed that any except the two mentioned perished. The property loss is about $4,000, with no insurance.

LOCAL LINES.

Charles Abel, a prominent Garrett cigarmaker, is in the city.

The children of St. Mary's church will picnic at Lakeside grove on the Fourth.

W. H Harris, who was taken suddenly ill at Columbia City, is suffering from gall stones.

Mrs. George Ortlieb, jr., and daughter have gone to Chicago on a visit to Mrs. Ortlieb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Empie.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Sanders, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Pfeiffer, at whose home they were united in marriage Sunday, have left for their home in Angola.

SHOT FOR TREASON.

It has been alleged with an air of authority, and not contradicted, that among the officers and privates who are undergoing imprisonment at Portland for "sleeping at their posts" there are some whose real offense was of a much more serious character; and it is said further that the list of "deaths from enteric" covers several capital punishments, the occasion of which it is deemed imprudent to disclose. We shall know more about these matters when the war is over; but in the meantime it is disturbing to realize that the British army in South Africa has not been exempt from spies and traitors, of whom some have been sentenced to penal servitude and others summarily shot. The Boers in the field are too poor to pay for the services of traitors now, and it is not suposed that the men who have been dealt with by Lord Kitchener have been in the pay of Leyds.

The blackest part of the business, according to what is whispered, is that conspirators have been engaged in supplying the enemy with firearms and ammunition, and that they have procured agents willing to enter the irregular forces or the British army for the express purpose of facilitating the transmission of goods of this description to the Boer commandos.—London Corespondent.

ORIGIN OF EASTERN ART.

"Very sagacious writers, and some whose works embody the latest research, hold that all the arts of the east originated in Persia, except indeed the art of the Chinese, with its offshoots; and that even this has been always much affected by Persian design," says Russell Sturgis in the International Monthly. "There is an interesting controversy as to the origin of the Moslem styles of architecture, Damascene, Cairene, Moorish in North Africa and Moorish in Spain—whether those styles of building are the immediate result of the employment of Byzantine workmen by Arab conquerors, or whether Persia, once to spread her powerful artictic influence over the whole Moslem world. And the reason for these lofty claims on behalf of Persia's right to be first in the world of art, is the evident mastery of the people living there over many of the most beautiful and many of the rarest methods of design. From the time of Xerxes through all ages of the world, the Persian artist has been the greatest master known of pure color decoration; that is, of abstract designing in harmonious colors—of their use as flat tints in contrast, their use in delicate gradation. From the earliest times the Persian has been the only artist who knew how to design a flower—a blossom which no man had ever seen or dreamed of, but which he knew how to compose; and from the earliest times the Persian has been the undisputed master of those who would use elaborate and beautiful patterns in spite of restraining difficulties of mechanism. Therefore, the Persian has always shown the way in the delicate and difficult task of making carpets rich in color and complex in design. Even if we find many of the pieces of undoubted Persian make too crowded with details and too sophisticated—that is to say, too artificial, and with not enough natural impulse of the workman following traditional patterns, but still free to act—we have still to admit the origin in Persia of all the lovely and powerful styles, freer and more severe, with which western Asia is filled."

WHY DINAH FELT SO BAD.

Not long ago a lieutenant in the navy was ordered away on a three years' cruise. The order had been dreaded for weeks, and when it came the young wife, who was to be left in a Brooklyn flat with a baby and a colored servant, was in despair.

She controlled her sorrow very well, however, until the actual moment of parting came, and then she wept as though her heart would break. The cruiser was to leave the navy yard early next morning, and the lieutenant had gone to report for duty.

In the midst of her lamentations the young wife heard a sniffing and sobbing in the dining room, and upon glancing through the door she saw Dinah, the colored maid, rocking her body to and fro in a chair and weeping violently.

"Why, D-D-Dinah, what's the m-matter?" cried the mistress; "you seen to t-t-take Mr. Blank's departure as much to heart as I d-do."

"'Deed I doesn't, Mis' Blank; 'deed I doesn't!" sobbed Dinah. "What am bodderin' dis chile am de fac' dat a cullul gemman friend o' mine am gwine sail hisse'f on dat same ole cruisah!"

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 2.—Trading in the board of trade markets was extremely dull today, owing to the heat. Wheat was largely affected by weakness in corn. Sept. opened ½c lower to ½c higher at 65⅝c to 65⅞c, declined to 65⅜c. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 271 cars against 352 cars a week ago and 96 cars last year.

Local receipts were 73 cars, 11 of contract grade.

On reports of damage to the crop in France, Sept. advanced to 68@⅛c, where it closed, ¼@⅜c net higher.

Rains in the west and southwest contributed to the weak opening in corn. Sept. opened ⅜@¾c lower at 45⅜c to 45⅞c; rallied to 45⅞@46c and reacted to 45½c. Local receipts were 261 cars, 8 of contract goods.

Later Sept. rose, on general buying, to 47c, where it closed, ⅝@¾c higher.

Oats opened easy with other grains. Sept. opened ⅛@¼c lower at 27½c to ¼c and held steady. Receipts were 158 cars.

Heavy receipts of hogs caused a weak opening in provisions. Sept. pork opened 5c lower at $14.70 and dropped to $14.52½. Lard opened 5c lower at $8.62½, while ribs were 2½c lower at $8.10.

THE CLOSE.

COW DROWNED HERSELF.

A cow belonging to Chas. Lorenz was tethered on the commons abutting on Aboite street, close to a ditch. The animal, probably in trying to get a drink, got the rope tangled about her horns and legs in such a manner that she fell headforemost into the ditch, into less than a foot of water, and being upable to extract herself was drowned.

MONEY TURNED OVER.

Lieutenant Lapp and Officer Pappert, of the police force, have turned over to Mrs. Madden, wife of the late Officer Madden, the sum of $511.85, realized from the policemen's excursion to Rome City. Mrs. Madden gave a letter which will be read to the members of the day and night forces, expressing her gratitude for the gift.

WILL RETURN TO WORK.

Reading, Pa., July 2.—The Reading railway striking shop hands today ratified the agreement between Chairman Boscher and President Baer, and it was decided to return to work on Friday morning. Over 1,200 men were present at the meeting.

William Rable, who has figured in police circles recently, is not the William Rable of the Pennsylvania railroad service in this city. The similarity of names proves embarrassing to the latter, who is a gentleman of good repute.

THE BIG STRIKE IS UNDER WAY

Amalgamated Steel Workers are Prepared to Obey President Shaffer's Order---May be Biggest in History.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 1.—As a result of the refusal of the representatives of the American Sheet Steel company and the American Steel company, subsidary companies of the Great United States Steel corporation, to sign the workers' new scale at Saturday's conference, circulars were sent out from the national headquarters of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers yesterday and today declaring a strike at all the plants of the two combines. The great strike is now on, but it will be several days before its actual extent is known.

PLANTS NOW AFFECTED.

At the outset, however, over 35,000 men will be involved, as follows:

Union Sheet Mills—Aetna-Standard Steel mills, Bridgeport, Ohio, 2,500; Midland Steel mills, Muncie, Ind., 1,000; Old Meadow Rolling mill, Scotdale, Pa., 400; Saltsburg Rolling mill, Saltsburg, Pa., 300; W. Dewes Woods mills, McKeesport, Pa., 1,000; Cambridge Iron and Steel mills, Cambridge, Ohio, 400; Canton Rolling mills, Canton, Ohio, 250; Charter Iron and Steel mills, Carnegie, Pa., 300; Dennison Rolling mills, Dennison, Ohio, 350; Dresden Iron and Steel mills, Dresden, Ohio, 300; Falcom Iron and Nail mills, Niles, Ohio, 450; New Philadelphia mills, New Philadelphia, Ohio, 700; Piqua Rolling mills, Piqua, Ohio, 600; Reeves Iron mills, Canal Dover, Ohio, 750; Struthers Iron mills, Struthers, Ohio, 400; Corning Steel mills, Hammond, Ind., 300; Lauffman Steel mills, Paulton, Pa., 200; Hyde Park Iron and Steel mills, Hyde Park, Pa., 350. Total, 11,650.

Non-Union Sheet Mills—Apollo Iron and Steel mills, Vandergrift, Pa., 3,600; Kirkpatrick mills, Leechburg, Pa., 550; Wellsville Plate and Sheet Iron mills, Wellsville, Ohio, 400; Scotdale Iron and Steel mills, Scotdale, Pa., 550. Total, 5,100.

American Steel Hoop company, 14,000; Independent plants, twenty in number, 5,000.

TOTAL OF 35,000.

Total number of men involved in strike, 35,750.

The American Steel Hoop company's main offices are in this city. The company has three non-union plants in this city. They are Painters' mills, this city, and Lindsy & McCutcheon's and Clarke's, located in Allegheny.

The company has also a non-union plant at Monessen, Pa., and one at Duncanville, Pa., though the employes of the latter are ready for organization as soon as the amalgamated people will take them in. The other plants of the company are claimed by the amalgamated people as union. There are two at Youngstown, and one each at Sharon, Girard, Greenville, Pomeroy, and Warren, Ohio.

RESULTS PROBLEMATICAL.

What the strike just inaugurated may eventually lead to is problematical. Three months ago when a strike occurred in the Wood plant of the American Sheet Steel company, at McKeesport, when the company refused to allow its men to become members of the Amalgamated association, President Shaffer threatened if the McKeesport strikers could not win with their own strength he would order a strike of every plant of the company. If the latter would not yield he would then call out the union men in every plant of the United States Steel corporation.

MAY BE GIGANTIC.

Such a course would end in the biggest strike the country has ever seen, involving several hundred thousand men. For the first few weeks the situation will not show the strength of the association. Almost all the plants of the company, union and non-union, will be compelled to shut down during the early part of July to give the men a rest. They have been working steadily since the first of the year, many of them without a week's cessation, Union and non-union alike, they are demanding a short vacation, and the prediction is made that the companies will be unable to keep any one at work for two or three weeks after tomorrow. The heat is intense and the men, one vice president said today, are almost in a state of revolt.

THE REAL BATTLE.

It will be after, perhaps, the first of August when the combine makes a serious attempt to start up in full, that the real battle will begin if no settlement has been reached at that time. The company cannot well delay operations longer than that on account of the present floods of orders. In fact, the urgent orders now on the books can scarcely wait through July.

Thus the association has almost a month more to prepare for the coming struggle. It is the boast of the Amalgamated association officials that by that time they will control 80 per cent of the capacity of the combines of the plants.

SHAFFER'S PLANS.

Gradually the plans of President T. J. Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association are being uncovered. Since the trouble in the W. Dewes Wood Mills, in McKeesport, a few months ago, the Amalgamated association has been actively engaged in breaking up the present arrangement of the plans of the combine in operating parts of the plants with non-union men and the others with union men. Mr. Shaffer says that if this is not checked, the life of the Amalgamated association is threatened, for the combine will always work their union mills last, and the union men will be sufferers by this discrimination.

It was believed by the Amalgamated association that the promptness with which the sheet steel combine came to their terms in the McKeesport trouble and allowed the union to exist in that plant would prove a boom to further aggressive action on the part of organized workmen Taking advantage of the new United States Steel corporation as the parent head of all the other combnes with which the Amalgamated association had to deal, it was felt that by a theatened strike of all the union men in all the branches of the steel business would so frighten the combine officials that they wouldl give in and allow every one of the non-union plants to be unionized.

WHY THEY STRIKE.

The strike order against the American Sheet Steel company has been ordered because this portion of the United States Steel corporation has thus far stood out against the increase in union mills, now recognized as union, to remain so. The American Steel Hoop company stands in the same position.

Thus is arrayed against the union organization the two branches of the United States steel corporation. The scale for the American tin plate company, also a part of the greater corporation has been signed. It is said, however, that in case the struggle continues the Amalgamated officials have the power to call out these tin plate workers as a means of defense against the parent corporation which they hold responsible for all disagrements.

The strike now threatened in the bar mills, following so closely upon that of the sheet mills, has therefore a most serious aspect and may spread to enormous proportions.

A PREDICTED STRUGGLE.

Indeed, in some circles, it is predicted that the gigantic struggle that has been talked of since the organization of the United States Steel corporation was formed is on the eve of breaking out, and that its coming is much sooner than many believed was possible.

The position that the greater combination was placed in, practically frees the independent plants from complicty in the battle. The fight is not for wages, but for organization. Either the Amalgamated association must bow to the will of the greater combine or else the greater combine will have to give up its non-union mills.

Members of the advisory board of Amalgamated association declare that the association has a surpirse in store for the combine.

ORGANIATION STRONG.

"We have not been idle during the first half of the present year," said one. "We have strong lodges organized in several non-union plants over which the combine imagines it has absolute control. We are in better shape for a strike than we ever were before. Our membership among the sheet workers is stronger than it has been in years, and our treasury has a larger defense fund than we ever had in our history. The question of signing for all mills must be settled this year. Next year or the year following will be too late."

At McKeesport the strike outlook is regard seriously. W. Dewes Wood mill was shut down a week ago and no effort will be made by the company to start up the mill within a few weeks. A party of twenty-two of the employes left yesterday for Port Marion, where they will go into camp. Other employes are to follow. The members of the Amalgamated association all endorse the stand taken by President Shaffer, and predict that unless the company signs the scale, the mill cannot be started. The Amalgamated people say men are joining their organization every day.

MEN FOLLOW ORDER.

In accordance with President Shaffer's orders the crews of sixteen furnaces in the Lindsay and McCutcheon's mills, Allegheny, are out on strike, and the four other crews are expected to quit today. The men say they will remain out until the scale is signed.

The strike began at 3:30 a. m. when four of the crews went to work and found that none of the men working on the other sixteen furnaces had shown up. The four crews went to work but were approached by the strikers, and it is understood have agreed to quit when the day's turn is over. The finishing and all other departments in the plant are running full.

At the Isabella furnace of the American steel hoop combine, at Aetna, it was stated today that the strike would not affect it. There are 800 employes, 700 of whom are Italians. The remaining 100 are machinists and are satisfied with their scale.

At the Lockhart Iron works, McKees Rocks, it was announced that the strike would not affect the operation of the plant, as the amalgamated scale was signed by the works on Saturday afternoon.

OUT AT MUNCIE.

A telegram from Muncie, Ind., reports that the plant closed down. Five hundred men are out.

An early settlement is expected. Signatures to the amalgamated scales from the following concerns were received at the headquarters this morning: Lockhart Iron and Steel company, McKees Rock, Pa.; Sharon Tin Plate company, South Sharon, Pa.; Stewart Iron company, limited, Sharon, Pa.; N. and G. Taylor Tin Plate company, Cumberland, Md.; American Rolling Mill company, Muskegon, Mich.; Southern Car and Foundry company, Anderson, Ala.; Bessemer Rolling Mill company, Bessemer, Ala.

BANK'S DOORS CLOSED.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 1.—The City National bank, which was placed in the hands of a receiver on Saturday night by Comptroller of the Currency Dawes, did not open its doors this morning. M. D. Lynch, chief of the division of insolvent banks, and Special Bank Examiner W. A. Mason took charge of the bank today pending the arrival of Mr. Vaughn, the temporary receiver. President Cornwell said that he would probably make a statement later in the day, but had nothing to say just now. Not more than fifty people were at the bank at 10 o'clock, the usual opening hour, and a few minutes later most of those had left.

WELL KNOWN FARMER IS DEAD

WILLIAM BLEKE SUCCUMBS TO DROPSY OF THE HEART.

Passed Away Thursday at His Washington Township Home—Other Mortuary Matters.

William Bleke, a widely known Washington township farmer, who resides along the canal four miles north of the city, passed away at 5 o'clock Thursday after an illness of about a year. Death was due to dropsy of the heart.

Mr. Bleke was 58 years of age and was born in Germany, but had resided in Allen county nearly all his life. The widow and several children survive.

MARKLE.

The funeral of Ephraim Markle was held Thursday at Maysville, and was largely attended. Mr. Markle, who died on Monday, was one of the oldest residents of the county, and had been a continuous resident of Springfield township for nearly fifty years. He was widely known among the older residents of the northeastern part of the county.

SMITH.

Frederick Smith, a well known citizezn of Aboite township, died Friday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Barrus, at the age of 66 years.

Surviving are six children, as follows: J. F. Smith, Henry Smith and Mrs. Malone, of this city; William Smith, of Hartford City; Miss Louise Smith and Mrs. Barrus.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

ALLEN.

Esther A., infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Allen, of 235 Walton avenue, died at 8 o'clock Thursday evening from scarlet fever, at the age of two years.

MILLER.

Mrs. Estella Miller, of South Whitley, who has been a patient at Hope hospital, died at that institution Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the age of 40 years. Death was due to sarcoma.

The remains were shipped to South Whitley, where the funeral services were held.

DINKLE.

After a heroic battle for life, Charles J. Dinkle, one of the victims of Wednesday's accident, died at Hope hospital early Saturday morning. Dinkel was a carpenter, and together with a fellow workman, Robert Beuchel, was precipitated a distance of thirty-five feet by the breaking of a scaffold at the Bayer building, just before noon on Wednesday.

The unfortunate man's back was broken and he sustained internal injuries of a severe character, and it has been realized from the first that his case was almost hopeless. Yet with a vitality that was marvelous, the injured man for three days made a heroic struggle against the overwhelming odds. He was completely paralyzed below the point of the spinal fracture and had gradually grown weaker from hour to hour.

Mr. Dinkel was about 40 years of age and resided at No. 1 Victoria avenue. The widow and several children survive him. The deceased was quit well known and had many friends. He was for some years a foreman for Contractor John Suelzer. The remains were removed to the undertaking rooms of Klaehn & Melching, where a post mortem examination was held.

JAUTZ.

Christian Jautz, a well known gardener and for more than fifty years a resident of this section, died at 7 o'clock Monday at the home of his son-in-law, Caristian Vollriede, corner of High and DeGroffe streets.

Death was due to dropsy and cancer and it followed an extended period of illness. Mr. Jautz was a native of Germany, but practically all his life had been spent in Allen county. His age was 68 years, 8 months and 14 days, and since his health began declining he and his aged wife have been making their home with their only child, Mrs. Vollriede. There are several grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from Trinity Lutheran church.

FREY.

Frederick Frey, 82 years of age, died Sunday morning at St. Joseph hospital, from septicaemia, at the age of 82 years. Mr. Frey was a native of Germany, but came to Fort Wayne at an early age.

Thirty-five years ago he removed to Burlington, Iowa, where he resided for twenty-five years, and where his wfie and two sons are buried. For the past ten years the deceased made his home with his brother-in-law, George Brouwer, in Madison township.

The remains were removed to the residence of J. H. Gable, No. 17 West Leith street, and will be taken to Burlington, Iowa, for interment, leaving in charge of Mr. Brouwer Thursday morning at 3:30 over the Pennsylvania railroad.

DEMAND FOR CHARLIE WAYNE.

Negotiations are now in progress looking to the engagement of Charlie Wayne for a week's performance at Robison park. Mr. Wayne is a Fort Wayne boy, the son of Mrs. Robert Liggett and he has been a star on the legitimate as well as the vaudeville stage for many years. He spends his vacation in this city every year and yet in spite of his many years' experience he has never appeared before a Fort Wayne audience. He has many, many friends in this city who would be delighted to see him, but have never had an opportunity to do so. The writer saw him once in Pittsburg and once in Boston and can in all candor and truth say that he is one of the most finished comedians it was ever his good fortune to see. That he would prove a drawing attraction here at his own home, goes without saying.

A TRIO OF MISHAPS.

Three employes of the Pennsylvania company were victims of accidents today. Ed Buck, employed in the planing mills, got his right hand caught in some machinery and the palm was badly lascerated. John Young sustained a fall at the round house and his back was painfully injured. R. Hartnett, a machinist, sustained a fracture of the index finger of the right hand. Dr. W. E. Stemen attended the unfortunate men.

EEL RIVER COMMENCEMENT

EXERCISES WERE HELD THURSDAY EVENING.

An Interesting Program Was Carried Out—Class Address By Rev. Charles Tinkham.

The annual commencement of the Eel River schools, held last Thursday evening at Wesley chapel, closed another page in the history of school work in Eel River township. The year has been one of merit and success, and the work of the graduates demonstrated the careful work of officers, teachers and pupils. Long before the appointed hour the house was filled, and at 8:15 the graduates marched to the platform, preceded by five little flower girls and County Superintendent Young. Behind them were Trustee Johnston and his teachers. The program was as follows:

Benediction.....S. K. Waterson

The class address by Rev. Charles Tinkham dwelt mainly upon the class motto, "Graduated, Not Educated," and was highly appreciated by all.

Mr. Young, in his address, urged the needs of higher education which leads to the greatest possibilities in life. He also spoke of the necessity of one filling his calling in life.

Much credit is due to Mr. Johnston for his plan of management of the exercises. The little girls who carried the flowers were Cora Barndthart, Grace Scarlett, Alta Johnston, Mary Joly and Pansy Golden. Miss Grace O'Brien assisted in arranging them in front of the platform. Maggie Fulk and Blanche O'Brien acted as ushers and Pearl Sible and Will Brown distributed programs.

The following teachers were present and took part: Pearl E. Sible, Ida Nederhiser, Blanche E. O'Brien and Maggie G. Fulk. Miss Clara Damon, who taught in the township last year, was present and assisted in the duties of the teachers.

The bouquets and floral offerings were abundant and tastefully arranged, and trustee and teachers extend their most sincere thanks to all who gave and helped in the decorations.

The male quartet was highly appreciated by all and the chapel people are pleased to have one of their number connected with it.

The 50c balbriggan underwear at Patterson's is the talk of the town.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1901.

Father-in-Law Zimmerman has finally induced the creditors of the duke of Manchester to settle with the latter at 12 shillings sixpence to the pound. This is another triumph of American financiering in old England.

The fact that a combination of Kentucky distillers has agreed to limit the production of whisky to 25,000,000 gallons the coming year need not necessarily alarm the bibulous. Consumption will be encouraged as heretofore, and there is no limit to the reserve capacity of a distillery.

Clarence L. Thurston, son of the Nebraska senator, recently appointed secretary of the United States legation in the Argentine republic, is the youngest American diplomat and the youngest man ever appointed to such an important position. He has barely attained the age of twenty-one years.

Philadelphia has stood it so long that outsiders may be pardoned for viewing with doubt the latest movement to clean out the rascals who misgovern that city. It will take hard fighting and no end of courage to accomplish political reform in Philadelphia, but that it can be accomplished admits of no doubt. It all depends on the people who suffer.

A Kansas weather prophet named Kropff made the prediction early in the spring that the wheat crop would be practically ruined by drought. Now that the crops are in such fine shape and rain has been abundant, Mr. Kropff does not seek to excuse himself. On the contrary he says: "If there is a good crop I shall take it as a dispensation from the Lord not to talk so much." Kropff has learned his lesson well.

Admiral Schley is one of those that favor giving enlisted men in the navy the chance of winning commissions. The one feature of our naval system open to criticism has been that it is far less democratic than the army. Admiral Schley's plan does not contemplate any radical change in the establishment. It is simply a suggestion that the enlisted man who has gained promotion be given a two-years course at the naval academy. Some such method of promotion might overcome the objections that some naval officers make to any change.

Hon. John W. Kern, late democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, has given an emphatic no to the inquiry if he would accept a nomination of his party for the mayoralty in Indianapolis this year. It appears that Mayor Taggart's announcement some months ago that he would not again be a candidate was of a different brand from similar announcements heretofore and the Indianapolis democrats feel the need of as strong a candidate as they can find. Senator Kern doubtless would make as sturdy a race as any democrat who could be nominated, but there is evidently a feeling that no one possesses the vote-getting qualities of the genial and ever-smiling Taggart. Mr. Kern is credited with more pretentious ambitions than the Indianapolis mayoraly, the governorship of Indiana or a seat in the United States senate being the particular distinctions between which his aspirations are divided. He probably does not care to handicap himself either with any other office or the record of an unsuccessful race for one.

A number of prominent democrats met in New York city Wednesday to discuss some of the essential things that should be in a national platform to bring success in 1904. It is somewhat early to begin talking of what should be in the next platform, but it is time to discuss what should not be in the next platform. The next proclamation of the national democracy to the voters of the country must make it clear that the party has trimmed away the accumulated moss and cut itself loose from dead issues and fatal connections. The platform that does not demonstrate that the party has risen to its opportunities and its duties will not be worth writing. It is time for the democratic party to cease digging graves, erecting headstones and writing epitaths for itself and its leaders and attempt in a rational and promising way to do something for the country. The democratic party is needed and by 1904 it will be needed badly. The time to train is before the battle.

A number of Protestant citizens of Toledo, Ohio, believing that Rev. Edward Hannin, a Catholic priest of that city, had overworked himself in the interests of his parish in the erection of a new church, quietly collected among themselves over $1,000 and tendered it to defray his expenses on a health trip abroad. Father Hannin declined the offer on the ground that he cannot this year sever himself from the parish interests. Such acts as this show the true work of Christianity. We hope it will not be many years until the world will have but one church and one creed, all serving and praising God together.

The people of Philadelphia are becoming aroused to the fact that their city is about the most corruptly governed city on the earth. A mass meeting held there last night was attended by five thousand citizens and war was declared on the republican machine which has controlled and debauched the municipal government. P. F. Rothermal, who was elected district attorney a few years ago and turned down this spring because he had made a good record sending rascals to the penitentiary, was nominated by the meeting for that office. A telegram was received from Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith in which he desired the use of his name as a vice president and said: "It is time for a new declaration of independence. Philadelphia ought to rise in her might against jobbers in her public rights and the ravishing of her sacred safeguards of law." The speech of the evening was made by the venerable Col. Alex. R. McClure, late editor of the Philadelphia Times, in which he made a terrific arraignment of the republican organization. A fierce political fight appears to have been started and the people will win it if they want to.

The annual report of the Minnesota fire warden presents several important topics. Among them is the destruction of the timber belonging to the Indians, which the warden characterizes as robbery. The cheating is done under the law permitting the sale of "dead and down timber" and the warden explains that conscienceless rogues resort to forest fires in order to get possession of more dead trees. The report contains citations of cases in which the Minnesota law has operated to save much valuable timber as well as to encourage forestry in general. It is undoubtedly the best law of its kind in operation in the United States, though it would be more effective if the appropriations for enforcement were more liberal. These reports of the Minnesota warden are doing something to awaken deeper interest in the subject of forestry, and particularly forest preservation, which is much needed for the welfare of the country.

Economic writers in Vienna are still dwelling upon the American peril and urging an Pan-European alliance as an off-set to the Pan-American union which is feared. At the same time it is practically admitted that in such a contest America would have the advantage, because she controls the food supplies that Europe so badly needs. But regardless of where the advantage would lie in such a contest, all must admit that it would be deplorable, and, if it actually took place, all parties engaged would get hurt some. Under fair trade there is an opportunity for all. Unfortunately some of our people seem to think that the only way we can be truly prosperous is by industriously crushing some other nation.

Col. Perry Heath is making the discovery that the road to financial greatness has more ruts and bumps in it than the highway to political supremacy.

Peru newspapers are jubilant over the fact that the terrible wreck on the Wabash railroad at Cass has called attention of the country to a place on the map that designates the location of the capital and metropolis of Miami county, Indiana.

HE SEES DANGER TO WEALTH

Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, of Philadelphia, attorney general in the cabinet of President Garfield, in the course of an address this week to the Phi Beta Kappa society at Harvard, voiced a prophecy of a tremendous political struggle between the wealthy and favored classes and the masses of the people for control of the government. In the course of his address he said:

"Now, it is at least quite possible that in the not distant future American politics may transform Mr. Webster's warning into history, for our electorate is already beginning to be divided and must, in obedience to the law of social evoltuion, continue more and more to be divided, by that sharp cleavage which separates those who are contented with their lot from those who are discontented with their lot.

"Under whatever disguises, called by whatever names, inheriting or seizing whatever partisan organizations, the alignment of the two great political divisions of American voters, who will sooner or later struggle against each other for the possession of the government, will inevitably be upon the basis I have named.

"The pary of the contented will be ranged under one banner, and the party of the discontented will be ranged under the other, and that alignment will steadily develop, increasing sharpness and division, until the party of the discontented, being the majority, has obtained the control of the government, to which, under our system, they are entitled, and then they will be sure to remodel the present system for the distribution of wealth, unless we have previously done so, upon bases wiser and more equitable than those now existing.

"The one party will be, under whatever name, the party of capital, and the other party will be, under whatever name, the party of labor."

Among the latest reported trust organizations is one designed to control the salt production of the whole world. This will be bad for the meat trusts. A short time ago the Armour company, of Omaha, bought an immense quantity of salt from Portugal, paying freight on 5,000 miles of carriage, besides the duties, and then laying it down in Omaha much more cheaply than it could be bought from the American salt trust. The salt people evidently don't intend to have any more foolishness of that kind and so they have started out to corner the salt of the earth.

While no lives were lost in the wreck of the Atlantic liner Lusitania off Cape Ballard, New Foundland, the panic that followed the disaster in which men fought with knives to secure the boats from women and children proves that if one wishes to find chivalry among men he must know where to look for it. The scenes aboard the Lusitania were in lesser degree a repetition of those which occurred on La Bourgogne when that vessel went down off Sable Island a few years ago.

JOSEPH COOK.

"Defender of the faith" has long been a part of the high-sounding title of the monarchs of Great Britain, but for the last quarter of a century the title has of right and by the logic of facts belonged to Joseph Cook, whose death is just announced. Joseph Cook has been literally and in the aggressive sense the defender of the Christian faith. In that great world-wide struggle that has been called the conflict between science and religion Joseph Cook was the steadfast and mighty champion of the eternal and changeless truths of Christianity. To combat the dictum of unbelieving scientists that the revelations of science and the teachings of the Christian religion were incompatible was the aggressive mission of Joseph Cook. In that purpose he never faltered and he had compelled the civilized world to take a mighty interest in what he thought and what he said.

His life was marked by the most prodigious labors. For years his Monday lectures in Boston were events that multiplied in importance and grew in influence. From hundreds of platforms throughout the country he had thundered with his amazing oratory against the assailants of Christianity and hurled them back with the might of his powerful logic. He was a familiar figure on the rostrum of every Chautauqua assembly in the land. He became a power in enlisting men's minds in philosophical and religious questions and stimulated and directed search for the truths of not only religion but of science. He filled a great place in the world and that place is now void, for there is not his like to succeed him.

Of Joseph Cook's position with reference to religion the best idea may perhaps be gained from his own words:

"The world is now one neighborhood. Christianity will make it one brotherhood. The supremacy must be given to the one religion that satisfies man's supreme spiritual necessities. Men will have a religion. Enlightened men will have the best. But the best is that which delivers the soul from the love and guilt of sin. Only Christianity points out the method of that double deliverance. The predominance of Christianity can be secured only by its purity. In some respects, however, its purity is impaired by its predominance. The wheat and the tares grow together, but the whole course of history predicts and science guarantees the survival of the fittest."

General Grosvenor can probably induce Senator Depew to pardon him for "backing up" on the third-term matter by advocating one term for a certain talkative New York statesman whose name is neither Roosevelt nor Odell.

The Pan-European coalition against the United States is still talked of, but from the character of the noise it does not seem to be more than a tin-pan affair.

The privilege allowed by the postoffice department to carriers on the rural free delivery mail routes of making purchases, carrying parcels and the like for the patrons along their routes has fostered several abuses, according to reports. In some instances, it is said, carriers have gone quite extensively into the peddling business, carrying goodsized stocks of notions in their mail carts. But the worst abuse is one which the postmaster general has just abolished with a stringent order. It has been found that some of the carriers have been regularly making purchases of whisky in quarts and pints and delivering it to their patrons. Postmaster General Smith announces that any rural free delivery carrier hereafter found guilty of this practice will be punished with instant dismissal. There is not only no harm but there is much good in carriers making themselves generally useful to their patrons in the doing of legitimate errands, but engaging in peddling and especially in purveying whisky ought not to be tolerated and it is evident that the latter at least will not be. No complaints on such score have so far as we have learned ever been made of any of the carriers on the free delivery routes of Allen county.

One reading the exhortations of "Elijah-St. John" Dowie to his Zion congregations in Chicago, is apt to be impressed by the fact that the reincarnated prophet appeals more strenuously for the cash of his followers than for their repentance. Indeed, giving all they can get to Dowie seems to be the Zion overseer's notion of repentance.

Col. Charles A. Bookwalter has made very successful arrangements for the nomination of himself for mayor of Indianapolis by the republicans of that city. He made a fine race against Mayor Taggart two years go, and with the three times winner out of it this year the outlook for Colonel Bookwalter's election does not appear half bad. A host of Fort Wayne friends regardless of party will wish their former fellow citizen all luck in the next race.

WILL COME SOME DAY.

(Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Chicago American.)

Some day there will be no idlers, either among the rich or poor, because enormous properties will no longer exist, and consequently pauperism will cease. It is useless to smile and tell me I am a dreamer of impossible dreams. What man has done man can do. And America is especially happy in the ability to perfect other nations' good ideas.

There are large and successful co-operative societies existing in Holland and in Flanders. They have existed for twenty years, steadily growing in strength and power. No pauper—no object of charity—is known among them, though one society is 35,000 strong, the other nearly as large.

Mr. Bradford Peck, of Lewiston, Me., has begun a similar movement in his Co-operative Association of America. Success to it.

In New Zealand wonderful things have been achieved by changing the laws of taxation.

Henry Lloyd, in a work called "Newest England," describes this improved system in New Zealand, and says of it:

"It enters upon the practice of direct construction by the state of its own public works and direct employment, without middlemen, of its own labor. The men hired by the new regime to build the railroads, bridges, public buildings, make roads, etc., are taken by preference from those citizens who need work.

"In giving them work the new regime also gives them farms and homes from the public lands near by or from the private estates which it buys up for that purpose. The workingmen themselves are made their own contractors, and taught, even the tramp and the casual, to work together co-operatively.

"The state as an employer sees and saves for the community the economic value of the labor of the old and incompetent, the unskilled and the tramp, which the private employer lets go to waste."

I would advise all intelligent workingmen to get this book and learn how the old miserable conditions were changed to the present happy and hopeful ones. I would advise them to think well on what they read and be ready to lend comprehensive aid to our own country when the hour comes for a similar right about face.

At no very distant day President McKinley will have to appoint a man to the seventh United States circuit Judgship to fill the vacancy created by the death of Judge William A. Woods. On many accounts we believe the president ought to appoint Judge John H. Baker, now United States district judge for Indiana. Judge Baker has made a distinguished record and has fully earned such a promotion. He is a lawyer of eminent and recognized ability and has been a fearless and impartial judge. Judge Baker, more than any man we know of on the bench has the faculty of being able to discern just where it is wise to be lenient and profitable to society to be severe. Moreover in dealing with corporations Judge Baker has shown that he knows that the rights of the public are to be considered, though he has not been unmindful that corporations have rights. No better man to succeed to the present vacancy can be found than Judge John H. Baker, and since it is assured that the president will appoint a republican we hope the honor may fall to the present judge of the Indiana district.

LEAVES HIS WIFE PENNILESS.

New York, July 2.—Frederick C. Dexter, a lawyer and notary in Manhattan and a well-known real estate operator in Broklyn, has disappeared after having in twelve years lost a fortune of $125,000 belonging to his wife and an equal amount the property of clients. His wife, who was Miss Maud Vail, is now living in straitened circumstances with her two children in a small flat and no word has come to her from her husband since he left her two weeks ago.

Dexter has not only lost his wife's fortune but he has seriously involved a house at 77 Remsen street, bequeathed to his two children, with a life interest to his wife. He also has used money on which his wife and children depended as a last resort, $12,000 paid to Mrs. Dexter by the insurance companies after his house in Dyker Heights, which stood in her name, burned down.

AFTER MORE TELEPHONE LINES.

National Company Negotiating to Enlarge its Allen County System---May Purchase Part of New Haven Company's Property.

Within a few days it is expected that the National Telephone and Telegraph company will acquire the ownership of several miles of additional telephone lines in Allen county.

It is known that the New Haven Telephone company has made a proposition to sell to the National company its uncompleted line connecting Woodburn and Gar Creek with New Haven, and the directors of the National company held a meeting Monday afternoon at the offices of the Home Telephone company to consider the proposition.

The price put upon the property is not given out, but Messrs. W. L. Moellering, G. F. Trier and W. A. Bohn were yesterday named as a committee to go over the line and inspect it, and were empowered to either accept the proposition or turn it down, as might seem best to them. The line is about thirteen miles in length, and the offer includes franchise, material and labor already expended upon it. The New Haven company began the work of building at Woodburn, and poles and crossarms are up, but very little wire is strung.

If the purchase is made, it is the intention of the National company to extend the line to Maysville, and the company will then have lines into all the more important villages in the county.

It was also determined at Monday's meeting to erect a loop from the Van Wert line to Maples, two and one-half miles in length. This will be done at once.

HONORS COME TO F.C.BARRETT

FORT WAYNE MAN NAMED BY GOVERNOR DURBIN.

Will Represent Indiana at International Mining Congress in Boise City, Idaho.

Governor Durbin has conferred honor upon another Fort Wayne man in the selection of Frederick C. Barrett as a delegate to the international mining congress to be held at Boise City, Idaho, July 23 to 25.

And the honor is deserved. Mr. Barrett is a well known grocer at 380 West Main street, but he is also extensively interested in mining affairs, and is thoroughly conversant with the mining business. Mr. Barrett was extremely fortunate in getting in "on the ground floor" in a number of western mining propositions. He is interested in oil operations in California, in copper, coal and gold holdings in Wyoming and Washington, as well as some coal properties in Virginia.

Last year Indiana was not represented at the mining congress. Mr. Barrett fully appreciates the appointment by Governor Durbin, and is arranging to attend the congress this month. Notification of his selection came yesterday in a letter from Col. C. E. Wilson, private secretary to the governor.

GOSSIP OF STRIKE SETTLEMENT.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 2.—The second day of the strike of the sheet steel and steel hoop workers of the Amalgamated association opened without interesting or exciting features. It was evident that neither side anticipated early developments, as there was no unusual activity about the combine offices and the utmost quiet prevailed at the headquarters of the workers. As President Shaffer remarked, the conditions of the present strike were peculiar and no decided results were expected for ten days or two weeks.

By that time the manufacturers, having all necessary repairs at their mills completed, would be anxious to resume operations. The struggle will be then begun in earnest.

The belief is quite general, however, that the real test will not come until the close of the hot weather and the general resumption of business in the early fall, and in the meantime it is thought that the conflicting interests will see their way clear to recede from their present positions. That President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, is preparing for the rainy day which may come if the strike is prolonged indefinitely is evident from the circular mailed to the association lodges today.

The circular directs the lodge to lay assessments upon their members, the money to be used for the relief of such members of the association as might be out of work. The money collected by these assessments of the lodges will be forwarded to Pittsburg, where it will be placed in the general fund of the association. The latter has for years been creating a strike fund, systematically and methodically.

This fund is said now to amount to between $200,000 and $300,000.

The combine officials do not appear to be worrying over the situation and say they do not recognize a condition of a strike as yet. Some of the officers intimate that there may be renewal of negotiations at any time and a settlement effected.

In outside circles the belief is growing that the strike will be called off before it gets fairly well under way. Outside the combine plants there is little apprehension over the situation. Among the independent companies in Pittsburg who have closed down, but who are ready to sign, are:

Zug & Co., limited, will sign; the Pittsburg Forge and Iron company, who are satisfied to grant the men's demands; A. M. Byers & Co., of the southside, at present closed for repairs, but ready to sign the scale whenever the committees waits upon them, and Brown & Co., who are closed for repairs.

WRECK AT NEW CASTLE.

New Castle, Pa., July 2.—The morning passenger train southbound from Oil City, Pa., on the W., N. Y. and P. branch of the Pennsylvania, ran into two cars loaded with limestone, which had bee left standing on the tracks, two miles north of this city, at 10 o'clock this morning, wrecking the train. Two passengers and five trainmen sustained more or less serious injuries and many others were bruised. On the train with a funeral party were Hon. Henry Robinson, distributing clerk of the house of representative at Washington, and Dr. E. D. Snell, of Mercer, Pa., who took care of the injured until the physicians arrived.

POPULISTS TO GO IT ALONE.

St. Paul, Minn., July 2.—The city yesterday entertained an Alaskan excursion party, consisting of ex-Senator Marion Butler, of Carolina; ex-Senator R. F. Pettigrew, of South Dakota; Congressman William Sulzer, of New York, and a number of mining experts. The party left for the coast last evening. From Seattle they go to Alaska on a revenue cutter. Ex-Senator Butler, chairman of the populist national committee, said:

"The populist party will go it alone next time we will poll more votes than we ever did before. The main issue will be public ownership—not of everything, understand, but of the natural monopolies. We are not socialists. The populist believes in competition. Let the public own the natural monopolies and then for the rest let it be every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost. All we ask is that there be equality of opportunity.

"The silver question is dead, for the time being at least, and for one I never favored the use of that word silver. All the true populist contends for is money enough to transact business and maintain the equilibrium of prices. I believe that coinage and the supply of money should be regulated by law."

FIRST FATALITY FROM HEAT

FRED H. WIEDEMANN EXPIRED TUESDAY EVENING.

Was Overcome While at Work in a Spoke Factory—Other Deaths and Funeral Notices.

The first case of death from heat prostration in Fort Wayne this season came Tuesday evening, when Fred H. Wiedemann, employed at the Streeter & Kemp spoke factory, on the north side, sank prostrate at his bench. Fellow workmen hurried to his side and removed the patient to his home, 144 Rebecca street, where death ensued at 5 o'clock. Coroner Barnett was summoned and pronounced the death due to heat prostration.

Mr. Wiedemann was 53 years of age and had been apparently in good health. He was a native of Germany and since 1883 has resided in Fort Wayne. Surviving are the widow and two sons, Julius and Frederick. There are also four brothers and two sisters in Germany.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2 o'clock from Emanuel German Lutheran church. The interment will be at Concordia.

Garrett, Ind., July 2.—About 10 o'clock last night the two-story Odd Fellows' hall was practically destroyed by an explosion. The lower floor was occupied by Teeters & Little, hardware, and the upper story by the Odd Fellows. The building caught fire from the gasoline plant and the flash frightened the proprietor and several other men from the store They stood on the sidewalk. The gasoline tank exploded, destroying the building and throwing debris on the men in front. The injured:

A. F. Halter, druggist.
Samuel Teeters.
A. J. Little.
Frank New.
W. A. Miller.

All were seriously cut about the head and face and four or five others suffered painful injuries. The loss is $7,000.

A BOY MURDERER

MUNCIE YOUTH SLAYS WOMAN WITH REVOLVER.

DEED DONE IN COLD BLOOD

TRAGEDY FOLLOWED QUARREL WITH VICTIM.

WOMAN DARED HIM TO SHOOT

BOY'S NAME DRISCOLL AND HE IS IN JAIL.

Muncie, Ind., July 2.—Mrs. Minnie McCall, twenty-two years old, was shot and killed about 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternon by Walter Driscoll, the seventeen-yer-old son of Mrs. Mahlon Martin. The McCall woman was separated from her husband, and came here with the Martin family from Matthews about three weeks ago. Yesterday afternoon she was drinking beer in her room and wanted the boy to go for more, but he refused. She threw a couple of glasses at him, breaking them on his head. The boy ran out the back door and around the house. He entered the front door went to his mother's room and secured a revolver which she had previously taken away from him. She tried to secure it again, and while they were struggling over its possession the McCall woman entered the room and dared him to shoot her. The boy broke away from his mother and fired twice shooting his victim through the head. She died instantly.

The boy, accompanied by his fourteen-year-old brother lelft town, and the police were temporarily thrown off the scent by Mrs. Martin, who said she had heard Mrs. McCall threaten to kill herself, but paid no attention to the matter till she heard the shot. The appearance of the room, however, indicated a struggle and the police, learning that the boys had huriedly left town, followed them and arrested them near Burlington. They were brought here and the older one confessed, his story being corroborated by his brother. The youthful murder has served two terms in the reform school, and was released but a few weeks ago. The Martins are being held as witnesses.

WOULD WELCOME IT.

Speaking of the proposal to close dry goods stores at noon Saturday during the hot months, a well known dry goods merchant said today: "Contrary to what many people think, the early closing would inconvenience but a very small number of people, for in my years of experience in the business I have found that the class of people who do their shopping in the afternoon and evening is not that portion of society known as the 'working class," but the people of independent means who have ample time to do their shopping at other times without any inconvenience to themselves. It has become a habit of a great many people to look over goods without any intention of buying, and it is done seemingly to pass the time, and this is particularly the case on Saturdays, when we are supposed to be busiest. I am heartily in favor of the movement and hope it is a success."

IN PREVIOUS YEARS.

S. M. Foster, while treasurer of the school board, reported interest earnings for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1897, amounting to $1,637.09. Like Mr. Rockhill, he had no balance in the interest fund to begin with.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, Mr. Foster reported interest earnings amounting to $1,733.25. He also reported $126.49 interest earned on the interest fund accumulated during his first term.

For the two years Dr. Boswell was terasurer of the board, he only reported interest earnings amounting to $1,683.30, less than Mr. Foster reported for his second year and less than $30 more than Mr. Rockhill reports for his first year.

SWEET MAUD MULLER

Fair and gay, raked the lawn grass one fine day. The judge rode slowly down the lane, smoothing his horse's chestnut mane. Maud Muller looked and sighed, "Ah me, that I the judge's bride might be. Then I'd discard this rake so rusty, and buy a Gibb's, bright, strong and trusty. My garden tools would all be new; pretty kitchen utensils, too. I'd have a lawn mower, and hose so nice, and a new refrigerator to keep the ice; also screens for the windows to bar out flies, and I'd buy them at Seavey's—they have the price."

The young lady evidently knew what she needed most and where to procure it, and we feel satisfied that you would agree with her on this point after looking through our large and well selected stock.

We invite you to do so.

RIBS BROKEN BY A FALL.

Boilermaker J. W. Baker, of the Pittsburg shops, sustained a fracture of two of his ribs yesterday afternoon. In getting down from a scaffold at the side of a locomotive, he stepped upon a box and it tipped throwing him down. He struck his side on the edge of the box with the result mentioned. Dr. W. E. Stemen was called and had the injured man taken home, 245 Clay street, where he will probably be confined for awhile.

WILL GO TO PEKIN

CHINESE COURT TO RETURN TO OLD CAPITAL.

CONTRARY REPORTS DENIED

CAPITAL NOT TO BE FIXED IN HUNAN PROVINCE.

DISCUSSION OF INDEMNITY

THE SUBJECT HAS NOT YET BEEN EXHAUSTED.

Berlin, July 1.—Nothing is known in German official circles regarding the news from Shanghai to the effect that Kai-Fong-Fu, in the province of Ho-Nan, is to become the Chinese capital. The latest reports received here from Pekin reiterate the statement that it is the court's intention to return to Pekin.

The German government has not been informed touching the plans of Prince Chuan, further than that he is coming to Berlin to apologize for the Baron Von Ketteler murder. If Prince Chuan's plans are to visit other European courts and Washington, the Berlin authorities have not been informed. In relation to the present status of the Pekin diplomatic negotiations, the representative of the Associated Press here learns on reliable authority that the question of the guarantees of bonds securing the indemnities is still unsolved, a difference of opinion between Great Britain and Russia still existing. Russia's proposition is to raise the sea tolls from 5 to 10 per cent., but if the junk and salt taxes with 5 per cent. of sea tolls shall not hold sufficient.

Great Britain's objections to the Russian proposition are believed to be dictated by practical reasons, since the above taxes would most probably suffice, than by the popular sentiment in Great Britain and by parliament. The Berlin authorities believe, also, like other powers, that Russia's proposition is not likely to go into effect.

Hence Germany confidently expects a final agreement upon the above question. The matter of the renewal and modification of commercial treaties with China has meanwhile been taken up jointly by the Pekin diplomatists, since this, like the indemnities matter, is expected to be settled in unison, at least in its general features. Germany, with the other China sea trading powers, advocates the principal of the "open door," the opening of additional harbors and the greatest possible commercial liberty. Well informed circles here believe Russia does not oppose the above on principle, but though she may object to certain details when the treaty negotiations are more advanced.

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

The provoke case of Mrs. Eliza Smith vs. Maud Pearson will be heard in Justice Tancey's court this afternoon.

Justice France made his semi-annual settlement with the county treasurer and turned over $246 in fines collected, which go into the school fund. He also made his quarterly settlement with the township trustee, turning in $46 in docket fees to the township fund.

Alfred Grover, of Perry township, filed an affidavit in Bullermann's court alleging that Samuel and Robert Sellers had carried away and purloined a pair of machine canvasses, which they had concealed on their premises. He asked for a search warrant and replevin writ, which was issued.

Amos Cour, a New Haven liquor dealer, was arrested on a warrant from Bullermann's court charged with violating the liquor law. A change of venue was taken and the case was sent to Huser's court.

In Bullerman's court Deputy Fish Commissioner Fleming has filed an affidavit against Frederick Bashelier for having a fish-net in his possession contrary to law. A search warrant was issued and the net was found, as charged. Mr. Bashelier, who is a farmer of good repute living about five miles north of the city, promised to come to court Monday and square the matter up, which "squaring" process will cost him at least $45. The state commisisoner is allowed $20 in fees, the deputy $10 and this with the prosecutor's, justice's, constable's and other fees will make a pretty bill to pay.

Jacob Zuber, who lives on Beaver street, went over to Christian Rabel, a neighbor, to collect a bill or debt which he claims was due him. The best of feeling did not previously exist between the parties and immediatel there was a riot. Mr. Zuber hied himself at once to the prosecutor's office and filed an affidavit charging Mary, Christian, Henry and William Rabel for rioting. Mr. Zuber can easily prove that he was in a riot of some kind, as he is pretty thoroughly used up. Justice France will hear the evidence as soon as the parties are brought in.

On Saturday afternoon Justice Tancey fined Philip B. Smith $1 and costs for provoking his wife, Elizabeth Smith. The couple have been in court almost continuously for the past several months, and as stated in the police reports another affidavit has been filed by Mrs. Smith against her husband for associating with prostitutes.

Constable Ford, of France's court, went to Eel River township Monday morning to arrest Thomas Johnson for assault and battery on Lydia Johnson and for public intoxication.

The case of Christian, Mary, William and Henry Rabel for rioting and assaulting Jacob Zuber, were set for trial in France's court today.

Constable Ford went to Eel River township yesterday to arrest Thomas Johnson for public intoxication, and for assaulting Elizabeth Johnson. When he got to where Johnson used to live he found that he had skipped the country and departed for points unknown.

Fred Bashelier, of Washington township, arrested for having a fish net in his possession, appared in Bullermann's court this morning and asked for a continuance. He says he will fight the case and has engaged counsel. The trial will be held next Tuesday.

Catherine Warfield has filed two affidavits against Mack Warfield, charging provoke and profanity. Both parties to the suit are colored.

HEALTH BREAKING IN JAIL.

Lexington, Ky., July 1.—James Howard, of the noted Howard feud faction of Clay county, and Caleb Powers, secretary of state under W. S. Taylor, both convicted of complicity in the assassination of Senator William Goebel and both awaiting new trials, are almost physical wrecks as the result of their long confinement in jail. The narrow steel cells, almost without ventilation, are ruining the health of the men, already weakened by confinement. Both were fine specimens of mountain manhood, but they are now thin and pale.

A number of the women of the state started a movement to raise funds for the defense of the men and to create sympathy for them. Close on the heels of this were statements that the noted prisoners had planned to escape and they were then placed in even closer quarters than before. Republicans claim that there was nothing but political malice in the rumor of escape, but Jailer Lawrence, of the Franklin county jail, says that a mysterious stranger visited Powers' cell and left a large sum of money and that Powers immediately began to insist on the jail employes drinking at his expense. Lawrence claims also to have observed other indications of a plot to escape.

MARS A TORONTO SABBATH.

Toronto, Ont., July 1. — The first Sunday steamboat excursion ever run to Toronto arrived shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the steamer Argyle, from Buffalo. Passengers were mostly Buffalo street railway employes and were greatly amused over the fact that they could get no intoxicating liquors in this city, all saloons being closed. The vessel left again shortly after 5 o'clock. Police got all information as to captain and owner and will prosecute both. The Ontario government has promised that if the existing legislation is not stringent enough to prevent such trips further legislation will be attempted. The Sunday steamboat excursions from the city have heretofore left at midnight Saturday, returning after midnight Sunday.

Patterson's clothing store will be open Wednesday evening.

Peter and the American Surety company; demand not named. These suits are brought by the plaintiff, Moellering, who furnished brick to Adams, contractor for the South Wayne sewer, and Peter, contractor for the intercepting sewer, to determine the exact liability of the surety company. Both contractors lost money, and both are indebted to Moellering, who is secured by the bonding concern. The latter company refuses to settle until a full accounting is made and it is to bring out this accounting that the suits are brought.

Niezer, was taken before Justice Alliger, who bound him over to the circuit court in the sum of $1,000. He was brought to the city Friday by Deputy Sheriff Reichelderfer and locked up. As stated Friday Lue is very well known in this county and some of his friends are trying to justify his act by charging him with being drunk. Mr. Nizer, who made the affidavit, however, is not inclined to take any charitable view of the affair and says he will continue the prosecution to a finish.

Deputy Sheriff Eicks is suffering from a severe case of poisoning, the result of handling poison ivy in the jail yard. Charles H. Hammer has commenced suit against Joseph Treuchet and Joseph Bosler, praying for an injunction, alleging fraud and demanding damages in the sum of $560. Hammer bought a saloon of the defendants, situated on Main street, next to the Journal office. He claims that while negotiations for the transfer of the place were in progress the defendants put in a lot of "rounders" to boost business and tried to impress on him that they were selling him gold dollars for about fifty cents apiece. He bought the place and then discovered that the trade which he had observed before was artificial had melted away. He claims that he was misled and wants to be protected from paying certain notes, and wants his purchase money back.

The county commissioners were considering liquor licenses Monday. There were about a dozen applications and one remonstrance. The latter was against John W. Suelzer, who sought a license to conduct a saloon on Lafayette street. The remonstrants stated that in the first place the publication of the application was irregular, because it was published in the Monroeville Breeze, instead of in a Fort Wayne daily, as the law requires for all licenses asked for within the city limits. In the second place the remonstrants alleged that the applicant is not a proper person to conduct a saloon, and in the third place that they believed he wanted the license only for the use of one Frank Cour, who was refused a license for the same place only a short time ago. The commissioners sustained the remonstrance and refused the license.

ASQUITH WILL SPEAK.

London, July 2.—Herbert H. Asquith, former liberal home secretary, has consented after considerable hesitation to attend the banquet tendered him by the imperialist liberals. In a letter accepting the honor he promises to deliver a speech at dinner, setting forth the claims and duties of the liberal party and his view that "there is an alternative to the existing government." The banquet is regarded as a severe reflection upon the policy of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Mr. Asquith's action is looked upon as a bid for the liberal leadership. The greatest efforts have been made to prevent the project being carried out; but these have failed and a complete split in the liberal party appears to be inevitable. Great irritation is observed in the liberal ranks.

BADLY MANGLED

WALTER STANLEY KILLED ON THE RAILROAD.

BODY FOUND HOUR LATER

COMRADES IDENTIFY REMAINS BY CLOTHING.

AN OLD ENGINEER DEAD

MICHAEL NOLAN CALLED TO HIS ETERNAL HOME.

(From Monday's Daily.)

While en route to his home shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, William Crane discovered the mangled body of a man lying upon the Lake Erie and Western tracks, about fifty yards north of the Main street crossing. He immediately turned about and reported the find to the firemen at engine house No. 7, who in turn summoned the coroner and reported the matter to the city police. In the meantime news of the find reached the Nickel Plate yards and some of the men employed there went to the scene of the accident and identified the remains as those of Walter L. Stanley, a caller of train crews for the Nickel Plate. The body was horribly mangled, but identification was made through a black silk cap and a suit of union uniform worn by Stanley; also by the stub of his left arm, he having lost a hand in an accident several years ago at Knox. When Coroner Barnett had viewed the remains he had them removed to the Peltier undertaking establishment, where they were more fully identified and prepared for burial. The body was badly disfigured, the head and both legs being severed from the trunk and ground into an unrecognizable mass by the wheels.

The news of the sad affair was not carried to the stricken family until this morning, when some neighbor ladies performed that sad duty. The wife was heartbroken over her loss, but the children, three of them, are too young to realize their loss, the oldest being only six years old.

Mr. Stanley has been working days for the past two weeks, but had made arrangement to take the night trick tonight. It was his intention to fish at Arnolds today, coming home this evening in time to resume work. He had made arrangements with Charlie Rouzer, seal clerk at the yards, to go to Arnolds on train No. 35, which left the city at 7 o'clock last evening, but on account of the intense heat Mr. Rouzer decided not to go. Mr. Stanley then decided to go to the lake alone, leaving on train 43, which was due at 1 o'clock this morning. He left his home, 93 Howell street, at 9:30 o'clock last night with this intention, telling his wife that he would spend the intervening time with a friend down town. En route to the city Mr. Stanley left a package and his fishing tackle with Crossing Watchman Carnahan, and it is presumed he was en route to the crossing to get his package when he was run down by the Lake Erie and Western excursion train on its return from Indianapolis, which passed that point at 12:45 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Stanley was born and reared near North Manchester, Ind., where some of his immediately relatives still reside. The remains will be shipped to that place for interment, leaving here probably this evening. He was thirty-one years old.

Walter Stanley was one of the most popular and courteous men ever engaged in his line of work. Everybody liked him and he seemed to like everybody. As evidence of the kindly feelings entertained for him, a Nickel Plate man this morning recalled the fact that Mr. Stanley has been riding a fine bicycle which was presented to him by the conductors and brakemen of that road. Walter was always willing to perform little errands for the men where the courtesy could be accomplished without neglect of his duties to the railway. He was also mild and courteous in his speech.

The accident which caused Mr. Stanley the loss of a hand occurred at Knox, Ind., in 1895, when he was a brakeman. When he recovered from the injury sufficiently to resume work, the company gave him the position he held when he met with the accident last evening.

The engine pulling the excursion train which is supposed to have struck Mr. Stanley was No. 46, with Engineer Cranson at the throttle. The engine crew knew nothing of the accident until told of it later.

DEATH OF AN OLD ENGINEER.

Michael Nolan died at Lima, Ohio, last evening, after a long and painful sickness with cancer. He was seventy years old and leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters. The children are James Nolan, of the Pittsburg freight house, this city; John A. Nolan, who lives with the family in Lima; Mrs. Katie Fox and Miss Mamie Nolan, also of Lima. The remains will be brought here on Pennsylvania train No. 21, at 10:10 tomorrow morning, and be conveyed immediately to the Catholic cemetery for interment. Michael Nolan was one of the best known and most popular engineers on the Pittsburg road for a number of years, retiring from the throttle only when disease and the infirmities of age incapacitated him for that duty. Six or eight months ago he removed, with his wife and single daughter and son, to Lima, where the eldest daughter already resided. When he became too ill to work he was placed upon the extra pension list of the company, and January 1, when the pension system was placed in operation, he was placed on the list with a number of other old employes. John Nolan, the veteran Pittsburg shopman, is a brother to the deceased. Charles D. and John H. Nolan, of the Pittsburg machine shops, nephews of the deceased, went to Lima this afternoon to accompany the remains and the bereaved family here tomorrow.

FATALLY INJURED.

Fred C. Krudop fell beneath an engine on the Pittsburg road, at East Tolleston, at 8 o'clock this morning and was so badly injured that he died three hours later.

The young man was a brakeman in Frank Hall's crew, which has been temporarily assigned to work train D, hauled by engine 617, with Engineer C. Miller at the throttle. At East Tolleston the engine was backing up and Mr. Krudop attempted to get on the rear of the tank. He missed his hold and fell in such manner that the wheels of the tank passed over him, cutting off his right arm at the shoulder and his left leg between the knee and ankle.

The unfortunate man was picked up by the crew, placed in a caboose and hurried to Valpariso, where surgical aid awaited this coming. His injuries were too severe to give hope for recovery and he died at 11 o'clock.

Fred Krudop was twenty-four years old, single and the son of Mrs. Charlotte Krudop, of 25 West Jefferson street, with whom he made his home. His sisters are Miss Anna M. Krudop and Miss Bertha Krudop, private secretary and stenographer respectively to the Hon. J. M. Robison. Mrs. Krudop and Miss Anna Krudop left for Valparaiso on Pennsylvania train No. 21, at 10:10 o'clock this morning, but the young man died before they reached his side.

The remains will be brought here tonight, probably on train No. 8, and the funeral will be held from the house at an hour to be announced later.

Young Krudop was an exemplary man and general favorite with his associates. His sad fate has caused general sorrow in railway and other circles where he is known.

EXPLOITING A TURTLE.

A large turtle in a tank in the window of the Ohneck cafe is attracting much attention from passers-by, and the wonder of spectators is increased when they read the legend, "This turtle was captured by ByronHattersley at Robinson park on June 30th." The turtle weighs over a hundred pounds and when caught it had a thick deposit of oysters on the half shell on its back. Mr. Ohneck is very much interested in the latter feature, and may organize a company to establish an oyster fishery on the St. Joe river at the resort.

LACK OF REST.

THE MAN OR WOMAN WHO FAILS TO GET REFRESHING SLEEP IS ON HEALTH'S DOWN GRADE. FORT WAYNE PEOPLE KNOW THE REMEDY.

It is a feature of the worry and hustle of present day living that wakefulness and restlessness beget headaches—languor—failing strength—people go at their work in a listless, half-hearted way. Ordinary treatments have no effect because they have not the secret power of organizing nerve force, peculiar to Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, the great success of which is attested by residents of Fort Wayne. Mrs. H. Holzworth, of 285 Webster street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "My nerves since I took Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s Drug Store, No. 14 Calhoun street, are strong and steady and I sleep well. This is quite a change from past restlessness and inability to sleep and I am very much pleased. The strength in general is good again. The medicine certainly is a good nerve and all round tonic."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON.

WHOLESOME INDIGNATION, A DISCOURSE ON THE KIND OF ANGER THAT IS APPROVED BY GOD.

Washington, D. C., July 1.—A delicate and difficult duty is by Dr. Talmage in this discourse urged upon all, and especially upon those given to quick temper. Text: Ephesians iv., 26: "Be ye angry, and sin not."

Equipoise of temper, kindness, patience, forbearance are extolled by most of the radiant pens of inspiration, but my text contains that which at first sight is startling. A certain kind of anger is approved, aye, we are commanded to indulge in it. The most of us have no need to cultivate high temper, and how often we say things and do things under affronted impulse which we are sorry for when, perhaps, it is too late to make effective apology! Why then should the Apostle Paul dip his pen in the ink horn and trace upon parchment, afterward to be printed upon paper for all ages, the injunction, "Be ye angry, and sin not?"

My text commends a wholesome indignation. It discriminates between the offence and the offender, the sin and the sinner, the crime and the criminal.

To illustrate: Alcoholism has ruined more fortunes, blasted more homes, destroyed more souls than any evil that I think of. It pours a river of poison and fire through the nations. Millions have died because of it, and millions are dying now, and others will die. Intemperance is an old sin. The great Cyrus, writing to the Lacedemonians of himself, boasted of many of his qualities, among others, that he could drink and bear more wine than his distinguished brother. Louis X. and Alexander the Great died drunk. The parliament of Edinburgh in 1661 is called in history "The drunken parliament." Hugh Miller, first stonemason and afterward a world-renowned geologist, writes of the drinking habits of his day, saying: "When the foundation was laid they drank, when the walls were leveled for laying the joists they drank, when the building was finished they drank, when an apprentice joined they drank." In the eighteenth century the giver of an entertainment boasted that none of the guests went away sober. Noah, the first ship captain, was wrecked—not in the ark, for that was safely landed—but he was wrecked with strong drink. Every man or woman rightly constructed will blush with indignation at the national and international and hemispheric and planetary curse. It is good to be aroused against it. You come out of that condition a better man or a better woman. Be ye angry at that abomination, and the more anger the more exaltation to character. But that aroused feeling becomes sinful when it extends to the victim of this evil. Drunkenness you are to hate with a vivid hatred, but the drunkard you are to pity, to help to extricate.

Just take into consideration that there are men and women who once were as upright as yourself, who have been prostrated by alcoholism. Perhaps it came of a physician's prescription for the relief of pain, a recurrence of the pain calling for a continuance of the remedy; perhaps the grandfather was an inebriate, and the temptation to inebriety, leaping over a generation, has swooped on this unfortunate; perhaps it was under an attempt to drown trouble that the benumbing and narcotic liquid was sought after; perhaps it was a very gradual chaining of the man with the beverage which was thought to be a servant, when one day it announced itself master. Be humble now, and admit that there is a strong probability that under the same circumstances you yourself might have been captured. The two appropriate emotions for you to allow are indignation at the intoxicant which enthralled and sympathy for the victim. Try to get the sufferer out of his present environment; recommend any hygienic relief that you know of, and above all implore the divine rescue for the struggle in which so many of the noblest and grandest have been worsted. Do not give yourself up to too many philippics about what the man ought to have been, and ought to have done. While your cheek flushes with wrath at the foe that has brought the ruin let your eye be moistened with tears of pity for the sufferer. In that way you will have fulfilled the injunction of the text, "Be ye angry, and sin not."

There is another evil, the abhorrence of which you are all called to, and it is on the increase—the gambling practice. Recent developments show that much of this devastation is being wrought in ladies' parlors. It is an evil which sometimes is as polite and gracious as it is harmful. Indeed, there never were so many people trying to get money without earning it. But it is a haggard transgression that comes down to us from the past, blighting all its way.

FAMOUS GAMBLERS.

I have seen in the archives of the nation in the national capital a large book in which one of the early presidents of the United States kept an account in his own handwriting of gains and losses at playing cards, on one page the gains, and on the other the losses, and there are many pages. In other days many of national reputation went from the halls of congress and the state chamber to spend the night in notorious gambling saloons. One of the ablest men of the centuries, Charles Fox, got ready for his speech against "The Petition of the Clergy" by spending 22 hours at the gaming table. Irving's life of Oliver Goldsmith says that the great poet lost £30, all his earnings, in a short tour to see the world. Gibbon, the author of "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," came to his own decline and fall through gaming practices, and in a letter in 1776 said: "I have undone myself, and it is to no purpose to conceal from you my abominable madness and folly. I have never lost so much in five days as I have tonight, and I am in debt to the house for the whole."

In Spain a Don lost in 24 hours what equals $12,000,000. Twenty years ago it was estimated that the average gambling exchange of money throughout Chrisendom exceeded $123,000,100,000 a year; but statistics 20 years ago would be tame compared with the present statistics, if we could find anyone able enough at figures to tabulate them. It is all the same spirit of gambling, whether the instruments are cards, or the clinking chips, or the turning wheel, or the bids of the stock exchange, where people sell what they never owned, and fail because they cannot get paid for it. A prominent banker tells me that he thinks 50,000 people were financially prostrated by the recent insanities in Wall street. Here and there a case is reported, but the vast majority suffer in silence. The children are brought home from school; the wardrobe will be denied replenishment; the table will have scant supply; wild generosity will be turned into grim want. Forty years from now will be felt the disaster of last month's black Thursday.

Can you hear the story of the unprincipled manipulators of stocks, and of the devices of the gambling saloon to entrap the verdant and unsuspicious without having your pulses tingle and your heart thump and your entire nature shocked with the villainy? If so, you are not much of a man of much of woman. You ought to be angry, for there is no sin in such vehement dislike. You ought to be so angry that you could not repress your feelings in the presence of young men who are just forming their life-theories. In every possible way you ought to denounce such stupendous robbery. Let it be known that the only successful game in which a man plays for money is the one in which he loses all, and stops.

But while you are hotly indignant against the crime, how do you feel about those who were fleeced and slain? They did not know that their small boat was so near the maelstorm. Some of them were born with a tendency to recklessness and experiment and hazzard. They inherited a disposition to tempt chance. Do not heap on them additional discouragements; do not deride their losses. Help them to start again. Show them that there are more fortunes yet to be gained than have yet been gathered, and that with God for their friend they will be provided for here, and through the Savior's mercy they may reign forever in the land where there are no losses, and infinite gains. While you may redden in the face at the fact that gambling is the disgraceful mother of multitudious crimes, of nvies, jealousies, revenges, quarrels, cruelties, falsehoods, forgeries, suicides, murders and despair, be careful what you say of the victim of the vice, and what you do. He needs more sympathy than the man who came up from inebriety and debauch and assassination, for many such repent, and are saved, but confirmed gamblers hardly ever reform. During the course of a prolonged ministry I have seen thousands redeemed, many of them who were clear gone in sin, by Almighty grace rescued. In all parts of this land, and in some parts of other lands, I have seen those who were given up as incorrigible and lost, recovered for God and heaven, but how many confirmed gamblers have I seen converted from their evil ways? A thousand? No. Five hundred? No. Fifty? No. Two? No. One? No. I read in a book of one such rescue.

I have no doubt there have been other cases, but no evil does its work so thoroughly and eternally as gambling. Such almost hopefulness of reformation ought to call forth from you deeper sympathy than you feel for any other unfortunate. Pity, by all means for those who, shipwrecked and bruised among the timbers, have nevertheless, climbed up to the fisherman's cabin and found warmth and shelter there, but more pity for those who never reach shore but are dashed to death in the breakers. Be angry at the sin, but sympathize with its victims.

CANADA-BOUND BANKERS.

There is another sin that we are oftentimes called to be angry with, and that is fraud. We all like honesty, and when it is sacrificed we are vehement in denunciation. We hope that detectives will soon come upon the track of the absconding bank official, of the burglar who blew up the safe, of the clerk who skillfully changed the figures in the account book, of the falsifier who secured the loan on valueless property, of the agent who because of his percentage, wrongfully admits a man to the benefit of a life insurance policy when his heart is ready to stop, and who comes from an ancestry characteristically short-lived. One act of fraud told of in big headlines in the morning paper rightfully arouses the nation's wrath. It is the interest of every good man and good woman who reads of the crime to have it exposed and published. Let it go unscathed and you put a premium on fraud, you depress public morals, you induce those who are on the fence between right and wrong to get down on the wrong side, and you put the business of the world on a down grade. The constabulary and penitentiary must do their work. But while the merciless and the godless cry: "Good for him! I am glad he is within the prison doors!" Be it your work to find out if that man is worth saving, and what were the causes of his moral overthrow. Perhaps he started in business life under a tricky firm, who gave him wrong notions of business integrity; perhaps there was a combination of circumstances almost unparalleled for temptation; perhaps there were alleviations; perhaps he was born wrong, and never got over it; perhaps he did not realize what he was doing, and if you are a merciful man you will think of other perhapses, which, though they may not excuse, will extenuate. Perhaps he has already repented, and is washed in the blood of the Lamb, and is as sure of heaven as you are. What an opportunity you have now for obeying my text. You are angry at the misdemeanor, but you are hopeful for the recovery of the recalcitrant. Blessed all prison reformers! Blessed are those governors and presidents who are glad when they have a chance to pardon! Blessed the forgiving father who welcomes home the prodigal! Blessed the dying thief whom the Lord took with him to glory, saying, "This day shalt thou be with me in Paradise!"

There is another evil that we ought to abhor, while we try to help the victim, and that is infidelity. It snatches the life preserver from the man afloat, and affords not so much as a spar or plank as a substitute. It would extinguish the only light that has ever been kindled for the troubled and lost. Let the spirit of infidelity take hold of a neighborhood, and in that town the marriage relation is a farce, and good morals give place to all styles of immorals. Let it take possession of this earth, and there would be no virtue left in all the world's circumference. All the sins rebuked in the ten commandments would be be dominant. The torch that shall kindle the conflagration of the earth in its last catastrophe, will not do as much damage as would infidelity and agnosticism if they got a chance. Be angry with such theories of unbelief and hatred of God. Never laugh at the witticisms of those who would belittle the Bible with their jocularity. Quote to them the four lines of Whittier:

And weary seekers of the best,
We come back laden with our quest.
To find that all the sages said
Is in the book our mothers read.

Have a lightning in your eye and a flush in your cheek, and a frown on your brow for a dastard that would blot out the sun and moon and stars of Christianity and have all things in an Arctic night, the cold equal to the darkness. You do well to be angry, but how about those who have been flung to skeptcism, and that is more millions than you will ever know of until the judgment day reveals everything. Ah! here comes your opportunity for gentleness, kindness and sympathy.

The probability is that if you had been plied with the same influences as this unbeliever, there would not be a Bible in all your house from cellar to attic. Perhaps he read agnostic books, and heard agnostic lectures, and mingled in agnostic circles until he has been befogged, and needs your Christian help more than any one that you know of. Do not get into any labored argument about the truth of Christianity. He may beat you at that. He has a whole artillery of weapons ready to open fire. Remember that no one was ever reformed for his life, or saved for the life to come, by an argument; but in humblest and gentlest way, your voice subdued, ask him a few questions. Ask him if he had a Christian parentage; and if he says yes, ask him whether the old folks died happy. Ask him if he has ever heard of any one going out of this life in raptures of infidelity and agnosticism. Ask him if it is not a somewhat remarkable fact that the Bible, after so many years, sticks together, and that there are more copies of it in existence than ever before. Ask him if he knows of any better civilization than Christian civilization, and whether he thinks the teachings of Confucius or Christ are preferable. Ask him if he thinks it would be a fair thing in the Creator of all things to put in this world the human race, and give them no direct communication for their guidance, and if they did wrong, tell them of no way of recovery. I think if a famous infidel of our time, instead of being taken away instantaneously, had died in his bed after weeks and months of illness, he would have revoked his teachings, and left for his beloved family consolations which they could not find in obsequies at which not one word of Holy Scripture was read, or at Fresh Pond crematory, where no Christian benediction was pronounced. I do not positively say that in a prolonged illness there would have been a retraction, but I think there would.

TEXT HARD TO OBEY.

The renowned infidel, Mr. Barker, after spending his long life in lecturing against Christianity in all our cities, and in publishing large and elaborate books in depreciation of the Scriptures, in the closing years of his life, wrote me that he had changed, and that he would like to stand in my pulpit and undo the evil that he had wrought for the most of his lifetime. I wrote him in congratulation for his soul's sake, that he had turned back from infidelity, but that I thought he could not undo the work of a lifetime, and that he had talked so long on the wrong side, I did not think he could do anything by talking on the right side. The mercy of God is so great, that many of the mightiest antagonists of our religion have in their last days been brought to repentance and eternal life. Let the thunder of your wholesome indignation be followed by the kindly rain of pity and love, "Be ye angry, and sin not."

But let me confess at this crisis of my sermon that there is not an injunction in the Bible more difficult to obey than the words of the text. While it applauds a wholesome indignation it warns against sinful anger. And there is in all the realm of passion nothing more destructive than indiscriminate hate. First of all, it frenzies the nervous ganglia. Those people who easily flare up on little provocation go into high dudgeon, take umbrage without reason, snap you up quick, have ruined their nerves, and there is only one thing worse to ruin, and that is the brain, and we say of one that is given to frequent ebullitions of temper that he is an unbalanced man. A business man of our acquaintance said: "I cannot afford to get mad, it hurts me so." And if sinful anger damages the body, how much more it rives the disposition. There are thousands of men clerks in stores who would have been members of great business firms, and under-mechanics who would have been boss carpenters, and attorneys who would have been leading advocates, and preachers to congregations who are starving them to death, who might have had appreciative surroundings, who have been kept back and kept down by ungovernable tempers. The outbreak lasted only a little while, but it impeded a lifetime.

A man thoroughly mad can say enough in two minutes to damage him for twenty years. It took only five minutes for the earthquake to destroy Caracas. One unfortunate sentence uttered in affront in a speech in the United States senate shut forever the door of the white house against one of the most brilliant men of the last century. You can never trust a horse that has once run away, and you do not feel like trusting a man who has just once lost his equilibrium. You need to drive your temper as a man drives a fractious span amid the explosions of a Fourth of July morning, or the pyrotechnics of a Fourth of July night, with curbed bit, taut rein, commanding voice, mastering yourself and mastering what you drive. If you are naturally high-tempered, do not unnecessarily go among irritations and provocations. Do not build a blast furnace next to a gunpowder mill. Then also such demonstrations of ungovernability belittle one. Men take out their lead pencils and in estimating such a one take 50 per cent. off. About the most hideous spectacle on earth is an angry man or woman, burning, not with the anger commended in my text, but with the sin reprehended. After such a display of gall, irascibility, virulence, his influence with many is forever gone. The world is full of politicians, doctors, lawyers, merchants, mechanics, ministers, housewives, who have by such explosions been blown to pieces.

I say to all young men hoping to achieve financial, moral or religious success, control your tempers. Do not let criticism or rebuff defeat you. Verdi, the great musician, applied to become a student in the Conservatory of Music in Milan, and he was rejected by the director, who said that he could make nothing of the newcomer, as he showed no disposition for music. But the criticism did not exasperate or defeat him. The most of those who have largely succeeded in all departments were characterized by self-control. In battle they could calmly look at the bomb thrown at their feet, wondering whether it would explode. In commercial life, when panics smote the city, these men were placid, while others were yelling themselves hoarse at the stock exchange. While others nearly swooned because a certain stock had gone 100 points down they calmly waited until it would get 100 points up. While the opposing attorney in the court room frothed at the mouth with rage because of something said on the other side he of the equipoise put a glass of water to his lips in refreshment and proceeded with the remark, "As I was saying when the gentleman interrupted me." Self-control! What a glorious thing! We want it in the doctor feeling the pulse of one desperately ill. We want it in the engineer when the headlight of another train comes round the curve on the same track. We want it in Christian men and women in times when so much in church and state seems going to demolition—self-control! What are you going to be good for, O man or woman, in a world like this, ever and anon your dander up, and so often in the sulks? We admit that you have many things to stir your blood and fill you with wholesome indignation, but going to such extremes you offend my text, which says you must discriminate and not lose your self-control: "Be ye angry, and sin not."

CHRIST'S INDIGNATION.

Surpassing all other characters in the world's biography stands Jesus Christ, wrathful against sin, merciful to the sinner. Witness his behavior toward the robed ruffians who demanded capital punishment for an offending woman; denunciation for their sinful hypocrisy; pardon for her sweet penitence. He did not speak of Herod as "His Majesty," or "His Royal Highness," but dared to compare him to a cunning fox, saying: "Go ye and tell that fox." But alert to the cry of suffering He finds ten lepers, and to how many of the ten awful invalids did He give convalescence and health? Ten. Rebuking Pharisaism in the most compressed sentence in all the vocabulary of anathema: "Ye serpents! Ye generation of vipers! How can ye escape the damnation of hell?" Yet looking upon Peter with such tenderness that no word was spoken, and not a word was needed, for the look spoke louder than words. "And the Lord looked upon Peter, and Peter went out and wept bitterly." Oh, what a look it must have been to break down the swarthy fisherman apostle. It was such a look; such a beseeching look; such a loving look; such a forgiving look. Was there in any other being since time began such a combination of wrath against wrong and compassion for the wrongdoer? "Lion of Judah's tribe." Hear that. "Lamb of God who taketh away the sins of the world." Hear that. Defying the mightiest government of the world, the Roman government, yet rubbing His hand just below the forehead of the blind man until the optic nerve of him who was born sightless is created, and the sunlight has two new paths to tread. Best illustration the world ever saw of anger without sin: Anger against the abominations which have mauled and blasted the earth from its deepest cavern to its highest cliff, but so much pity for the sinning and suffering nations that He allowed them to transfix Him upon two pieces of wood nailed across each other, on a day that was dark as the night; the windows of heaven shut because the immortals could not bear to look down upon the assassination of the loveliest being that ever walked the shore of the lakes, or without pillow or blanket slept on the cold mountains.

Like Him, let us hate iniquty with complete hatred, but like Him may we help those who are overthrown, and be willing to suffer for their restoration. Then, although at the opening of this discourse our text may have seemed to command us to do an impossible thing, we will, at the close of this sermon, with a prayer to God for help, be more rigid and determined than ever before against that which is wrong, while at the same time we shall feel so kindly toward all the erring and work so hard for their rescue, that we will realize that we have scaled the Alpine, the Himalayan height of my text, which enjoins: "Be ye angry, and sin not."

TAKEN TO NORTH MANCHESTER

The remains of Walter Stanley, the Nickel Plate caller who was killed by a Lake Erie and Western train Sunday night, were taken to the former home of the deceased at North Manchester on Tuesday. The funeral services will be held there.

Patterson's clothing store will be open Wednesday evening.

Hon. J. M. Barrett was at Lafayette yesterday attending a meeting of the board of trustees of Purdue university. Bids were opened for the construction of the new college agricultural building, and Jungclaus & Co., of Indianapolis, were lowest with their figure of $54,000.

SENATOR JAMES KYLE DEAD

EXPIRES AT ABERDEEN, S. D., AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

Until Last Hours of His Life Hopes Entertained for His Recovery —Prominent Politician.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 2.—Senator James Kyle died at 6 o'clock last evening after an illness of ten days' duration. He had rallied to quite an extent from his first attack and hopes were entertained for his recovery, although at no time was he considered wholly out of danger by his physicians. Symptoms of Bright's disease developed and on Sunday his condition was less favorable. Sunday night he grew rapidly worse and Monday morning all hope was given up, his death being only a question of a few hours.

His wife is prostrated with grief and inconsolable. They have two children, a daughter, Ethelwyn, about fifteen years old, and a baby boy.

The city is in mourning over the loss that has fallen upon it. Senator Kyle was highly esteemed.

James Henderson Kyle was born near Xenia, Ohio, February 24, 1854. He entered the University of Illinois in 1871, taking a course in civil engineering; entered Oberlin college in 1873 and was graduated from the classical course in 1878. He prepared for admission to the bar, but afterwards entered Western theological seminary at Allegheny, Pa., graduating in 1882. During that time he was teacher of engineering and mathematics and subsequently engaged for several years in educational and ministerial work in Utah and South Dakota.

At the time he entered political life he was financial secretary of Yankton college, Yankton, S. D. He was elected to the state senate as an independent in 1890, and in 1891 was elected to the United States senate to succeed Gideon C. Moody. He took his seat March 4, 1891, and served ever since, having been re-elected in 1897. His present term would not have expired until 1903.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL.

Washington, July 2.—The following committees have been appointed on behalf of the senate and house of representatives to attend the funeral of Senator Kyle at his late home at Aberdeen, S. D.:

Senators—Gamble, Hansbrough, McCumber, Nelson, Clarke of Montana, Gibson, Penrose, Mallory, Daniel, Bard, Dolliver, Heitfeld and Harris.

Representatives—Burke and Martin, of South Dakota; Marshall, North Dakota; Edwards, Montana; Tawney, McCleary, Heatwole, Steven, Fletcher, Morris and Eddy, of Minnesota.

Sergeant-at-Arms Ransdell has been notified that the funeral will take place Thursday afternoon, which renders it impossible for an official representative of the senate to reach there in time for the ceremony.

On that account Col. A. D. Tinsley, Senator Kyle's private secretary, has been requested to act as the official representative of the senate.

SURPRISED THE GUESTS.

A very romantic and surprising wedding ceremony occurred at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Porter, about two miles out from Decatur, Ind., last Sunday evening. A number of acquaintances and relatives of the Porters had assembled at the home of that couple for the purpose of celebrating their wedding anniversary, and among the guests were Miss Maude Moore, of Fort Wayne, and Mr. Isaiah Shuman, of Paulding, Ohio. Just before the guests took their seat at the banquet table Miss Moore and Mr. Shuman followed a minister into the room and they were married. The affair was a complete surprise to even the most intimate relatives and friends of the bride and groom. Mrs. Shuman is in the city at present, making ready for housekeeping at Decatur, where they will reside in the future. Mr. Shuman is in Paulding, closing up some business affairs there preparatory to the removal to Decatur, which will take place the latter part of the week. News of the wedding was brought here by a gentleman who witnessed the ceremony.

DISPUTED WITH MORMONS.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 2.—The Terre Haute Ministers' association spent the morning listening to a sharp joint debate between Dr. Waterman, of the Congregational church, and the Rev. Mr. Shumaker, a Methodist minister, on one side, and two of the four Mormon missionaries that recently came to the city for a six months' stay. In the end the missionaries went on record as saying that polygamy had not been practiced as part of the religion of the church since 1890. Dr. Waterman contended that it had, and that polygamy is the foundation of the Mormon church.

LUTHERAN SCHOOLS CLOSE.

The German Lutheran schools of the city closed this morning for the summer vacation, and will reopen the first Tuesday in September. The regular Fourth of July picnics will be held Thursday morning, the children assembling at the schools and marching in a body to the place where the picnic will be held. THE GREAT STRIKE IS ORDERED

President of Amalgamated Association Issues Order That Will Bring Out 30,000 Men in Sheet Steel and Tube Mills.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 29.—The joint conference committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and the American Sheet Steel company and the American Steel Hoop company, which has been in session here, was unable to reach an agreement on the wage scale for the ensuing year and adjourned finally after a session of less than twenty minutes. The Amalgamated association officials asked that the scale be signed for all the union mills and the manufacturers presented a counter proposition not only refusing to sign for all the union mills, but stipulating that two plants that were included last year be exempt from the scale this year. These mills are the Old Meadows plant at Scottdale and the Saltdale, Pa., works.

The conference then brok up and President Shaffer at once issued a strike order.

The strike will involve all the union sheet mills in the country and about 20,000 skilled workmen.

When seen by a reporter of the Associated Press, President Shaffer said: "The American Sheet Steel company signed the scale last year in all our union mills except the Woods Mill at McKeesport.

"During the year they took advantage of the condition existing at the Scotdale and Saltsburg plants to lead the workmen from the organization and now they offer to sign the scale at the reduced number of union mills. The policy of the Amalgamated association under my administration has been conservative and for peace but now it is merely a matter of which side holds out the longest."

When asked what the strike order meant, he said:

"It is a fight. They threw down the gauntlet and we took it up. That's what it means."

A strike of the plants of the American Steel company will involve nine of the largest sheet plants in the country. The company operates a total of twenty-four plants, but the largest of these are the organized establishments.

The Amalgamated assocation controls sixty-five per cent. of the production of the company, and a long shut down would mean an inestimable loss, with the present crush of orders.

Notwithstanding President Shaffer's order, it is thought another effort will be made next week to effect a settlement as it is well known that neither side are anxious for a protracted shut down. The Amalgamated officials would not object to a suspension of two or thre weeks for the reason that the men are worn out with the steady run ever since the first of the year.

EFFORTS TO PROSECUTE FAILS.

New York, June 29.—United States Commissioner Shields said today that the evidence submitted by certain persons looking to the prosecution of officers of the Seventh National bank was not sufficient to justify him in issuing a warrant. The attorneys for the applicants for the warrant were given until next Monday to present additional evidence.

The complaint on which a warrant was asked alleged over-certification on a check for $800,000, drawn on the Seventh National bank by Marquand & Co. to the order of the National Park bank.

An expert accountant is at work today on the books of Henry Marquand & Co., for the purpose of finding out the extent of their liabilities and assets. Frank Sullivan Smith, the receiver, said that in all probability no schedule could be filed or any statement made for several days yet. Mr. Smith declined to make an estimate of the assets and liabilities of the firm, saying that he was not yet in a position to do so. When asked in regard to a report to the effect that the libilities would reach eight million dollars, he said that he did not belive the amount would come anywhere near such a figure.

"As far as the loans of the firm are concerned," said Mr. Smith, "the creditors are protected by the best kind of securities. The securities of the firm on those accounts are much better than I expected. They could all be realized on without loss tomorrow, should the creditors so desire."

"Will the firm be able to pay dollar for dollar?" Mr. Smith was asked.

"I cannot say that," was the reply. "While the securities of the firm are splendid, I do not know how the firm's account with the stock exchange stands. We have not come to that yet."

CAVES ON PASSENGER TRAIN.

Baltimore, Md., June 29.—The roof of the Union Railroad tunnel in the eastern section of the city, used and controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad company, caved in shortly before 2 o'clock this morning. It is supposed that a defect in the arch of the tunnel caused the accident.

A very narrow escape from death or injury was experienced by the passengers and crew of an express train, which was caught by the falling debris in the tunnel.

The train was the regular northbound express which leaves Union station at 1:08 o'clock in the morning, consisting of three baggage and express cars and three passenger coaches. As far as can be learned, the avalanche of earth and rocks caught the rear express car, which was immediately in front of the passenger cars. The train was not running at a high rate of speed and the jar was not severe. The engineer quickly brought his train to a full stop and word was sent from a signal tower to Union station.

A yard engine was sent into the tunnel and the thinly-filled passenger coaches were drawn back to Union station without the occupants being aware of the danger through which they had passed.

The houses on each side seem perilously close to the brink, and should any further cave in occur they must be precipitated into the cave below.

BANKS DECLARE DIVIDENDS.

FOR PAROLE OF YOUNGERS.

St. Paul, Minn., June 29.—George M. Bennett, a Minneapolis attorney, called on Governor Van Sant and presented a monster petition for the parole of the Younger brothers. It is an extension of the old petition, which was signed by Senator Davis. The last name on it is that of Archbishop Ireland. Bennett called on the prelate and presented the petition, which was promptly signed. The petition calls for a pardon, but will be used in the campaign for a parole under the provisions of the Deming law. Bennett will appear before the board of pardons at its meeting July 8, and speak in support of the parole application, which has already been indorsed by the board of prison managers.

POPULIST PARTY IN CHAOS.

Topeka, Kas., June 29.—The populist party in Kansas is in chaos, and abandonment of the organization will follow. John Curran, secretary of the state committee, says he will close headquarters here August 1. In a letter to the membership in the state Curran says: "On Tuesday I received a report from Gov. P. P. Elder, of Ottawa, of a meeting of the central committee of his county. In that report he says:

"'The unanimous feeling was that the party is in chaos, and that the theory of keeping open state headquarters is visionary and doing no good. I have about come to the conclusion that this expresses the sentiment of a majority of populists in the state.'"

WILL EXAMINE HYMN BOOKS.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 29.—For two days the Indiana music teachers had heard the popular music of protestant churches denounced as "rot" and "sacred rag time that entered the heels instead of the head," and yesterday decided to suplement the resolution of Thursday, which "recognized the need of elevating the standard," by appointing a committee to examine hymn books and Sunday school singing books to the end that church people may be shown what kind of music they have been having. The association re-elected the old officers and a delegation to attend the national convention at Put-in-Bay next week to invite the association to meet in Indianapolis next year.

Barnett, which had been left unhitched in front of the doctor's office on West Wayne street, ran away last Friday and in turning the corner at Harrison and Washington streets the buggy was upset. A fireman stopped the animal in front of engine house No. 3. The horse ran through a crowd at the corner of Washington street, but luckily no one was hurt.

BOERS AT BERMUDA.

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 29.—The British transport Armenian, which arrived in these waters yesterday, brought 930 Boer prisoners. She anchored in the sound, half a mile west of Darrell's Island. The gunboats Medway and Medina, as guard ships, are anchored on either side of the transport. Crowds of people in boats, sailed around the transport yesterday. Only government officials are allowed on board. The Boers, from bearded men of seventy to youths of seventeen, swarm on the forward deck, laughed and lifted or waved their hats to the passers-by. Several of the prisoners inquired eagerly for fruit, tobacco and grog. They say they have no cause to complain of their treatment. The sound today is alive with craft carrying stores and workmen to the islands where the camps are being prepared to receive the Boers.

DOSWELL—WHITFIELD.

Miss Lucy Caroline Doswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Doswell, was united in marriage at 8 o'clock Saturday evening to William E. Whitfield, of Chicago, and the event was one of the prettiest of the season. It was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, under a floral arch beneath a canopy on the lawn. The grounds were lighted with Chinese lanterns, and the tent was beautifully decorated with ropes of evergreen, pots of flowering fuschias and an abundance of carnations. Rev. A. W. Seabrease officiated and Mrs. G. W. Doswell played the wedding march as the bridal party appeared. Two flower maidens, Rhoda Doswell and Haidee Adams, were first, strewing the pathway with flowers which they carried in hats hung from their arms. Miss Nellie Brady was bridesmaid, and was attired in pink, while John Adams was best man. The bride wore a charming gown of white batiste, made over a silk slip, and carried an arm boquet of bride's roses. She walked with her father, who gave her away. After the ceremony a delicious supper was served by Seidel, on tables set on the lawn and under the canopy. The bride's table was done in green and white. The decorating, which was very artistic, was done by Miss Flick. Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield left on an early morning train for Buffalo and Niagara, and on their return will reside in Chicago. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. Whitfield and daughter, Miss Whitfield, mother and sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Ensweiler, Mr. and Mrs. Burton and Miss Nettie Burton, all of Chicago.

A FLAG INCIDENT

BRITISH STANDARD HOISTED AT SKAGUAY.

DEPENDS ON THE INTENT

IF ASSERTION OF SOVEREIGNTY IT IS SERIOUS.

NO ALARM AT WASHINGTON

FLAG WAS HAULED DOWN BY POET MILLER'S BROTHER.

Washington, June 29.—The state department has not received any representation concerning the flag incident at Skagway, where much excitement is said to have been caused by the hauling down of a British customs ensign raised at that point.

Based on the press reports of the affair, the officials do not attach serious importance to the incident itself, although it is recognized that the matter might assume importance if the raising of the flag was an assertion of British sovereignity over that locality. In that event there is no doubt that the state department would take cognizance of the matter.

But as it stands the flag appears to be that of the customs office, for the convenience of designating where customs may be paid, and not the British emblem indicating any claim of sovereignity. The modus videndi made on October 20, 1899, between Secretary Hay and the British charge here, established a provisional line running some distance north of Skagway, the summit of the Chilicoot pass and of the White Pass, being the two main trails in that locality.

Reference to the official map indicates that Skagway is clearly within the American line according to this modus videndi, also all tide water of the Lynn canal. If a custom officer is at Skagaway he is there as a means of convenience of locating imports before they reach the wild region through which the actual provisional line runs.

Under such circumstances it is felt that some tolerance should be shown on both sides. For the present no official attention will be given the incident, as it is not before the department in any form.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spaulding stated that for some time past Canadian officials have been allowed to go over the border in order that they might look after their customs interest in United States territory and that our officials are given a like privilege.

THINK AFFAIR MAGNIFEIED.

Ottawa, June 29. — The Canadian government authorities have not heard full particulars of the flag incident at Skagway but are inclined to think that its importance is exaggerated. The Dominion has no customs house or customs collectors at that place. No customs duties for this country are taken there, but the dominion maintains what is known as a transit office for the examination of goods designed to pass through the disputed strip of teritory to the Yukon district beyond, the object being to facilitate through shipment and to prevent their being delayed at the provisional boundary which laps half way across the line of the White Pass railway.

The arrangement is one used by the Canadian government at Tacoma, Seattle, Chicago, Duluth, Portland and other American points and by the American authorities in the Dominion.

Usually the officers are quartered at the railway stations, where it would be absurd to have flags flying. There is a special office at Skagway. It was not known here whether it flew the flag or not, but the impression is that a flag is not necessary to the business the officer has to transact.

DETAILS OF THE AFFAIR.

Vancouver, B. C., June 29.—The British flag recently raised over the Canadian customs building at Skaguay has been hauled down by an American. The act has caused great excitement at the American gateway to the Klondike. The steamship Islander, which arrived yesterday with the news, brings the official statement of the affair from a Canadian standpoint.

According to this statement, on Saturday morning at 8:30 M. E. Busby, Canadian supervisior of customs, acting on instructions from the Canadian department of customs, hoisted the official customs flag over his office. The flag was no sooner up than Mr. Andrews, the United States collector at Skaguay, called on Busby and demanded by what right he raised the flag without the stars and stripes being raised above it. Busby replied that it was not the national emblem, but the customs flag, placed there in accordance with the usage all over the world, to indicate to the public where the office was situated. Andrews appeared to be satisfied with the explanation, but a man named Miller, an attorney from Eugene, Ore., and a brother of Joaquin Miller, crossed the street, where he had been talking to Judge Selbrede, United States commissioner, and hauled down the flag.

ARREST IS THREATENED.

Busby followed Miller and asked him by what right he had hauled down the flag, and threatened him with arrest in the presence of Andrews, and demanded his name. Miller handed Busby his card, whereupon Busby reported the matter to Captain Jenks, in command of the United States troops at Skaguay. Miller left town that afternoon.

While many agree that there was nothing unusual in rising the flag, the majority of citizens sympathize with Miller. On Monday the flag was again rised, but Busby was informed by Judge Selbrede and Captain Jenks, deputy United States marshal, that they would not be responsible for the violence of the mob unless the flag was again taken down pending instructions from Washington. The flag was again taken down, but as the flag was raised by order of the Canadian government, Canadians in Skaguay feel that Busby should be backed up by the federal authorities.

PALASTINE FOR THE JEWS

THE REMARKABLE RISE AND GROWTH OF THE MODERN ZIONISTIC MOVEMENT.

Is Palestine to be reclaimed by the Jews? Will this people return to its own and re-establish its former glory? Recent movements in all parts of the world would seem to indicate that the wandering Jew is near the end of his wanderings. The fourth annual convention of American Zionists has just been held in Philadelphia, and the fifth annual congress of the world's Zionists will shortly be held in Europe. Plans for the complete recovery of the holy land are going steadily forward; large colonies have already been established in Palestine, and every month sees substantial additions to the Jewish population of Judea. What do these movements indicate? At the last Zionists' congress, held in London, Prof. R. Gottheil, of Columbia university, fairly outlined the matter. "It is time," said he, "that the nations understood our motives. Our purpose is gradually to colonize Palestine. We political Zionists desire a charter from the sultan authorizing us to settle in our holy land, and we ask the powers to approve and protect this charter."

The story of the wandering Jew is a particularly sad one, and woven in with the legends of his travels are the creeds of many who believe his condemnation to be a prophecy of the second coming of Christ. In its deepest import, says one, the tradition is simply a wonderful picture of people forever suffering and yet undying; forever doomed to wander; without a home or any fixed abiding place; safe nowhere and yet immortal; trampled and beaten, robbed and persecuted; and yet, strangely, living and flourishing in spite of all. The most vigorous, virile and healthful people under the sun; the bravest and most enduring in battle and siege; the most patriotic and loyal of all people, they steadfastly, through all their wanderings and sorrows, cling to a land which is but a memory or a dream.

Now, it seems, their dream is about to be fulfilled. Already the leading Zionists are seeing visions of a new nation among nations, peopling a country which embraces within its bounds the temperatures and productions of all climes, where from this vantage ground the inherent genius of the Jews for things religious will reassert itself.

The present Zionistic movement began four years ago and was started by the publication of "Der Yuden Staat" (The Jewish State), by Dr. Theodore Herzl, one of the editors of the Vienna Neue Freie Presse. Herzl advocated the purchase of Palestine from Turkey, for the purpose of building a Jewish state under the suzerainty of the sultan and the protection of the powers. He mapped out a system of government, a national bank, a military organization and even suggested a flag—white, containing several gold stars. The book created a sensation, and when Herzl called a congress of Zionists to meet at Basle, Switzerland, 400 delegates responded. Herzl's plans were considerably modified. The idea of an independent state was temporarily abandoned as premature and liable to injure the cause. But the visionary scheme had become an idea, and with his usual pertinacity and perseverance the Jew set about to materialize the dream of Zionism. The first essential to ultimate success was money. Accordingly, the Jewish Colonial trust, limited, was formed, with $10,000,000 capital, and head officers in London. There are 2,000,000 shares at $5 each, and at this writing about $1,000,000 have been paid in—not by the rich, but by the poorer classes. In this country 20,000 shares have been taken by almost as many subscribers. The trust was established not merely to furnish transportation for emigrants, but to establish factories, build railroads and telegraph lines and to help the colonists to a state of financial prosperity.

How far the settlement of Palestine has progressed is best shown by reports of the various settlements. These settlements occupy about sixty square miles in Judea, Galilee and in Bashan, as the eastern or trans-Jordan portion of Palestine is called, or 1 per cent of its entire area. The oldest settlement is at Mikoeh Israel, near Jaffa, containing 600 acres. The colony is the agricultural center of the Zionists. An agricultural school with 100 pupils, and fully equipped with the best American implements, is located there. Five miles to the south if Rishon Zion, with 2,000 acres and 500 settlers.

Their principal occupation is the raising of silk worms. There are 20,000 mulberry trees, wells, a fine school, a synagogue, a library and a cask manufactory. In the latter are made the casks in which the celebrated Carmel wines are shipped. The factory is lighted by electricity generated on the premises, and all the machinery is modern. Each family has a pleasant two-story house. Another five miles to the south is Wadi-el-Hannin (the dale of roses), containing 670 colonists. The principal industry is the cultivation of grapes. Adjacent is Rehobath, consisting of 2,500 acres and 250 settlers. Ekron, further inland, contains 1,000 acres. Its 250 colonists raise wheat, fruits, olives and silk worms. Gadrah, to the west, has 900 acres, on which are 2,000 selected Burgundy vines. Artuf, at the foot of the Judean mountains, contains only twenty families, while Kastinia, in Philistia, east of Ashdod, supports 120 families of Bessarabian Jews, on its 1,200 acres. Petakh Tikneh, north of Jaffa, is a more important colony. It has 750 inhabitants, who till 3,500 acres raising oranges, lemons and various flowers (especially roses and geraniums), for essential oils. El Heiderah, north of Tantura, contains 6,000 acres. It is settled by Russian exiles. At the time of their arrival there 700 acres of their colony were swampy marshes, and, in consequence, malaria and typhoid fever threatened the success of the undertaking. Baron Edmund de Rothschild, on learning of this state of affairs, drained the swamps and planted 50,000 eucalyptus trees, so that at present the health of the colonists is not endangered. Tantura itself contains a large glass factory. Zikron Yakub, on the slopes of Mount Carmel, contains 5,000 acres, supporting 2,000 Roumanian Jews, mainly engaged in grape growing. This settlement is surrounded by others at Shefaya Umm et Tut and Umm el Jemail. Rosh Pinah, another of the more important colonies, has sixty houses, fine gardens, three springs, half a million vines, 80,000 mulberry trees, and a silk factory employing sixty hands. Yessud Hammalah, near by, is a Polish settlement. It contains 900 acres, the occupation of its settlers being the growing of flowers for essential oils, bee farming and silk weaving. To the southwest, just north of Safed, and on the summit of the range of Upper Galilee, is Ain Zeitun, at which place there are 300,000 vines. Other colonists are Mishmar ha Yarden, Mechanayim, Metulla, Beni Yehudah and Sahem el Janian (in the trans-Jordan).

Everything in these settlements is "up to date." The best machinery is installed and electricity plays a prominent part in the mechanical life of the colonies. The great wine cellars at Rishon Zion are an example of this. All the grapes from the vicinity are taken to the storage cellars, where they remain until modern machinery converts them into luscious Burgundy, soft Sauternes and delicious sweet wines.

The colonies are governed by a board elected annually at a general meeting. There are no courts and all grievances are adjusted by the board. Decisions are invariably obeyed, for the board controls the entire water supply, and any recalcitrant member of the colony is brought to terms by having his meed of water stopped. Early this year a colonist was accused of a grave crime, and as the board did not care to take the responsibility of punishment on its own shoulders, a meeting of the colonists was called. It was decided unanimously to expel the offender. His farm was purchased by the members of the settlement in which he lived, and he was ignominously expelled.

The schools are essentially modern. Mathematics, literature, geography, Arabic and French are taught. Hebrew is spoken, but modern words, such as locomotive, electricity, etc., have been introduced in Greek form. Another interesting feature of Zionistic life is its mounted militia. Like all Arabs, most of the colonists ride and shoot well. A number of them have formed into an irregular cavalry corps, mounted on Arabian horses and armed with magazine rifles. They dress in white and make an excellent showing.

BILLIARD CUES.

"Most billiard cues," said a New York manufacturer the other day, to a writer in the Washington Star, "are made in two pieces, the cue proper and the handle. The cue is made generally of maple, and the butt, which is wedge-shaped, is inserted into a handle of rosewood, snakewood, ebony, mahogany, walunt, or some other fancy dark wood, which is cut to dovetail with the long part.

"The maple wood used in making the handles is sawed into suitable lengths and seasoned. The logs are then split into pieces from which the handles are made. These pieces are called bolts. The bolts are sawed approximately to the shape of the handle to be finally made, and in this shape they are handle blocks. The handle block is turned to the shape of the handle in a lathe, and, when the butt has been fitted, it is finished and polished.

"The finest and best cues are fitted to the handle or butt by means of a double wedge. At the top of the cue is a ferrule of ivory, or horn, or bone, in which the leather tip is fitted. While he ivory ferrule is the most expensive, of course, it is less durable than the horn or bone ferrules, which are less liable to crack. The extra workmanship in cues is put in on the butts, some of which are elaborately inlaid and carved in beautiful patterns.

"There are a number of billiard players who will not permit another person to use their cues, and for the use of these particular players cues are turned out from which the tips may be unscrewed, leaving the cue with unfinished points and useless.

"American billiard cues are the lightest, strongest and neatest made anywhere in the world. They are made in all weights and lengths, and rank in price from 30 cents to $25 and more each, according to the quality and finish of the article."

BRILLIANT WOLCOTT WIT

Allen V. Cockrell, a brilliant Washington literateur, gives this felicitous account of how ex-Senator Edward O. Walcott, of Colorado, once rescued himself from a ticklish position by a happy use of wit: "During his twelve years of senatorial service the Coloradoan has won for himself the honor of being the most eloquent republican in the senate. In addition to his oratorical talent he is wonderfully clever at campaign repartee. This gift was well demonstrated before he became nationally known, when he was sent to a southern state to advocate republicanism. At a certain place he was politely informed that the "rally" would begin and end at about the same time, and that not since 1883 had any republican been permitted to finish a speech there. Wolcott was determined, however, and upon learning that the citizens, as a rule, were kind enough to permit the speakers to get out of town and fill their next appointments, he concluded to make his speech as billed. The chairman was instructed to dispense with the music and introduce him to the audience in as few words as possible. The advice was followed a little too literally. He simply pointed at the audience and then at the speaker and disappeared behind the scenes.

"Wolcott began his speech at once with one of his best stories. The audience was separated, the colored folks all being in the gallery and only the white people below. In about five minutes Wolcott's discretion was overcome by his intense republicanism, and he made a pointed thrust at the opponent party, whereupon a body of young men in the center of the theater shouted in concert, 'Rats!'

"Wolcott paused for a moment, and then, waving his hand at the gallery said: 'Waiter, come down and take the Chinamen's orders!' The effect was electrical and effectual."—Shamp Clark in the Saturday Evening Post.

ART AS AN INVESTMENT.

It is said that the Gainsborough portrait of the duchess of Devonshire, which was so long hidden and recently recovered, for which Pierpont Morgan paid $1500,000, originally cost only $1,000, says a writer in the Chicago Chronicle. That is the sum (£200) which the artist received for his work. And that was an immense sum of money for a portrait 125 years ago. Commenting on this fact, many writers have exhausted language in telling us how much great works of art increase in value with age. They do not stop to think of the other side of the case. The gain on the investment in the picture is comparatively only a trifle. If the sum of $1,000 had been put out at 6 per cent compound interest 125 years ago—and that was then a low rate of interest—the total interest and principal would now amount to $425,000. It was a poor investment to put so much money into a painting.

FOR PILGRIMS TO ROME.

A Rome correspondent says that the pope has decided that the great building which is now under construction by the side of the Vatican, and which is destined for the accommodation of pilgrims, shall be ready by the end of 1902, in expectation of the early arrival of the pilgrims in 1903, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the election of Leo VIII. The building will have a length of 220 meters, consist of four stories and contain 1,600 chambers, accommodating 2,500 persons. The Vatican itself contains 11,000 chambers, and this addition will raise the total to 12,600, making it the greatest palace in the world.

In Japan they have a very simple way of collecting butterflies alive. They streak trees with phosphorus and saccharine matter, and then the butterflies in the night time are attracted, stick fast and are taken off.

On level pavements a pull of thirty-three pounds will draw a ton, on macadam it takes forty-six pounds and on rough gravel 147 pounds.

PEKIN THE STRICKEN

The Changes Recently Wrought in the Unhappy Capital of the Chinese Empire.

(London Times.)

Many and great are the outward and visible changes which at once strike the eye of anyone who knew Pekin in the old days, but there is another and more subtle change less easy to describe. Shorn of all the mystery which threw a weird glamour over its hidden life, the squalor of Pekin seems to stand out now absolutely naked and unashamed. Formerly for instance, there was at least a suggestion of exotic grandeur in the stately outline of halls and temples and the occasional shimmer of yellow tiles through the trees, which were the only glimpse of the forbidden city allowed to the "outer barbarian" from the Tartar walls. Omne ignotum pro magnifico. Now its inmost sanctuaries have been laid bare. The treasures of bygone centuries which may have helped to disguise the ravages of smile decay have become the spoils of the conquerers, and nothing is left to hide the decreptitude of a slovenly old age. The barbaric gaudiness of the very throne room itself is overlaid with the accumulated filth of years, the red and gold lacquer on the pillars has peeled off in great scabs, cobwebs and bird's nests defile the painted ceilings.

The same atmosphere of dirt, discomfort and neglect pervades the private apartments of the emperor and empress dowager, and the dilapidated temples sacred to the dynasty. The foul and tattered robes of the few eunuchs who still hang about the imperial palaces are only less offensive than the oily smile to which they train their evil countenances in the presence of the hated foreigner. Sturdy weeds have grown up between the marble flags of the spacious courts and pools of fetid water lurk beneath the marble bridges of ornamental streams. Here and there a magnificent array of gilded lions and bronze vases of the Ming dynasty or the painted fretwork of a cloisonne screen behind an ancestral shrine serves only to heighten by force of contrast the general sense of desolation.

In the streets of the capital the same sense of desolation prevails. Some of the chief thoroughfares have resumed in a measure their normal physiognomy, varied only by the incongruous presence of the Bengal lancer or the German Uhlan, the French Zouave or the Italian marine. But most of the streets are still comparatively deserted even in the busiest hours of the daytime, and at night the whole city is hushed in unaccustomed silence. The stillness is no longer broken by itinerant hucksters and story tellers, or by the balling runners of high officials proceeding long before daybreak to the imperial audience chamber. Even the music of the pigeons as they circled in the early morning among the trees with a sort of jewsharp strung about their necks has ceased.

No one knew exactly what the population of Pekin was before the troubles, and still less does anyone know what it is today. To judge by the appearance of the streets it might well have diminished by one-half, and women are more than ever rarely seen. The vast majority of the upper classes have fled, and the once familiar sight of high officials, with their motely crowd of retainers, borne by swift bearers in their curtained chairs to and from their yamens, or Manchu women of rank and fashion doing their rounds of shopping in closed carts with red hangings, has entirely disappeared. In some quarters almost all the houses are clolsely shut up, though many of them are doubtless untenanted, and foreign flags alone relieve the grey monotony of long silent streets, ankle deep in the accumulated winter's dust. The amount of bunting displayed by the inhabitants seems to vary in inverse proportion to the confidence inspired among the natives by the nationality to whose administrative mercies they have been committed.

The Germans govern, as usual, with a somewhat heavy hand, and the streets in the German quarter make as brave a show of black, white and red bunting as any German village on Sedan Day, while in the British quarter, where the Chinese appear to be relatively friendly and contented, not a single Union Jack is to be seen. That the people of Pekin are at least temporarily cowed, the cringing attitude which has replaced the sullen scowls or open insolence of former times conclusively shows. But the old spirit still lurks beneath the surface, and of late especially the belief has been reported to be rife among the populace that the heroes of the Boxer movement are not dead but only asleep, and will wake up again to smite the foreigners as soon as the sap rises in the trees. If ever the present negotiations reach an end and the time arrives for evacuating Pekin, there will be an awkward period of transition during the withdrawl of troops and the restoration of responsible Chinese authority. In the meantime, whatever of the glory and glamour of the east still clung to Pekin has departed, probably forever; the havoc alone remains.

NATIONS SHOULD DO RIGHT.

American statesmen should be sustained by public opinion in doing the absolutely right thing. They should be upheld even in taking risks in right-doing; they should be encouraged not to do evil in hope that good may come, but to do right, and right only, that good may come. They should be made to understand that a nation not only should do right, but should not allow any public misconception as to the justice and righteousness of its action. And they should tell their publis servants that the stewardship of principal is vastly more important than the stewardship of property.—The Century.

LOST CITIES.

The closing years of the nineteenth century were marked with many notable achievements in archaeology. On the site of ancient Ilium, on the plains of Persia, and in the mystery haunted valley of the Nile, reverent hands unveiled the long-hidden secrets of the past and added a wondrous illumination to our knowledge of the very dawn of history. In such a work it is gratifying to record that American bounty and enterprise and scholarship played a most honorable part, this youngest of the world's great nations being foremost in making acquaintance with the relics of the oldest, says the New York Tribune.

Forty years ago the Marquis de Vogue discovered in that part of Syria lying back of Antioch traces of an ancient civilization of a high order. He was able, however, to gain only a peep into the marvelous volume written in mighty monuments amid the desert sands. It was left for American enterprise in the last two years of the century fully to unfold the ample pages for the amazement and instruction of the world. No less than 33 long forgotten cities have been discovered and identified some of them with architectural remains of surpassing grandeur and of exceptional interest as expositions of the civilization and the social order that there prevailed.

The admirable workmanship of ancient times and the climatic conditions of those desert uplands have served to keep these cities from decay so that they stand there today substantially as they were 1,200 years ago; and the camera today lays before us scenes upon which Zenobia may have looked across which Belisarius may have swept in triumph. The story is one that reflects high credit upon the American explorers who did the work, and upon the four Americans whose generous bounty supplies the means through which alone the doing of the work was possible.

OUR DOCTOR-GOVERNOR.

It is a common, and somewhat childish fashion among those who cannot bend him to their own purposes in Cuba to refer to Goveronr Wood as Doctor-General Wood. These persons are too short-sighted to see that after all the epithet which they speak in contempt and derision is rather a high distinction than otherwise. Certainly Doctor-Major Gorgas need not hesitate to take such a designation as a tribute, nor should Surgeon Major Harvard feel unhappy to be so called. The hyphenation is merely a further distinction for them all, since it indicates that to their unquestioned fitness as men engaged in the pursuit of arduous military duties they have added to their equipment those qualities of mind, of character and of usefulness in the service of mankind which belong to the recognized guardians of the health of man.—Harper's Weekly.

NO ACCESS TO SIBERIA.

The advantages of the Trans-Siberain railway as a connecting link between the west and the far east are not to be enjoyed by foreigners, writes a St. Petersburg correspondent. This season the best known but by no means luxurious route by the steamers on the River Amur has been closed to all but Russian subjects. Englishmen in Vladivostok have applied in vain for a pass home through Siberia; and Englishmen in St. Petersburg equally anxious to make the journey in the reverse direction have been denied any facility for reaching their destination. Like the Trans-Caspian strategic lines, the Great Siberian route is merely a pudding-bag railway—a cul de sac some 4,000 miles in length, leading only into the wildenesses of the ever frozen north.

The Greek government has just sanctioned the purchase abroad of two torpedo boats and two torpedo boat destroyers for the navy, and of 60,000 repeating rifles, with 24,000,000 cartridges for the complete rearming of the army.

FURNISHED BY THE CITY

GOSHEN, INDIANA, HAS A MUNICIPAL PLANT FROM WHICH CITIZENS GET LIGHT, HEAT AND WATER.

Goshen, Ind., June 28.—A decided innovation in the line of municipal ownership is soon to be launched at Goshen. Here the council proposes to furnish heat to its citizens in addition to water and lights. The plan is to furnish hot water heat from the municipal water works plant. This system has been tested and found successful in London, England, and also to some extent by private companies in the United States, but never before has a municipality undertaken such a plan. Just now, when so many cities and large towns throughout the country are considering such questions as the municipal ownership of public utilities, Goshen's latest move in that direction will excite wide interest. In fact, already hundreds of letters have poured into Goshen authorities making inquiry as to her past success and experience in this regard, and also as to her forthcoming effort.

Goshen is a typical municipal ownership city already. It is nearly twenty-five years since she took her first steps in this direction, and she has gone far enough to feel certain that these principles are a good thing for any well-ordered city of similar size.

SYSTEM WITH WOODEN PIPES.

Before describing her latest plan it is interesting and instructive to consider Goshen's first municipal accomplishment in the days when the reform principles of the present day were unpopular and when facilities were crude and meager. It was in 1874 that the question arose of either increasing the size of Goshen's fire department or else constructing a municipal water works plant on a small scale for fire protection only. There had been a number of big losses from fires and in those days the fire department facilities of the smaller towns and cities was usually inadequate. The outfit here consisted of a hand pumping engine, two hose carriages and a hook and ladder device.

A public meetin was held. It was largely attended and the enthusiasm was marked. It was decided that the city should put in a water works system as suggested and a resolution to that effect was sent to the council and soon the work was begun. The system instilled would now, twenty-five years later, be considered very crude, but it answered the purposes of that day and in it was that municipal ownership principle about which we now hear so much. The main pipes which were laid were of wood. They were made to connect with a canal, and to force the supply of water through them the city purchased pumps and a large wheel for water power. The system, when completed, cost the city $9,000 and it was found that besides filling the needs for which it was particularly constructed that it would admit of still further extension with but little extra cost. Following its completion a public test of the system was made to the satisfaction of the citizens.

From this beginning later developed the installing of steam power so as to allow the supply of water for private consumption. Next came the addition of artisian wells and in '81 a power house with a complete plant was erected. Today the system includes nearly twenty-one miles of street mains, 160 fire hydrants, 12 public watering troughs. The power station equipment comprises a standpipe of 265,000 gallons' capacity, one pump with a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons for every 24 hours and two pumps of 1,000,000 gallons' capacity each and four boilers of 400-horse power. From the plant there is an annual income of nearly $7,500 from private consumers. The city is netted a nice profit as will be seen by the figures given later on in connection with the electric lighting system.

In 1887 a private company put in an electric street lighting system. Two years later the city of Goshen purchased the entire euipment of this company for $3,000, and began at once to cut down operating expenses by operating the dynamo from the municipal water works plant. This is an example of combining and centralizing industries by the people and in the interests of the people. Goshen continued to develop her street lighting system by extending the lines and enlarging the plant.

Then an incandescent lighting plant was started. In this manner $20,000 was expended after the original plant had been purchased. Now, the city is talking of buying out another incandescent plant now operating here and combining it with the others. Goshen's lighting plant now includes a 250-horse power engine, a 125-arc-light dynamo, a 40-arc-light dynamo and an incandescent light dynamo, with a capacity of 2,000 lights.

FINANCIAL ADVANTAGE.

The following figures illustrate that the plants are being operated at a profit, to say nothing of the free use of water and light to the city:

Total receipts for the year ending May 30, 1901	$15,529 03
Total expenditures for same period	14,899 52
Net profit to the city from operating expenses	$ 729 51

The item of public water and light which Goshen secures free besides the net profit from operation of the plant is no small feature. There are many ciies of the size of this one that are paying $10,000 a year in water hydrant rental to private companies. The capitalization of the municipal plants here is about $333,000. The tax rate is as low as that of any city in the state of Indiana. At the present time it is 1 per cent.

The installing of a municipal hot water plant is now in the hands of the water and lighting committee, which is so successfully managing the municipal plants already in operation. In their first report to the city council they stated that they had information to the effect that the exhaust from the city power station would supply, without cost, all the heat required for heating the water for from 40,000 to 50,000 square feet of radiation. One estimate is that it will heat from 70,000 to 80,000 feet. In order to be safely conservative they go on to assume that the exhaust will supply heat for only 25,000 square feet.

The cost of furnishing the heat for 125,000 square feet would be annually $7,500 for heat and $576 for power to circulate the water. It is figured that 50 pounds of coal will supply heat for one square foot of radiation surface for the year. Computing coal at $3 a ton, this amounts to 7½ cents per square foot of radiation per year. The figures $7,500 per annum represents this amount as applied to 100,000 square feet, the other 25,000 feet, it will be remembered, coming from the exhaust pipe of the plant which the city now owns. Thus a waste product is made a source of profit. For circulating the water for 125,000 square feet 20-horse power is required, which will consume five pounds of coal per hour, which, for 160 days, which is the average number of days that heat is required in a year, makes the cost in this regard $576. The total cost, therefore, of operating this system for a year in Goshen would be $8,076. At the rate of 15 cents per square foot to consumers the income from 125,000 square feet would be $18,750. This, it will be seen, is $10,674 in excess of the operating expenses. It is assumed that the full 125,000 feet would be taken by consumers annually after the fifth year at least. Forty thousand feet should be taken the first year, the committee estimates.

The cost of putting in a system which will furnish 125,000 square feet of radiation would be a little less than $10,000. This includes the cost of laying all the mains. Assuming that 30,000 feet of radiation would be taken the first year, 50,000 the second year, 75,000 the third year, 100,000 the fourth year and 125,000 the fifth would be $20,024. In the exenses is included the cost of interest at $3,000 annually if no payment is made on the principal of the debt for the first five years. Goshen also proposes to heat her public buildings with hot water. Her experiment will be watched with interest by other cities.

DISPERSAL OF ANIMALS.

The manner in which animals may be conveyed from one area or region to another by what may be called chance agencies has always formed a subject of much interest in the eyes of naturalists, says the London Chronicle. The same opinion may be expressed of the dispersal of plants. Darwin found over eighty seeds in a little clod of earth attached to the leg of a migrating bird, and we can readily imagine how such agencies serve to widen the distribution of life. Sir C. Lyell gives an instance of a pig—an animal popularly believed to be anything but an adept at swimming—being found far out at sea bravely making its way toward some haven of rest. Such animals as tortoises may easily be conveyed on driftwood over long tracts of ocean. A recent report of the Indian marine survey gives a case in point. A female leopard was brought down the Moulmein river, and came aboard a cargo steamer. Then she swam to land, and was thereafter dispatched. Snakes were also found on the floats of the paddlewheels of the surveying steamer, having been carried down by the flood. A lucky settlement in a new territory thus implies the extended distribution of a race. It is interesting to note how greatly what we may call chance may influence the extension of life over the earth's surface.

JUDGE WILLIAM A. WOODS DEAD

Eminent Jurist and United States Circuit Judge Expires Suddenly of Heart Disease in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, June 29.—Judge William A. Woods, of the United States circuit court, died suddenly last night while lying abed in his apartments at the Delano, on East Michigan street. Death came at a few seconds past midnight while his wife was near his bedside.

The judge had not been feeling well during the early part of the evening, but paying little heed to the sickness, passed the matter lightly and prepared to retire. About midnight, however, he spoke to his wife and declared that sharp pains had seized him in the left breast, in the chest and in the shoulders. He protested against her calling the attending physician, Dr. Henry Jameson, who had been called in the day before, but again insisted that relief would soon come.

Judge Woods asked his wife to remain in the room with him, pointing to a lounge nearby and asking her to spend a portion of the night reclining on it. "You must lie there," he said, half smiling, "where I can see you."

A moment later he again spoke to his wife, asking for something that was in the bathroom adjoining the room. Mrs. Woods rose to procure whatever the judge had called for and left the room, returning from the bathroom only a second later. When she approached the bed where her husband lay he was dead.

Still hoping that life might not be extinct, Mrs. Woods summoned Dr. Henry Jameson. The physician arrived at 12:10 o'clock, but, upon seeing the judge, declared that efforts to revive him would prove unavailing.

Immediately Floyd Woods, the only son, was notified, and he hastened to the Delano. Alice Woods, the daughter, is in Annisquam, Mass., where she went several weeks ago to spend the summer. A dispatch was sent to her at once, but up to an early hour this morning no word has yet been received.

Attorney General W. S. Taylor and Judge Baker, of the federal court, also were notified and hastened to the Delano.

THE PHYSICIAN'S STATEMENT.

Dr. Jameson, shortly after the announcement of Judge Woods' death was made public, gave out the following statement of the cause:

"Judge Woods suffered from a hardening of the outside arteries of the heart—angina pectoris. Three weeks ago, I understand, he suffered a slight attack. At the time, however, he did not consider the symptoms alarming, but continued his regular routine of life. Another attack followed about a week ago. At that time he complained largely of a heavy sinking weight in feeling in the region of the stomach. This was attributed to indigestion. Yesterday afternoon the pain increased and the judge himself grew somewhat alarmed. He said: 'I suppose, if I were a woman, I would become hysterical and grow frightened about myself.' When I saw the judge at this time I made a careful examination, but his description of the symptoms gave out the impression that he suffered with stomach trouble. I advised a light diet.

"I questioned him closely, but he did not complain very much. I cautioned him to eat lightly and to stay in. Yesterday, however, the judge was out of the house, going about his business as usual. He came home yesterday afternoon, feeling fairly well, and ate a hearty supper. Along about 9 or 10 o'clock he began to complain. Mrs. Woods gave him some medicine—champagne. This was in the nature of a stimulant for the heart. He seemed free of pain and perfectly happy.

"The disease that proved fatal in Judge Woods' case comes on slowly, growing as one advances in age. I was somewhat fearful of its being the cause of his illness, but did not tell him so, because I feared that the effect of the information might be anything but beneficial."

HIS LIFE.

William Allen Woods was born near Farmington, Tenn., May 16, 1837. His father having died when young Woods was a mere child, his mother removed to Iowa and with an only brother he was left to do the work on the farm. Attending only local winter schools, his life was one of exacting but hopeful toil, in field, forest, brickyard, sawmill, grist mill and village store, until his sixteenth year, when he became an assistant teacher in the Troy, Iowa, academy. In 1855 he matriculated at Wabash college, graduating with the class of 1859. He went to Marion, Ind., where he taught school until, upon the first battle of Bull Run, the school broke up. He enlisted, but an injured foot disabled him for the service. He was admitted to the bar of the Grant circuit court in 1862.

MOVES TO GOSHEN.

He then went to Goshen, Ind., and there, on March 17, 1862, opened a law office. For two years or more he had little to do but read, but that he did assiduously, and thereafter had a good and increasing practice. In 1867 he was a member of the state legislature, and introduced and pushed to passage a number of measures, by one of which a new judicial circuit was established, of which the governor tendered him, but he declined, the appointment as judge. He also refused a renomination for election to the legislature, and later to be put forward to congress, though the nomination was open to him and election reasonably sure. An earnest republican, he was always active in campaign work in his own county, but seldom consented to speak elsewhere. In 1873 he was elected judge of the Thirty-fourth judicial circuit, composed of Elkhart and Lagrange counties, was re-elected without opposition in 1878, and continued in that office until January, 1881, when he took his seat upon the supreme bench, to which he had been elected in 1880, succeeding Judge Biddle.

In May, 1883, he was appointed by President Arthur United States district judge for the district of Indiana, as successor to Judge Gresham. He held that office until March 17, 1892, when on the nomination of President Harrison he was confirmed and commissioned United States circuit judge for the Seventh district, of which court he was ex-officio a judge and by reason of being the oldest in commission of the circuit judges since the resignation of Judge Gresham, has been the presiding judge.

On the federal bench he has dealt with many important cases some of which, like the tally sheet case, the Dudley case, the world's fair Sunday opening case and the Debs case, have been the subjects of wide comment and discussion.

HE STARTED A DISCUSSION.

Cincinnati Enquirer: "Dr. J. W. Younge, of Fort Wayne, Ind., who visited the Monongahela river front to recall memories of the Silver Wave, the boat that was to take cannon from the Pittsburg arsenal to the south during the war, but which was prevented, has caused considerable discussion. The check post used to lower the cannon to the boat is still on the wharf, and it has been suggested that the old post be preserved."

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: "Much interest is being taken in the discussion as to the former steamer Silver Wave, in Pittsburg, at present. She gained national interest during the early part of the civil war, when an attempt was made to use her to carry ordnance by way of the Ohio river for the south. This the Pittsburgers objected to, and her officers refused to let her leave the port under those conditions. Capt. C. M. Holloway, who left the river several years ago, yesterday, in speaking of her, said that she was a large stern-wheeler and that her commander was John McMillan, who was the inventor and patentee of the now much used steam capstan. She burned in the vicinity of Addison, Ohio, four miles below Middleport. This discussion brought up the sinking of the Metropolis during the '60's, while she was on a trip to St. Louis. Her pilots ran her up Sugar Creek about midnight on the day in question and her wreckage is still to be seen. Sugar Creek is about fifty-two miles below this city, on the Kentucky side. According to steamboatmen, on a hazy or foggy night her pilots mistook it for the channel of the river. This was the only serious accident that ever occurred at that place."

USE THE DAMAGED DIMES.

"The telephone slot machines are doing an enormous work in the matter of taking worn-out dimes out of circulation," explained a treasury official to a Star reporter. "There is nothing to prevent worn-out, mutilated and almost smooth dimes from being put into the slots, and as a result many persons keep the worn-out dimes for that particular purpose. Many druggists and others who keep public telephones make no objection to taking mutilated dimes any more for the reason that they keep a supply on hand to do a telephone business with. When they see that a telephone user is going to put a new dime in the slot they simply take it in and hand a worn-out dime in exchange.

Of course the telephone user makes no objection and in goes the worn-out or mutilated coin. After it gets in there the telephone companies do the rest. Every time they get a quantity on hand, for the government does not care to bother with sums of less than $100, they send them to a subtreasury and in Washington to the treasury department direct for redemption. The result is that through the telephone companies alone over $1,000 worth of mutilated or worn-out dimes are redeemed each week. Business people have already begun to notice that the great majority of the dimes now in circulation are in much better condition than they were even six months ago. In a lesser degree the redemtpion of a great quantity of quarters and halves is effected through the long-distance telephones."—Washington Star.

A DEADLY FUED OUT WEST

TWO FAMILIES QUARREL OVER SOME CROPS.

A Woman Engaged in the Affray—One Man is Dead, Another Dying—Others are Hiding.

Kansas City, June 29.—A special to the Star from Catoria, I. T., says at Weer, a small place south of here, four men and a woman engaged in a family quarrel. One is dead, another is mortally wounded and the others are in hiding.

The dead man is David Boulton and the wounded one is his brother, Walter. Eight shots were fired by Robinson Boulton at the brothers, five of which took effect. William Smith and John Elliott, who witnessed the affray, state that George Boulton and his wife and Robinson Boulton quarreled with David and Walter about some crops, when George gave Robinson a revolver and told him to kill the brothers.

Robinson at once began to shoot at David, the third shot killing him instantly. Meanwhile Walter fled on foot. The assailant reloaded his revolver, mounted a horse and pursued the fleenig man, overtook him and began firing, four of the shots taking effect. Robinson and George Boulton and wife then hitched up a team and drove rapidly from the scene.

TO STUDY HUMAN NATURE.

A very powerful feature of city life is the messenger boy. He is not so obtrusively ubiquitous as is the newsboy, but he is ubiquitous nevertheless, says the Kansas City Journal. Mounted on his wheel, he threads his way through the traffic of the streets, often with infinite danger of life, yet, perhaps as a compensation to the ordeals of his existence, he almost always escapes harm. Few probably realize the multiplicity and variety of the little messenger boy's errands. There is a call at headquarters. He is sent out. He loses no time in reaching his destination. Maybe a very important message must be sent. He knows his duty well. When he arrives, however, it may be nothing more serious than to deliver a box from the florist's to a certain house in the residence portion of the city. Sometimes, of course, he doesn't know the nature of the message he is carrying, but his opportunities of knowing the ways of men and women in their transactions with one another are great, and, being a bright American youth, he profits by his advantages.

He deserves more than a passing thought, does this little hasty messenger in the blue uniform and cap. He sees service by day and by night, and there is scarcely any place, from the palace of the rich to the tenement of the very poor, from churches to the lowest haunts of vice, to which sooner or later his duty—or his necessity—does not take him. As for the things he has to do, they are bewildering in their multiplicity; and as for the characters with which he comes in contact they are as diverse as human nature. Not even the newspaper reporter sees as many sides of life he does the messenger boy.

BOERS BEATEN OFF.

London, June 29.—Lord Kitchner in a dispatch from Pretoria today says:

"The Boers attacked two block houses on the Delago line near Brugsprut Bight, June 26. An armored train arived and scattered the Boers, killing four. It is reported that twenty casualties were carried off. Field Cornet Deprezi has surrendered at Petersburg with forty-four men."

ABUSE OF THE LAW

SANE MEN ARE CONFINED IN CENTRAL ASYLUM.

AN INDIANAPOLIS INSTANCE

A FOUL CONSPIRACY FOR FEES IS ALLEGED.

WHAT DR. FLETCHER SAYS

CITES FORT WAYNE INCIDENT TO ILLUSTRATE.

Indianapolis, June 29.—What looks like a conspiracy to send sane men to insane asylums for the sake of the fees is said to have been unearthed here. John Ross, an employe of Kingan's packing house, whom his fellow workmen declare to be perfectly sane, was taken from his work a few days ago, carried before a lunacy commission, adjudged insane and sent to the central hospital.

The secrecy that attended the Ross case led to an investigation, which showed that in nearly every case of the kind the same witnesses appear, the same justice acts and the same physicians give the testimony on which the person in custody is declared a lunatic.

Ross' fellow employes are preparing to demand his release.

Since January 1 one justice of the peace has received over $800 from the county for presiding at such inquests, and a dozen witnesses have averaged from $35 to $90 for their attendance. The majority of the commitments are made without giving the accused person a hearing or having him present. The law is being violated in several particulars and the attorney general now has the subject under consideration.

Dr. W. B. Fletcher, who is an insanity expert, declares that the physicians called are not experts, and that the matter of declaring people insane is commercialism, pure and simple. He says that the oldest and most reputable practitioners in the city are not called in such cases.

"I know nothing of the case of the Kingan employe, who has been the subject of an insanity inquest," said Dr. Fletcher, "except what I have seen in the newspapers. I can, however, recall more than fifty cases equally outrageous committed in this city. So easily may these insanity papers be filled up and so easily may an alleged lunatic be started on the road to a hospital for the insane that a Fort Wayne doctor, once, by way of a joke, went to a brother physician and had the latter sign papers as examining physician of a case he had not seen. Two hours later the latter physician was surprised by the appearance of the sheriff, who had called to remove him to an asylum.

"The joker had filled out the blank in the paper and the accommodating physician had committed himself to the custody of the sheriff as a lunatic. My Fort Wayne friend merely wished to illustrate the carelessless with which insanity inquests are conducted."

"I advise that no insanity inquest be held anywhere in Indiana without notice being first served on the defendant," declared Attorney General Taylor yesterday. "The statute does not provide for notice in the case of an inquest before a justice should be peace, but I believe the higher courts will say that such notice should be given if a test case is ever brought before them. We should do nothing to cheapen the value of either life or liberty. I do not see why one who is charged with being insane ought not to be given notice of that proceeding as much as if he is charged with owing $10 for a grocery bill. It seems to me that where a man's liberty is at stake, as well as his entire future happiness, he ought to be served with notice of such attempted proceedings. Frequently the best answer to the allegation of insanity is the defendant himself."

INDIANA OBITUARY.

Elkhart, Ind., June 29.—John Cook, vice president of the First National bank and the wealthiest citizen in the county, died at his home in this city yesterday, after a long illness from cancer. He left a widow and young daughter, besides a son, J. Allen Cook, the child of a former marriage. Mr. Cook was born at Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1828, and had resided in this county since 1831. He lived near Goshen and finally entered business there, establishing, in 1854, the Salem bank. In 1865 he went to New York and engaged in the flour commission business. Returning to this county in 1867 he settled in Elkhart and became identified with the First National bank. He was a conservative democrat, and at the time of his death was one of that party's representatives in the county council. The funeral service will be held on Monday forenoon.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

WHAT THE CREATION TEACHES—BELIEFS OF POLYTHEISM SHATTERED BY BIBLICAL FACTS.

(John Lindsay Withrow, D. D., Park Street Church, Boston, in the Chicago Record-Herald.)

Lesson for Sunday, July 7, 1901.

Topic—"God the Creator of All Things."

Text—Gen. i., 1-31.

CONTROVERSY TO BE AVOIDED.

The teacher will be wise who avoids controversy in the use of this lesson. There are enough instructive and uplifting and incontrovertible facts to occupy the teaching time without striving over the scientific accuracy of all the deails. Genesis is the book of beginnings. It was intended for beginners. It is a development of beginnings in matter and life. The least careful reader discovers its design to be to speak of the beginnings in honor of God.

A very distinguished American statesman some years ago was asked, while sitting with a social company, to state what he regarded as the most exalted utterance ever made in human language. Promptly he replied: "This: In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." The weight and worth of words are to be estimated by the orator, the occasion and the ideas they convey.

Compared with the ample and accurate knowledge of nature which scholars at present possess, the writer of Genesis was a beginner. He wrote for beginners. He knew nothing of geology, chemistry or astronomy.

CONFUSION STILL EXISTS.

To the present hour there is confusion of tongues concerning the origin and initial events of the universe. Schools antagonize schools, systems are set against systems and scientists are in hostile camps, with most of the great questions as to the beginnings of things lying as a battlefield between. And this, too, after all the millenniums which have come and passed since the writer of Genesis gave the world this book of beginnings.

Viewed from these standpoints, we are astonished, and no wonder, to read these opening passages of Genesis. Whence came the knowledge which is condensed in that one line: "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." What school had the writer attended? The world was ruled by polytheism, as a religious belief. There were Gods many and Lords many. How did the author of this august utterance ascertain God, one and above all, and author of all? From books? There were none that taught it. From his imagination? But imagination uses known materials. The poet's imagination clothes known facts with beautiful forms, but until the facts are before his mind the forms of speech are not forthcoming. But here is the very beginning of the beginnings of biblical teaching. We have assertions of the most positive facts, and facts which were not obtained from any known source.

BELIEF OF HEATHENS.

All heathen religions "fail altogether to disengage God from nature." Hence among them polytheism (the doctrine of many Gods) is a Supreme God—as the Greeks had Zeus. Other divinities have divided power and function with the Supreme. "No one of them has been conceived of as absolute and independent of nature."

Knowing these things to be such, open to our lesson, and how glorious is the revelation we have of God. He is not a part of nature. Pantheists of every age and order, from antiquity down to our day, have mixed and made God and nature, in greater or less degree, one of the same. Thus is God degraded, by identifying the Deity with dead matter. Truth has had hardly any other falsehood to contend against which is so persistent as the pantheistic conception, which intermingles God and matter so that not even experts in philosophy can tell us how to discern between them. Hence it is that this opening chapter in Genesis awakens and should awaken our wondering delight.

Tomes and libraries beyond count have been written to discredit the divine inspiration and integrity of the Bible, and in every such work no small space has been used to prove the scientific inacuracy of the Genesis account of creation. Doubtless there was a date in the past at which six ordinary days were believed to be specified. But whether Moses and his contemporaries believed they were days of our time measure none can tell. Quite possibly they did not. But, as it was said by St. Augustine, the greatest theologian of the New Testament ages, "a day is not a name of duration" with the Hebrews.

Hence as to this matter of God creating all things in six days, we may say the God of the Bible could have done it. He could have commenced and completed all things as they afterward came to be, in an instant. If He could not, then is He not God, but like as men—limited. Show us a person or a power that can cause a living creature to start out of perfect dead matter after a century of effort to make it, and we may safely stake the treasures of eternity on a wager that the same creative power which achieved such an end in a century can do in a second. If I could make one microbe, I could make all mankind in the wink of an eye. But whether God, who could have commanded all things now existing to come forth in six twenty-four-hour days, did so command them, is an entirely other thing. We believe He did not.

TIME NOT SIGNIFICANT.

The well-informed on every side believe He did not. But the space of time is not the significant matter. It is the glorious fullness of perfection of what was made that we should dwell upon and draw instruction from in our study of the Divine Being.

So our Bible brings before us God, the living and true God, as Deity, outside of and independent of all things. He is before us as creating the heavens and the earth, as commanding light and "there was light." In omnipotent majesty He divides light and darkness, the gathered waters and the dry lands. He peoples the seas. He plants the seeds of His creating and covers the earth with herbs and trees and the hills with living creatures of cattle kind. It is work worthy of a God who is worthy of man's adoration. The gods which men have evolved from their own minds have never been less than unsightly mostly hideous. They stand on pedestals and shrines to which they have been lifted. But the God of the Bible needed no lifting up. He began by being Lord over all.

GOD'S CROWNING WORK.

But of all that God created, the crowning (Genesis 1: 26-28) act was the creation of man. Heathen sages and some modern scientists have never given man any higher beginning than developed apehood.

Theories of humanity's origin, as an order of beings, are many; but outside the account we have in Genesis there is not one of which we should be proud. As for matter and microbes, as for fish and fowl, as for the innumerable species of subordinate living beings, we may feel slight interest as to how they came into existence. Was there a drop of sea slime out of which the very lowest life started without a starter? And once started was there evolutionary force enough to turn out all the species and genera that ever appeared on earth?

Let it be admitted, as I believe the greatest apostle of evolution did admit, that to account for life on earth it is necessary to presuppose there were a few original, initial cases where the life was introduced from without, and then the whole contention of materialistic evolution collapses. For if there was needed but a single impulse from God to set a series in motion, then the greater is the glory to God's vital power, if one was enough. But whether the God of the Bible did interpose at different stages in the development of all lines of life is another question, and just here not pertinent.

SEEKS THE MISSING LINK.

Unwearied effort has been made to find the missing link between the lowest human and the highest anthropoid ape. Not long ago a learned professor in an eastern college published it as a positive fact that the missing link had been found. Referring to him for his evidence, he referred me to discussions of recent date in associations of scientific men. But it required but little seeking to find more scholars who do not accept the Java skeletons as specimens of a true missing link than scholars in the science of nature who do. Anyhow, it never appealed to my ambition to find my family line running back to a gorilla species. Rather more would it gratify a just pride to have it proved beyond question that evolution never spanned the chasm between monkeys and men. Much more attractive is the truth taught in our lesson, that God made a special business of creating man. It does not, as we see it now, tend to encourage people to prove that their family origin was low. People of social position and property, being childless themselves sometimes, adopt infants out of foundling homes. The chances are that such children were born of worse than merely humble parents.

SECRET CLOSELY KEPT.

But with what double diligence their foster parents conceal from the adopted child knowledge of its nativity. All because it discourages and distresses the unfortunate to find out such a dark fact. With this in mind, may we not wish our wise men in science would occupy themselves with more worthy work than searching for a semblance in many to some old skelston of an ape!

There are some things that are true which it does not better us to know, and this missing link matter belongs to the class—that is, if it be so that a link between us and the next lower order has been or can be found.

On the other hand, it must help anyone to accept the account we have in these verses of Genesis as to the origin of man. Man is made in God's own "image." When he was made male, the female was also made, and made for the welfare of society. Woman was not made to be the tool and slave of man, for what God said, He said to them (v. 28) in the interest of population and empire, "Over every living thing that moveth upon the earth."

Thus was man by the great God made specially, made a social being and made monarch of all he surveys.

CORNERED NEGRO KILLS TWO.

Panther, W. Va., June 29.—Cornered in a house by a determined band of infuriated citizens bent on meting out summary justice to Peter Price, a negro, charged with insulting a young woman, Price in his desperate efforts to escape cut and killed George Hooks and F. M. McGran and seriously cut Charles Davis. The affair occurred at Iaeger, a small town five miles south of here. Price, on seeing his pursuers, took refuge in a small room in the rear of a saloon. The mob battered down the door, and as they entered the room Price threw himself at them with the ferocity of a tiger, a knife in each hand. Hooks and McGran fell to the floor and two revolvers in the crowd were discharged at Price, inflicting but slight wounds. With one desperate swing of his knife the negro laid open Davis' abdomen and then leaped from the window. He was pursued and captured by officers, who hurriedly sent him to the jail at Welch to avoid the vengeance of the mob.

CALLS IT TRAVESTY OF JUSTICE.

Manila, June 29.—The military court composed of volunteer officers which, June 26, acquitted Harold M. Pitt, manager of Evans & Co., government contractors, on charges of improperly purchasing government stores, which verdict Provost Marshal Davis ordered to be reconsidered, has reiterated its acquittal of Pitt. The latter's ignorance of the law and the uncertain testimony of Captain Barrows were given as reasons for Pitt's non-conviction. The volunteer officers who composed the court which tried Pitt complete their service June 30. General Davis, who, when he ordered reconsideration of the first verdict, considered that Pitt was convicted on his own admissions, now characterizes the verdict as a travesty of justice.

CONCORDIA COLLEGE BOYS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

THE ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVEN TUESDAY EVENING.

TWENTY-EIGHT IN THE CLASS

W. LUSSKY GIVES VALEDICTORY ADDRESS.

The anual commencement exercises at Concordia college drew out an immense audience that packed the college chapel to the doors. Purple and white, the class colors, predominated in the simple but artistic decorations, and the class of twenty-eight young men, one of the largest classes ever graduated from Concordia, occupied seats upon the platform.

Seated in the places of honor at the front of the hall were the members of the faculty and Lutheran clergy of the city, and behind them were hundreds of relatives and friends of the young men who have creditably completed the classical and scientific course of six years in the institution.

THE CLASS OF '01.

The class of graduates was made up of the following young gentlemen:

O. Ahlbrand, Seymour, Ind.; J. Ansorge, St. Louis, Mo.; R. Baehre, Brooklyn, N. Y.; A. Bernthal, St. Louis, Mo.; A. Bohot, Warda, Texas; T. Frey, Brooklyn, N. Y.; M. Frosch, Fort Wayne, Ind.; L. Heinrichsmeyer, St. Louis, Mo.; J. Herzer, Springfield, Ill.; L. Huffmann, Fort Wayne, Ind.; R. Jesse, Corder, Mo.; F. Jordan, Cleveland, O.; P. Lindemann, Addison, Ill.; W. Lussky, Ottawa, Ill.; J. Meyer, Otto, N. Y.; L. Nuechterlein, Saginaw, Mich.; A. Oetting, Golden, Ill.; F. Pebler, Brooklyn, N. Y.; L. Roehm, Schumm, O.; P. Schmidt, Seymour, Ind.; F. Schwede, Woodmere, Mich.; A. Spiegel, Jackson, Mich.; H. Voltz, New York, N. Y.; F. Wambsganss, Fort Wayne, Ind.; H. Wehmeyer, St. Mary's Ohio; F. Weidmann, Olean, N. Y.; A. Wyneken, Los Angeles, Cal.; G. Ziemendorf, Bergholz, N. Y.

The opening selections were by the college quartet who gave two selelctions, "Heavenly Father," by Beethoven, and Tilden's "The Lord's Prayer" with splendid effect, and Rev. Philip Wambsganss, pastor of Emmaus Lutheran church, delivered the salutatory.

REV. WAMSGANSS SPEAKS.

The pastor referred pleasantly to the happy occasion which brought the assemblage together, and complimented the splendid class which was the latest representative of the famous old college. A word of sincere congratulation was given the young men upon their completion of the long and exhaustive course of study, spoke of the new duties and responsibilities which were now before them and closed with a word of excellent advice as to their future.

A violin solo by P. Lindemann, of Springfield, Ohio, was greatly enjoyed, and L. Heinrichsmeyer, of St. Louis, followed with a Latin recitation. P. G. Schmidt, of Seymour, rendered a tenor solo, "'Tis Better So," and A. Wyneken, of Los Angeles, recited King Harold's appeal to his Saxon wariors. The college quartet was next heard in "Trust in the Lord," and the number was so beautifully given that there was long and vociferous requests for an encore. The program did not permit it, however, and the young men simply bowed their acknowledgments. Richard Boehre, of Brooklyn, gave a Greek recitation, and A. Spiegel, of Jackson, Mich., followed with a piano solo, "Rhapsodie Hongroise." P. Lindemann, of Addison, Ill., read an essay, "George Washington, Soldier and Man," and then followed one of the very best musical numbers of the evening—Clark's "March aux Flambeaux," for organ, piano and violin, which was skillfully given by Messrs. Spiegel, Frey and Lindemann.

THE VALEDICTORY.

The valedictory adress, delivered by Walter Lussky, of Ottawa, Ill., was a splendid effort. Mr. Lussky, is gifted with unusual oratorical powers, and he was entirely at home upon the platform. His description of the college life was delightfully humorous, beginning with the hurry and bustle in the home as the boy is packed off to college, told of he entrance into the institution and of the endless trials and troubles of the freshman who is always the victim of the jocular propensities of the older students, and whose ambition is only realized when he becomes an older student himself and is enabled to get even at the expense of the new freshmen who have come in to take the place just vacated by his own class.

Through the entire first half of his address Mr. Lussky kept his audience bubbling over with laughter, but turning to a serious vein his triumph was just as notably marked. He spoke of the last year in college, of its joys, its friendships and its loved asociations mingled with a tinge of sadness that is brought about by its ending. Now he realizes that the years just passed have been the happiest of his life, and that the saddest expression he has learned in all the passing years is the word "farewell." He paid a tribute of gratitude to the college officials, the matron and directors as well as to other Fort Wayne people who have loyally befriended the students from various states during their stay in the city. In conclusion, turning to his class. Mr. Lussky said:

"For six years, comrades, we have been forming ties, which can never be broken. Side by side we have striven in pursuit of learning, side by side we have stood in our boyish pastimes. Now it is past, and the most beautiful part of our lives lies behind us. But the ties of love formed can never be severed, and while life is left us the sweetest pictures of memory will be those of the days we lived together in well beloved Concordia."

The exercises closed with a farewell song by the class and the awarding of the diplomas.

Today there has been a general exodus from the college, and the students from all the classes are leaving for their homes to spend the summer vacation.

MANY VISITORS AT THE PARK

EXCURSIONS TO THE PRETTY RESORT TODAY.

Eastern Stars Celebrate an Anniversary—Decatur Society Sends Large Delegation.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Robison park attracted a large number of visitors today and a number of out-of-town delegations came to the city to enjoy a day of rest and recreation.

Shiloh chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, is celebrating its eighth anniversary, and at noon a delegation of about twenty-five from Kendallville and about the same number from the Columbia City chapter arrived to join the local Stars at the park. Supper at the pavilion will be a feature of the meeting, and this evening the visiting teams will confer the degree at Masonic Temple.

The Ladies' Mite society of the Decatur M. E. church conducted an excursion to the park today, and about 125 people arrived on the morning Grand Rapids and Indiana train to enjoy the event.

This afternoon the students of the International Business college to the number of about 100 are holding a reunion at the park. Special cars were furnished to each of the parties.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Anderson, Ind., June 27.—Late yesterday afternoon D. W. Wood, a leading attorney of Anderson and a prominent politician, was instantly killed in the Big Four yards by the west bound mail train due here at 4:55 o'clock. The stories of the affair all agree that it was purely accidental. Attorney Wood had visited a client in the south part of the city, and in returning turned through the yards of the Big Four at Central avenue in the immediate vicinity of the Big Four station. A switch engine apparently attracted his attention, coming from the west as it sounded its whistle. Mr. Wood stepped from that track and across another on which the west-bound mail was bearing down upon him. He did not note the rapid approach of the train behind him. The engine passed him, but he was struck by the first car and hurled against a steep bank, and, rebounding, rolled under the train. One foot and leg were ground to a pulp, his left side was crushed and his death was instantaneous. Mr. Wood was very popular in Anderson, where he had been a leading citizen all his life. He was a member of the law firm of Wood & Ellis.

A TEACHER IS MARRIED.

Miss Emma Forrer, formerly a teacher at the state institution for feeble minded, and Charles L. Garrison, of Indianapolis, freight agent for the Big Four in that city, were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon at the home of County Superintendent of Schools F. J. Young by Rev. E. W. Allen, of the Jefferson Street Christian church. Mr. and Mrs. Garrison have gone to Indianapolis where they will reside.

YOUNG MAN AGAIN ARRESTED.

Richmond, Ind., June 29.—The preliminary trial of Joseph Seifert, implicated in the death of Miss Arletta Dwiggins, whose death-bed statement led to his arrest, did not occur yesterday. The attorneys for Seifert were prepared for a preliminary hearing, but the state's attorney did not want to enter into a trial previous to the calling of the case in court and dismissed the proceedings. Information was then filed in the circuit court, and Seifert, who was under bond, was rearrested and placed in jail. It is understood that a new bond will be given. Ex-Congressman Johnson will defend him.

BLUE BOOK ON BOER WAR.

London, June 29.—A blue book was issued this morning giving the correspondence between Lord Roberts and the Boer authorities on the subject of the destruction of property. Its contents are generally known. The presidents of the Transvaal and Orange Free State February 3, 1900, protested against "the destruction and devastation of farms by barbarians, encouraged by British officers and by white brigands, contrary to the usages of war." Later Generals Botha and De Wet made similar complaints of the "Godless barbarities and atrocities of the British and their robber patrols."

Lord Roberts replied in a similar vein to all the protests, declaring that the British did not encourage the barbarians, but the burning of farm buildings was necessitated by treacherous shooting of the British from farm houses and the wrecking of trains, and accusing the Boers of wanton destruction and guerilla tactics, which he was compelled to repress by exceptional measures always employed by civilized nations in like circumstances.

A PROOF OF PROSPERITY.

London, June 29.—Proof of American prosperity is illustrated by the activity of the American gem buyers. In every diamond market in Europe they are seeking to secure precious stones for the American market. At the sales at Paris, St. Petersburg and Amsterdam, the American buyers are securing the most costly gems offered. A climax was reached in London this week when a New York buyer secured the Prince Edward of York diamond, regarded as one of the most perfect gems which has ever appeared in London. This pear shaped stone has never been exhibited in public, and has never left the hands of the rough diamond syndicate until this week. An English syndicate paid £1,500 for a three month's option on the stone, but the American paid £30,000 cash for it.

A peculiar sight seen on many farms in Allegany county, New York, this year is that of large apple trees lying flat on the ground, yet loaded down with blossoms. These trees—and there are hundreds of them—were uprooted by the severe icestorm last winter.

The little son of Joseph Strobel, residing on Stophlet street, fell from a cherry tree Thursday, breaking his right arm just above the wrist.

HE WAS SLAIN BY A LIVE WIRE

Raymond McKinley, Lineman for Street Car Company, Meets Death in Horrible Form While at Work.

Raymond E. McKinley, a lineman employed by the Fort Wayne Traction company, accidently grasped a trolley wire through which 550 volts were passing last Wednesday, and was instantly killed.

The accident occurred at the corner of Lafayette and Wallace streets shortly after 9 o'clock. At this point a gang of linemen, under the direction of Chief Electrician Daniel Dull, was engaged in stringing the new trolley wires to replace the old ones. McKinley, in company with Wilson Teeters, was standing on the platform of one of the repair wagons engaged in making fast the new wire to one of the cross supporting wires. It is thought the unfortunate man removed his rubber gloves in order to facilitate his work, as otherwise the gloves would have protected him from all danger of shock. McKinley grasped the new wire in his left hand and it is thought that in reaching for one of his tools he unwittingly grasped the main trolley wire, thus making a short circuit through which the full voltage on the wire passed.

The current of electricity passing through the hapless man's body caused the muscles to contract and his fingers closed about the wires in a grip that could not relax. The frightful voltage must have caused death instantly, but the body continued to writhe about on the platform until Teeters, the other lineman, succeeded in grasping the clothing of his fellow workman and pulling his grip from the wires.

The muscular spasm continued for a few seconds longer, and it was thought possible that the man might still be alive. The body was lifted from the platform and carried into Miller's drug store, and Drs. J. B. McEvoy and C. S. Fair were summoned at once. In the meantime every known means was employed to resuscitate the man. Artificial respiration was resorted to and continued for nearly half an hour, but the efforts to restore the spark of life were unavailing.

The physicians who had been summoned state that death was instantaneous. The voltage passing through the body would cause instant paralysis of the heart and a violent flexing of all the muscles of the body.

Coroner Barnett, after viewing the remains, ordered them removed to the Peltier undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial, and later removed to his home on Cass street. The only marks on the body were two slight burns on the palms of the hands, and a cut on the outer corner of the right eyelid. The latter was caused by the broken end of a wire during the muscular convulsions while the unfortunate man still grasped the wires.

McKinley has been in the employ of the traction company but a few months, has always been regarded as a most careful and trustworthy lineman. He was thoroughly conversant with his work, and his tragic death was not due to ignorance of the danger of handling wires, but was evidently the result of a moment of forgetfulness. He was well liked by his fellow workman, and his death has cast a gloom over the traction company employes.

The sad news was made known by telephone to the dead man's father, who has been in the employ of the company for a number of years and is now a motorman on the driving park line. He arrived soon after the accident to take charge of the remains, and his grief was pitiable.

Raymond McKinley was the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry McKinley, of 137 Cass street, and he was twenty-two years of age and unmarried. He leaves, besides his parents, four brothers and two sisters.

A PECULIAR INSANITY CASE

JAMES WALDA IS DECLARED COMPOS MENTIS.

An Affidavit is Made That He is Insane in Order to Prove That He Isn't.

A peculiar insanity case was inquired into in Bullerman's court last Wednesday the commission consisting of Justice Bullerman and Drs. Buchman and Barnett. James H. Walda is an old soldier, a member of the local camp of Union Veteran legion, who is anxious to get into the soldiers' home at Marion. Unfortunately for him, some years ago he was declared of unsound mind by a commission up in Wisconsin and he was for a time restrained in an asylum. Finally he was released, but was never officially declared cured. When he applied for admission to the home his application was turned down on the grounds that in the eyes of the law he was still insane and could not be admitted. Capt. Harry Dickman, who is Walda's friend, then took the matter up and has probably solved the difficulty. He filed an affidavit questioning the man's sanity and the above named commission was appointed to make the investigation. They examined Mr. Walda thoroughly and have made a report alleging him to be perfectly sane, or at least not insane. Having been officially declared compos mentis, there is no longer any barrier to his admission to the soldiers' home, all of which goes to again illustrate that there are ways to kill a cat besides choking it to death with butter.

CHILD DIES OF SMALL POX.

Lauranz Conrad Ehinger, the eighteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ehinger, of No. 6 Hermann street, died last Wednesday of smallpox, and another child in the same family, about 5 years, is so seriously ill with the same disease that recovery is doubtful. This statement is made on the official return of the death, on file at the office of the city health commissioner. It appears that the children have been sick for some days, but no medical attendant was called in until last Monday night, when Dr. Martz was summoned. He diagnosed the disease as smallpox and immediately reported the circumstances and his diagnosis to Health Commissioner MacBeth. The latter official took the matter up Tuesday and after a call also pronounced the case one of smallpox and established the usual quarantine regulations. Later the death was reported. The health department has so far been unable to connect these cases directly with any others in the city and Dr. MacBeth is of the opinion that they are sporadic. He is also of the opinion that unless unusual precautions are taken this summer that the advent of cold weather will witness the development of many sporadic cases of smallpox and only the most tireless vigilance will prevent an epidemic.

MARRIED IN LAFAYETTE.

Augustin N. Trentman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Trentman, of Washington boulevard, was united in marriage last week at Lafayette to Miss Frances King, a waitress in the Lahr house in that city. The ceremony was performed at 9 a. m. by Rev. Father Burns. Mr. Trentman is a freshman student at Purdue university. He and his bride have arrived here and they will reside in this city. The announcement will be a great surprise to Mr. Trentman's many friends, as no one here was aware that he was about to become a benedict.

DRAGGED BY A HORSE.

Joseph Tonkel, a St. Joseph township farmer, while hitching up a horse belonging to his brother, George Tonkle, was knocked down and badly injured by the animal last week. Mr. Tonkle neglected to put the bit in the horse's mouth, and the animal made a sudden jump ahead, throwing Mr. Tonkel down and inflicting painful injuries upon him.

DOWNFALL DUE TO DRINK.

Laporte, Ind., June 26.—It develops from a statement made by H. M. Hendricks, who is held here for swindling Catholic priests, that the prisoner is not only a former government employe, but is a member of the supreme court of Pennsylvania and an attorney at the bar of the third judicial district in the same state. Hendricks, who lays his sudden downfall to excessive drinking, will plead guilty when arraigned.

LIGHTNING STRUCK BARN.

During the storm Tuesday evening lightning struck a new barn on the farm of H. J. Wolf, in Aboit township. Mr. Wolf saw the flash and with his three sons hurried to the barn in time to extinguish the flames before extensive damage had been done.

AN OLD COUNTERFEIT.

Constable Kennelly has in his possession a counterfeit $5 bill which probably has a history. It is an old green back bill of the issue of March 10, 1863, and is one of the oldest as well as one of the most perfect counterfeits ever executed. It is nearly worn out from frequent handling and has undoubtedly been going the rounds as a piece of good money for nearly half a century. The counterfeit was issued a few months after the genuine was first put out and was discovered in the same year by the authorities, who succeeded in getting possesion of and destroying the plate from which it was printed. The press, however, must have been working overtime as the country was flooded with the spurious paper. This particular bill was paid into Bullerman's court in payment of a fine for which the Berghoff Brewing company had become security. The money was passed over by Gary Braybrook. Constable Kennelly took the bill with other monies and deposited it with the Fort Wayne Trust company last Staurday. The cashier accepted the bill withotu a question, but on Monday called Mr. Kennelly in and told him that the bill was a counterfeit. Cashier Mohr, of the Hamilton bank, pronounced it bad, as did Assistant Cashier Orr as soon as he saw it. Mr. Orr says the counterfeit is an excellent one, but is easily detected, although only by those who are familiar with the work on the old issue. The fact that the bill has undoubtedly passed for good money for all these years is what makes the case a little out of the usual order.

LIKES INDIANA BEST.

(Indianapolis Journal.)

Ex-Supreme Judge Walter Olds has formed a law partnership with Newton W. Doughman, of Fort Wayne, and will at once remove to that city from Chicago. Judge Olds resigned a position on the bench of the supreme court of this state a few years ago to accept a law partnership with Charles F. Griffin, of Hammond. The firm soon opened an office in Chicago, of which Judge Olds was given charge. Judge Olds visited the office of Robert A. Brown, clerk of the supreme court, yesterday and in conversation said that he had been irresistibly drawn back to his native state. Mr. Doughman, who is Judge Olds' associate, was the partner of the late Robert C. Bell, a widely known lawyer and politician.

MRS. RICHARD ALLEN MEETS WITH MISHAP TODAY.

Slipped Upon a Porch and Boiler of Scalding Water Was Overturned Upon Her.

Mrs. Richard Allen, residing at 19 East Washington street, was badly scalded early last Wednesday morning, though the attending physicians do not regard her condition as critical.

Mrs. Allen had been engaged at the family washing, and a boiler of clothing and scalding hot water stood upon the rear porch. In passing it Mrs. Allen slipped and fell and the boiler was overturned in such a manner as to pour the fiery contents upon her. The unfortunate lady's back from the shoulders downward was badly scalded. Dr. W. E. Stemen was called to attend the injury.

SEE BOOM TIMES

PROSPERITY IN PHILIPPINES IS IN SIGHT.

ANXIETY FOR FRANCHISES

CONGRESSMAN HULL TELLS OF PRESENT NEEDS.

SPOONER LAW EMBARRASSES

NATURAL RESOURCES OF THE ARCHIPELAGO ARE RICH.

[Correspondence of Associated Press.]

Manila, May 22.—At about the time this correspondence is published in the United States civil government will have succeeded military control throughout the Philippines. The islands still excepted from peaceful civil rule will be few and remote.

The only large ones, Mindoro and Paragua, are in a quiescent, rather than a rebellious condition. According to all calculations the surrender or capture of Lucban and the beginning, at least, of the pacification of Samar, will have been accomplished within a few weeks, so that the organization of municipal and provincial government in that stubbornly insurgent island will not be much longer delayed.

CAN GET NO FRANCHISES.

The inauguration of the purely civil government is expected to give a considerable impetus to business. Although the amendments attached by congress to the Spooner act prohibit granting of public franchises or disposals of public land and mining rights, and although no authority has been conferred for the organization of corporations, still the individual American business man is naturally optimistic, still the prospects of the era of commercial success predicted for the near future.

The war, while it caused adversity in the provinces, has all along brought prosperity to Manila, and the English, German and American business men have been and are making money.

Now, with the coming of peace, trade with the provinces is beginning to boom, and it is quite apparent that the trade of Manila, Iliolo and Cebu, with continential Asia, is likely to greatly surpass the expectations of Americans in general.

HULL'S EYE ON MAIN CHANCE.

In a recent conversation with the Associated Press correspondent, Congressman Hull, of Iowa, said:

"The business developments of the Philippines was set back a year by congress' refusal to permit granting of franchises. The new congress must, of course, at its coming session, legislate for the islands, and if we are going to insist that no franchises be granted for the promotion of large business enterprises, we virtually say that we are opposed, or at least, indifferent, to the development of the Philippines."

Mr. Hull, in common with all the more intelligent Americans who come to the Philippines in these days, believe the business future of the islands, and of Manila in particular, is bright with promise.

Mr. Hull and his associates in lumbering enterprises have recently had practical demonstration of the fact that Philippine lumber will sell in the American market.

PULLMANS NEGOTIATING.

An agent of the Pullman company, who has just been negotiating here for Philippine woods, named a price at which his company would take all the Philippine mahogany, in the log, delivered at any Philippine seaport.

This offer, which was declined, tended to increase the assurance generally felt here that the beautiful finishing woods of the Philippines are henceforth to be much in demand.

Several great agricultural enterprises are awaiting the chance to acquire titles to government lands before beginning operations. Various companies and individuals are looking to the great, fertile and largely savage island of Mindano as the scene of operations in sugar culture on a tremendous scale, providing the coveted grants of public lands can be obtained.

RICH SUGAR COUNTRY.

In occidental Negros lies the richest sugar country developed under Spanish rule, but it is now claimed that the soil of several other southern islands can be made to produce equally good results.

The great drawback to the Spanish Mastezo owners of the Negros sugar plantations has been and is the exorbitant rates of interest charged for money. Up to the present the current rates of interest on loans charged by the British and German bankers of Iloilo is 30 per cent. per annum, and 30 per cent. is usually charged for a loan for shorter periods than a year.

Besides this, mortgages are generally taken on the crops as well as on the land and the planter often agrees to sell to the money lender. As a consequence the man who produces the sugar is very apt to have a high-grade product classed and paid for as only medium.

THE NEED OF BANKS.

The people of Negros contend strongly for the establishment of banks whose special function shall be loaning on agricultural lands at legally-regulated, reasonable rates. The Philippine commission favors this idea and will encourage the establishment of such institutions.

Similar conditions apply to tobacco culture, but the tobacco industry is merging into the hands of big Manila corporations.

As to hemp, former conditions still prevail, both in the gathering and preparation of the product and the financial handling thereof. Generally the crops are bought in advance by agents of the British syndicates, who virtually control the products. It is a system of leading in futures at short range instead of by telegraph.

The establishment of American national and savings banks is discussed as possible in the near future.

GOLD MINING IN LUZON.

Of all the industriees of the Philippines the one which appeals most strongly to the average hurry-and-get-rich American is gold mining. For two yeares past experts and small scatterings of adventurers have been camping about the gold fields of Lepanto, Bontoc and Benguet provinces, northern Luzon, getting a little of the precious metal in primitive ways, and hoping for a time when they can acquire rights to mining claims. The surface indications in that region are very promising, but the miners are holding off from incurring any expense till they are assured that congress will permit the acquisition of claims.

It is dawning forcibly on the rank and file of young Americans here that gold mining in the Philippines is a far more favorable proposition than in countries where the weather precludes labor a considerable portion of the year. And, as the indications point to at least fairly rich yields, there is bound to be a rush as soon as claims can be secured.

RICH MINERAL SIGNS.

The signs of richness in minerals are not confined to the Benguet region. Greater or less indications of copper and gold abound in all the islands. As to commercial business, it seems apparent, speaking conservatively, that nobody in business here is losing any money.

A young pioneer American general merchant in the city of Cebu told the correspondent that during his first half year in business, ending in April, he had sold six hundred American bicycles, many of them high grade, for spot cash, at what in the United States would be considered high prices.

LIGHTNING HITS FARMHOUSE

DAMAGE AT HOME OF JAMES PARNIN, IN ABOITE.

Owner Is Knocked Unconscious and Dog Beside Him Was Killed— No Fire Resulted.

Lightning struck the residence of James Parnin, of Aboite Center, Tuesday evening, and did damage estimated at $100, but no fire resulted. Mr. Parnin was seated upon his porch at the time, in company with Frank Kelsey, and between them was a dog.

Mr. Parnin was rendered unconscious by the electrical current, and it was at least an hour before he revived. The dog, which lay between Mr. Parnin and Mr. Kelsey, was instantly killed. Mrs. Parnin was outside the house at the time and felt no effect of the shock, and Mr. Kelsey also escaped without injury.

The bolt tore off a portion of the roof and siding of the dwelling, entered a pantry and sent a lot of dishes crashing to the floor.

KILLED IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Manila, June 27.—Lieutenant Edward E. Downes, of the First infantry, and one private of that regiment have been killed in the southern part of the island of Samar. Captain Woodburn, of the Nineteenth infantry, has captured Samson's camp in the island of Bohol. Private Krause, of that regiment, was killed and four men were wounded. SCAFFOLD GAVE WAY; TWO HURT

Robert Beuchel and Charles J. Dinkel, Carpenters, Have a Frightful Fall---Former's Condition is Most Serious.

As a result of a fall from the roof of the Cooney Bayer building at the corner of East Wayne and Barr streets last Wednesday morning Charles J. Dinkel and Robert Buechel, carpenters, are lying in a precarious condition at Hope hospital.

The men were engaged in building the cupola to the elevator shaft and to support themselves they had constructed a scaffold by nailing some pieces of scantling to the shingles. They had hardly finished the frail support when it gave way and they were precipitated to the stone sidewalk, thirty feet below.

The city ambulance was immediately called and the injured men were taken to the hospital, where Dr. MacBeth attended them. Mr. Dinkel's injuries seem to be the most serious, though both are badly hurt. He suffered no broken bones, so far as a hasty examination revealed, but his spine is affected and his lower limbs are completely paralyzed and it is feared that there are other internal injuries.

Mr. Buechel's injuries include a badly broken wrist, the bone half severing the member, and a fracture of the left thigh bone. There are no indications of internal injury.

Both of these men are married and have children and this fact adds to their unfortunate situations. Mr. Buechel resides on East Lewis street and Mr. Dinkel resides on Victoria avenue. They are good workmen and have always been considered careful in the construction of their scaffolds. For some time they have been in the employ of Contractor William Ruchel, for whom they were working when they met with this accident.

WILL BE BOON FOR DRUNKARDS

Vegetable Diet Said to Be An Unfailing Cure for the Tippling Habit---Advocates Claim it Has Stood Hard Tests.

London, June 26.—Vegetarianism as a cure for drunkenness is the theory the International Vegetarian congress, which opened last night in London, will submit to the world's tipplers. The vegetarians assert that experiments made during the last three months at the Women's inebriate home at Torquay have demonstrated that a vegetable diet is an absolute destroyer of the liquor habit. Forty inmates of the institution, who entered confirmed drunkards, became total abstainers as a result of their daily fare, wherein flesh and fowl had no place.

Further testimony along the same line will be presented to the congress by Bramwell Booth, commander of the social branch of the Salvation Army. Mr. Booth says that inebrity among the London slum population has declined steadily and permanently wherever the people have been weaned from meat. The Salvationists will henceforth adopt vegetarianism as a fixed feature of their temperance work.

DIET FOR ATHLETES.

Reports will also be tendered the congress showing that vegetable diet is gaining favor in the world of athletes. Prof. Eustace H. Miles, head of the physical culture department at Cambridge, and amateur tennis champion of Great Britain, will introduce statistics to prove that the stoutest brawn thrives on the products of the soil. Dr. Kenneth Harris, a Scotch physician of eighty years, will describe a 400-mile bicycle ride that he has just completed from Land's End to Edinburgh, without tasting meat.

Dr. J. H. Kellogg, Battle Creek, Mich., will read a paper to the congress detailing the growth of the "health food" movement in the United States.

Arnold F. Hillis, the London millionaire leader of the International Vegetarian union, said tonight: "Vegetarianism is attaining phenomenal proportions the world over. Such notables as Count Leo Tolstoi, Sarah Grand, Thomas Edison and Annie Besant are types of our adherents.

SCENT A GOOD THING.

"The movement in America, like many other moral reform schemes in that country, is gradually falling into the hands of companies and syndicates. This is likely to be the result of the more general adoption of our principles by business people.

"Still the ethical side is flourishing, especially in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Philadelphia. We learn that the Cuban Agricultural Land Improvement company of New York intends to establish a vegetarian colony in the province of Havana. Our influence is also spreading to such remote parts as India, Syria, New Zealand and Austria."

The Woman—Oh! dear children, I don't like to see you smoking those vile cigarettes.

Chorus—Well, den, take a sneak around de corner.

HORSE'S KICK WAS FATAL.

William Wesley Covault, the little six-year-old son of Mrs. May Covault of 22 Harrison street, died at midnight Friday at the home of his uncle, John Rodabaugh, at Fiat, Jay county, as the result of an accident the day previously. The little one was visiting in the country, and in company with a playmate and a dog was crossing a field in which a horse was pastured. As they neared the animal the horse kicked at the dog, the child turning at that moment just in time to receive the blow from the horse's hoof on the rear portion of his head. The skull was fractured, and he expired some hours later, before the mother and grandmother could arrive from this city. He was an extremely bright little boy, and beloved by all who knew him. Funeral services were held Sunday morning, and the little form was laid to rest in a bed of flowers at the I. O. O. F. cemetery at Pennville.

NURSING A BOOM

HANNA HAS HIS EYE ON PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION.

GETTING OWN STATE FIXED

THINKS BOOM WILL PROSPER BEST IN OHIO.

WHAT POLITICAL SIGNS SAY

WALTER WELLMAN DISCUSSES OHIO MAN'S AMBITION.

Chicago, June 27.—The Record-Herald prints the following Washington special from Walter Wellman:

Is Mark Hanna a candidate for the presidency? This question was asked a good many times in political and official circles here today. A good many observers think he is. They base their opinion upon recent events in Ohio.

It did not escape the notice of the more alert onlookers that Mr. Hanna made peace with his old-time enemy, ex-Mayor McKisson, in the Cuyahoga county convention last week. Senator Hanna went out of his way to bury the hatchet and secure a truce. As a rule, he fights to the bitter end, for he was a born fighter and has never changed his nature. But on this occasion he almost suffered humiliation for the sake of sweet peace.

MARCUS A. HANNA.

Those who pricked up their ears when they saw the redoubtable Hanna joining hands with his ancient enemy and accepting a ticket which that enemy had much the most to say about naming, felt that their suspicions were confirmed when they beheld Mr. Hanna's performance at the republican state convention at Columbus. Here Mr. Hanna was not compelled to play second fiddle in the chorus. He was the leader of the orchestra. He had everything his own way. But apart from a wholesome sitting down upon former Secretary of the Treasury Foster, who would not tote fair, Mr Hanna again went in for harmony.

He wanted harmony and he got it. He nominated a ticket by acclamation, and for once the chief figure in Ohio politics has things in fine shape for the approaching campaign, with all the factions united in the bonds of common interest.

Those Washington observers who think Mr. Hanna has started for the white house bid us take notice of the manner in which the junior senator from Ohio patted the senior senator upon the back. Two years ago, according to the prevailing notion, Mr. Foraker tried to stick a knife into Mr. Hanna's back. His closest friends did all in their power to defeat Hanna's senatorial aspirations, and Foraker declined to call them off. He said the campaign was over, so far as he was concerned, when the polls closed election day. Mr. Hanna had to make his fight alone. Worse still, Foraker's strongest lieutenants were in the field against him.

Mark Hanna has never been noted as a forgiving person. He has some reputation as a punisher of his wicked foes. Yet he and Foraker stand at the platform at Columbus arm in arm. The resolutions praise both Hanna and Foraker, the latter a little more warmly. It was Hanna's convention through and through, yet Foraker was indorsed for re-election. He was commended by name for his services in connection with the Porto Rica legislation.

In all this the astute onlookers at the national capital perceive the fineness of Mr. Hanna's hand and the existence of a well-developed case of presidential ambition.

Their theory is that Mr. Hanna intends to go before the next republican national convention as the candidate of Ohio. In order to secure fair treatment at the hands of the Foraker faction he consents to bury old animosities and tie Foraker to his chariot by making the senior senator his candidate for re-election. Without the help of Hanna everyone knows that Foraker could not get back to the senate. If re-elected with Hanna's aid common decency will compel him to help send a Hanna delegation to the convention of 1904 and probably go there in person to make a nominating speech.

Some of Senator Hanna's closest friends here do not think he is seriously thinking about entering the field as a candidate, though they admit that he may be getting affairs in shape with a view to such a contingency. One man, who knows Mr. Hanna very well and is a keen judge of character, says that in his opinion the man does not live who would refuse a nomination for the presidency at the hands of the republican party or even refuse to permit his friends to go to work for him if he thought there was a reasonable chance for success. This man adds that he is well convinced Mr. Hanna will be a candidate unless the senator's health two years hence should be such as to make it necessary for him to eschew ambition.

It is pointed out here by well informed politicians that if Mr. Hanna should happen to decide to go for the nomination it would be almost impossible to beat him. The big commercial and industrial interests would be distinctly favorable to him. In almost every state and territory men who love Hanna and who believe in him as a great leader and organizer are in control of party affairs, or at least exceedingly influential therein. Federal officeholders all over the country would naturally throw their influence to Hanna, and President McKinley could not be ungrateful enough to forbid them.

Considering all these factors, says this observer, Mr. Hanna is probably in position to secure the nomination if he wants to go after it in his characteristic way.

Not long ago, it is worth while to note here, a republican senator from a western state, one of so much prominence in party affairs that he has himself been talked of as a possible president, was asked by the writer if he thought Hanna would permit his friends to boom him for president.

"Permit them?" replied the senator, with a smile, "if you ever see him handing any of them back please come and let me know. He wants that nomination, and in my opinion he'll get it."

This is the opinion of a good many senators, who have watched Mr. Hanna's meteoric rise in the party, and his valiant efforts to become a speech-maker and a leader of legislation in the senate.

Groninger, one of the wealthiest farmers in Wabash county, came from Pleasant township yesterday to obtain a marriage license for his youngest son, Charles L., who last night wed Miss Myrtle Oldfather, the daughter of a neighbor. All of the children are living and happily married, and Mr. Groninger procured the licenses. He is sixty-nine years old, and vigorous as a man of fifty.

The stockholders are all substantial business men of this city., and the purpose is to build a trolley line from Wabash to Rochester by way of Roann and Gilead. Petitions have been prepared asking for special elections in several townships to vote subsidies. The directors are Alvah Taylor, Aaron Simon, James Lynn, jr., R. P. Macy, L. L. Daugherty, Wilbur McNamee, John B. Latchem, Warren G. Sayre and M. S. Howe. James Lynn, jr., is slated for president. If the appropriations carry work will be commenced this fall.

OTHER LINES ARE PROJECTED

MAY BUILD FROM HUNTINGTON TO COLUMBIA CITY.

Capitalists Interested in the Southwestern Interurban Road Drop a Few Hints.

(Huntington Democrat.)

From a reliable source it is learned that the capitalists who visited this city a short time ago became interested in the interurban project. They are very much pleased with Huntington and decided to build a line west to Wabash, south to Warren and Marion and north to Columbia City. A great deal of work will be done on the lines this year. The men interested are millionaires and will put in all the money necessary to hurry the work. Huntington will thus be the electrical hub of northern Indiana and business will receive a great impetus. The work of laying track in the city will begin at once.

W. S. Reed appeared before the council Tuesday night and informed the city "dads" that his company was ready to begin laying rails in the city. He informed the council that it would be impossible just now to get the 70 pound 6-inch rail required by the franchise and asked that he be permitted to put in a rail which weighs 105 pounds to the yard, but which is only 5¾ inches high. He agreed to put a one-half inch steel plate between the rail and tie which would make a better track than that provided for in the franchise. Mr. Reed also asked that his company be permitted to put in a Y at the Market and Jefferson street corner. He stated that his company had definitely decided to build a line south and much time and money could be saved by providing for a switch when the first track is being laid. He says it is necessary to tear up a wide area of street and it would interfere with city traffic more than was necessary if the work had to be done over. The council informed Mr. Reed that no objections would be offered as long as his company acted in accordance with Engineer Guthrie's orders.

MORGAN GIVES A MILLION.

Cambridge, Mass., June 27.—President Eliot announced at the Harvard alumni dinner last night that John Pierpont Morgan had given more than $1,000,000 for the erection of three of the five buildings planned for the Harvard Medical school in Boston. The gift is for the prosecution of "applied biological research." Some months ago, President Eliot explained, Messrs. Henry and Frank Higginson took a tract of twenty acres of land, paying $550,000 for it. This the agent agreed to hold in trust for the university until means should be found to buy it from them, when they would sell at cost price. It was supposed that the carrying out of the plan would be a matter for the remote future. Nevertheless, the medical faculty, through a committee consisting of Drs. Henry P. Bowditch and J. Collins Warren proceeded to draw up plans and specifications for the buildings which they would like to have and could use next year if they had them. The estimated cost was $2,000,000.

SEEK HAPPINESS IN DEATH

COUPLE AT QUINCY, ILL., DIE TOGETHER.

Opposition to Marriage of Youth and Sweetheart Cause a Double Tragedy.

Quincy, Ill,, June 27.—If you find our bodies bury them together."

With this remark, made with a laugh, Louise Strothoff, accompanied by Frank C. Forrest, left the house of her mother at night for a stroll. Within a few hours the bodies of the two were found by the roadside not far away. They were lovers, but parental objection on both sides stood in the way of their marriage. This led them to a decision to die together and bullet wounds in Forrest's chest and cheek and in the girl's breast told how their plan was carried out.

The young man was a molder, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forrest, well-known residents of this city, and the girl was daughter of the Widow Strothoff, who runs a 400-acre farm a few miles from town. Taking a friend, John Dittmeyer, of this city, with him, Forrest went to the Strothoff home, reaching there at 8:30. The evening was spent pleasantly and at about 11 o'clock Frank and Louise started for a bridge that crosses the road half a mile from the house, ostensibly to gather lilies.

The girl's ominous remark, because of the tone in which it was made, did not cause alarm. At midnight, however, the couple having failed to return, Dittmeyer and Miss Strothoff's brother began a search.

The bodies of the two young people were found lying side by side near the bridge. A revolver lay in the man's closed hand. It was evident that Forrest had killed his sweetheart and then taken his own life.

A letter found later in the girl's room indicated that the tragedy was premeditated and that Miss Strothoff freely consented to give up her life.

Forrest was twenty-one years old and Miss Strothoff nineteen. A few years ago a sister of the girl committed suicide by shooting herself because her parents objected to her marriage.

Odd Fellows at Monroeville will celebrate the nation's birthday July 4, by laying the cornerstone of the handsome new building to be erected by the fraternity in that town, and the event promises to be a notable one.

There will doubtless be a large gathering of the three-link fraternity and the ritualistic ceremony of the order will be followed in all its significant beauty. Among the speakers of the day will be Past Grand Master Enoch G. Cox, of this city, and it is probable that Fort Wayne lodges will be very largely represented.

FRENCH LICK DEAL CLOSED.

Louisville, Ky., June 27.—The deal for the French Lick hotel property was closed yesterday afternoon after a conference of four hours. Louisville holders of stock sold their 2,000 shares to the Indianapolis and Chicago syndicate for $150 per share. They wanted $200, but came down to $150 after much dickering. This price represents a big profit to the Louisville shareholders. The members of the new syndicate who were present at yesterday's negotiations were Thomas Taggart, mayor of Indianapolis, Ind.; Crawford Fairbanks, of Terre Haute, Ind., and G. T. Dickinson, Henry Hickman, David P. Erwin and W. H. McDoel, of Chicago. They left immediately after the closing of the deal on a special for French Lick. Possession is to be given at once, and a new hotel to cost $500,000 will be erected shortly.

HANNA GIVES $50,000.

Gambier, Ohio, June 27.—Senator Hanna and Governor Nash participated prominently in the commencement exercises of Kenyon college held here yesterday. The senator at the alumni luncheon in the afternoon unexpectedly announced that he would give $50,000 to the institution for the building of a dormitory. A year ago Kenyon college bestowed the degree of doctor of laws upon Senator Hanna. This large gift is an acknowledgment of the honor conferred by the college. President Pierce announced that the sum of $100,000 had been raised as an endowment during the past year. At Senator Hanna's request the new dormitory will be called the "Politicians' Barracks."

A BRIDEGROOM SUICIDES

TAKES LIFE WHILE WEDDING GUESTS WAIT.

Thomas J. Rogers, of Clarinda, Iowa, Shoots Himself at Marriage Hour—Lacked Funds.

Clarinda, Iowa, June 27.—At the hour last night when he was to have been married and while the bride and her guests were awaiting his appearance for that event, Thomas J. Rogers committed suicide.

During the day Rogers arranged for the minister to perform the ceremony that was to unite him to Miss Inez C. Plank. The wedding was to have taken place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McKinnon.

About twenty of the friends of the young couple, who had been invited, assembled shortly before 6 o'clock, the time set for the wedding. As the hour passed and the groom did not come, a messenger was sent to see what was the matter.

The joy of the nuptial party was turned into grief and consternation when half an hour later the announcement was made that Rogers had taken his life.

Instead of going to the home of the bride the young man had shut himself in his room and shot himself. The ball entered the skull just above the ear and passed back through the head, but it was nearly an hour after the shooting before life was extinct.

Rogers three years ago inherited $12,000 from his father. Of this he had spent all but $85. This fact, it is thought, weighed upon him, although he had never shown signs of being depressed.

The only incident indicating that he contemplated suicide occurred an hour before the shooting. Rogers asked his sister, Mrs. C. J. Hyflin, with whom he lived, to go to his wedding, but she, being ill, told him she was not able to do so. He then remarked that she would be sorry. This sister, who was in an adjoining room, heard the report of the revolver and went into Rogers' room to find her brother lying in front of the piano clutching the weapon in his hand. Rogers was born and raised at Clermont, Mo.

TWO WOMEN SHOCKED.

Warsaw, Ind., June 27.—During the heavy thunder storm at Winona, lightning struck the Garfield Springs cottage, and as a result Mrs. Gaylord, an elderly lady, and her daughter, Mrs. Sutherland, both occupants of the cottage, were prostrated by the shock. Mrs. Sutherland has partly recovered, but Mrs. Gaylord is still prostrated and in a serious condition. She is the mother of the wife of Prof. John M. Coulter, of Chicago university, who is occupying the cottage. The cottage, which is familiar to all Winona visitors, is the property of Professor Garrett, of Hanover college.

TO DISCONTINUE WAR TAX.

Postmaster Page has received the following telegram from the post office department:

"Washington, June 28, 1901.—Postmaster, Fort Wayne, Ind.: Discontinue collection of money order war tax after Saturday.

"First Assistant Postmaster General."

This means that after tomorrow the two-cent war tax will cease to be charged purchasers of postoffice money orders in addition to the regular fee for the same. The tax was not imposed so much as a revenue measure as to prevent the postoffice department of the government becoming an unfair competitor of banks, express companies and other agencies whose drafts, checks or receipts were subjected to the internal revenue duties imposed by the war tax act.

HELD FOR HORSESTEALING

JOHN LUE TAKEN IN CUSTODY AT MONROEVILLE.

Took Two Horses From the Stable of Former Auditor Niezer—His Offense a Puzzle.

Marshal Doris, of Monroeville, last Friday telephoned to the sheriff office that he had arrested John Lue for horsestealing and wanted to know what to do with him. An explanation followed and he was instructed to hold his prisoner until a deputy could arrive to take care of him. Lue, who is very well known in this city and through the county as a salesman or peddler of Dr. Helmke's remedies, last evening entered the stable of ex-County Auditor J. B. Neizer, at Monroeville, and took away two horses and a carriage. He then went to Davids' livery stable and got an extra set of harness. The thefts were at once reported to the marshal and he soon had his man. Whether Lue was drunk or crazy does not seem to be plainly understood at the sheriff's office, but Deputy Eicks says as there is sufficient evidence to hold the man, he proposes that he shall be brought in and a thorough investigation made.

CLAIMED CRIME AS HER OWN.

Columbus, O., June 28.—Mrs. Edwin Ruthven, wife of the Cleveland colored murderer who was put to death in the electric chair early today for the murder of Policeman Shipp, in Cleveland, made a last effort early in the evening to save the life of her husband.

In the presence of Rev. W. J. Langford and others she made an alleged confession that she, and not her hsuband, killed Policeman Shipp.

Mrs. Ruthven declared that on the night of the murder she and Ruthven quarreled; that she left the house, met Charles Jacobs, a mysterious individual of whom Ruthven frequently spoke, and that he asked for Edwin, saying he had a job on hand. She told him her husband was not at home, but that she would help. She donned her husband's clothing and assisted Jacobs in the burglary. Policeman Shipp appeared and Jacobs fled. She used her revolver and Shipp was killed. Ruthven, when told of this confession, declared it was not true.

Mrs. Ruthven is serving a sentence for receiving stolen property. She attempted suicide a few days ago.

Edwin Ruthven was executed in the Ohio annex of the penitentiary shortly after midnight. His last words were a protestation of innocence, and the moment he concluded his final statement, a privilege which every condemned man is accorded, the electric current was turned into his body.

It was not until today that Ruthven consented to receive clergymen and embrace the Christian faith. "I never have been a Christian," he said, "and if I become one now I'll have to forgive those officers of the Cleveland police force who sent me here, and I'll never do that. I'd rather die as I've lived anyhow; I don't believe in such hyprocrisy."

The ministers were admitted to his cell, religious services were held, and the condemned man finally announced himself converted.

FINE DROVE OF CATTLE.

Perhaps the finest drove of butchers' cattle seen in Fort Wayne for a long time was driven through the city Wednesday evening to the stock pens of the Bash Packing company, to whom the cattle belonged. They were brought in by S. D. Scott, buyer for the Bash company, and the herd of fifty-four head averaged 1,107 pounds each.

PRIEST MINISTERED TO DYING.

Logansport, Ind., June 28.—Amid scenes of horror at the Wabash wreck at Cass, Ind., no figure stood out with such sublime courage as that of Rev. James Walsh, assistant rector of St. Vincent's parish in this city. Father Walsh was returning from Huntington, where he had been to see Father Quinlan, who is ill. He was in the chair car. After the crash he found himself bruised and bleeding from cuts. His left foot was crushed and pinioned beneath a heavy timber, but he managed to extradite himself after a superhuman effort and dragged himself to a window. As he view the scene and heard the cries of the mutilated passengers he shouted that he was a priest, asking is any needed his assistance. He heard no response, and he again lifted his voice, speaking in Italian.

In an instant there were shouts of joy among the emigrants, as they called for him to administer the rites of their church. Slowly and painfully Father Walsh crawled through the window and made his way on hands and knees among the dead and dying. His voice rose clear and firm above the confusion as he prayed and performed the solemn offices of the Catholic church for his people. He seemed to be insensible to physical pain, and with the aid of a broken board he walked among the emigrants a majestic and inspiring figure, quieting their fears and making their last moments peaceful. When his work was done he became sensible of pain and he had to be carried to a carriage. His foot was torn and twisted, the ligaments being wrenched loose, producing a condition which physicians declare render one absolutely helpless.

Backache means sick kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Fort Wayne people prove this.

Read a case of it:

Mr. A. Kellar, of 157 Wells street, says: "Kidney trouble with me was not of a few days' standing, but had been bothering me for a long time, and I had tried many different remedies without getting much relief. As I was reading our paper one day I happened to notice an article about Doan's Kidney Pills, so I went to Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store and got a box. Before I began taking them I had a very bad backache, dizzy spells and my feet and back swelled. As soon as I began the use of Doan's Kidney Pills I could feel that the symptoms were growing less, and from day to day I kept improving until I had taken all of the box. I was then stronger and my health was better than it had been in months."

MARQUAND & CO. GO TO THE WALL

Brokerage Firm That Caused Suspension of the Seventh National Bank Has Failed--- Assigns Without Preferences

New York, June 28.—The failure of the firm of Henry Marquand & Co., bankers and brokers, the name of which has been connected with the embarrassment of the Seventh National bank, was announced on the stock exchange today. The firm made an assignment to Frank Sullivan Smith. The assignment was without preferences. No statement of assets or liabilities was made with the assignment.

The failure was without appreciable effect on the stock market.

Frank Sullivan Smith, the assignee, reached the office of the firm shortly after 10 o'clock and at once assumed charge. He conferred with the members of the firm and began a systematic investigation of its books and impaired finances. Mr. Smith promised to make public a statement later in the day.

Frank B. Poor, partner in the house of Marquand & Co., said that Mr. Smith was in charge and that he could say nothing about the affairs of the firm. The formal suspension of the firm created scarcely a ripple of excitement. It has been anticipated, for the events attendant upon the closing of the Seventh National bank had let in strong light puon the affairs of the firm.

During the first fifteen minutes of trading on the stock exchange the following transacitons were made for the account of the suspended firm:

Five hundred shares Pennsylvania, 400 Bergen County Gas, 300 American Car and Foundry and 100 shares each of Laclede Gas preferred, Atchison preferred and Kansas and Texas preferred. Seven thousand dollars par value of Missouri Pacific 5s of 1917 and 4,000 Iron Mountain 5 per cent bonds were also dealt in for that account.

At 10:30 o'clock Manager Sherr, of the clearing house, said that all of the banks had cleared as usual and that no further difficulty was anticipated in banking circles.

Inquiry at the local office of the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern railway brought out an assurance that there would be no disastrous consequence as far as the railway was concerned.

"But did not Marquand & Co. finance the railroad?" was asked.

"Oh, yes," was the reply of the official, "but they have the bonds and we have the money.

He added that Marquand & Co. had merely handled the bonds of the road, but did not control it.

Henry W. Taft, of the law firm of Strong & Caldwallader, attorneys for the assignee, made the first statement in behalf of the suspended house. He said:

"I cannot at this time give any figures on the liabilities and assets of Marquand & Co. We have as yet had no time to look over the situation and it will be several days before a clear idea will be obtainable. Much depends upon the disposal of the securities, and particularly the inactive securities, held by the firm. A general view at this time gives a very favorable impression, but naturally the great question is as to the collateral held by the house on its outstanding loans. I believe the creditors of the firm will fare very well unless there is a general slaughter in some of the firm's securities. I cannot say at this time anything as to the resumption of the firm. That will depend upon the developments of the next few days. We will prepare a careful statement of the affairs of the firm, but I believe it will take a couple of days to do it."

The firm of Henry Marquand & Co. consisted of Henry Marquand, who is the son of Henry G. Marquand, and Frank B. Poor, son of the former president of the National Park bank.

FLETCHER HEATH OUSTED.

Hamilton, O., June 28.—Following the failure of the Seventh National bank of New York, the directors of the Miami Valley National bank, of this city, reorganized the institution by ousting Vice President Fletcher Heath, who had been acting as president of the institution.

The directors then selected E. W. Whitaker as president and Cashier Bake as vice president. It is stated that Mr. Heath's holdings of the bank's stock have been purchased by President Whitaker and his associates.

Mr. Gompers' injuries were not at first thought to be of a serious nature, but later his condition became such as to occasion his family and friends the greatest alarm.

She carried bride's roses and a handsome fan. The wedding supper was served in the dining room, which was prettily decorated. Mr. and Mrs. Niebergall will reside with the bride's parents at present. Will Thompson, of Dayton, Ohio, was an out-of-town guest.

It has just been completed and is now ready to be turned over to the commission created by the last general assembly. The monument will later be fittingly dedicated with addresses by men of national prominence. A portion of the stone used was taken from the old tomb of President Lincoln. The lower part of it is Vermont granite.

EVIL OF PRIVATE MONOPOLY.

Detroit, Mich., June 28.—"I am one of those," said Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, before the second national social and political conference at its opening sessions today, "who believes that the greatest evil threatening this country today is monopoly in private hands."

Mr. Johnson thought that the cure for monopoly was equal taxation and said, "The day that the evils of taxation in this country are cured, the day that all classes of men pay the same rate of taxation, is the day that this country will be able to control these monopolies."

There were less than 100 people in Philharmonic hall when President Eltweed Pomeroy, of New York, called the conference to order and introduced Mayor Johnson as chairman of the session.

THE FORT WAYNE-HICKSVILLE ELECTRIC LINE OUTLOOK.

Citizens of Ohio Town Get Information of an Encouraging Nature—A Reorganizaiton.

(Hicksville News.)

The latest news from Fort Wayne with regard to the proposed line of the Ohio and Indiana Traction company that expected to build from that city to Hicksville is of a most encouraging nature.

Attorney J. E. Coulter is in receipt of a letter from that ci y which states that at a meeting of the company last week a reorganization was had and quite an amount of new capital added to the enterprise. The company are as firm in the belief as ever that they will succeed in constructing the electric road on this route, and feel that the country it reaches is the equal or superior of that which furnishes patronage to other lines that are a great financial success. Some of the officers of the company expect to visit this place in the near future in the interests of the road.

These electric lines are being projected in large numbers, but we know of no route nor of any line reaching a city the size of Fort Wayne that is to be compared to this line. The conditions are such as to invite capitalists who are making investments of this nature. Hicksville wants the line.

YALE WINS THE 'VARSITY.

New London, Conn., June 28.—In a race never excelled on the the Thames Yale's 'varsity crew won the great interuniversity rowing event of the year in the last half mile of the four-mile course last evening by a scant two lengths. The magnificent contest was witnessed by thousands from observation trains, yachts and points of vantage along the bank. To Yale also fell the honor of a victory in the freshman race, while Harvard tonight takes consolation in the fact that her varsity four walked away from the Yale quartet handsomely. The two minor races, with honors divided served only to whet the appetites of the spectators. These contests had resulted exactly as the experts had predicted, and some twenty thousand people were impatient for the supreme event of the regretta. The big race was rowed down stream in the cool of the evening shortly after 7 o'clock. The conditions were fairly favorable. A wind out of the southwest blew diagonally against the crews at the rate of about six miles an hour. A beautiful start, with the two eights rowing stroke for stroke, began a contest that will never be forgotten. The time at the finish was: Yale, 23:37; Harvard, 23:45.

A RECORD-BREAKER.

Such was the State Sunday school convention of Indiana held at Shelbyville last weeek. Fifteen hundred delegates broke the record for attendance. Fifty-two counties was the highest number heretofore represented. This year there were delegates from seventy-three counties.

The treasurer, W. H. Elvin, Indianapolis, reported all bills provided for and the association closed its fiscal year without debt for the first time in some years. A larger sum than ever before was pledged for the new year.

A minister of international fame and wide experience in convention work said this convention surpassed all he ever attended in high spiritual earnestness.

It surpassed many conventions, also in the new movements inaugurated, the greatest of which is known as "Indiana Sunday School Week."

W. C. Hall, of Indianapolis, president; George H. Knollenburg, of Richmond, vice president; O. M. Pruitt, of Indianapolis, secretary, and W. H. Elvin, treasurer, were re-elected amidst great enthusiasm, as were eight members of the board of directors.

The next annual meeting will go to Terre Haute.

BIRTH RECORD.

To Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hilgeman, of South Broadway—a daughter.

To Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Brandt, of West High street—a son.

A serious accident was narrowly averted at the Reformed Orphan's home the early part of last week. A new steam laundry has lately been installed and was put in operation for the first time. The safety cock on the boiler became jammed in some way and it was not until the pressure was within a few points of the danger mark that the trouble was remedied. A large number of the children were standing about at the time, and the consequences of a boiler explosion would have been terrible.

TRACK WORK PROGRESSING.

(Huntington Democrat.)

Work on the Fort Wayne & Southwestern tracks east of the city is progressing rapidly. A large force of men is employed and the rails are laid almost as far east as Union switch or Mardenis. No complaint can thus far be made that this company does not mean business, for all work is progressing nicely, good wages are being paid and more laborers are demanded.

MR. FLORSHEIM DISCLOSES HIS INTENTIONS.

It Cost Him $20,000 to Heal Another Heart—Very Talkative Young Man at Huntington.

(Huntington Democrat.)

J. S. Florsheim, of Chicago, was at the Huntington hotel yesterday, Florsheim is either the greatest liar on earth or crazy. He is a handsome young fellow, well dressed and exceedingly talkative. He talks aimlessly and endlessly to any one who is fortunate enough to be near him. He discoursed on the Wabash wreck yesterday. He claimed that his father was president of the road and that he was chief engineer. He was greatly irritated because a special he had ordered failed to arrive. He said he would not dare go near the wrecked train as he feared the survivors might lynch him. He is, according to his story, to marry a rich Fort Wayne society girl in a few weeks. He says it cost him $20,000 to get rid of one girl who fell in love with him.

Florsheim is a son of a wealthy corset manufacturer. His father spent his thousands to keep him out of trouble. He writes checks on imaginary banks and orders silk night robes by the gross. Florsheim went to Fort Wayne last night to visit his fiancee.

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP PEOPLE ARE IN LUCK.

Have a Claim on Pennsylvania Coal Lands from Ancestor Who Died Many Years Ago.

(Woodburn News.)

Mr. Kelly, of New Berlin, Ohio, was in Maysville Saturday in the interest of the heirs of a Mr. Moser, a bachelor, who died at or near Tamaqua, Pa., on or about the year 1832, leaving an estate of 700 acres, most of it valuable coal lands. The estate is now operated by a company engaged in mining the coal and it is said their title is faulty, and the right heirs, many of them residing in the vicinity of Maysville, have not been considered.

The estate is said to be valued at forty millions of dollars. The heirs who reside in Springfield township are John Webb, James Webb, Celestia C. Cummins, Ensign C. Carrington and the other name unknown. Mr. Kelley promises success in recovering many millions of dollars for the Allen county heirs and that before October next.

BALLAD OF JULIUS ISCARIOT.

Of this poem, by Robert Buchanan, who died a few days ago, in London, at nearly 60, Edward Clarence Stedman said: "'The Ballad of Judas Iscariot' is equal in finish to anything written since 'The Rime of the Ancient Mariner' and approaches that poem in weird impressiveness and power."

'Twas the body of Judas Iscariot!
Lay in the Field of Blood!
'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
Beside the body stood.

Black was the earth by night,
And black was the sky;
Black, black were the broken clouds,
Tho' the red Moon went by.

'Twas the body of Judas Iscariot
Strangled and dead lay there;
'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
Looked on in despair.

The breath of the world came and went
Like a sick man's in rest;
Drop by drop on the world's eyes
The dews fell cool and blest.

Then the soul of Judas Iscariot
Did make a gentle moan—
"I will bury underneath the ground
My flesh and blood and bone.

"I will bury deep beneath the soil,
Lest mortals look thereon,
And when the wolf and raven come
The body will be gone!

"The stones of the field are sharp as steel,
And hard and cold, God wot;
And I must bear my body hence
Until I find a spot!"

'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
So grim and gaunt and gray,
Raised the body of Judas Iscariot,
And carried it away.

And as he bore it from the field
Its touch was cold as ice,
And the ivory teeth within the jaw,
Rattled aloud, like dice.

As the soul of Judas Iscariot
Carried its load with pain,
The Eye of Heaven, like a lanthorn's eye,
Open'd and shut again.

Half he walk'd, and half he seemed
Lifted on the cold wind!
He did not turn, for chilly hands
Were pushing from behind.

The first place that he came unto
It was the open wold,
And underneath were prickly whins,
And a wind that blew so cold.

The next place that he came unto
It was a stagnant pool,
And when he threw the body in
It floated, light as wool.

He drew the body on his back,
And it was dripping chill
And the next place he came unto
Was a Cross upon a hill.

A cross upon the windy hill,
And a cross on either side,
Three skeletons that swing thereon,
Who had been crucified.

And on the middle cross-bar sat
A white dove slumbering;
Dim it sat in the dim light,
With its head beneath its wings.

And underneath the middle cross,
A grave yawn'd wide and vast,
But the soul of Judas Iscariot
Shiver'd and glided past.

The fourth place that he came unto
It was the brig of dread,
And the great torrents rushing down
Were deep, and swift, and red.

He dared not fling the body in
For fear of faces dim,
And arms were waved in the wild water
To thrust it back to him.

'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
Turned from the brig of dread,
And the dreadful foam of the wild water
Had splashed the body red.

For days and nights he wandered on
Upon an open plain,
And the days went by like blinding mist,
And the nights like rushing rain.

For days and nights he wandered on
All thro' the Wood of Woe;
And the nights went by like the moaning wind,
And the days like drifting snow.

'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
Came with a weary face—
Alone, alone and all alone,
Alone in a lonely place.

He wandered East, he wandered West,
And heard no human sound;
For months and years, in grief and tears,
He wandered round and round.

For months and years, in grief and tears,
He walked the silent night;
Then the soul of Judas Iscariot
Perceived a far-off light.

A far-off light across the waste,
As dim as dim might be,
Then came and went like the lighthouse gleam
On a black night at sea.

'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot,
Crawled to the distant gleam,
And the rain came down and the rain was blown
Against him with a scream.

For days and nights he wandered on
Pushed on by hands behind,
And the days went by like black, black rain,
And the nights like rushing wind.

'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot,
Strange, and sad, and tall,
Stood all alone at dead of night
Before a lighted hall.

And the world was white with snow,
And his feet marks black and damp,
And the ghost of the silver moon arose,
Holding her yellow lamp.

And the icicles were on the eaves,
And the walls were deep with white,
And the shadows of the guests within
Passed on the window light.

Shadows of the wedding guests
Did strangely come and go,
And the body of Judas Iscariot
Lay stretched along the snow.

The body of Judas Iscariot
Lay stretched along the snow;
'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
Ran swiftly to and fro.

To and fro, up and down,
He ran so swiftly there,
As round and round the frozen pole
Glideth the lean white bear.

'Twas the bridegroom sat at the table head,
And the lights burnt bright and clear—
"Oh, who is that?" the bridegroom said,
"Whose weary feet I hear?"

'Twas one look'd from the lighted hall,
And he entered soft and slow,
"It is a wolf runs up and down
With a black track in the snow."

The bridegroom in his robe of white
Sat at the table head—
"Oh, who is that who moans without?"
The blessed bridegroom said.

'Twas one look'd from the lighted hall,
And answered fierce and low
"'Tis the soul of Judas Iscariot Gliding to and fro."

'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
Did hush itself and stand,
And saw the bridegroom at the door
With a light in his hand.

The bridegroom stood in the open door,
And he was clad in white,
And far within the Lord's supper
Was spread so broad and bright.

The bridegroom shaded his eyes and look'd,
And his face was bright to see—
"What dost thou here at the Lord's supper
With the body's sins?" said he.

'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
Stood black, and sad, and bare—
"I have wandered many nights and days;
There is no light elsewhere."

'Twas the wedding guests cried out within,
And their eyes were fierce and bright—
"Scourge the soul of Judas Iscariot Away into the night!"

The bridegroom stood in the open door,
And he waved hands still and slow,
And of every flake of falling snow,
Before it touched the ground,
There came a dove, and a thousand doves
Made sweet sound.

'Twas the body of Judas Iscariot
Floated away full fleet,
And the wings of the doves that bare it off
Were like its winding sheet.

'Twas the bridegroom stood at the open door,
And beckon'd smiling sweet;
'Twas the soul of Judas Iscariot
Stole in and fell at his feet.

"The Holy Supper is spread within,
And the many candles shine,
And I have waited long for thee
Before I poured the wine!"

The supper wine is poured at last,
The lights burn bright and fair,
Iscariot washes the bridegroom's feet,
And dries them with his hair.

DIED IN OREGON.

Mrs. Mary Stevens, widow of the late Thomas Stevens, and a resident of Fort Wayne years ago, died June 26 at her home in Portland, Ore., at the age of 73 years. Mrs. Stevens was widely known in Fort Wayne. She came from London to this city in 1848, and her husband, who was a carriage maker, died in 1875. Three years later the widow removed to Chicago and made her home with a daughter until 1891, when she took up her residence in the west. Four daughters and a son still reside there, and another daughter lives at Chicago. A. Hood, of this city, is a brother of the deceased, and another brother resides at Columbia City.

FIGHTING FORESTRY LAW.

Portland, Ind., June 29.—From all reports the action which is sought to be brought by the state forestry commission will be contested. It is pretty generally understood that the county auditor will not place the land on the tax sheets at the rate mentioned in the statute—$1 per acre—and this will in itself be sufficient to precipitate action. A member of the board of review, which body claims to practically have nothing to do with the matter, says that they have been communicating with other counties regarding the forestry act, and that almost invariably the reply has been that they had no men mean enough to take advantage of such a law.

Mrs. Walter Thompson, of 615 South Harrison street, will be confined to her home for several days as the result of an accident. While engaged in preparing the evening meal she fell down the cellar steps, cutting her fingers with a dish she was carrying, and sustaining a dislocation of her arm besides a painful bruise on her side.

The Bowsers' Troubles.

An Argument Not Sustained by Facts.

Copyright, 1898. By M. QUAD.

The other night, after the Bowsers had come up from dinner, Mr. Bowser reached down into his coat-tail pocket and drew out a little book and sat down and began turning over the leaves. He, of course, wanted Mrs. Bowser to ask questions, and though she had a woman's curiosity, it was ten minutes before she carelessly queried:

"Been buying another book on cattle and their diseases?"

He looked up at her, but did not reply.

"If it is work on poultry you already have half a dozen in the house."

This time he did not even look up.

"Perhaps you've gone into golf?" she said, after another pause.

"You would probably call it golf, or pattle disease, or poultry," he finally replied.

"If it isn't any of these then what is it?"

"This book, Mrs. Bowser, is probably beyond your comprehension—away beyond it. You wouldn't understand it at all."

"Oh! I wouldn't? You can understand a deep work and I can't?"

"Naturally. A man has the stronger, deeper mind, of course. The title of this work is: 'Nature's Diseases and Remedies—Control of the Body by the Mind.' Only a philosophical, analytical mind can grasp its contents."

"That's all nousense," exclaimed Mrs. Bowser.

"What! What's that!" he demanded.

"You are too old to waste time on such bosh, Mr. Bowser."

"Nonsense, is it? Why, it's the plainest principles of philosophy in the world. The human body is but clay—the soul immortal. The soul is the mind. The mind ought to be able to control the body. I told you it was beyond your comprehension. What does a woman know about philosophy?"

"Just as much as a man."

"She can't. She wasn't born that way. For instance, do you believe that the mind can control the body?"

"In some cases, perhaps," she slowly admitted.

"In all cases, Mrs. Bowser—in all cases. For instance, you stub your toe. It hurts like blazes. You let your mind turn to something else and the pain gradually ceases. That is mind over matter. I have experienced it a hundred different times."

"I don't believe it."

"That's it! That's the usual way of the ignorant—ridicule and deny what they can't argue and discuss in a sensible manner. I have often wondered if you really had a soul."

"Don't worry yourself, Mr. Bowser! If I haven't got any soul I've got common sense."

"Very well. It's no use to talk to a person brought up in a log house on the edge of a huckleberry marsh. I know that the mind can control the body. You deny it. I hope to furnish you with proofs within a week."

He was to furnish them that night. Two hours later, when they were about ready to go upstairs and he had been out bareheaded and in his slippers to see if the gate was shut, he suddenly gave a start and cried out:

"Gee-mi-me to Johnson!"

"What's the matter?" asked Mrs. Bowser.

"That old hollow tooth tried to jump clean out of my head. Whew! Yi! Hang it all!"

He sat down to hold his jaw and weave to and fro, and she said:

"Your tooth jumps. It hurts you. You just let your mind turn to something else and the pain ceases."

He looked up at her with a glint of pounded glass in his eyes, and was about to reply in kind, when the jumper jumped in on him, and he seized his jaw and yelled:

"Great Scotts to scatteration, but I can't stand this! Get me some camphor!"

She got him some and after a time the pain eased up and he went to bed. He expected her to say something about "Control of the Body by the Mind," but she was waiting. She knew that he wouldn't be let off so easily, and could afford to give him a little time. She was just falling asleep when Mr. Bowser suddenly lifted his feet high in the air and uttered a whoop which set a neighbor's dog to barking, followed by the exclamation:

"Thunder and lightning, but I can't stand this!"

"Mr. Bowser, are you asleep?" she asked.

"Asleep! No! I'm dead. Say, this infernal thing has come back on me! Where's the camphor?"

"On the bureau, dear; but it won't do you any good, you know."

"Oh-h-h-h! Jewhittaker! My stars and soul, but she's jumping my jaw right out of its socket! I've got to have something done for me or I won't live ten minutes!"

"Pshaw, Mr. Bowser—have some grit about you. What is a little toothache?"

"Grit! Grit!" he shouted, as he jumped out of bed and danced around on one leg. "I've got more grit than seven families like yours rolled together, but this is awful—awful! Are you going to lie there and see me drop dead?"

"You can stop it if you will. Just lie down and put your mind to work. Think of something else. Think of being out in the woods at a May festival—beautiful flowers—happy children—green—"

"Green nonsense—shut up!" he yelled. "Haven't we got any paregoric in the house?"

"Yes, but it's downstairs in the medicine box. Why don't you experiment a little, Mr. Bowser? If there is anything in your theory now is a good time to try it. If you can imagine that you are not in pain—"

"Paregoric—peppermint—laudanum—hot ashes—hot salt—cotton-batting!" he howled, as he pranced around and finally disappeared downstairs. He was gone about five minutes, and then came back on the jump with the box under his arm. He filled his mouth with pain-killer, tried mustard, flew to peppermint, and after exhausting all the remedies he jumped up and down in the middle of the room and yelled: "Police!"

Mrs. Bowser had to get up and go downstairs, and stir up the fire to make a warm poultice for his jaw, and fuss around for an hour. Finally he grew easier. Then she said to him:

"Mr. Bowser, you brought home a book last night."

"Never!"

"You brought home a book about control of the body by the mind."

"No, I didn't!"

"In your argument you declared that the soul was the mind, and that the mind had control of the body. You said that if any one stubbed—"

"Get into bed and keep still!"

"No, sir. You stub your toe. It hurts. You let your mind turn to some—"

"I never said it."

"Mr. Bowser, what has eased your toothache—faith, imagination, or a hot poultice?"

"Who's talking about toothache, Mrs. Bowser? You get into bed and go to sleep, and in the morning I'll have a long talk with you. We don't seem to be suited to each other, and the matter can probably be arranged to our mutual satisfaction and without publicity."

Next morning he hurried downstairs and got hold of the book first, and she afterwards found some of the leaves scattered in the back yard.

Extraordinary Vegetable Product.

We find in a Canadian medical journal a description of the laughing plant and its effect upon man. It grows in Arabia and derives its name from the effects produced by eating its seeds. The plant is of moderate size, with bright yellow flowers and sofe velvety seed-pods, each of which contains two or three seeds resembling small black beans. The natives of the district where the plant grows dry these seeds and reduce them to powder. A small dose of this powder has curious effects. It causes the soberest person to dance, shout and laugh with the boisterous excitement of a madman, and to rush about cutting the most ridiculous capers for nearly an hour. At the expiration of this time exhaustion sets in and the excited person falls asleep, to wake after several hours with no recollection of his antics.—N. Y. Ledger.

It is pretty well known nowadays that it is not safe to eat many peach pits or cherry kernels at once.

WHERE JONES GOT AHEAD.

"One season, when I was advertising agent for a circus," said the man who was riding over the road on a deadhead pass, "we were taking in Indiana. It was part of my duty to see that bills were up on the farmers' barns and sheds for ten miles around a town. Two or three tickets to the circus always satisfies the farmer. About seven miles from Terre Haute a farmer had just finished building and painting a thumping big horse-barn alongside the road, and when I proposed to give him a family ticket for the privilege of pasting up a score of big posters on the clean surface he hung off. I coaxed and argued, and he finally said if I would include all his relatives in a free pass I might go ahead. I knew he had a family of six, and figured that he might scare up a brother with about six more. The advertising was worth that, and I made out the pass and told my men to put up the bills."

"And how many relatives did he scrape together?" was asked.

"Let me tell you something," replied the agent. "The farmer's name was Jones, and on the day of the circus the Joneses began to arrive in Terre Haute soon after three o'clock in the morning. They came in wagons, on foot and on horseback. A patriarch of a Jones almost 90 years old was the flag to which they rallied as they arrived. He had a list of every Jones in the county, and he called the roll and checked them off. About 100 had shown up by the time the sun rose, and they kept dropping in till high noon. They kept together on a vacant lot, and when the last one had arrived our manager was wild. There were just 480 men, women and children entitled to enter the big tent under the terms of that pass."

"Couldn't you buy them off?" queried the man who had spoken before.

"Couldn't be done, sir. I went to the Jones who had my pass and offered him $25, but he was sot. Then I started in to raise a row about the number of people, asserting that he was trying to work outsiders in on us. That was no go, either. They were all Joneses, and all related, as they could prove by citizens of the town. Indeed, there was a township in which every farmer bore that name and was cousin to the man next to him. The old patriarch stood at the entrance and called out and checked off, and the Joneses made up just a third of our audience at the afternoon performance. The first one who went in was named Abadiah, and the last was Zadoc, and between them every name in the Bible was called out at least twice. It was a mean trick on an innocent circus man, but they weren't satisfied until they had rubbed it in for all they were worth at the finish."

"How was that?"

"Well, they all marched out after the performance, two by two, and getting together again in a crowd the old patriarch offered prayer to Heaven that none of 'em might be made any the worse for having yielded to temptation and sat through three hours of sin and frivolity!"

SHE GOT THINGS MIXED.

The train had run into a snowbank and been stalled, and when we found we would have to wait for several hours the passengers in the parlor car resorted to various expedients to pass away the time. By and by one of the ladies was coaxed to tell fortunes with cards, and all were interested at once. The first victim was let off very easy, but the second happened to be a man who had tried his best for several hours to flirt with the lady. She shuffled the cards for awhile and then cut them and said:

"Sir, you are a married man!"

"Y—yes," was the reply.

"I see trouble before you—lots of trouble. Are you interested in any speculation?"

"Not exactly."

"If you were interested in any particular speculation I should say that you were going to lose by it."

"But I am not."

"Let's see. An event is coming which will change the whole tenor of your life. You are on the eve of making a great discovery. Soon after the discovery is made you will travel."

"Well, what sort of discovery?" he asked.

"I should say that you are going to find certain documents. No, they are letters. You are going to find them in your own house. They are—let me see—they are letters written to your wife, and you come across them in her bureau."

"Love letters?"

"I think they are. Yes, they are love letters, but she claims they were written to her by a brother. You do not believe it. There is a quarrel, and you set out and travel, probably to get a divorce. You must brace yourself up for this trouble and meet it like a man. Next."

All of us took the matter with a laugh, understanding that the "astrologist" was trying to even up accounts, and the victim was perfectly good-natured over it. An hour later, as we two sat in the smoking compartment, I jokingly asked him if he believed in fortune telling, and he replied:

"There seems to be something in it, though it is considerably mixed up."

"You don't mean that the lady hit anything?"

"I mean that she got things reversed. It was my wife who found the love letters in my pocket and raised the row, and yesterday she started for Dakota to get a divorce, and I'm going to Ogden to see about placing the children in a school."

I didn't ask any more questions, and we had smoked away for five minutes in silence when he observed:

"Yes, there seems to be something in it—enough for a divorce or two!"

THE BRICKLAYER'S VISION.

Sees His Saviour's Face and from the Drunkard's Path Enters the Way of Sobriety and Righteousness.

When the best moral results follow an unusual or abnormal event, any discussion of its natural or supernatural agency cannot change the fact. Many believe that there are messages from Heaven more direct than the written revelation; and the believers are generally those whose experience answers for their faith.

Eighty years ago, in a country town of west New England, lived a drunkard locally known as "Distillery Struck Jacob." In his early manhood he had been thrifty, industrious and temperate, the husband and father of a happy family. Both he and his young wife had inherited some property. Jacob the bricklayer had a good home, and was looked upon as a rising man.

When he was about 25 years old the offer of a job on a distillery chimney came to him, with a promise of high wages, as a skilled workman was wanted. He accepted with some reluctance, being an abstainer himself, and disapproving the then almost universal use of strong drink. While at work on the job he acquired the taste for liquor, through the example and persuasions of his mates, and his downward career began.

Such is the story of the way he got his name. For 12 years "Distillery-Struck Jacob" was a sot. He did no work, but led a shiftless life, spending his time with the low and ribald company found at any tavern within 10 or 12 miles of his home.

Alcohol weakened his mind, and even partially paralyzed his body. No one believed that the drinking, swearing, staggering loafer could be far from the drunkard's end. No one but his wife. She prayed for him, and hoped and waited. He never abused his family. He only disgraced them. In his cups he often boasted of his "good, pious wife" and his smart children.

One August night he came home from a long spree, and went to bed and slept quietly. This was a grateful circumstance, for his nights at home were too often so noisy as to suggest incipient mania. In the morning he dressed, washed and sat down to breakfast with the family. Then, instead of his pipe, he found a pocket Bible and went out and sat under a tree to read. He read all day. He seemed to have forgotten his drink and his tobacco. His children wondered. His wife watched him, cried softly to herself, and whispered: "God help him!"

For six months Jacob spent most of his time reading and meditating—and gathering back his lost health and strength. By that time he had worn out one Bible and procured another.

Gradually and quietly he began to speak of his changed feeling, and to seek his old associates in dissipation that he might carry to them the message of redemption. They laughed and called him "loony." Church-members held aloof and distrusted him when he asked their fellowship. At last, modestly, he dated the revolution of his life, and told its cause—which to him never ceased to be a miracle. In a dream, that August night, he had seen the Saviour.

The behavior of the renewed man was evidence enough of his sincerity. It was not until 35 years later that he died, a beloved and humble old Christian, having outlived all his family and became totally blind.

If it was an imagined vision that changed the sot into a saint, the fancy was no less a Divine visit. It was such a dream as the Hebrew poet defines in the thirty-third chapter of the Book of Job.—Youth's Companion.

Rum and Tobacco Flesh.

Speaking of the recent killing and eating of two missionaries by cannibals of Fly river, Guinea, the Portland Oregonian says: "These savages do not eat missionaries because they have any religious hostility for them as preachers of a new faith; they only eat them because, as non-consumers of rum and tobacco, their flesh is far more palatable than that of any other type of white man. In the judgment of a cannibal, the meat of a missionary is better eating than anything else, except the flesh of a young child, another non-consumer of tobacco and ardent spirits. These cannibals not seldom spare the lives of American and European sailors for the simple reason that their flesh is so impregnated with the flavor of alcohol and tobacco as to be as unpalatable as we find that of crows, gulls, buzzards and other carrion-consuming birds."

The strikes which have occurred in the United States the last year have cost the country, it is said, between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000.

ONE EMPLOYER'S PLAN.

How a Manufacturer at Washington, Ind., Has Worked Wholesome Reforms in Lives of His Employes.

In the little city of Washington, Ind., whose population is less than 10,000, there is a factory for the manufacture of bent wood products. Mr. L. H. Creagin, the proprietor, knew that many of the 100 men in his employ were men of intelligence and even refinement and capable of appreciating the truths of Scripture, yet he noticed that few them attended church. On inquiring of them the reason why, he learned that many of them stayed away from church because of the social distinctions which pervaded in that small town.

Mr. Creagin doubted this, and thought it a very insufficient excuse, but on further investigation he found that his men were nearly right.

How Mr. Creagin sought to change this state of things is interestingly told in the Christian Herald.

In a kind and brotherly way Mr. Creagin talked with his men, and said he would like to show them in a practical way what the truths of Christianity were. His plan was that for 15 minutes every morning there would be a talk on some practical Bible truth by a minister. The following Monday a well-known minister in the city took his place at seven o'clock in a long room of the factory where all the men were assembled and spoke upon the subject: "Things to Think About." Every man paid close attention. There was no exhortation, no pleading, only a plain Gospel talk. At a quarter past seven the factory wheels were set in motion and every man went to his place.

Every morning since then—and that was several months ago—at the blowing of the whistle, the men gather in the large room. The minister has never been late, and no employe has ever been late at the early service. Every man is paid at his regular wage rate for the time he puts in listening to the morning address. The minister, also, is on the factory payroll, and every week receives a check from Mr. Creagin for his services.

The experiment has been very successful. The object Mr. Creagin had in view has been accomplished, viz.: To clear the minds of the men from false premises, and set them thinking aright.

One thing more Mr. Creagin has established, that is, the total abstinence pledge. Almost every man in his employ has signed a pledge and has kept it. When it is taken, the "token dollar" is handed to the signer of the pledge, and that particular and identical dollar is kept in a safe place and regarded as a sign of the faith their employer reposes in his men. The pledge is as follows:

"My pledge. God helping me, I hereby solemnly promise to abstain from the use of all intoxicating liquors as a beverage. I also promise to refrain from visiting all places where such intoxicants are sold. When I feel justified in breaking the provision of this pledge, I hereby promise to return to Mr. L. H. Creagin the 'Token Dollar' received from him.

"THE FULL DINNER PAIL."

Some Facts Which Speak Eloquently to the Working Man of the Wisdom of Temperance.

The American people spent for drink last year $1,069,249,832. This money was an absolute loss to the men who spent it. They received no valuable thing in exchange for their cash.

It was not only a loss, but an actual damage. It impaired their wage-earning ability and reduced their productive power.

It caused a loss to every other industry by reducing the drinker's ability to buy other things.

Their drinking made harder times for the grocer, the butcher and baker, whom they did not pay or could not patronize.

The amount of last year's drink, if spent for the necessities of life, would give work in shop, factory and field to 1,649,586 men.

It gives work in producing raw material and in manufacturing drink to only 300,901 men.

Closed gin mills would mean a chance to earn a living for 1,348,685 of the men who are now hunting a job.

A vote to close the places where "booze" is sold is a vote for plenty of food in the dinner pail and upon the table of every workingman.—Christian Work.

TEMPERANCE GRIST.

I hardly know any more potent cause of disease than alcohol.—Sir W. Gull, M. D.

A cigarette fiend pays the penalty in the esteem in which he is held.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

The production of both gold and silver in the United States, including Alaska, $134,847,485, would be sufficient to pay the drink bill of the American people for only a month and a half.

An English law passed in 1774 providing that not more than five dollars can be recovered for liquor debts, was tested lately by a physician who owed over $250. The law was declared valid, and the liquor dealer is out $245.

A well-known temperance worker says: "I once examined the inmates of the Christian Home for Intemperate Men in New York city as to the way they reached the last ditch of drunkenness, and 80 per cent. told me that they began with beer."

The last was the century of effort in the cause of temperance, so that hundreds of thousands of abstainers, young and old, are doing what they can do to stand between the living and the dead, and to stay the terrible plague of intemperance.—Christian Work.

PERRY HEATH'S BANK SUSPENDS

Seventh National, of New York City, Now in the Hands of a Receiver---A Doubtful Loan of $1,600,000 Cause of Trouble.

New York, June 27.—The Seventh National bank was closed at 10:45 today, when the following notice was posted on its doors:

"This bank is in the hands of the comptroller of the currency.

"Forrest Raynor,

"National Bank Examiner."

At the same time William N. Cromwell, the bank's attorney, gave out the following statement:

"In justice to the depositors and stockholders of the Seventh National bank, William Norton Cromwell, the bank's attorney, has advised the bank to suspend payment."

This action was taken after a protracted conference in the directors' room of the bank, which was participated in by the new president, Edward R. Thomas, ex-President William H. Kimball, Edwin Gould, Lorenzo Semple, who is one of the directors, and several other members of the board.

CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENT.

After the suspension of the bank the following statement was made at the clearing house:

"At the clearing house this morning the Seventh came in debtor $644,108.90. The clearing house committee has been in session since 9:30 a. m. awaiting the results of the clearing. When it was found that the debit balance was so heavy the committee communicated with the officers of the bank and was informed that the board of directors was in session and that a decision would be arrived at within fifteen or twenty minutes as to the action of the bank. In consequence of this statement the clearings were held back thirty minutes. At 10:45 a. m. Mr. W. Nelson Cromwell, Mr. Edwin Gould and Mr. Thomas, president of the bank, came into the clearing house and informed the committee that in view of their heavy debit balance and for other reasons it was considered wise that the bank should temporarily suspend. The clearing house committee thereupon directed the manager of that institution to eliminate from the clearings all operations of the Seventh National bank."

HELD POSTOFFICE FUNDS.

A member of the clearing house committee says at this morning's meeting the name of no institution other than the Seventh National bank was referred to. The Seventh National bank was the custodian of the funds of the New York postoffice. Assistant Postmaster General Morgan said, when he heard the news of the bank's suspension:

"The postoffice is amply protected. When the account was opened the bank put up $250,000 in gold bonds as security. The present state of the postoffice account of the bank I do not know, but I am investigating it."

BANK POSTS NOTICE.

At 11:30 o'clock the officials of the embarassed bank posted the following notice:

"Checks drawn by the Manhattan state hospital will be paid at the Chase National bank. Drafts drawn by the St. Lawrence County bank, Canton, N. Y., will be paid at the Chase National bank."

Among the institutions having close business relations with the Seventh National was the stock brokerage firm of Marquis & Co.

Frank B. Poor, of the firm, made the following statement after the bank's suspension:

"From the outlook just now," said he, "I think we're going on. At the same time we cannot tell. Just now everything is uncertain in the business world, but I believe we will get through."

THE LAST STATEMENT.

The statement of the Seventh National bank for the week ending June 22, 1901, to the clearing house was as follows:

Capital	$ 376,600
Net profits	234,400
Loans	4,407,100
Specie	557,700
Legal tenders	777,700
Deposits	5,712,400

Per centage of reserve, 23 4-10.

A statement of the bank's condition will be made public later in the day. All the banks made their exchanges at the clearing house today as usual.

HAD OPENED FOR BUSINESS.

The bank opened for business as usual today, but at 10:45 the doors were closed by Cashier Adams, who told a reporter that the bank had suspended. He said the action was resolved on at the meeting of the board of directors, depositors and William Nelson Cromwell, attorney for the bank, held this morning.

ESTABLISHED IN 1833.

The Seventh National bank was originally the old Seventh Ward bank and was established in 1833. For a long time control of the institution was held by John McAnerny, a southerner, who was president of the bank. In May, 1899, First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath practically acquired a controlling interest in the stock of the Seventh and on July 4 William H. Kimball resigned as national bank examiner to become vice president of the Seventh, several changes in the directorate being made at the same time.

Josiah Quincy, of Boston, was one of the directors elected then.

THE HEATHS INTERESTED.

On August 2, 1899, Mr. McAnerny resigned the presidency, and Vice President Kimball was chosen in his stead. Fletcher S. Heath was elected vice president. The officers and directors are as follows:

E. R. Thomas, president; Fletcher S. Heath, vice president; George W. Adams, cashier.

Directors—George W. Adams, Eugene Bissell, Thomas M. Boyd, Fletcher S. Heath, Perry S. Heath, Erskin Hewitt, William H. Kimball, Alexander McDonald, Guy G. Major, William P. Orr, Josiah Quincy, Frank H. Ray, John A. Sullivan, W. H. Taylor, Samuel Thomas.

Shortly before 1 o'clock Frank B. Poor, of Marquand & Co., announced that his firm was in much better financial position than it had been during the morning. This was taken as an inference that the firm has received assistance, but Mr. Poor would not talk on that subject.

It was said this afternoon that the Seventh National had quick assets of about $1,500,000. It was further stated that the depositors would not lose anything.

WHAT PERRY HEATH SAYS.

Salt Lake, Utah, June 27.—Former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath, when shown the Associated dispatch announcing the suspension today of the Seventh National Bank of New York, said the action of the officials was a surprise to him.

"I received two telegrams this morning," said Mr. Heath. "Both stated that the bank was in good condition and had plenty of funds on hand. I cannot imagine what kind of a snarl they have got into. Of course there are outstanding loans, but so far as I know they are of the gilt edged kind and the bank has had no outside entanglements.

"Now the bank has no stock accounts that I know of. The men in charge there are among the best and shrewdest in the financial world, and I am confident that the affairs of the institution will be straightened quickly. I have not the slightest idea wha has brought about the suspension. It is a great surprise to me."

COMPTROLLER'S ULTIMATUM.

Washington, June 27.—Comptroller Dawes today ordered the closing of the Seventh National bank, of New York, and appointed Forrest Raynor, national bank examiner, temporary receiver. Later the comptroller made the following statement:

Comptroller Dawes stated that on Tuesday he received word from the national bank examiner that Henry Marquand & Co. had recently become indebted in a sum approximating $1,600,000 to the Seventh National bank of New York, which was secured by collaterals of of doubtful nature. Upon receipt on Wednesday of further information regarding the nature of the collaterals securing this loan, he sent a telegram to Mr. E. R. Thomas, president of the Seventh National bank, as follows:

"'I have just received information from the national bank examiner that Henry Marquand & Co. have loans of large amounts in your bank approximating $1,600,000. Unless promptly and satisfactorily assured that this loan will be taken up and cash therefor put into the bank by Saturday night, June 29, I will appoint a receiver for the bank. Please convene your board of directors and announce this to them.'

IN EXPLANATION.

"In explanation of the conditions imposed the comptroller states that while advances had been made by the directors to the bank they had been made upon the credit of good securities owned by the bank, but that no such advances affected the bank's solvency while the Henry Marquand paper remained. It was necessary, therefore, for his in the performance of his duty to promptly impose these conditions before further withdrawals of deposits were made. The comptroller stated that the Marquand loan is partially secured and it is hoped that the loss to depositors will not be large."

GOVERNMENT SECURED.

Comptroller of the Currency Dawes says there is no possibility of the government losing anything by the closing of the Seventh National bank. In the first place the bonds which the bank has on deposit at the treasury department more than covers the government deposits in the bank and in addition the courts have held that the government always is a preferred creditor in the sense that it has an equal chance on the assets which remain irrespective of the fact that it has the collateral.

Itching Scalp.

Scald Head and the most Violent Forms of Eczema and Salt Rheum Promptly and Thoroughly Cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Among small children, scald head and similar itching skin diseases are most prevalent, and the worst feature is that these ailments, which are apparently trivial, at first almost invariably develop into chronic eczema if neglected.

There is but one treatment that physicians are unanimous in recommending for scald heads and eczema, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment, the great antiseptic healer. It promptly stops the distressing itching which accompanies these diseases and positively produces a thorough and complete cure.

Mr. J. H. Grant, 716 Joseph Chapman avenue, Detroit, Mich., writes:

"For three years I have been troubled by an intense itching on my body. So terrible was it at times that I could get no rest night or day. I tried all kinds of ointments and blood purifiers, but could get no relief. Mr. H. A. Nicolai of 379 Division street recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. A few applications stopped the itching and I have felt nothing since."

Baby Eczema.

Mr. F. S. Rose, of 133 Sixteenth street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"Our baby boy suffered for some time with that wretched eczema, and we were unable to find anything to cure or even relieve his pain. A few applications of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment stopped the itching and healed the sores, and a bright, natural skin now takes their place."

A DIRECTOR IS ARRESTED

PROBING FAILURE OF THE LEIPZIGER BANK.

Herr Exner is Taken Into Custody in Connection With the Failure of Big Institution.

Leipzig, June 27.—Herr Exner, director of the Leipziger bank, which suspended payment Tuesday, June 25, has been arrested. The public prosecutor is investigating the affairs of the bank.

REPORT WAS MISLEADING.

Berlin, June 27.—It turns out that the report of the Leipzig bank, published yesterday, was misleading. Reliable information shows that the sum of 111,000,000 marks, which forms the bulk of the assets, includes 87,000,000 marks loaned to the Cassell Treber-Trocknung company, of which only a small part can be realized upon.

The Tageblatt today says the Leipzig bank quite recently advanced another 15,000,000 marks to the Cassell Treber-Trocknung company after it was known that the latter was insolvent.

Representatives of the leading banks of Berlin say there is no doubt all the stock of the Leipziger bank and its reserve, amounting to 63,000,000 marks, are lost. The Dresden and Leipzig bourses refuse to handle the Leipziger bank stocks. The policy of the Leipziger bank's board of directors has, for years, been such as to lead to the belief that other arrests on the charge of culpable negligence will follow the taking into custody of Herr Exner. The members of the board of directors include some Leipzig's wealthiest citizens. The Berlin, Leipzig and Dresden morning papers express the highest indigantion at the conduct of the Leipzig bank directors and demands a searching investigation.

The Vossiche Zietung editorially says:

"In view of the whole series of recent failures it is evident that the present German system of Aufschtrath (namely, board of directors or trustees) urgently requires reforming or abolishing, the latter preferred."

ALL WILL RECOVER.

Peru, Ind., June 27.—Thirty-nine persons injured Wednesday morning in the wreck of the Wabash limited are still in the hospital here. All will recover.

RACES ON THE FOURTH.

A program of races for the Fourth was completed last week at a meeting of the Amateur Driving club. The races will be at Centlivre park, and it is the intention of the members to make it the best race ever given by the club. There will be five races, two trotting, two pacing and one running race. There will be a 2:30 and 2:40 trot, and 2:20 and 2:30 pace. The races will be in half-mile heats, best three in five. The running race will be the best two in three, and it will be the event of the day. The purse aggregates $200 and some of the best horses in the city are entered.

CLAIMS ARE SPLIT

MANILA BAY AND SANTIAGO PRIZE CASES SETTLED.

JUSTICE BRADLEY DECIDES

NO ALLOWANCE FOR PROPERTY CAPTURED ASHORE.

TOTAL AWARDS ARE $788,000

AMOUNTS ADDITIONAL TO THE FORMER BOUNTIES.

Washington, June 27.—Justice Bradley in the equity court today decided the Manila Bay and Santiago prize cases. The decision is in favor of the claimants as to vessels captured and as to property taken from vessels so captured, but against them as to property captured ashore.

The decision holds that vessels sunk and afterward raised were captured and not destroyed; that property captured ashore is not subject to prize that the property taken from vessels sunk and not claimed as prize and for which bounty was given is prize; that the cascoes or cargo boats and all floating derrecks that were captured at Manila are not prize.

The Santiago case hinges on the Manila decision.

According to counsel the claimants in the Manila case receive a total of $288,000, divided among about 2,000 people, and the claimants in the Santiago case will be in the neighborhood of $500,000, distributed among about 3,000 persons. The figures, however, are not final. These amounts are in addition to the bounties already allowed by the court of claims.

CLOUDBURST IN WEST VIRGINIA

Bluefield, W. Va., June 27.—A cloudburst over Coaldale, Simmons Creek and Pocahontas wrought considerable damage last night. Pocahontas was flooded, the yards covered with mud and several hundred feet of track was washed out Damage to the yard is about $1,000. An Associated Press representative last night rode a work train from Elkhorn to Summitt, a distance of ten miles, in the storm. The time required for the trip was two and one-half hours. The Elkhorn river was much swollen and much debris was floating down. There is no doubt that much of the temporary repairs are so damaged as to greatly delay traffic on the section between Ennis and Vivian. Information is meager.

NO LIVES WERE LOST.

Keiser, W. Va., June 27.—Later advices from the New Creek valley, which was inundated by a cloudburst night before last, indicate that no lives were lost and that the damage was confined to live stock and growing crops.

The general health of a woman is inseparably related to the local womanly health. When the delicate womanly organism is diseased, the body loses plumpness, the cheeks lose their roses, and a nervous and fretful condition becomes habitual.

Thousands of sick women who have been cured of diseases peculiar to the sex by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have testified to the restoration of the general health when the local disease was cured.

"Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I used four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Elmer D. Shearer, of Mountjhope, Lancaster Co., Pa., "and can say that I am cured of that dreaded disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Everyone who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June, when I wrote to you, I was so poor in health that at times I could not walk. You answered my letter and told me what to do. I followed your advice, and to-day am cured. I tell everybody that with God's help Dr. Pierce's medicines cured me. If these few words are of any use to you, you are welcome to use them. They might help some other poor suffering woman."

NEW TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

Wabash, Ind., June 27.—The owners of the principal toll line systems of northern Indiana met here yesterday for the purpose of establishing a new scale of rates for toll messages. There was no difficulty in agreeing, and a committee was appointed to cary out the plan formulated. Those present at the meeting this afternoon were S. P. Sheerin and H. B. Gates, of Indianapolis, representing New Telephone company; J. H. Rook, Columbia City; James Sale, Bluffton; John Sale, Fort Wayne; S. B. Straus, Ligonier and Warsaw; L. C. Fisher, Elkhart; O. The Davis girl says she was dragged from a buggy to a lonely part of the woods and the men threatened to kill her if she complained to the authorities. The girl's story is corroborated. The preliminary trial of the McCarty gang for assaulting Miss Puckett, is in progress. Miss Puckett fainted on the witness stand and had to be removed from the court room.

DIDN'T MISS HIS MARRIAGE

WABASH WRECK DID NOT STOP A FORT WAYNE MAN.

Gus Moore, Colored, Was on His Way to Lafayette to Wed Miss Sylvania Jones.

(Lafayette Courier.)

One of the men injured in the big Wabash wreck near Logansport Tuesday night was Gus Moore, a colored man who lives in Fort Wayne. He was on his way to Lafayette, where tonight he will doubtless be married to Miss Sylvania Jones, of this city. The wedding ceremony takes place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ferguson, No. 822 Hartford street. He was the man who walked to Logansport with an uninjured traveling man, bringing the first news of the wreck. Moore is quite badly bruised but not seriously. He came to the city on the special this morning and says he will be married at the appointed time.

MOTHER OF TRIPLETS.

The girls weigh twenty-one pounds. People are coming for miles around to see the babies as they are the largest triplets ever born in this part of the state.

GETS MICROBES FROM A KISS.

East St. Louis, June 27.—Miss Mary Cachie, living near Forest Lawn, south of this city, charges that a man of the name of Reid inoculated her with microbes by means of a stolen kiss. Upon this complaint Miss Cachie has applied to Justice of the Peace George A. Boyne for a warrant for the arrest of Reid. According to her story, she attended a dance near her home one night last week. While there she danced with Reid, and as the music ceased playing he drew her to his bosom, her head naturally dropping backward, and planted a kiss squarely on her lips.

He not only planted the kiss, she says, but also microbes, which have increased and multiplied and have poisoned her blood until her lip is swollen to an enormous size. Miss Cachie says that Reid's lips were stained with tobacco juice at the time he thus forcibly kissed her; that she had a small cut or sore on her lips at the time she attended the dance, and as a result the microbes transmitted by the kiss got into the circulation of her blood, poisoning her.

Justice Boyne advised Miss Cachie to have her lip examined by a physician, and should he decide that the present condition was caused by Reid's lips, he would issue a warrant for the young man charging him with assault or disturbing the peace.

REVENGE OF BLACKMAILERS

NEBRASKA FARMER'S HOME DESTROYED.

His Wife Perishes in the Flames—Had Refused to Be Robbed of $5,000.

Topeka, Kan., June 27.—Blackmailers who demanded $5,000 from W. C. Carson, a wealthy Cowley county farmer, and were ignored, fired the Carson homestead while Carson was en route to Oxford for his mail.

The house was destroyed and Mrs. Carson was fatally burned.

Carson received an anonymous letter several weeks ago, demanding that he deposit $5,000 at a certain point. He ignored the missive. Late another letter was received stating that if he did not comply with the demand his house would be burned and his life taken. This also was ignored.

While he was absent Sunday evening flames suddenly broke out in the house.

Mrs. Carson escaped, but returned to the house for a highly prized violin. While Mrs. Carson searched for the instrument the flames spread rapidly, and when she again reached the open air she was enveloped in flames. Neighbors rushed to her assistance, but she died after several hours' suffering.

No clew has been obtained to the incendiaries.
